INTRODUCTORY NOTICE.

THE edition of the New Testament now put into the reader's hand is printed from a corrected copy of the second edition (1871), entirely completed by the translator before his death, and revised while going through the press, as carefully as circumstances would permit, from his own notes.

The text varies but little from that of the last edition; a few needed corrections have been made, and certain modifications and various readings, indicated formerly in the notes, have been occasionally introduced into the text, and a few fresh notes added.

The chief feature of novelty in the present edition is the indication in the notes of many of the sources from which the text and the various readings, as found in modern critical editions, are drawn,—as has been already explained in the preface to the second edition, to which the reader is referred for the translator's opinion of the comparative value of the Uncial MSS.

Shortly after the publication of the second edition of this work Tischendorf published the eighth edition of his critical text, modified considerably from his seventh, and in general not for the better, so much was he under the influence of the Sinaitic MS discovered by him, noted as \aleph : he has now introduced into his text a great number of its defective readings.—Ferrar's collation of four valuable cursive MSS, numbered 13, 69, 124 and 346, with a view to reconstitute the ancient text of the Gospels from which these were probably derived, was published by Abbott in 1877. This work is interesting as giving the agreement and disagreement between codices of a certain type, one of which (69) is cited regularly, after Tregelles, and another (13) occasionally, in the notes to this edition. (In these four MSS, John vii. 53-viii. 12 is inserted wrongly at the end of Luke xxi.)—Westcott and Hort's text, which seems to have influenced the Revisers in its excessive adherence to the so-called Alexandrian readings, or rather to the peculiarities of B, especially when supported by some other ancient copy, was already known to many some years before it was published in 1881, when the Revisers' New Testament also appeared. This third edition had then been prepared for the press.

The object sought in the enlarged notes of the present edition has been merely to give a selection of the authorities for and against the text, as arrived at by a careful comparison of the immense mass of material now presented to the student through the unremitting labours of those who have worked in this field.

In the Gospels, the reader will distinguish the two classes of the Uncial MSS. ' &c.' has been used to designate the series of manuscripts which generally agree, called Constantinopolitan, of which E, M, U, and very often Δ , are fair examples, as containing all the Gospels; and these it will be seen are generally confirmed by A. From the Acts to the end, all the Uncials, as given by Tischendorf (8th edition) and in part by Tregelles, are quoted whenever the disputed passage requires it. In the Epistles of Paul, however, after 1 Corinthians, E, being a copy of D (Codex Claromontanus), is only cited where D has been corrected, unless indeed some special matter of interest seems to render desirable its being noted as well as D.

A reference to the subjoined list of Uncial MSS will enable the reader to distinguish between their relative age, but he must be reminded that the nomenclature requires attention, as it is often misleading. For instance, B of the Revelation is quite a different MS from the celebrated Codex Vaticanus, which contains the most part of the rest of the New Testament, also noted as B, though it is some four centuries earlier than the other; G of the Epistles of Paul (Cod. Boernerianus) has nothing to do with G of the Gospels (Cod. Harleianus), but on the contrary really formed the concluding part of Δ (Cod. Sangallensis), though these parts are now separated and in different libraries. The lists are usually given separate for the Gospels, Acts, Epistles of Paul, and Revelation; but it has been thought, on the whole, simpler for reference to put them together in a single list. F (Augiensis) and G (Boernerianus), both of the Epistles of Paul, are shewn to be copies of the same original MS.

Of Cursive MSS, those noted by Treg. and minutely examined by him in the years 1846-1852, are given from his edition of the Greek New Testament. A list of these is appended to that of the Uncials. For a complete list of the Cursive MSS of the New Test. at present known, as also of the Lectionaries or manuscript Service-books of the Greek Church, see Scrivener's Introduction.

Of the ancient versions, the old Latin, where its various extant codices agree, is given in the gospels, noted as 'Ital;,' occasionally they are quoted separately, especially so where there are but one or two of these MSS in conflict with all the others, as 'Brix,' 'Colb,' &c. (see the tables). The Codex Amiatinus (Am), supposed to be the most faithful representative of the Latin as Jerome left it, is given from Tregelles' New Testament. When not cited separately in the notes, it is included in the Vulgate (Vulg).

The Memphitic, or version of Lower Egypt, is given from Tisch. and Treg., and so with the two chief Syriac dialects first hand, marked Syrr where they agree. Occasionally they are separately quoted, Syr-Pst being the Peschito, the version commonly printed, and Syr-Hcl the Hareclean or Philoxenian, a fresh translation, more literal than the other, indeed quite servile, and hence valuable as a witness to the Greek; the Epistle to the Hebrews is wanting in it from xi. 27 to end. Neither of these versions has the Revelation, nor John vii. 53-viii. 12, and the Peschito Syriac does not contain 2 Peter, 2 and 3 John, or Jude: these four are contained in a Syriac MS in the Bodleian. A Syriac manuscript of the Revelation (noted Syr) was edited at Leyden in 1627 by Louis de Dieu. Both of these resemble in character the later or Philoxenian Syriac.

A list is given below of the ancient versions usually cited in critical editions.

Of the ancient Fathers, a few only are cited occasionally in the notes, mostly from the printed editions themselves. A list is given of the more important of these writers.

A few additional explanatory remarks are here offered in order to warn the reader against being unduly influenced by what is called diplomatic evidence, whether the concurrent testimony of the mass of the authorities, or the preponderating importance of a few very ancient witnesses. The modern editors of the text often furnish proof that conscientious adherence to their systems of comparative criticism may lead to singular mistakes. The latest editions are by no means the most trustworthy; and the reader should be at least cautious against too readily accepting their decisions. Cf. Revised Version of the first three Gospels considered, by Cook, and in particular Burgon's Revision Revised.

Though of course in many respects an older MS is entitled to greater weight, yet too many sources of corruption and error had already crept in to render admissible the principles laid down by Lachmann and Tregelles, and practically acquiesced in by Tischendorf, without at least a very serious and patient examination being accorded to the many later witnesses, which have often of recent years been too lightly set aside. A few examples, taken from many given by Burgon and others, will serve for illustration. Scrivener says in his Introduction (3rd ed. p. 511): "It is no less true to fact than paradoxical in sound that the worst corruptions to which the New Testament has ever been subjected, originated within a hundred years after it was composed; that Irenæus and the African Fathers and the whole Western, with a portion of the Syrian Church, had far inferior manuscripts to those employed by Stunica, or Erasmus, or Stephens, thirteen centuries later, when moulding the Textus Receptus."

Admitting the general soundness of this conclusion, we are no longer surprised to find that \aleph and B, as well as C L U T, all interpolate in Matthew xxvii. 49 some words which are in part borrowed, though changed, from John xix. 34, but which have been shewn by Burgon in his Last Twelve Verses to be really derived from the heretical Tatian's Diatessaron or Harmony of the Gospels, composed in the second century. What is surprising is to find that Westcott & Hort have introduced it in brackets into their text and the Revisers into their margin. Tischendorf and Tregelles have rejected it. Nevertheless it was in the copies used by Chrysostom and Cyril of Alexandria.

In Luke ii. 14, however, all these editors follow the corrupt testimony of \aleph B D, besides quoting A for it, though in another part of A, in the hymn at the end of the Psalms, the correct reading is given; and \aleph and B have both been corrected by later hands. This reading, which originated probably in a mere clerical error, is found in some old versions also: "in the men of good pleasure." The Fathers all reject this, as Burgon has proved; and every spiritual mind instructed in Scripture must resent such an expression, which, as being very anomalous Greek, has given rise to explanations that condemn themselves. Yet the Revisers have introduced it into their text, forcing the translation in an unjustifiable way, and have placed the better text in the margin.

Tischendorf in his 8th edition, influenced no doubt by his favourite \aleph , supported also by B, 124, and some versions, has in Matthew xi. 19 substituted "works" for "children," against all other authority and the evident teaching of scripture. The same corrupted reading has been adopted by Tregelles and the Revisers.

All these follow \aleph B C D and others in admitting "holy" into the text before "Spirit" in Luke x. 21, an interpolation which may be ascribed to over-zealous piety, or, as it has been suggested, to the misplaced desire to distinguish the word from "spirits" used in another sense in the previous verse.

The extraordinary text given in Matthew xxi. 31 by Lach., Treg. and W. & H. on the authority, and that only partially, of B, with which they make the priests and elders answer "The last," instead of "The first," has been commented on by Scrivener and Burgon. Tregelles attempts an explanation in his Account of the Printed Text, p. 107.

In Luke vi. 1 the Revisers leave out the important word "second-first," misled perhaps by Treg. and W. & H. on the precarious authority of \aleph B L 1 33 69 and some versions. The word was evidently omitted by scribes who did not understand it. Tischendorf rightly inserts it. For another instance of this kind of modification of the text, see 1 John ii. 13 and the note, and Rev. xxii. 14.

The omission in 1 Cor. ix. 20 of "not being myself under law" in K and a few cursive MSS and versions, probably arose from the same cause. But here the Editors and the Revisers insert the words, following the great mass of MS authority.

In John i. 18, \aleph B C L, almost unsupported except by a few versions, and, as to be expected, by many ecclesiastical writers, have the astonishing reading of "God" for "Son" after "only begotten." It is scarcely conceivable that Treg. and W. & H. should have followed so manifest a corruption, and the Revisers have given it a place in their margin. Tisch. rejects it. But he has not been equally firm in John ix. 35; for he has introduced into his 8th edition "Son of man," instead of "Son of God," on the testimony of \aleph B D. So have W. & H. and the Revisers in their margin.

The addition of "yet" in John vii. 8, found in B and many others, is evidently an intentional change of $\sigma\upsilon\kappa$ into $\sigma\upsilon\pi\omega$, from the desire to explain a text not understood.

Treg. and W. & H. agree with Tisch. in putting the imperative in 1 Cor. xv. 49; though the latter had it right in his 7th edition, he now reads "let us bear." See the note at this passage. The Revisers have it right in text, but have given the false reading a place in their margin.

But the list might be almost indefinitely prolonged; so numerous and often extraordinary are the corruptions found in these venerable documents: witness the substitution of "found" or "discovered" (cf. 1 Sam. xx. 15 (16) in the LXX, Cod. Vatic.), for "burned up" in 2 Pet. iii. 10, by \aleph B K P, acquiesced in by Treg. and by W. & H.

The omissions in these old MSS are constant, often doubtless mere errors of the scribe, whose eye unconsciously passed from one line to the second or third below it, especially if he was betrayed by similarity of ending or beginning in two or more consecutive lines, a constant source of error called homœoteleuton. It was no easy matter to avoid it in copying MSS that have no division of words: it requires considerable practice even to read them, and the eye gets no rest in its fatiguing task.

The two oldest MSS, \aleph and B, omit the end of Mark xvi., against all other authority whatsoever, as Burgon has shewn with great pains; but in B, the fact that the scribe has here left a column blank,—the only one in the whole New Testament,—is strong presumptive evidence that if he did not find the passage in the MS he was copying from, he was aware of an omission. Such defects as these tend to throw discredit on these ancient MSS, as witnesses to the primitive integrity of the text. On the other hand, they are free from the bold interpolations of D (Codex Bezae), and are constantly additional and valuable evidence against these. But none of the oldest MSS, not even several together, can be of themselves conclusive testimony as to the absolute correctness of a reading, although many facts tend to shew that, as a general rule, the so-called Alexandrian readings come nearest to the primitive text. They need to be controlled however by other evidence, as that of the Cursive MSS, versions, and, in many cases, by patristic citations. Every passage has to be examined apart on its own merits, in presence of the whole array of witnesses, and in dependence upon God's gracious guidance, special regard being paid to the context and the general teaching of scripture, which ecclesiastical corruption impaired.

N.B.—Winer's Grammar is quoted from Moulton's 8th ed. The Uncial MSS are cited according to their original readings except when noted otherwise, as \aleph^{corr} , C², &c.

CURSIVE MSS CITED IN THE NOTES.

1 (Gospels) : a MS of the Xth century (or later according to Burgon), at Basle, containing all the New Testament except the Revelation, but only of importance, says Tregelles, in its text of the Gospels.
 33 (Gospels)-13-17 : the Colbert MS at Paris of the XIth century, containing some of the Prophets, and all the New Testament except the Revelation. It is 33 in the Gospels, 13 in the Acts and General Epistles, and 17 in Paul's Epistles.
 69 (Gospels)-31-37-14 : a MS of the XIVth century at Leicester, which contains the whole of the New Testament with a few lacunæ. It is noted as 69 in the Gospels, 31 in the Acts and General Epistles, 37 in Paul's, and 14 in Revelation.
 47. A MS. of the XIth or XIIth century, of the Epistles of Paul, in the Bodleian Library, Oxford.
 61. This MS of the Acts and Epp. of Paul, dated 1044, has been independently collated by Tisch., Treg., and Seriv. Occasionally two or three other Cursives have been cited on the authority of Tischendorf, as 13 of XIIth c.; 22 of XIth in the Gospels; 71, of XIIth of the Epistles of Paul; and 73 of Epistles of Paul, of XIth cent., now at Upsal.

In the Revelation, the following have been occasionally quoted from Tischendorf and Tregelles :

1. A MS of the XIIth century, the one used by Erasmus, and in which the text is intermingled with the commentary of Andreas of Cæsarea.
6. A small quarto of XIth cent. in the Bodleian (Acts xi. 13-Rev. xxi. 1), and noted 23 in the Acts, 28 in Epp. of Paul.
7. An important MS of XIth century in the Brit. Museum.
- 14 (see above, 69 of the Gospels). It is now defective from part of chap. xviii. to the end.
28. A MS of some value of XVth century, in the Bodleian.
38. A MS of the XIIIth century in the Vatican.
91. The Supplement added to the Codex Vaticanus (B) in about the XVth century.
95. Codex Parham of XIIth or XIIIth century, brought from Mount Athos.

ANCIENT VERSIONS.

The OLD LATIN, commonly called Italic or Itala (Ital) of the second cent., in MSS, the most part of the IVth, Vth, and VIth centuries, of which the principal are : a (Vercelli), and b (Verona) both edited by Bianchini; —c (Colbert-Paris) by Sabatier; —d (Cant.) the Latin text of D (Cod. Bezae) of not much value; that of D (Cod. Claromont.) is important; —f (Brescia=Brix.) by Bianchini, a revised text, Italian recension of old or African Latin; *f*¹ and *f*² (Corbeiensis), the former containing Matthew and James, the latter, the text of Gospels, almost entire; —i (Vienna) contains parts of Mark and of Luke; —k (Turin=Taur.) fragments of Matthew and Mark; —m (Spec.) Latin readings in Cardinal Mai's 'Speculum'; —q (Munich=Monac.) fragments of Gospels; —s (Vienna) fragments of Acts and General Epistles.

The LATER LATIN : The Version of Jerome in the Codex Amiatinus of VIth century (Am), collated by Tregelles at Florence in 1845. The VULGATE (Vulg) is Jerome's text, IVth century, which got gradually corrupted in copying, and was revised under Pope Sixtus V. in 1590, and corrected and authorised by Clement VIII. in 1592-8.

The SYRIAC : (1) Curetonian of second cent. (Syr-Crt) from the Nitrian monasteries, now in the Brit. Museum, containing a few fragments of the Gospels; (2) the version of the second cent. commonly printed as the Peschito (Syr-Pst); (3) the Harklean (Syr-Hcl) published by White under the name of Philoxenian, a recension by Thomas of Harkel of Polycarp's or Philoxenus' version, of VIth cent.; (4) the codex in the Bodleian (Syr-Bodl) containing the Acts and General Epistles; (5) A version (Syr) of the Revelation, perhaps of VIth century.

The MEMPHITIC or dialect of Lower Egypt (Memph), and the THEBAIC or dialect of Upper Egypt (Theb), both of the second or third century.

The GOTHIC version by Ulfilas at end of the IVth century in codices of VIth century.

The ARMENIAN of the Vth century. The MSS of it are, for the most part, of XIIIth century or later.

The ÆTHIOPIC version (Æth), of about the VIth century was edited incorrectly in Walton's Polyglott, but more critically by Bode a century later.

REVISED PREFACE TO SECOND EDITION (1871).

THE original edition, in which each of the several books was published by itself (or two epistles together if there were two to the same assembly), and the reprints of several, which seem to have attracted more attention than others, being exhausted, I publish a new edition of this translation of the New Testament, as a whole, in a more convenient form.

It has been in no way my object to produce a learned work; but, as I had access to books, and various sources of information, to which of course the great mass of readers, to whom the word of God was equally precious, had not, I desired to furnish them as far as I was able with the fruit of my own study, and of all I could gather from those sources, that they might have the word of God in English, in as perfect a representation of it in that language as possible.

In the first edition I had made use of a German work professing to give the Textus Receptus, with a collection of the various readings adopted by all or any of the editors of most repute, Griesbach, Lachmann, Scholz, Tischendorf, and some others. But the Textus Receptus was itself often changed in the text of the work, and I found that several of these changes had escaped my notice. My plan was, where the chief editors agreed, to adopt their reading, not to attempt to make a text of my own. My object was a more correct translation: only there was no use in translating what all intelligent critics held to be a mistake in the copy. For, as is known, the Textus Receptus had no real authority, nor was indeed the English Version taken from it,—it was an earlier work by some years. With some variations, which critics have more or less carefully counted, the Textus Receptus was a reprint of earlier editions. Of these Stephanus 1550 is the one of most note: there were besides this Erasmus and Beza. Erasmus was the first published; the Complutensian Polyglott the first printed: then Stephanus; and then Beza. The Elzevirs were not till the next century; and the expression in their preface of textus ab omnibus receptus led to the expression of “textus receptus,” or received text. The Authorised Version was mainly taken from Stephens, or Beza. The reader who is curious as to these things may see a full account in Scrivener’s Introduction or other similar Introductions. After this came, beginning with Fell at Oxford, various critical editions: Mill, Bengel, Wetstein (who greatly enlarged the field of criticism), then Griesbach, Matthæi (the last giving the Russian Codices, which are Constantinopolitan so called), Lachmann, Scholz, Tischendorf, and quite recently Tregelles. I name only those of critical celebrity. We possess besides, in connection with commentaries, Meyer, De Wette, and Alford.

In my first edition my translation was formed on the concurrent voice of Griesbach, Lachmann, Scholz, and Tischendorf: the first of soberer judgment and critical acumen and discernment; the next with a narrower system of taking only the very earliest MSS, so that sometimes he might have only one or two; the third excessively carelessly printed, but taking the mass of Constantinopolitan MSS as a rule; the last of first-rate competency and diligence of research, at first somewhat rash in changing, but in subsequent editions returning more soberly to what he had despaired. Still, if they agreed, one might be pretty sure that what they all rejected was a mere mistake in copying. Scholz, in a lecture in England, gave up his system, and stated that in another edition he should adopt the Alexandrian readings he had rejected. That is the general tendency since: Tregelles laying it down strictly as a fixed rule.

Meanwhile, since my first edition, founded on the concurrent judgment of the four great modern editors, following the received text unchanged where the true reading was a disputed point among them, the Sinaitic MS has been discovered; the Vatican published; Porphyry’s of Acts and Paul’s Epistles and most of the Catholic

Epistles and the Apocalypse, and others, in the Monumenta Sacra Inedita of Tischendorf, as well as his seventh edition. These, with Alford and Meyer's (not yet consulted for the text), and De Wette, furnished a mass of new materials. Tregelles' too was published as a whole since my present edition was finished, though not printed.

All this called for further labour. I had to leave Scholz pretty much aside; (his work cannot be called a careful one, and he had left himself aside;) and take in Tischendorf's 7th ed., Alford, Meyer, De Wette. I have further, in every questioned reading, compared the Sinaitic, Vatican, Dublin, Alexandrian, Codex Bezae, Codex Ephraemi, St. Gall, Claromontanus, Hearne's Laud in the Acts, Porphyry in great part, the Vulgate, the old Latin in Sabatier and Bianchini. The Syriac I had from others; it was only as to words and passages left out or inserted I used the book itself; not being a Syriac scholar, I could not use it for myself. The Zacynthius of Luke I have consulted; with occasional reference to the fathers; Stephanus, Beza, Erasmus. The labour involved in such a work those only know who have gone through it by personal reference to the copies themselves.

In the translation itself there is little changed. A few passages made clearer; small inaccuracies corrected, which had crept in by human infirmity; occasional uniformity in words and phrases produced where the Greek was just the same. In the translation I could feel delight—it gave me the word and mind of God more accurately: in the critical details there is much labour and little food. I can only trust that the Christian may find the fruit of it in increased accuracy.

As the editors I have named had not the Sinaitic nor Porphyrian MS, I have occasionally had to judge for myself where these authorities affected the question much, or have occasionally put the matter as questionable in a note, where I could not decide for myself.

I will now say a few words as to these authorities. As to the general certainty of the text, all these researches have only proved it. The meddling of ecclesiastics has been one chief source of questionable readings; partly wilful, partly innocently: the attempt to assimilate the Gospels, which was wilful; and then, more innocently, arising from the passages read in ecclesiastical services, such changes as "Jesus" put for "He" where it was needed, as in these services "he" at the beginning referred to nothing; and "Jesus" was then introduced by copyists into the text. The attempt to make the Lord's prayer in Luke like that in Matthew is another instance; so, if we are to believe Alford and most other editors, the leaving out "first-born" in the Sinaitic and Vatican and some others, (which I note because it affects the oldest MSS,) because it looked as if the mother of our Lord had other children; and such like instances. But these do not make any very great difficulty. Other MSS and versions (which are earlier than all MSS), with a little care, make the real state of the case plain; but no MSS are early enough to escape these handlings. So that the system which takes merely the oldest MSS as authorities in themselves, without adequate comparison and weighing internal evidence, necessarily fails in result. Conjectures are not to be trusted, but weighing the evidence as to facts is not conjecture.

The three greatest questions are 1 Timothy iii. 16, the beginning of John viii., and the last verses of Mark xvi. In the first I pronounce no judgment, as full dissertations have been written on it by many critics. As to John viii. I do not doubt its genuineness. Augustine tells us it was left out in some untrustworthy MSS because it was thought injurious to morality: and not only so, but in my examination of the text I found that in one of the best MSS of the old Latin, two pages had been torn out because it was there, carrying away part of the text preceding and following. As to the end of Mark and its apparently independent form, I would remark that we have two distinct closes to the Lord's life in the Gospels: his appearance to his disciples in Galilee, related in Matthew without any account of his ascension, which indeed answers to the whole character of that Gospel; and at Bethany, where his ascension took place, which is the part related in Luke, answering to the character of his Gospel: one, with the remnant of the Jews owned, and sending the message out on earth to Gentiles, the other from heaven to all the world, beginning with Jerusalem itself; one Messianic, so to speak, the other heavenly. Now Mark, up to the end of verse eight, gives the Matthew close; from verse nine a summary of the Bethany and ascension scene, and facts related in Luke and John. It is a distinct part, a kind of appendix, so to speak.

I have always stated the Textus Receptus in the margin where it is departed from, except in the Revelation, Erasmus having translated that from one poor and imperfect MS, which being accompanied by a commentary had to be separated by a transcriber; and even so Erasmus corrected what he had from the Vulgate, or guessed what he had not.* There was not much use in quoting this.

But it does not seem to me that any critics have really accounted for the phenomena of MSS. We have now a vast mass of them, some few very old, and a great many more comparatively modern. But it seems to me the oldest, as Sinaitic and Vatican, bear the marks of having been in ecclesiastical hands. I do not mean that the result is seriously affected by it, for their work is pretty easily detected and corrected, and thus is not of any great consequence; but, as it is easily detected, proved to be there. After all research, it cannot be denied, I think, that there are two great schools of readings. The same MS may vary as to the school it follows in different parts. Thus Griesbach says A was Constantinopolitan in the Gospels and Alexandrian in the Epistles, to use conventional names. So Porphyrius (marked P), which I found in six or eight chapters of Acts so uniformly to go with the Textus Receptus, that I consulted it scarcely at all afterwards, does not do so in Paul's Epistles. Still there are the two schools. Of the one, Sinaitic, Vatican, and Dublin (Σ B Z) are the most perfect examples. For that in the main they are of this school, though with individual peculiarities, cannot, it seems to me, be questioned a moment. Of these, Dublin, marked Z, is by far the most correct copy: I remarked but one blunder in copying. The Vatican, as a copy, is far superior to Sinaiticus, which is by no means a correct one, in the Revelation quite the contrary, however valuable as giving us the whole New Testament and being the oldest copy perhaps we have. But we must remember that we have none until after the empire was christian, and that Diocletian had destroyed all the copies he could get at. This Alexandrian text, so called, is the oldest we have in existing Greek MSS. The Alexandrian MS (marked A) is not uniformly Alexandrian in text. But, if Scrivener is to be trusted, the Peschito Syriac agrees much more with A than with B; yet it is the oldest version that exists, nearly two hundred years older than any MS we have, made at the end of the first or the beginning of the second century. This is not the case with the old Latin. It cannot be said to be Alexandrian, but approaches nearer to it. But then even here is a singular phenomenon: one ancient MS of it, Brixianus, is uniformly the Textus Receptus. I think I only found one exception. Where did this come from? The Vulgate is a good deal corrected from the Alexandrian text, though not always following it. Thus we may class them: Σ, B, Z, L, which last follows B very constantly; then we have A and a long list of uncials going with it, not so ancient or much thought of; so that in Alford you will find 'A, &c.' There is another class of about the sixth century, to which date Z also is attributed, C which is independent, and P which in the epistles chiefly follows the Alexandrian but not unfrequently tends to T. R. and A. In the Acts it is, as far as I have examined it, T. R. Δ, or St. Gall, is often T. R., though in many respects an independent witness. If in the Gospels A and B go together, we may be tolerably confident of the reading, of course weighing other testimony. D, it is known, is peculiar, though characteristically Alexandrian. The result to me is that, while about the text as a whole there is nothing uncertain at all, though in very few instances questions may be raised, the history of it is not really ascertained. I avow my arriving at no conclusion, and I think I can say no one can give that history: the phenomena are unsolved.

* It was what is called Reuchlin's MS and is noted (1). A full account of it may be seen in Handschriftliche Funde, by Franz Delitzsch, who found it in a German library.

I have said thus much on the criticism of the text, and the MSS, that persons not versed in the matter may not hazard themselves in forming conclusions without any real knowledge of the questions. Such a book as Tischendorf's English Testament I think mischievous. You have the English Version questioned continually, and \aleph , B, A, given at the bottom of the page, for persons who know nothing about them to doubt about the text, and that is all. Thus, to say no more, the readings of A in the Epistles have a totally different degree of importance from that of its readings in the Gospels. And all becomes uncertain. In most of these cases the true reading is not doubted a moment by Tischendorf himself, yet it only makes people doubt about all. I have followed a collation of the best authorities, but where, though for trifling differences, you have \aleph , B, L, or B, L, on one side, and A, &c., on the other, I confess I have no entire certainty that B, L, are right.

In the next place the reader has not a revision of the Authorised Version, but a translation from the best Greek text I could attain to any certain knowledge of. I do not doubt a moment that numbers of phrases of the Authorised Version will be found in the translation. Filled as the mind is with it from constant use, it suggested itself naturally to the mind. I had no wish to reject it. But a revision of the Authorised Version, if desirable for ecclesiastical use, is not (I think) in itself a wise attempt. I rather doubt the justness of the taste which attempts to revise the Authorised Version. The new bit does not suit the old, and is the more distasteful from its juxtaposition. Imitation is seldom good taste, seldom undetected; it wants nature, and in these things nature is good taste, and attracts.

I have freely used every help I could. I do not mention Grammars and Dictionaries, as they are applicable to all books, and known; but I have used Meyer, whose continuators are very inferior, and from whom a large part of Alford is taken; but I have consulted Alford too, and De Wette. Ellicott is excellent in what he has done; Kypke most useful in what he affords. I have used them for the exegesis of the text as Greek, not for any doctrine in any case. Fritzsche, who is grammatically very full; Bleek, who very much exhausts learning in his book on the Hebrews. Delitzsch and others I have occasionally referred to; there is Kuinoel on the historical books; but I did not find many of them of very great value, Calvin of less than I should have supposed. There are Bengel, Hammond, Elsley; Wolff and other German writers; and Stanley, Jowett, Eadie, &c. But I confess reference to the latter to try did not lead me to repeat it much. What I sought was the thorough study of the text; opinions were of little moment. Poole's Synopsis and Bloomfield have been at hand for older commentators.

Of translations, Diodati's Italian is the best of the old ones, then the Dutch, then the English. Bengel's German is a very good one, and there is, though tainted by their doctrine occasionally, a very literal one called Berleburger. Other translations are Kistemaker, Gossner, Van Ess, which are Roman Catholic; a corrected one of Luther by Meyer; the Swiss one by Piscator, far better than Luther's. These, though I referred to them in a translation made into German, I used comparatively little now or not at all. Of the French, Diodati's is literal, but hardly French; Martin and Ostervald, little to be trusted; and Arnaud's, I may say, not at all. Luther's is the most inaccurate I know. Besides this, there are in Latin the Vulgate and Beza. De Wette's German is elegant, but from excessive leaving out the auxiliary verbs, which is allowed in German, affected; and in the Old Testament, though a good Hebraist, not to be trusted, from rationalistic principles. His Isaiah is Gesenius's.

I have used all helps I could, but the translation is borrowed in no way from any; it is my own translation, but I have used every check I could to secure exactness. I believe the scriptures to be the inspired word of God, received by the Holy Ghost and communicated by His power, though, thank God, through mortal men: what is divine made withal thoroughly human, as the blessed Lord Himself whom it reveals, though never ceasing to be divine. And this is its unspeakable value: thoroughly and entirely divine, "words which the Holy Ghost teacheth," yet perfectly and divinely adapted to man as being by man. My endeavour has been to present to the merely English reader the original as closely as possible. Those who make a version for public use must of course adapt their course to the public. Such has not been my object or thought, but to give the student of scripture, who cannot read the original, as close a translation as possible.

There are some remarks I would desire to make on the English Authorised Version, which would debar me from attempting to correct it, which indeed would be a more ambitious task. Its value and beauty are known, and I need not dilate upon. I have lived upon it, though of course studying the Greek myself; I have no wish to underrate it. But now that everything is inquired and searched into, there are some points to be remarked which make it desirable that the English reader should have something more exact.—There is one principle which the translators avow themselves; which is a very great and serious mistake. Where a word occurs in Greek several times in the same passage or even sentence, they render it, as far as they possibly can, by different words in English. In some cases the effect is very serious; in all the connection is lost. Thus in John v. we have “judgment” committed to the Son; shall not come into “condemnation;” the resurrection of “damnation.” The word is the same in Greek, and every one can see that “not coming into judgment” is a very different thing from “not coming into condemnation.” The whole force of the passage depends on this word, and its contrast with life. Here the sense is wholly changed. In another the connection is lost—Romans xv. 12, 13: “In him shall the Gentiles trust;” “now the God of hope.” “Trust” is the same word as “hope,” only a verb. “The Gentiles hope;” “the God of hope.” I only mention these as examples.

In some cases, as “elders,” “the Lord’s coming,” “the law,” theological views have biased the translators. Thus in Acts i. we have “ordained” put in where there is no word at all. All there is in Greek is “must one be a witness.” So in Acts xiv. 23, “They ordained them elders:” it is simply “they chose elders for them,” χειροτονέω. I am well aware that in ecclesiastical Greek, borrowed from this passage doubtless, and their new ideas attached to it, the word came to mean this ecclesiastically. But it is not its own meaning. It is “to choose,” as 2 Corinthians viii. 19; Acts x. 41.—As to the Lord’s coming, Acts iii. 19, there is no excuse for translating ὅπως ἂν “when.” It is an attempt to give it a sense. Again, in 2 Thessalonians ii. 2, “as that the day of Christ is at hand:” the word translated “is at hand” is “present” or “come.” It is twice used (once in Romans viii. 38 and once in 1 Corinthians iii. 22) for “present” in contrast with “to come.” It alters evidently the whole sense, and the true meaning gives the key to the whole passage. Their imagination being wrought on by these false teachers, they thought that the day was come in the tribulation in which they were suffering; whereas the Lord’s coming would be rest to them and trouble to their persecutors.

But a more serious mistake is in the words in 1 John iii. 4, “Sin is the transgression of the law.” A definition of sin is a serious thing, but this is not what is said. The word used is that which adverbially is employed in Romans ii. for “sinning without law,” and is so translated in contrast with “sinning under law.” If sin were the transgression of the law, it could not be said “until the law sin was in the world;” it could not be said “sin by the commandment became exceeding sinful,” for there would have been no sin till the commandment came. But it is not so. It is “sin is lawlessness.” It is the wicked will of man; if law comes, then it transgresses it; but it is sin without it, because I ought to have no will of my own, but be in obedience. Hence the reasoning of the apostle: “Death reigned from Adam to Moses over those who had not sinned after the similitude of Adam’s transgression.” This is a quotation from Hosea vi. 7: “They, like Adam, have transgressed the covenant.” Adam had a law, Israel had one; they transgressed alike: but death reigned over those from Adam to Moses, over those who had not: sin was there, for death was there. I have enlarged a little more on this because the definition of sin is a serious thing, and theology will not hear of such an alteration. Let God be true and every man a liar. It is so translated where doctrine was not in question, not only in Romans ii. but in 1 Timothy i. 9—"lawless and disobedient." It is never translated "transgression of the law" but here, generally "iniquity:" ἀνομος is twice translated "transgressor;" but it is never said, in any form of the word, to be "transgression of the law" but here.

As regards details of translation I have a few remarks to make. I have sought in some instances to render the particles more distinctly; but, rich as English is, no care will make the shades and colourings of thought in one language answer to another. It is oftener more a question of metaphysics, or metaphysical philology, than of grammar, and grammarians do not always command my assent in these matters, though I am glad to learn from them. In our own tongue few remark these shades of meaning, though they exist, as "indeed," "truly," "surely," "forsooth." Custom and individual habit form the mind in such cases. See the use of εὐθέως in Mark. In St. John's writings I have to remark that the personal pronoun, generally emphatic where inserted, is used so constantly that it can hardly be considered such. I had marked each instance in the first edition, but it arrested the eye inconveniently for the general sense. This the printer has sought to remedy by another and slighter mark. The same character of style is seen in his constant use of ἐκεῖνος. Another peculiarity is to be noticed in John, the constant use of ἵνα for ὅτι. In Luke we have καί for ὅτι.

I have further to remark on the aorist, as to which a great fuss has been made lately, that English is not Greek. The large use of auxiliary verbs in English, and very sparing use of them in Greek, modifies the whole bearing of tenses in the two languages. The past participle with a present auxiliary is not a simple Greek perfect, not actual continuance in effect of a past action; a past action morally estimated as present, or in force at present, is just as often its force. The real practical question in English is: is it an historical statement or a fact viewed as such morally, i.e. without reference to time. "Christ died for us:" that is historical. "Christ has died for us:" that is a moral fact always true. The question which to use is often a very nice one, and we have to notice the difference of our point of view and that of the time of the passage. The only simple tenses in English are both aorist; one signifying accomplishing an act, the other an accomplished act.* And as the latter becomes historic, the use of it in many cases for the Greek aorist falsifies the sense. Thus—a case in which no one, I believe, denies it—ἔγραψα. If I say "I wrote," it is in another letter (unless specified otherwise); "I have written to you" is a past act made present by "have," and it is (unless specified to be in a letter gone but not received) the letter he is occupied with. And the mere doctrine of the aorist in Greek in no way meets the case. "I wrote to you not to do it" is a past letter supposed to be received. "I have written to you:" he has done it, but it is supposed to be not yet received. "I have written to you in the letter" is the present one. Now what is true of ἔγραψα is true of many others. When I want to give the present, not an accomplishing aorist, I say, not "I write," but "am writing;" because "writing" is the act, "am," absolutely present; but on the other hand I say, "I write five letters every day in the year." "I wrote a long letter to him" is an historical fact; "I have written a long letter to him" is a moral assertion to which I attach present value. "Have," with the past participle, is used however for the perfect. But to aorize in English all the Greek aorists is, I judge, simply a blunder. When the aorist is historic, the simple preterite tense may well answer to it in English. I cannot say I have always succeeded in rightly distinguishing the cases: there are cases as to which I have myself doubted.

I have occasionally left old forms where they are more reverential, as "saith" for "says," "unto" for "to," &c. I have left "ye" for the nominative of "you."

* For this reason there are only two tenses in English at all; the future, so called, is the present intention; for an accomplishing or accomplished act is not future.

It is the Dutch gij and u, which last in familiar spoken Dutch is used for gij, and is now become usual in English. Both languages have the Platt-Deutsch for their origin. To these things I attach no great importance; to reverence I do.

And this leads me to the use of the words "do homage" instead of "worship," which I do only for the sake of other people's minds not used to such questions. I have not a doubt of the justness of the change, and just because in modern English "worship" is used for what is rendered to God only: when the English translation was made it was not, and the use of it now falsifies the sense in three-quarters of the passages it is used in. It is quite certain that in the vast majority of instances of persons coming to the Lord they had not the least idea of owning Him as God. And it falsifies the sense in a material point to use the word now. That we worship Christ who do know He is God is another matter. In the English Bible it is, or at least was, all right, because worship did not mean what it does now. The man when he is married says, "With my body I thee worship." It is said in 1 Chronicles xxix. 20, They "worshipped Jehovah and the king," which is simple blasphemy, if it be used in the modern sense. If the reader is curious, he may look at Wetstein, Matthew ii. 2; Minucius Felix, end of chapter ii.; and compare Job xxxi. 27; and Herodotus i. 134 for the customs of Persia. It would not have been worth mentioning but for simple souls.

The use of a large or small "s" is of extreme difficulty in the case of the word Spirit; not in giving it when the Holy Spirit is simply spoken of personally. There it is simple enough. But as dwelling in us, our state by it, and the Holy Spirit itself, are so blended as to make it then very difficult; because it is spoken of as our state, and then as the Holy Ghost. If it be put large, we lose the first; if small, the Spirit personally. I can only leave it with this warning, calling the attention of the reader to it. It is a blessed thought that it is so blended in power that our state is so spoken of; but if we lose the divine Person, that blessing itself is lost. The reader may see, not the difficulty, for it does not exist there, but the blending of the effect and the person in Romans viii. 27.

All the instances in which the article is wanting before Κύριος are not marked by brackets; but I give here all the passages in which Κύριος, which the LXX employ for Jehovah, thence transferred to the New Testament, is used as a proper name; that is, has the sense of "Jehovah." It is also used in the New Testament for a title of Christ, who as man has the place of Lordship over all things. "God," says Peter, "hath made him, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ." I have put a mark of interrogation after those that are doubtful.

In the Acts the word is used in an absolute and general way, and applied to Christ. It is usually the same in the Epistles; see 1 Cor. viii. 5, 6.

It may perhaps be useful to some of my readers to give the chronological order of the Epistles : and first those that are certain : 1 and 2 Thessalonians ; 1 and 2 Corinthians ; Romans, Ephesians, Colossians, Philippians, and Philemon ; the last four Paul wrote when a prisoner. Galatians was written from fourteen to twenty years after the apostle was first called, and after he had laboured for some time in Asia Minor, perhaps while he was at Ephesus, as it was not a very long time after their conversion : 1 Timothy, on occasion of the apostle's leaving Ephesus,—when exactly is not clear. 2 Timothy was written at the close of his life when about to be martyred. It is questioned if Paul ever got out of prison : if he did, 2 Timothy was written when he was seized the second time. Titus refers to a journey of Paul's to Crete ; it is not said when ; perhaps, it has been thought, when he resided so long at Ephesus. It is morally synchronous with 1 Timothy. It has not been the purpose of God to give us chronological dates for them, and in divine wisdom. The moral order is clear. The way in which 2 Timothy refers to the ruin of what 1 Timothy builds the order of, is plain enough. Hebrews was written late, in view of the approaching judgment of Jerusalem, and calls on christian Jews to separate themselves from what God was about to judge. The Epistle of James was written when this separation had in no way taken place. Jewish Christians are still seen as forming part of the Israel not yet finally cast out, only owning Jesus to be the Lord of glory. But, as all the Catholic Epistles, it was written toward the close of the apostolic history, when Christianity had been widely received by the tribes of Israel, and the Jewish history was now closing in judgment. In 1 Peter we see that the gospel had widely spread among the Jews : it was written to the christian Jews of the dispersion. The second of course is later, at the close when he was about to put off his tabernacle and would leave them in writing the warnings apostolic care would soon no longer furnish. Hence, like Jude, it contemplates grievous departure from the path of godliness on the part of those who had received the faith, and a mocking of the testimony that the Lord was coming. 1 John insists on its being "the last time." Apostates were already manifested, apostates from the truth of Christianity denying the Father and the Son, as well as with Jewish unbelief denying that Jesus was the Christ. Jude comes morally before John. These false brethren had crept in unawares, but the evil is pursued to the final rebellion and judgment. It differs from 2 Peter in viewing the evil not simply as wickedness, but departure from first estate. Revelation completes this picture by shewing Christ judging in the midst of the candlesticks ; the first having left its first love, and threatened, if it did not repent and return to its original estate, to have the candlestick removed : the final judgment being in Thyatira, and in Laodicea ; and then it shews the judgment of the world and the return of the Lord, the kingdom and heavenly city and eternal state. This general character of departure and failure, stamped on all the last books from Hebrews to Revelation, is very striking : Paul's epistles, save 2 Timothy, which gives individual direction in the midst of ruin, though prophesying of this state of things, express the labour and the care of the wise master-builder. The interest of their date is in connection with his history in the Acts ; but Hebrews, and the Catholic Epistles, and Revelation, all shew predicted departure already set in, (for even 1 Peter, which is least so, tells us the time was come for judgment to begin at the house of God,) and so the judgment of the professing church, and then prophetically of the world risen up against God. This closing character of the Catholic Epistles is very striking and instructive.

The contents of the books of the New Testament must be sought elsewhere : I can only give here some very general thoughts upon them. It will be remarked at once that the character of the first three Gospels is different from that of John. The principle of this difference is this : the first three present Christ, though in different characters, to man to be received, and shew His rejection by man. John begins with this as the starting-point of his Gospel, being the display of the divine nature, and what man and the Jew was in presence of. He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not. He came to His own, and His own received Him not. Hence we have sovereign grace, election ; man must be born again, wholly anew ; and the Jews are all through treated as reprobate ; the divine and incarnate Person of the Lord as the foundation of all blessing, and a work of atonement which is the basis even of the sinless condition of the new heavens and the new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness, together with, at the close, the gift of the Comforter, form the subject of the Gospel, in contrast with Judaism. Instead of tracing the Lord to the Abrahams and Davids, the roots of promise, or to Adam, to bring in as Son of man blessing to man, or giving the account of His service in ministry as the great Prophet that was to come, it brings a divine Person, the Word made flesh, into the world. What I have just said stamps their character on the four Gospels. Matthew is the fulfilment of promise and prophecy, Emmanuel among the Jews, rejected by them, stumbling thus on the stone of stumbling, and shewn to be really a sower ; fruit-seeking was in vain ; and then the Church and the Kingdom substituted for Israel blessed by promises, which they refused in His Person ; but after judgment, when they owned Him, to be owned under mercy. The ascension is not found in Matthew, I believe, for this very reason : Galilee in Matthew, not Jerusalem, is the scene of His interview with the disciples after His resurrection. He is with the poor of the flock, who owned the word of the Lord, where the light had sprung up to the people sitting in darkness. The commission to baptize goes forth hence and applies to Gentiles. Mark gives the ~~servant~~ prophet, Son of God : Luke, the ~~Son of man~~, the first two chapters affording a lovely picture of the remnant in Israel : John, a ~~divine~~ Person come into the world, the foundation (redemption being accomplished) of the ~~new~~ creation ; the object and pattern of faith ; revealing the Father ; with the promise of the Comforter while away. Paul and John reveal our being in a wholly new place in Christ. But John is mainly occupied with revealing the Father in the Son to us, and thus life by the Son in us : Paul with presenting us to God, and His counsels in grace. If we confine ourselves to the Epistles, the latter only speaks of the Church, save 1 Peter ii., the building of living stones, but Paul only speaks of the Body. The Acts shew the founding of the Church by the Holy Ghost come down from heaven, and then the Jerusalem or Palestinian labours of the apostles, and other free labourers, especially the work of Peter, and then that of Paul. With the history of the rejection of his Gospel by the Jews of the dispersion the history of scripture closes.

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW.

BOOK of the generation of Jesus Christ, Son of David, Son of Abraham.

² Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob begat Juda and his brethren; and Juda begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom, and Esrom begat Aram, and Aram begat Aminadab and Aminadab begat Naasson, and Naasson begat Salmon, and Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse, and Jesse begat David the king. And David^a begat Solomon, of her [that had been the wife] of Urias; and Solomon begat Roboam, and Roboam begat Abia, and Abia begat Asa, and Asa begat Josaphat, and Josaphat begat Joram, and Joram begat Ozias, and Ozias begat Joatham, and Joatham begat Achaz, and Achaz begat Ezekias, and Ezekias begat Manasses, and Manasses begat Amon, and Amon begat Josias, and Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, at the time of the carrying away^b of Babylon. And after the carrying away of Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel, and Salathiel begat Zorobabel, and Zorobabel begat Abiud, and Abiud begat Eliakim, and Eliakim begat Azor, and Azor begat Sadoc, and Sadoc begat Achim, and Achim begat Eliud, and Eliud begat Eliazar, and Eliazar begat Matthan, and Matthan begat Jacob, and Jacob begat Joseph, the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus,

¹⁸ Now the birth of Jesus^c Christ was thus: His mother, Mary, that is,^d having been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found to be with child of [the] Holy Ghost. But Joseph, her husband, being [a] righteous [man], and unwilling^e to expose her publicly, purposed to have put her away secretly; ²⁰ but while he pondered on these things, behold, an angel of [the] Lord^f appeared to him in a dream, saying, Joseph, son of David, fear not to take to [thee] Mary, thy wife, for that which is begotten in her is ²¹ of [the] Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save ²² his people from their sins. Now all this came to pass that that might be fulfilled which was spoken by [the] Lord,^f through the prophet, saying, ²³ Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is, being interpreted, ²⁴ 'God with us.' But Joseph, having awoke up from his sleep, did as the angel of [the] Lord,^f had enjoined ²⁵ him, and took to [him] his wife, and knew her not until she had brought forth her firstborn^g son : and he called his name Jesus.

II. Now Jesus having been born^h in Bethlehem of Judæa, in the days of Herod the king, behold magi from² the east arrived at Jerusalem, saying, Where is the king of the Jews that has been born ? for we have seen his star in the east, and have come to do him homage.

³ But Herod the king having heard [of it], was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him ; and, assembling all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ³ should be born. And they said to him, In Bethlehem of Judæa ; for thus it is written throughⁱ the prophet : And thou Bethlehem, land of Juda, art in no wise the least among the governors of Juda ; for out of thee shall go forth a leader who^j shall shepherd my people Israel.

⁷ Then Herod, having secretly called the magi, inquired^k of them accurately the time of the star that was appearing ;¹ and having sent them to Bethlehem, said, Go, search out accurately concerning the child, and when ye shall have found [him] bring me back word, so that I also may⁹ come and do him homage. And they having heard the king went their way ; and lo, the star which they had seen in the east went before them until it came and stood over the place¹⁰ where the little child was. And when they saw the star they rejoiced with¹¹ exceeding great joy. And having come into the house they saw¹¹ the little child with Mary his mother, and falling down did him homage. And having opened their treasures, they offered to him gifts, gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being divinely instructed^m in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

¹³ Now, they having departed, behold, an angel of [the] Lordⁿ appears in a dream to Joseph, saying, Arise, take to [thee] the little child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there until I shall tell thee ; for Herod will seek the little child to destroy¹⁴ it. And, having arisen, he took to [him] the little child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt. ¹⁵ And he was there until the death of Herod, that that might be fulfilled which was spoken by [the] Lord,ⁿ through the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son. ¹⁶ Then Herod, seeing that he had been mocked by the magi, was greatly enraged ; and sent and slew all the boys which [were] in Bethlehem, and in all its borders, from two years and under, according to the time which he had accurately inquired^k from the magi. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken through^o Jeremiah the prophet, saying, A voice has been heard in Rama,^p weeping, and great lamentation : Rachel weeping her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

¹⁹ But Herod having died, behold,

^g I have not left out ' firstborn ' though there is some MS authority for doing so, and it may have been borrowed from Luke, where it is without question. But there was a superstitious motive for leaving it out, and Jerome, reasoning against those who opposed the superstition, does not venture to say the word was not here. The Vulg has it. ^h γεννηθεῖς : the general fact of his being born ; literally ' begotten,' but used for ' born.' In verse 2 τεχθεῖς, properly the fact of being brought forth—of course strictly of the mother. It was the actual fact of his being born or brought forth that the magi refer to.

III. Now in those days comes John the baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judæa, and^s saying, Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn

⁵ Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the country

⁶ round the Jordan, and were baptised by him in theⁿ Jordan, confessing their sins.

⁷ But seeing many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, Offspring of vipers, who has forewarned^v you to ⁸ flee from the coming wrath? Produce^w therefore fruit^x worthy of repentance. And do not think to say within yourselves, We have Abraham for [our] father; for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to

^a οἱ ζητοῦντες. This shews how thoroughly the pronoun and participle are used as a substantive, characterising the person or thing. 'The seekers of:' this expression is awkward in English, and hence I have changed it into the verb, and then it must be in the past: 'sought,' not 'seek.'

^r 'In order that it might be,' ἵνα (see chap. i. 22); 'so that it might be,' ὥπως, as here; and, 'then,' τότε (chap. ii. 17), 'was fulfilled,' are never confounded in the quotations of the Old Testament. The first is the object of the prophecy; the second, not simply its object, but an event which was within the scope and intention of the prophecy; the third is merely a case in point, where what happened was an illustration of what was said in the prophecy.

^v It is well to notice here an habitual use of the article which embarrassed Middleton. It is a known rule, and holds in more than one language, that contrast, and hence one part of a thing as contradistinguished from another, has the article. This is the case with 'ship' and 'mountain' in the gospels: 'he was' or 'went' 'on board ship,' ἐν τῷ πλοίῳ, εἰς τὸ πλοῖον; not a particular ship, but 'on board ship,' as we say, in contrast with 'on shore.' So τὸ ὄρος, 'the mountain'; not a particular mountain, but in contrast with the plain, where the plain and the mountain are in contrast. It is the same thing in French near the Alps, Il est à la montagne—no particular one, but gone up from the plain, as is done in summer. The highlands and the lowlands are, in a measure, the same thing, though the adjective in the compound modifies it. Christ had a particular ship which waited on him, but the article is used, as here, where that is not the case. 'In the ship with' is tantamount to 'the same ship;' so here I do not change the form, but translate literally. If not, one must say, 'on board ship.'

^f I do not put 'good works,' because it has acquired the force of benevolent actions, which is not the force of καλά, but all that is upright and honourable and comely, what ought to be in one who feels aright. 'Upright' does not quite give the whole sense, but the most nearly so of any word I know.

^g 'Give the fulness of.' πληρῶσαι is not to fulfil a command in the way of obedience, nor to complete another thing by adding to it; but to fill up full some system sketched out, or that which is expressed in the thing fulfilled, as a whole. Thus the doctrine of the Church completed the word of God, made full what was expressed by it. Christ does not here fulfil what is said, nor add to what still remained and was perfect itself; but came to make good the whole scope of law and prophets. The passage has nothing to do with obeying the law. Nor is it here accomplishing a particular prophecy. He comes as the revealed completeness of God's mind, whatever the law and the prophets had pointed out. Verse 18 forbids the sense of obedience as not to be maintained, though 19 proves that he was to be condemned who, being under law, broke the commandments spoken of. But this is a consequence; Christ speaks of their authority. All was to be fulfilled in some way or another, not set aside.

ⁱ Or 'excel,' περισσεύει. It is so used by the LXX for a Hebrew word signifying 'excel,' but the πλείον rather disables one from translating it so. But I doubt not it includes the idea of being a better righteousness. See ver. 47.

^j Some authorities omit 'lightly,' as ^κ B Am; D E L Δ Σ &c. 1 33 Syrr Memph have it.

^k The εἰς after ἐνοχός has, it seems to me, the force of 'even to,' 'as far as,' as in other cases: as Rom. v. 21; Rev. xiii. 3, εἰς θάνατον; Eph. iii. 19, εἰς πᾶν τὸ πληρῶμα.

rightly, 'your righteousness,' i.e. in general.
But $\delta\iota\kappa\alpha\iota\omicron\sigma\upsilon\eta$ is used for $\delta\iota\kappa\eta$. Z has $\epsilon\lambda\epsilon\mu\omicron\sigma\upsilon\eta$.

\aleph had evidently $\delta\iota\kappa\alpha\iota\omicron\sigma\upsilon\eta$. The Rabbis use δ . for 'alms.' And it appears to be the same in Syriac.
The LXX translate $\alpha\lambda\mu\sigma$ by 'alms.' But see $\alpha\pi\omicron$ -, which gives it the force of having all they have to expect—they have the whole of it already, $\alpha\pi\epsilon\chi\omicron\upsilon\sigma\iota$. It is expressed in English by laying the stress on 'have.' Perhaps one might say

'have got' in the same sense. So also in ver. 16.

when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as those who are of the nations: for they think they shall be heard through their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like them, for your Father knows of what things ye have need before ye beg [anything] of him. Thus therefore pray ye: Our Father who art in the heavens, let thy name be sanctified, let thy kingdom come, let thy will be done as in heaven so upon the^b earth; give us to-day our needed bread,^c and forgive us our debts, as we also forgive^d our debtors, and lead us not into temptation, but save us from evil.^e For if ye forgive men their offences, your heavenly Father also will forgive you [yours^f], but if ye do not forgive men their offences,^g neither will your Father forgive your offences.

And when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, downcast in countenance; for they disfigure their faces so that they may appear fasting to men: verily I say unto you, They have their reward. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust spoils, and where thieves dig through and steal; but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust spoils, and where thieves do not dig through²¹ nor steal; for where thyⁱ treasure is, there will be also thyⁱ heart. The lamp of the body is the eye; if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole²² body will be light: but if thine eye be wicked, thy whole body will be dark. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great the darkness! No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and will love the other, or he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. For this cause I say unto you, Do not be careful about your life, what ye should eat and what ye should drink; nor for your body what ye should put on. Is not the life more than food, and the body than raiment? Look at the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, nor reap, nor gather into granaries, and your heavenly Father nourishes them. Are ye not much more excellent than they? But which of you by carefulness can add to his growth^j one cubit? And why are ye careful about clothing? Observe with attention the lilies of the field how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; but I say unto you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed as one of these. But if God so clothe the herbage of the field, which is to-day, and to-morrow is cast into [the] oven, will he not much rather you, O [ye]

^c Or 'to-morrow's,' or 'till to-morrow.' ἐπιούσιον may be 'daily' in the sense of 'till to-morrow.' A nearly analogous word (this is only used here) means to-morrow, and is often used in Acts and Luke. This has the form of an adjective derived from that. But many object to this, as not according to the analogy of Greek, and understand it to mean 'needed.' Origen declares it is a word unknown to classical or popular Greek. The analogy of περιούσιος and περιουσία, 'more than what is needed,' seems to me the plainest and most natural explanation of it. They had only what was directly and immediately for them or their need, ἐπι-, and not what was περι-, 'surrounded with abundance.'

^d ἀφήκαμεν, with \aleph B Z 1. But I put 'forgive' because the perfect implies not only they had on occasion, but continued to do it. In Luke it is ἀφίεμεν, as T. R. here, with G K &c. (D Σ ἀφίεμεν.)

^e Or 'from the evil one.' T. R. adds 'For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen;' with E L Δ Σ &c. 33 Syrr; text \aleph B D Z 1 Am Memph.

^f I add 'yours' in brackets, otherwise 'you' becomes an accusative.

^g \aleph D 1 Am omit τὰ παραπτώματα αὐτῶν, to which I am inclined; but B E L Δ Π Σ &c. 33 Memph have the words. The sense is identical.

^j The proper sense of ἡλικία is 'age,' and many insist on it here. But it refers to relative age in man, and hence is used for 'growth,' or 'stature,' as Luke xix. 3.

MATTHEW VI. VII.

³¹ of little faith? Be not therefore careful, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or What shall we put on? for all these things the nations seek after; for your heavenly Father knows that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you. Be not careful therefore for the morrow, for the morrow shall be careful about itself.^k Sufficient to the day [is] its own evil.

VII. Judge not, that ye may not be judged; for with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you.¹ But why lookest thou on the mote that is in the eye of thy brother, but observest not the beam that is in thine eye? Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Allow [me], I will cast out the mote from thine eye; and behold, the beam is in thine eye? Hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine eye, and then thou wilt see clearly to cast out the mote out of the eye of thy brother.

Or what man is there of you who, if his son shall ask of him a loaf of bread,ⁿ will give him a stone; and if he ask a fish, will give him a serpent? If therefore ye, being wicked, know [how] to give good gifts to your children, how much rather shall your Father who is in the heavens give good things to them that ask of him? Therefore all things whatever ye desire that men should do to you, thus do ye also do to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

- ¹² But [Jesus^t] hearing it, said,^u They that are strong have not need of a physician, but those that are ill.
- ¹³ But go and learn what [that] is—I will have mercy and not sacrifice; for I have not come to call righteous [men] but sinners.^v
- ¹⁴ Then come to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees often fast, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said to them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber mourn so long as the bridegroom is with them? But days will come when the bridegroom will have been taken away from them, and
- ¹⁵ then they will fast. But no one puts a patch of new^w cloth on an old garment, for its filling up takes from the garment and a worse rent
- ¹⁶ takes place. Nor do men put new wine into old skins, otherwise the skins burst and the wine is poured out, and the skins will be destroyed; but they put new wine into new skins, and both are preserved together.
- ¹⁷ As he spoke these things to them, behold, a ruler coming in^x did homage to him, saying, My daughter has by this^y died; but come and lay thy hand upon her and she shall saw the crowds he was moved with compassion for them, because they were harassed,^b and cast away as sheep not having a shepherd.

³⁷ Then saith he to his disciples, The harvest [is] great and the workmen [are] few; supplicate therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth workmen unto his harvest.

X. And having called to [him] his twelve disciples, he gave them power^c over unclean spirits, so that they should cast them out, and heal every disease and every bodily weakness.

⁵ These twelve Jesus sent out when he had charged them, saying, Go not off into [the]^f way of [the]^f nations, and into a city of Samaritans enter ye not; but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of the heavens has drawn nigh. Heal [the] infirm, [raise the dead], cleanse lepers,^g cast out demons: ye have received⁹ gratuitously, give gratuitously. Do not provide yourselves with gold, or¹⁰ silver, or brass, for your belts, nor scrip for the way, nor two body coats, nor sandals, nor a staff: for the workman is worthy of his nourishment.

¹¹ But into whatsoever city or village ye enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and there remain till ye go forth.

¹² And as ye enter into a^h house¹³ salute it. And if the house indeed be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let

¹⁶ Behold, I send you as sheep in the midst of wolves; be therefore prudent as the serpents and guileless¹⁷ as the doves. But beware of men; for they will deliver you up to sanhedrims, and scourge you in their synagogues; and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations. But when they deliver you up, be not careful how or what ye shall speak; for it shall be given to you in that hour what ye shall speak. For ye are not the speakers,²⁰ but the Spirit of your Father which speaks in you.

²¹ But brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father child; and children shall rise up against parents and shall put them to death; and ye shall be hated of all on account of my name. But he that has endured to [the] end, he^j shall be saved.

^c Or 'authority': ἐξουσία, not δύναμις. More than authority, but not simply δύναμις: it is more than δύναμις, as it includes the right to exercise this. Hence 'power' is nearer to it in English: δύναμις is the ability to do a thing. Cf. Lu. iv. 36.

^d As regards 'Lebbaeus, who was surnamed Thaddæus,' the readings are so various that I have left T. R. as it is. I have been disposed sometimes to reject ὁ ἐπικληθεὶς Θαδδαῖος. Mark has only Θαδδαῖος, and it would seem to reconcile them. So here \aleph B Vulg Memph, for the same reason. They are evidently two names of the same person. Bengel would say Thad in Chaldee and Leb in Hebrew mean the same thing, which De Wette denies.

XII. At that time Jesus went on the sabbath through the cornfields; and his disciples were hungry, and began ² to pluck the ears and to eat. But the Pharisees, seeing [it], said to him, Behold, thy disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on sabbath.
³ But he said to them, Have ye not read what David did when he was hungry,^g and they that were with ⁴ him? How he entered into the house of God, and ate the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those with him, ⁵ but for the priests only? Or have ye not read in the law that on the sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?
⁶ But I say unto you, that there is here what is greater^h than ⁷ the temple. But if ye had known what is: I will [have] mercy and not sacrifice, ye would not have ⁸ condemned the guiltless. For the Son of man is Lordⁱ of the sabbath.

⁹ And, going away^k from thence,
¹⁰ he came into their synagogue. And behold, there was a man having his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath? that they might accuse ¹¹ him. But he said to them, What man shall there be of you who has

forth' is more arbitrary. 'He produces;' but this does not suit in English here. It means that judgment was hid, and 'shut up among his treasures,' as said indeed in Deut. xxxii. 34, and in due time it will be produced, without saying he brings it with him, or sends it without coming. It is brought out and displayed in its time. With this explanation I say 'bring forth.' 'Put forth' has somewhat the force of 'putting forth strength;' whereas it is producing, bringing out what till then was hidden and kept back. See chap. xii. 35.

He that is not with me is against me, and he that ³¹gathers not with me scatters. For this reason I say unto you, Every sin and injurious speaking shall be forgiven to men, but speaking injuriously of the Spirit shall not be for- ³²given to men. And whosoever shall have spoken a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this age nor in the ³³coming [one]. ³⁸ Then answered him^t some of the scribes and Pharisees, saying, Teacher, we desire to see a sign from ³⁹thee. But he, answering, said to them, A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and a sign shall not be given to it save the sign ⁴⁰of Jonas the prophet. For even as Jonas was in the belly of the great fish three days and three nights, thus shall the Son of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights. ⁴¹ Ninevites^u shall stand up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, more ⁴²than Jonas [is] here. XIII. And that [same] day Jesus went out from the house and sat ² down by the sea. And great crowds were gathered together to him, so that going on board ship himself he sat down, and the whole crowd stood ³ on the shore. And he spoke to them many things in parables, saying, Be-as he sowed, some [grains] fell along the way, and the birds came and de-

 they sprang up out of [the ground]

^w As to the good thing given. It is abstract; the object is not to say what is given, but the manner of God's dealing. περισσεύω has a causative force (see Eph. i. 8), and here has the same subject as 'shall be given.' What is given is caused to be in abundance. We may say, also, to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do ¹⁴ not hear nor understand; and in^y them is filled up the prophecy of Esaias, which says, Hearing ye shall hear and shall not^z understand, and beholding ye shall behold and not^z ¹⁵ see; for the heart of this people has grown fat, and they have heard heavily with their ears, and they have closed their eyes as asleep, lest^a they should see with the eyes, and hear with the ears, and understand with the heart, and should be con-¹⁶ verted, and I should heal them. But blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear; ¹⁷ for verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous [men] have desired to see the things which ye behold and did not see [them], and to hear the things which ye hear ¹⁸ and did not hear [them]. Ye, therefore, hear the parable of the sower.

¹⁹ From every one who hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand [it], the wicked one comes and catches away what was sown in his heart: this is he that is sown ²⁰ by the wayside. But he that is sown on the rocky places—this is he who hears the word and immediately ²¹ receives it with joy, but has no root in himself, but is for a time only;
 and when tribulation or persecution happens on account of the word, he ²² is immediately offended. And he that is sown among the thorns—this is he who hears the word, and the anxious care of this life^b and the deceit of riches choke the word and

'he shall be in abundance,' a word used of the thing and of the person possessing it. 'It (or he) is in abundance.'

^y T. R. adds ἐν', with D M. ἀναπληρώω is more than πληρώω. It is to supply what is wanting, and so 'fill up.' Since Esaias's time there had been much of this, but the rejection of Christ completed and filled it up. 'In them' has therefore the sense of 'as to,' 'in their case.' 'By' would cast more on their act and responsibility: ἐπί seems to have been introduced to avoid this sense of it.

21 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of the heavens has become like^d a man sowing good seed in his field; but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed darnel^e amongst the wheat, and went away. But when the blade shot up and produced fruit, then appeared the darnel also. And the bondmen of the householder came up and said to him, Sir, hast thou not sown good seed in thy field? 23 whence then has it f darnel? And he said to them, A man [that is] an enemy has done this. And the bondmen said to him, Wilt thou then that we should go and gather it [up]? But he said, No; lest^g [in] gathering the darnel ye should root up the wheat with it. Suffer both to grow together unto the harvest, and in^h time of the harvest I will say to the harvestmen, Gather first the darnel, and bind it into bundles to burn it; but the wheat bring together into my granary.

31 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of the heavens is like a grain of mustard [seed] which a man took and sowed in his field, which is less indeed than all seeds, but when it is grown is greater than herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and roost in its branches.

35 Then, having dismissed the crowds, he^k went into the house; and his disciples came to him, saying, Expound to us the parable of the darnel of the field. But he answering said,^l He that sows the good seed is the Son of man, and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom, but the darnel are the sons of the evil [one]; and the enemy who has sowed it is the devil; and the harvest is [the] completion of [the^m] age, and the harvestmen are angels.

40 As then the darnel is gathered and is burned in the fire, thus it shall be in the completion of theⁿ age. ^c Lit. 'the:' cf. xv. 12.

^d The construction is disputed here: it is ἐνεργούσιν ἐν αὐτῷ, as nearly as possible 'operate in him.' The passage has a certain reflexive force as in French s'opèrent parlui. But this can hardly be given in English; the Authorized Version has attempted it by changing the word to 'shew forth.' I have sought to preserve the force of the verb used by adding 'their force:' the difficulty partly arises from the word which is used for the effects of power being the plural of power itself, because the power which wrought is more seen than the effects. Still I believe the intention is not to use δυνάμεις differently, only the mind turns more to the agent than to the effect. 'Powers' and 'miracles' are the same word in Greek. Hence it may be translated 'these powers operate in him;' but its reflexive force above spoken of is, I doubt not, the true one. The 'shew forth' of the Authorized Version is alleged to be the force of the middle, which I doubt, but of the active I cannot find it is. For the sense, however, I should not object to 'display themselves in him.'

^o κυνάριον (not κύων), 'a little dog,' more slighting than 'dog,' I believe; but 'little dog' is not this, but rather the contrary in English. I would not say 'cur,' fearing it might be too strong, but I have no doubt of the greater contempt expressed by the word.

^p Or else we may say 'Yet' here, as admitting the truth, but pleading; ναί is used for affirming what is said, but also for beseeching, as, indeed, in English we say, 'Yes, do it.' 'Yet' seems perhaps to express this more clearly, as the admission of what Christ said is thus evident; the 'but' is wanting if we say 'yea.' The Auth. Ver. avoids the difficulty discussed by all the critics, by translating freely, but the 'for even' of the original is lost. 'Yet' thus used gives assent and obsecration, and this seems the force of ναί. See Rev. xxii. 20, 'Even so come.' If we say 'Truth, Lord,' we must add 'yet': 'Truth, Lord, [yet hear] for even.' As to ναί having this tacitly beseeching character, see Philem. 20, and so it is taken by many. Otherwise ναί contradicts the Lord, who had said οὐκ, and καὶ γάρ follows naturally. And I suspect this to be the better sense: 'Yes, Lord, you may do it, for even:' so I have put it in the text.

²⁸ Verily I say unto you, There are some of those standing here that^s shall not taste of death at all^t until they shall have seen the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

XVII. And after six days Jesus takes with [him] Peter, and James, and John his brother, and brings them² up into a high mountain apart. And he was transfigured before them. And his face shone as the sun, and his garments became white as the³ light; and lo, Moses and Elias appeared to them talking with him.⁴ And Peter answering said to Jesus, Lord, it is good we should be here. If thou wilt, let us^v make here three tabernacles: for thee one, and for⁵ Moses one, and one for Elias. While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed^w them, and lo, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I have⁶ found my delight: hear him. And the disciples hearing [it] fell upon their faces and were greatly terrified.⁷ And Jesus coming to [them] touched them, and said, Rise up, and be not⁸ terrified. And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus alone.⁹ And as they descended from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no one until the Son of man be risen up from among¹⁰ [the] dead. And [his^x] disciples demanded of him saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first

¹¹ have come? And he^y answering said to them,^z Elias indeed comes first^a ¹² and will restore all things. But I say unto you that Elias has already come, and they have not known him, but have done unto him whatever they would. Thus also the Son of man is about to suffer from^b them.

¹³ Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them of John the baptist.

¹⁴ And when they came to the crowd, a man came to him, falling on his

¹⁵ knees before him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is lunatic, and suffers sorely;^c for often he falls into the fire and often¹⁶ into the water. And I brought him to thy disciples and they were not¹⁷ able to heal him. And Jesus answering said, O unbelieving and perverted generation, how long^d shall I be with you? how long^d shall I bear with ¹⁸ you? Bring him here to me. And Jesus rebuked him, and the demon went out from him, and the boy was¹⁹ healed from that hour. Then the disciples, coming to Jesus apart, said [to him], Why were not we able to ²⁰ cast him out? And he says^e to them, Because of your unbelief; for verily

I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard [seed], ye shall say to this mountain, Be transported hence there, and it shall transport itself; and nothing shall be im-

³⁰ and I will pay thee.^h But he would not, but went away and cast him into prison, until he should pay what ³¹ was owing. But his fellow-bondmen, having seen what had taken place, were greatly grieved, and went and ³² recounted to their lord all that had taken place. Then his lord, having called him to [him], says to him, Wicked bondman! I forgave thee all that debt becauseⁱ thou besoughthad compassion on thy fellow-bond-man, as I also had compassion on ³⁴ thee? And his lord being angry delivered him to the tormentors till he paid all that was owing to him.

³⁵ Thus also my heavenly Father shall do to you if ye forgive not from your hearts every one his brother.^k receiving it they murmured against ¹² the master of the house, saying, These last have worked one hour, and thou hast made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the day and the

And when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonders which he wrought, and the children crying in the temple^k and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David, they were indignant, and said to him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus says to them, Yes; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou ¹⁷ hast perfected praise? And leaving them he went forth out of the city to Bethany, and there he passed the night.

¹⁸ But early in the morning, as he came back into the city, he hungered.
¹⁹ And seeing one fig-tree in the way, he came to it and found on it nothing but leaves only. And he says to it, Let there be never moreⁿ fruit of thee for ever. And the fig-tree was immediately dried up. And when the disciples saw [it], they wondered, saying, How immediately is the fig-tree dried up! And Jesus answering said to them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and do not doubt, not only shall ye do what [is done] to the fig-tree, but even if ye should say to this mountain, Be thou taken away and be thou cast into the ²² sea, it shall come to pass. And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

²³ And when he came into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him [as he was] teaching, saying, By what authority doest thou these things? and who ²⁴ gave thee this authority? And Jesus answering said to them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I also will tell you by what ²⁵ authority I do these things: The baptism of John, whence was it? of heaven or of men? And they reasoned among themselves saying, If we should say, Of heaven, he will say to us, Why then have ye not believed ²⁶ him? but if we should say, Of men, we fear the crowd, for all hold John ²⁷ for a prophet. And answering Jesus they said, We do not know. He also said to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these ²⁸ things. But what think ye? A man had two children, and coming to the first he said, Child, go to-day, work ²⁹ in [my^o] vineyard. And he answering said, I will not; but afterwards ³⁰ repenting himself he went. And coming to the second he said likewise; and he answering said, I ³¹ [go], sir, and went not. Which of the two did the will of the father? They say [to him^p], The first. Jesus says to them, Verily I say unto you that the tax-gatherers and the harlots go into the kingdom of God

when the time of fruit drew near, he sent his bondmen to the husbandmen to receive his fruits. And the husbandmen took his bondmen, and beat one, killed another, and stoned another. Again he sent other bondmen more than the first, and they did to them in like manner. And at last he sent to them his son, saying, They will have respect for my son. But the husbandmen, seeing the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him and possess^r his inheritance. And they took him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. When therefore the lord of the vineyard comes, what shall he do to those husbandmen? They say to him, He will miserably destroy those evil [men], and let out the vineyard to other husbandmen, who^s shall render^t him the fruits in their seasons. Jesus says to them, Have ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which they that builded rejected, this has become the cornerstone: this^u is of [the] Lord, and it is wonderful in our eyes? Therefore I say to you, that the kingdom of God shall be taken from you and shall be given to a nation producing the fruits of it. And he that falls on this stone shall be broken, but on whomsoever it shall fall, it shall grind him to powder. And the chief priests and the Pharisees, having heard his parables, knew that he spoke^v about them. XXII. And Jesus answering spoke to them again in parables, saying, ² The kingdom of the heavens has become like a king who^{tt} made a ³ wedding feast for his son, and sent his bondmen to call the persons invited to the wedding feast, and they ⁴ would not come. Again he sent other bondmen, saying, Say to the persons invited, Behold, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatted beasts are killed, and all things ready; ⁵ come to the wedding feast. But they made light of it, and went, one to his own land, and another to his commerce. And the rest, laying hold of his bondmen, ill-treated and slew ⁶ [them]. And [when] the king [heard of it he] was wroth,^w and having sent his forces, destroyed those murderers and burned their city. Then he says to his bondmen, The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were ⁷ not worthy; go therefore into the thoroughfares of the highways, and as many as ye shall find invite to ⁸ the wedding feast. And those bondmen went out into the highways, and brought together all as many as they found, both evil and good; and the wedding feast was furnished with ⁹ guests. And the king, having gone in to see the guests, beheld there a man not clothed with a wedding ¹⁰ garment. And he says to him, [My] friend, how camest thou in here not having on a wedding garment? ¹¹ But he was speechless. ¹⁵ Then went the Pharisees and held a council how they might ensnare him in speaking. And they send out to him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one, for thou regardest not men's person; tell us therefore what thou thinkest: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar or not? But Jesus, knowing their wickedness, said, Why tempt ye me, hypocrites? Shew me the money of the tribute. And they presented to him a denarius. And he says to them, Whose [is] this image and superscription? They say to him, Cæsar's. Then he says to them, Pay then what is Cæsar's to Cæsar, and what is God's to God. And when they heard [him], they wondered, and left him, and went away.

²³ On that day came to him Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection; and they demanded of him, saying, Teacher, Moses said, If any one die, not having children, his brother shall marry^y his wife and shall raise up seed to his brother. ²⁵ Now there were with us seven brethren; and the first having married died, and not having seed, left his wife to his brother. In like manner also the second and the third, unto the seven. And last of all the woman also died. In the resurrection therefore of which of the seven shall she be wife, for all had her? And Jesus answering said to them, Ye err, not knowing the scriptures nor the power of God. For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as angels of God^z

³⁴ But the Pharisees, having heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, were gathered together. And one of them, a lawyer, demanded, tempting him, and saying,^b Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law? And he^c said to him, Thou shalt love [the] Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy understanding. This is [the] great and first^d commandment. And [the] second is like it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments the whole law and the prophets hang.

⁴¹ And the Pharisees being gathered together, Jesus demanded of them, saying, What think ye concerning the Christ? whose son is he? They say to him, David's. He says to them, How then does David in Spirit call him Lord, saying, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand until I put thine enemies under^e thy feet? If therefore David call him Lord, how is he his son? And no one was able to answer him a word, nor did any one dare from that day to question him any more. ¹ (XXIII.) XXVI. And it came to pass when Jesus had finished all these sayings, ² he said to his disciples, Ye know that after two days the passover takes place, and the Son of man is delivered ³ up to be crucified. Then the chief priests^t and the elders of the people were gathered together to the palace of the high priest who was called ⁴ Caiaphas, and took counsel together in order that they might seize Jesus ⁵ by subtlety and kill him; but they said, Not in the feast, that there be not a tumult among the people.

⁶ But Jesus being in Bethany, in ⁷ Simon the leper's house, a woman, having an alabaster flask of very precious ointment, came to him and poured it out upon his head as he lay ⁸ at table. But the^v disciples seeing it became indignant, saying, To what ⁹ end [was] this waste? for this^w might have been sold for much and been ¹⁰ given to the poor. But Jesus knowing [it] said to them, Why do ye trouble the woman? for she has wrought a ¹¹ good work toward me. For ye have the poor always with you, but me ye ¹² have not always. For in pouring out this ointment on my body, she ¹³ has done it for my burying. Verily I say to you, Wheresoever these glad tidings may be preached in the whole world, that also which this [woman] has done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

¹⁴ Then one of the twelve, he who was called Judas Iscariote, went to ¹⁵ the chief priests and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him up to you? And they appointed^x to him thirty pieces of

¹⁹ And the disciples did as Jesus had directed them, and they prepared the ²⁰ passover. And when the evening was come he lay down at table with the ²¹ twelve.^b And as they were eating he said, Verily I say to you, that one of ²² you shall deliver me up. And being exceedingly grieved they began to say to him, each of them, Is it I, ²³ Lord? But he answering said, He that dips his hand with me in the dish, he it is who shall deliver me up.

²⁴ The Son of man goes indeed according as it is written concerning him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is delivered up; it were good for that man if he^c had not been ²⁵ born. And Judas, who delivered him up, answering said, Is it I, Rabbi? He says to him, Thou hast said.

²⁶ And as they were eating, Jesus, having taken [the^d] bread and blessed, broke [it] and gave [it] to the disciples, and said, Take, eat: this is ²⁷ my body. And having taken [the^e] cup and given thanks, he gave [it] to them, saying, Drink ye all of ²⁸ it. For this is my blood, that of the [new^f] covenant, that shed for many ²⁹ for remission of sins. But I say to you, that I will not at all^g drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine,

³⁶ Then Jesus comes with them to a place called Gethsemane, and says to the^l disciples, Sit here until I go ³⁷ away and pray yonder. And taking with [him] Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, he began to be sorrowful and deeply depressed. Then he^m says to them, My soul is very sorrowful even unto death; remain

⁴⁴ Arise, let us go; behold, he that delivers me up has drawn nigh.

⁴⁵ And while he was yet speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great crowd with swords and sticks from the chief priests and elders of the people.
⁴⁶ Now he that delivered him up had given them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, he it is: seize him.
⁴⁷ And immediately coming up to Jesus he said, Hail, Rabbi, and covered him with kisses.^r But Jesus said to him, [My] friend, for what purpose art thou come? Then coming up they laid hands upon Jesus and seized him. And behold, one of those with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword, and smiting the bondman of the high priest took off ⁴⁸ his ear. Then saith Jesus to him, Return thy sword to its place; for all who take the sword shall perish by ⁴⁹ the sword. Or thinkest thou that I cannot now call upon my Father and he will furnish me more than twelve ⁵⁰ legions of angels? How then should the scriptures be fulfilled that thus it must be? In that hour Jesus said to the crowds, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and sticks to take me? I sat daily [with you^s] teaching in the temple,^t and ye did not seize me. But all this is come^u to pass that the scriptures of the prophets may be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him and fled.

57 Now they that had seized Jesus led [him] away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. And Peter followed him at a distance, even to the palace of the high priest, and entering in sat with the officers to see the end. And the chief priests and the elders^v and the whole sanhedrim sought false witness against Jesus, so that they might put him to death. And they found none,^w though many false witnesses came forward. But at the last two false witnesses came forward and said, He^x said, I am able to destroy the temple^y of God, and in three days build it. And the high priest standing up said to him, Answerest thou nothing? What do these witness against thee? But Jesus was silent. And the high priest answering said to him, I adjure thee by the living God that^z thou tell us if thou art the Christ the Son of God. Jesus says to him, Thou hast said. Moreover, I say to you, From henceforth ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He has blasphemed: what need have we any more of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the^a blasphemy. 66 What think ye? And when he had gone out into the entrance, another [maid] saw him, and says to those there, This [man] also was with Jesus the Nazarean. And again he denied with an oath: I do not know the man. ⁷ of blood. And having taken counsel, they bought with them the field of the potter for a burying-ground for ⁸ strangers. Wherefore that field has been called Blood-field unto this

¹⁰ had set a price on, and they gave^l them for the field of the potter, according as [the] Lord commanded me.

¹¹ But Jesus stood before the governor. And the governor questioned him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said to him, ¹² Thou sayest. And when he was accused of the chief priests and the elders, he answered nothing. Then says Pilate to him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against ¹³ thee? And he answered him not so much as one word, so that the ¹⁴ governor wondered exceedingly. Now at [the] feast the governor was accustomed to release one prisoner to the ¹⁵ crowd, whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, named ¹⁶ Barabbas. They therefore being gathered together, Pilate said to them, Whom will ye that I release to you, Barabbas, or Jesus who is ¹⁷ called Christ? For he knew that they had delivered him up through ¹⁸ envy. But, as he was sitting on the judgment-seat, his wife sent to him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man; for I have ¹⁹ suffered to-day many things in a

²⁰ dream because of him. But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the crowds that they should beg for Barabbas and destroy Jesus.

²¹ And the governor answering said to them, Which of the two will ye that I release unto you? And they said, ²² Barabbas. Pilate says to them, What then shall I do with Jesus, who is called Christ? They all say,^m Let ²³ him be crucified. And the governorⁿ said, What evil then has he done? But they cried more than ever, say-²⁴ ing, Let him be crucified. And Pilate, seeing that it availed nothing, but that rather a tumult was arising, having taken water, washed his hands before the crowd, saying, I am guilt-²⁵ less of the blood of this righteous^o one: see ye [to it]. And all the people answering said, His blood [be] on ²⁶ us and on our children. Then he released to them Barabbas; but Jesus, having scourged [him], he delivered up that he might be crucified.

²⁷ Then the soldiers of the governor, having taken Jesus with [them] to the prætorium, gathered against^p him
²⁸ the whole band,^q and having taken off his garment, put on^r him a scarlet
²⁹ cloak, and having woven a crown out of thorns, they put it on his head, and a reed in his right hand; and, bowing the knee before him, they ³¹ [him] on his head. And when they had mocked him, they took the cloak off him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him away to crucify.

And they set up over his head his accusation written: This is Jesus, the King of the Jews. Then are crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand and one on the left. But the passers-by reviled him, shaking their heads and saying, Thou that destroyest the temple^w and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou art Son of God, descend from the cross. [And^x] in like manner the chief priests also,^x mocking, with the scribes and elders,^y said, He saved others, himself he cannot save. He is^z King of Israel: let him descend now from the cross, and we will believe on^a him. He trusted upon God; let him save him now if he will [have] him. For he said, I am Son of God. And the robbers also who had been crucified with him cast the same reproaches on him.

Now from [the] sixth hour there was darkness over the whole land^b until [the] ninth hour; but about the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? And some of those who stood there, when they heard [it], said, This [man] calls for Elias. And immediately one of them running and getting a sponge, having filled [it] with vinegar and fixed [it] on a reed, gave him to drink.

But the rest said, Let be; let us see if Elias comes to save him. And Jesus, having again cried with a loud voice, gave up the ghost. And lo, the veil of the temple^w was rent in two from the top to the bottom, and the earth was shaken, and the rocks were rent, and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of the saints fallen asleep arose, and going out of the tombs after his arising, entered into the holy city and appeared unto many. But the centurion, and they who were with him on guard over Jesus, seeing the earthquake and the things that took place, feared greatly, saying, Truly this [man] was Son of God.

And there were there many women beholding from afar off, who^c had followed Jesus from Galilee ministering^d to him, among whom was Mary of Magdala, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

Now when even was come there came a rich man of Arimathæa, his name Joseph, who also himself was a disciple to Jesus. He, going to Pilate, begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body^e to be given up. And Joseph having got the body, wrapped^f it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his new tomb which he had hewn in the rock; and having rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, went away. GOSPEL ACCORDING TO M A R K.

1. Beginning of the glad tidings of ² Jesus Christ, Son of God; as it is written in [Isaiah] the prophet,^a Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way.^b
³ Voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare the way of [the] Lord, make his paths straight.
⁴ There came John baptising^c in the wilderness, and preaching [the] baptism of repentance for remission
⁵ of sins. And there went out to him all the district of Judæa, and all^d they of Jerusalem, and were baptised by him in the river Jordan, confessing
⁶ their sins. And John was clothed in camel's hair, and a leathern girdle
⁷ wild honey. And he preached, saying, There comes he that is mightier than I after me, the thong of whose sandals I am not fit to stoop down
⁸ and unloose. I indeed have baptised you with water, but he shall baptise you with [the] Holy Ghost.
⁹ And it came to pass in those days [that] Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptised by John ¹⁰ at the Jordan. And straightway going up from the water, he saw the heavens parting asunder, and the Spirit, as a dove, descending upon ¹¹ him. And there came a voice out of the heavens: Thou art my beloved Son, in thee^e I have found my delight.

¹² And immediately the Spirit drives
¹³ him out into the wilderness. And he was^f in the wilderness forty days tempted by Satan, and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered^g to him.
¹⁴ But after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee preaching the glad tidings of the kingdom^h of ¹⁵ God, and saying, The time is fulfilled and the kingdom of God has drawn nigh; repent and believe in the glad ¹⁶ tidings. And walkingⁱ by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew, [Simon's^k] brother, casting out^l a net ¹⁷ in the sea, for they were fishers. And Jesus said to them, Come after me, and I will make you become fishers ¹⁸ of men; and straightway leaving their trawl-nets^m they followed him.
¹⁹ And going on thenceⁿ a little, he saw James the [son] of Zebedee, and John his brother, and these [were] in the ship repairing the trawl nets;
²⁰ and straightway he called them; and leaving their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, they went away after him.

^a T. R. reads 'in the prophets,' with A and its followers. The reading here is doubtful and disputed since the earliest days, being noticed by Porphyry. MARK I.

21 And they go into Capernaum. And straightway on the sabbath he entered^o into the synagogue and taught.
 22 And they were astonished at his doctrine, for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes.
 23 And there was in their synagogue a man [possessed] by^p an unclean spirit, and he cried out saying, Eli!^q what have we to do with thee, Jesus, Nazarene?^r Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, 25 the holy one of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace
 26 and come out of him. And the unclean spirit, having torn him, and uttered a cry with a loud voice, came 27 out of him. And all were amazed, so that they questioned together among themselves, saying, What is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority he commands even^s the unclean spirits and they obey 28 him. And his fame went out straightway into the whole region of Galilee 29 around. And straightway going out of the synagogue, they came with James and John into the house of 30 Simon and Andrew. And the mother-in-law of Simon lay in a fever. And straightway they speak to him about 31 her. And he went up to [her] and raised her up, having taken her by the^t hand, and straightway^v the fever 32 left her, and she served them. But evening being come, when the sun had gone down, they brought to him all that were suffering, and those 33 possessed by demons;^w and the whole city was gathered together at the 34 door. And he healed many suffering from various diseases; and he cast out many demons, and did not suffer the demons to speak because 35 they knew^x him. And rising in the morning long before day, he went out and went away into a desert 36 place, and there prayed. And Simon and those with him went after him:

 37 and having found him, they say to him, All seek thee. And he says to them, Let us go elsewhere^y into the neighbouring country towns, that I may preach there also, for for this 39 purpose am I come forth. And he was preaching in their synagogues in the whole of Galilee, and casting out demons.

40 And there comes to him a leper, beseeching him, and falling on his knees to him, and saying to him, If thou wilt thou canst cleanse me.
 41 But Jesus,^z moved with compassion, having stretched out his hand, touched^a him, and says to him, I will, be 42 thou cleansed. And as he spoke^b straightway the leprosy left him, and 43 he was cleansed. And having sharply charged him, he straightway sent 44 him away, and says to him, See thou say nothing to any one, but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing what Moses ordained, for 45 a testimony to them. But he, having gone forth, began to proclaim [it] much, and to spread the matter abroad, so that he could no longer enter openly into the city, but was without in desert places, and they came^c to him from every side.

And straightway Jesus, knowing^h in his spirit that they are reasoning thus within themselves, said to them, Why reason ye these ⁹ things in your hearts? But that ye may know that the Son of man has power^l on earth to forgive sins, he says to the ¹¹ paralytic, To thee I say, Arise,^m take up thy couch and go to thine house. ¹² And he rose up straightway, and, having taken up his couch, went out before [them] all, so that all were amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it thus. ¹³ And he went out again by the sea,

¹¹ And he said to them, To you is given [to know^a] the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to them who are without, all things are done in parables, that beholding they may behold and not see, and hearing they may hear and not understand, lest it may be,^b they should be converted and they should be forgiven.^c And he says to them, Do ye not know this parable? and how will ye be acquainted with all the parables? The sower sows the word: and these are they by the wayside where the word is sown, and when they hear, immediately Satan comes and takes away the word that was sown in them.^d And these are they in like manner who are sown upon the rocky places, who when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy, and they have no root in themselves, but are for a time: then, tribulation arising, or persecution on account of the word, immediately they are offended. And others^e are they who are sown among the thorns: these are they who have heard^g the word, and the cares of^h life,ⁱ and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things, entering in choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful.

[him] that had had the legion: and ¹⁶ they were afraid. And they that had seen [it] related to them how it had happened to the [man] possessed by demons, and concerning the swine.
¹⁷ And they began to beg him to depart ¹⁸ from their coasts. And as he went¹ on board ship,^m the man that had been possessed by demons besought ¹⁹ him that he might be with him. And heⁿ suffered him not, but says to him, Go to thine home to thine own people, and tell them how great things the Lord has done for thee, and has ²⁰ had mercy on thee. And he went away and began to proclaim in the Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him; and all wondered.
²¹ And Jesus having passed over in the ship again to the other side, a great crowd gathered to him; and ²² he was by the sea. And [behold^o] there comes one of the rulers of the synagogue, by name Jairus, and see-²³ ing him, falls down at his feet; and he besought him much, saying, My little daughter is at extremity; [I pray] that thou shouldest come and lay thy^p hands upon her so that she ²⁴ may be healed, and may live.^a And he went with him, and a large crowd followed him and pressed on him.
²⁵ And a certain^r woman who had had ²⁶ a flux of blood twelve years, and had suffered much under many physicians, and had spent everything she had and had found no advantage from it, but had rather got worse, ²⁷ having heard concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind and touched his ²⁸ clothes;^s for she said, If I shall touch ²⁹ but his clothes I shall be healed. And immediately her fountain of blood was dried up, and she knew in her body that she was cured from the ³⁰ scourge. And immediately Jesus, knowing in himself the power that had gone out of him, turning round in the crowd said, Who has touched my ³¹ clothes? And his disciples said to him, Thou seest the crowd pressing on thee, and sayest thou, Who touch-³² ed me? And he looked round about ³³ to see her who had done this. But the woman, frightened and trembling, knowing what had taken place in her,

came and fell down before him, and ³⁴ told him all the truth. And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith has healed thee; go in peace, and be well of thy ³⁵ scourge. While he was yet speaking, they come from the ruler of the syna-gogue's, saying, Thy daughter has died, why troublest thou the teacher ³⁶ any further? But Jesus [immediately^t], having heard the word spoken, says to the ruler of the synagogue, ³⁷ Fear not; only believe. And he suffered no one to accompany him save Peter and James, and John the ³⁸ brother of James. And he comes^v to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and sees the tumult and^w people weeping and wailing greatly.
³⁹ And entering in he says to them, Why do ye make a tumult and weep? the ⁴⁰ child has not died, but sleeps. And they derided him. But he, having put [them] all out, takes with [him] the father of the child, and the mother, and those that were with him, and enters in where the child was lying.^x ⁴¹ And having laid hold of the hand of the child, he says to her, Talitha
kouri, which is, interpreted, Damsel,

VI. And he went out thence and came to his own country, and his disciples follow him. And when sabbath was come he began to teach in the synagogue, and many hearing were amazed, saying, Whence [has] this [man] these things? and what [is] the wisdom that is given to him, and^y such works of power are done by his hands? Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother of James and Joses and Judas and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended in him. But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not despised save in his own country, and among [his^z] kinsmen, and in his own house. And he could not do any work of power there, save that laying his hands on a few infirm persons he healed [them].⁶ And he wondered because of their unbelief. ^l Or 'observed him diligently.' The word has the force of 'watching closely, and keeping in mind,' whether to pay attention to, or to preserve. Which of these applications is the just one, is the question. It is used four times in the New Testament (three besides this); twice for 'preserved,' as the wine and the bottles; once for Mary's 'keeping' the words of Jesus in her heart: in the Septuagint, for 'keeping back from evil'; 'keeping the wicked for the day of destruction'; 'watching a man's ways, words'; 'keeping favour, anger'; 'preservation of life, of words in the heart.' And they said, Moses allowed to write a bill of divorce, and to put away. And Jesus answering said to them, In view of your hard-heartedness he wrote this commandment for⁶ you; but from [the] beginning of [the] creation God^e made them male and female. For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother⁸ and shall be united to his wife, and the two shall be^f one flesh: so that they are no longer two but one flesh.⁹ What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate. And again in the house the^g disciples asked him concerning this.^h And he says to them, Whosoever shall put away his wife and shall marry another, commits adultery against her.¹² And if a woman put away her husband and shallⁱ marry another,^k she commits adultery.¹³ And they brought little children to him that he might touch them. But the disciples rebuked those that brought [them]. But Jesus seeing [it], was indignant, and said to them, Suffer the little children to come to me; ¹ forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say to you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter into it. And having taken them in his arms, having laid his hands on them, he blessed^m them.

- ¹⁷ And as he went forth into the way, a person ran up to [him], and kneeling to him asked him, Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? But Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? no one is good but one, [that is] God. Thou knowest the commandments: Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. And he answering said to him, Teacher, all these things have²¹ I kept from my youth. And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said to him, One thing lackest thou: go, sell whatever thou hast and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me, [taking up the crossⁿ]. But he, sad at the word, went away grieved,²³ for he had large possessions. And Jesus looking around says to his disciples, How difficultly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. And Jesus again answering says to them, Children, how difficult it is that those who trust in riches should enter into the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go^o through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they were exceedingly astonished, saying to one another, And who can be

But many first shall be last, and the last first.

³² And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going on before them; and they were amazed and were afraid as they followed. And taking the twelve again to [him], he began to tell them what was going to happen to him: ³³ Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered up to the chief priests and to the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him up to the na- ³⁴ tions: and they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him; and after three days^u he shall rise again.

As to ἀλλά for εἰ μή, compare Mark ix. 8, and Matt. xvii. 8, and 2 Cor. ii. 5. The difference is that εἰ μή connects itself with the previous phrase. 'They saw no one but.' 'No one but' is one idea. With ἀλλά it is complete without the second phrase, and ἀλλά comes in in contrast. 'They saw no man any more,' i.e. of those appearing in glory; 'but [they saw] Jesus alone.' So here: 'It is not mine to give.' That phrase is complete. 'But it is reserved for those for whom it is prepared:' it is for them, appropriated to them.

For nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and^d there shall be earthquakes in [different] places, and there shall be famines and troubles;^e these things [are the] beginnings of throes. But ye, take heed to yourselves, for^h they shall deliver you up to sanhedrims and to synagogues: ye shall be beaten and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them; and the gospel must first be preached to all the nations. But when they shall lead you away to deliver you up, be not careful beforehand as to what ye shall say, [nor prepare your discourse:^k] but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak; for ye are not the speakers, but the Holy Spirit. But brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father child; and children shall rise up against parents and cause^l them to be put to death. And ye will be hated of all on account of my name; but he that has endured to the end, he shall be saved. XIV. Now the passover and the [feast of] unleavened bread was after two days. And there were some indignant in themselves and saying,^g Why has this waste been ⁵ made of the ointment? for this ointment^h could have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor. And they spoke very ⁶ angrily at her. But Jesus said, Let her alone; why do ye trouble her? she has wrought a good work as toⁱ ⁷ me; for ye have the poor always with you, and whenever ye would ye can do them good; but me ye have ⁸ not always. What she could she has done. She has beforehand anointed ⁹ my body for the burial. ^e Or perhaps 'liquid,' $\pi\iota\sigma\tau\iota\kappa\eta\varsigma$, a word only found here and John xii. 3, evidently a known kind of nard. It is by no means impossible it may be a corruption of the Latin spicata, which was the best kind of nard; hence the English translation doubtless, 'spikenard,' which is by no means to be rejected. The Greek fathers were as much at a loss as moderns, and generally, as Theophylact, understood it to mean 'pure.'

This would confirm its being a Latin word. It is not of very great consequence; the sense is plain: that it was of the best and most precious kind. Cf. note to John xii. 3.

Peter and James and John, and he began to be amazed and oppressed in

And very early on the first [day] of the week they come to the sepulchre, the sun having risen. And they said to one another, Who shall roll us away the stone out of the door of the sepulchre? And when they looked, they see that the stone has been rolled [away],⁴ for it was very great. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe, and they⁶ were amazed and alarmed;^r but he says to them, Be not alarmed.^r Ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, the crucified one. He is risen, he is not here; behold the place where they had put him. But go, tell his disciples and Peter, he goes before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him, as he said to you. And they went out,^s and fled from the sepulchre. And trembling and excessive amazement possessed them, and they said nothing to any one, for they were afraid.

And when these heard that he was alive and had been seen¹² of her, they disbelieved [it]. And after these things he was manifested in another form to two of them as they walked, going into the country;¹³ and they went and brought word to the rest; neither did they believe¹⁴ them. ^vAfterwards as they lay at table he was manifested to the eleven, and reproached [them with] their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they had not believed those who had seen him risen.^w And he said to them, Go into all the world, and preach the glad tidings to all the creation. He that believes and is baptised shall be saved, and he that disbelieves shall be condemned. And these signs shall follow those that have believed: in my name they shall cast out demons; they shall speak¹⁸ with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they should drink any deadly thing it shall not^x injure them; they shall lay hands upon the infirm, and they shall be well.
¹⁹ The Lord^y therefore, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven, and sat at the right hand of²⁰ God. And they, going forth, preached everywhere, the Lord working with [them], and confirming the word by the signs following upon [it].^z

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE.

I. Forasmuch as many have undertaken to draw up a relation concerning the matters fully believed among² us, as those who from the beginning were eye-witnesses of and attendants on the Word have delivered them to³ us, it has seemed good to me also, accurately acquainted from the origin with all things, to write to thee with method, most excellent Theophilus, that thou mightest know the certainty of those things in which thou hast been instructed.

¹³ upon him. But the angel said to him, Fear not, Zacharias, because thy supplication has been heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name¹⁴ John. And he shall be to thee joy^c and rejoicing, and many shall rejoice¹⁵ at his birth. For he shall be great before [the^d] Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with [the] Holy Ghost¹⁶ even^e from his mother's womb. And many of the sons of Israel shall he¹⁷ turn to [the] Lord^f their God. And he shall go before him in [the] spirit and power of Elias, to turn hearts of fathers to children, and disobedient ones to^g [the] thoughts of just [men], to make ready for [the] Lord^f a prepared people. And Zacharias said to the angel, How shall I know this, for I am an old man, and my wife¹⁹ advanced in years?^h And the angel answering, said to him, I am Gabriel, who stand before God, and I have been sent to speak to thee, and to bring these glad tidingsⁱ to thee;²⁰ and behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak till the day in which these things shall take place, because thou hast not believed my words, the which^k shall be fulfilled in their²¹ time. ^d The MSS and editors vacillate greatly as to the article before Κύριου. In very many cases it is left out because Κύριος is a name, being used by the LXX for 'Jehovah,' and so in the New Testament. My impression is that it is so here. N A C L T 1 33 have not the article. The Latin affords no help. B has τοῦ, with D E X Δ A II &c. In English we must have the article.

^e ἐτι ἐκ. The ἐκ, which gives a date, precludes Meyer's idea: ἐτι ἐν would have been 'already in,' he being still there. Cf. Gal. i. 15.

^f Here without article, for 'Jehovah' as a name. ^g ἐν: but 'through' would suppose other men, whereas it is here characteristic merely of their own new path. 'Thought' is φρόνησις, 'practical wisdom.'

ⁱ Or 'to bring the glad tidings of these things.'

them, and they recognised that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he was making signs to them, and continued dumb. And it came to pass, when the days of his service were completed, he departed to his house.

Now after these days, Elizabeth his wife conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, Thus has the Lord^m done to me in [these] days in which he looked upon [me] to take away my reproach among men.

But in the sixth month, the angel Gabriel was sent of God to a city of Galilee, of which [the] name [was] Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name [was] Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name [was] Mary. And the angel came in to her, and said, Hail, [thou] favoured one! the Lord [is] with thee: [blessed art thou amongst women.ⁿ] But she, [seeing^o] [the angel], was troubled at his^p word, and reasoned in her mind what^a this salutation might be. And the angel said to her, Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favour with God; and behold, thou shalt conceive in the womb and bear a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus. He^r shall be great, and shall be called Son of [the] Highest;^s and [the] Lord^t God shall give him the throne of David his father; and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for the ages,^v and of his kingdom there shall not be an end. But Mary said to the angel, How shall this be, since I know not a man? And the angel answering said to her, [The] Holy Spirit shall come upon thee, and power of [the]

Highest overshadow thee, wherefore the holy thing also which shall be born shall be called Son of God. And behold, Elizabeth, thy kinswoman, she also has conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth month to her that was called barren: for nothing shall be impossible with God. And Mary said, Behold the bondmaid of [the] Lord;^w be it to me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

And Mary, rising up in those days, went into the hill country with haste, to a city of Judah, and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth. And it came to pass, as Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with [the] Holy Spirit, and cried out with a loud voice and said Blessed [art] thou amongst women, and blessed the fruit of thy womb. And whence [is] this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? For behold, as the voice of thy salutation sounded^x in my ears, the babe leaped with joy in my womb. And blessed [is] she that has believed, for there shall be a fulfilment of the things spoken to her from [the] Lord.^y And Mary said, My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit has rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he has looked upon the low estate of his bondmaid; for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. For the Mighty one has done to me great things, and holy [is] his name; and his mercy [is] to generations and generations^y to them that fear him. He has wrought strength with the name of his father, Zacharias.

60 And his mother answering said, No; 61 but he shall be called John. And they said to her, There is no one asked for a writing-table, he wrote saying, John is his name. And they 64 all wondered. And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue, 65 and he spake, blessing God. And fear came upon all who dwelt round about them; and in the whole hill-country of Judæa all these things were the subject of conversation.

66 And all who heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then will this child be? And [the] Lord's^z called [the] prophet of [the] Highest; for thou shalt go before the face of [the] Lord^e to make ready his ways; 77 to give knowledge of deliverance^f to his people by [the] remission of their 78 sins on account of [the] bowels of mercy of our God; wherein [the]

and was strengthened in spirit; and he was in the deserts until the day of his shewing to Israel.

every tree therefore not producing good fruit is cut down and cast into ¹⁰ [the] fire. And the crowds asked him saying, What should^f we do then?
¹¹ And he answering says to them,
He that has two body coats, let him give to him that has none; and he that has food, let him do likewise.
¹² And tax-gatherers came also to be baptised, and they said to him, Teach-¹³ er, what should^f we do? And he said to them, Take no more [money] than ¹⁴ what is appointed to you. And persons engaged in military service also asked him saying, And we, what should^f we do? And he said to them, Oppress no one, nor accuse falsely,
and be satisfied with your pay.
¹⁵ But as the people were in expectation, and all were reasoning in their hearts concerning John whether he ¹⁶ might be the Christ, John answered all, saying, I indeed baptise you with water, but the mightier than I is coming, the thong of whose sandals

I am not fit to unloose; he shall baptise you with^g [the] Holy Spirit and ¹⁷ fire; whose winnowing-fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his threshing-floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaff he will burn with fire unquench-¹⁸ able. Exhorting^h then many other things also he announced [his] glad ¹⁹ tidings to the people. But Herod the tetrarch, being reprov'd by him as to Herodias, the wife of his brother,ⁱ and as to all the wicked things which ²⁰ Herod had done, added this also to all [the rest], that he shut up John in prison.

²¹ And it came to pass, all the people having been baptised, and Jesus having been baptised and praying, that ²² the heaven was opened, and the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form as a dove upon him; and a voice came out of heaven,^k Thou art my beloved

IV. But Jesus, full of [the] Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led by^x the Spirit in^y the wilderness forty days, tempted of the Devil; and in those days he did not eat anything, and when they were finished^z he hungered. And the devil said to him, If thou be Son of God, speak to this stone, that it become bread. If therefore thou wilt do homage before me, all^e [of it] shall be thine. And Jesus answering him said,^f It is written, Thou shalt do homage to [the] Lord^g thy God, and him alone shalt thou serve.

²⁴ here also in thine own country. And he said, Verily I say to you, that no prophet is acceptable in his [own] ²⁵ country. But of a truth I say to you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up for three years and six months, so that a great famine came ²⁶ upon all the land, and to none of them was Elias sent but to Sarepta of Sidonia,^m to a woman [that was] a ²⁷ widow. And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, and none of them was cleansed but Naaman the Syrian.
²⁸ And they were all filled with rage in the synagogue, hearing these things;
²⁹ and rising up they cast him forth out of the city, and led him up to the brow of the mountain upon which their city was built, so that they mightⁿ throw him down the precipice;
³⁰ but he, passing through the midst of them, went his way, and descended to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and ³² taught them on the sabbaths. And they were astonished at his doctrine, for his word was with authority.
³³ And there was in the synagogue a man having a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried with a loud
³⁴ voice, saying, Eh!^o what have we to do with thee, Jesus, Nazarene? hast thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy [One]
³⁵ of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out from^p him. And the demon, having thrown him down into the midst, came out from him without ³⁶ doing him any injury. And astonishment came upon all, and they spoke to one another, saying, What word [is] this? for with authority and power he commands the unclean

³⁷ spirits, and they come out. And a rumour went out into every place of the country round concerning him.
³⁸ And rising up out of^p the synagogue, he entered into the house of Simon. But Simon's mother-in-law was suffering under a bad fever; and ³⁹ they asked him for her. And standing over her, he rebuked the fever, and it left her; and forthwith stand-⁴⁰ ing up she served them. And when the sun went down, all, as many as had persons sick with divers diseases, brought them to him, and having ⁴¹ laid his hands on every one of them, he healed them; and demons also went out from many, crying out and saying, Thou art^q the Son of God. And rebuking them, he suffered them not to speak, because they knew him to be the Christ.

⁴² And when it was day he went out, and went into a desert place, and the crowds sought after^r him, and came up to him, and [would have] kept him back that he should not go ⁴³ from them. But he said to them, I must needs announce the glad tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also, for for this I have been^s ⁴⁴ sent forth. And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

V. And it came to pass, as the crowd pressed on him to hear the word of God, that^t he was standing by the ² lake of Gennesaret: and he saw two ships standing by the lake, but the fishermen, having come down from ³ them, were washing their nets. And getting into one of the ships, which was Simon's, he asked him to draw out a little from the land; and he sat down and taught the crowds out
⁴ of the ship. But when he ceased speaking, he said to Simon, Draw out into the deep [water] and let down

And having done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes. And their net broke. And they beckoned to their partners^v who were in the other ship to come and help them, and they came, and filled both the ships, so that they were sinking. But Simon Peter, seeing it, fell at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord. For astonishment had laid hold on him and on all those who were with him at the haul of fishes which they had taken; and in like manner also on James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, Fear not; henceforth thou shalt be catching men. And having run the ships on shore, leaving all they followed him.

¹² And it came to pass as he was in one of the cities, that^w behold, there was a man full of leprosy, and seeing Jesus, falling upon his face, he besought him saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou art able to cleanse me. And stretching forth his hand he touched him, saying, I will; be thou cleansed: and immediately the leprosy departed from him. And he enjoined him to tell no one; but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing as Moses ordained, for a testimony to them. But the report concerning him was spread abroad still more, and great crowds came together to hear and to be healed^x from their infirmities. And he withdrew himself, and was about in the desert [places] and praying.^y

there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, who were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and [out of] Jerusalem; and [the] Lord's^z power was [there] to heal them. And lo, men bringing upon a couch a man who was paralysed; and they sought to bring him in, and put [him] before him. And not finding what^a way to bring him in, on account of the crowd, going up on the housetop they let him down through the tiles, with his little couch, into the midst before Jesus. And seeing their faith, he said,^b Man, thy sins are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason [in their minds], saying, Who is this who speaks blasphemies? Who is able to forgive sins but God alone? But Jesus, knowing their reasonings, answering said to them, Why reason ye in your hearts? which is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man has power^c on earth to forgive sins, he said to the paralysed man, I say to thee, Arise, and take up thy little couch and go to thine house. And immediately standing up before them, having taken up that whereon he was laid, he departed to his house, glorifying God. And astonishment seized all, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

²⁷ And after these things he went forth and saw a tax-gatherer, Levi by name, sitting at the receipt of taxes, and said to him, Follow me. And having left all, rising up, he followed him. And Levi made a great entertainment for him in his house, and there was a great crowd of tax-gatherers and others who were at table with them. And their scribes and

And as he drew near to the gate of the city, ^x behold, a dead man was carried out, the only son of his mother, and she a widow, and a very considerable crowd of the city [was^y] with her. ¹³ And the Lord, seeing her, was moved with compassion for her, and said to ¹⁴ her, Weep not; and coming up he touched the bier, and the bearers stopped. And he said, Youth, I say ¹⁵ to thee, Wake up. And the dead sat up and began to speak; and he gave ¹⁶ him to his mother. And fear seized on all, and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet has been raised up^z amongst us; and God has visited his ¹⁷ people. And this report went out in all Judæa concerning him, and in all the surrounding country. ¹⁸ And the disciples of John brought him word concerning all these things: ¹⁹ and John, having called two of his disciples, sent to Jesus,^a saying, Art thou he that is coming, or are we to ²⁰ wait for^b another? But the men having come to him said, John the baptist has sent us to thee, saying, Art thou he that is coming, or are we ²¹ to wait for^b another? In that^c hour^d he healed many of diseases and plagues and evil spirits, and to many ²² blind he granted sight. And Jesus^e answering said to them, Go, bring back word to John of what ye have seen and heard: that blind see, lame walk, lepers are cleansed, deaf hear, dead are raised, poor are evangelized; ²³ and blessed is whosoever shall not ²⁴ be offended in me. And the messengers of John having departed, he began to speak to the crowds concerning John: What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed ²⁵ shaken by the wind? But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in delicate garments? Behold, those who are in splendid clothing and live luxuriously are in the courts of kings. ²⁶ But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say to you, and [what is] more excellent than a prophet. ²⁷ This is he concerning whom it is written, Behold, I^f send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare ²⁸ thy way before thee; for I say^g unto you, Among them that are born of women a greater [prophet^h] is no one than John [the baptistⁱ]; but he who is a little one^k in the kingdom of ²⁹ God is greater than he. ²² And it came to pass on one of the days, that he entered into a ship, himself and his disciples; and he said to them, Let us pass over to the other side of the lake; and they set

²⁶ And they arrived in the country of the Gadarenes,^d which is over against ²⁷ Galilee. And as he got out [of the ship] on the land, a certain man out of the city met him, who had demons a long time, and put on no clothes, and did not abide in a house, but in happened, fled, and told [it] to the 35 city and to the country. And they went out to see what had happened, and came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the demons had gone out, sitting, clothed and sensible, at the feet of Jesus. And they were 36 afraid. And they alsoⁱ who had seen it told them how the possessed man 37 had been healed. And all the multi-the Gadarenes^k asked him to depart from them, for they were possessed with great fear; and he, entering into 38 the ship, returned. But the man out of whom the demons had gone be-

 39 But he^l sent him away, saying, Return to thine house and relate how great things God has done for thee.
 And he went away through the whole city, publishing how great things
 Jesus had done for him.

40 And it came to pass when Jesus returned, the crowd received him gladly,^m for they were all expecting 41 him. And behold, a man came, whose name was Jairus, and he was [a] ruler of the synagogue, and falling at the feet of Jesus besought him to 42 come to his house, because he had an only daughter, about twelve years old, and sheⁿ was dying. And as he 43 went the crowds thronged him. And a woman who had a flux of blood since twelve years, who, having spent all her living on physicians, could 44 not be cured by any one, coming up behind, touched the hem of his garment, and immediately her flux of 45 blood stopped. And Jesus said, Who has touched me? But all denying,

 Peter and those with him said, Master, the crowds close thee in and press upon thee, and sayest thou, 46 Who has touched me? And Jesus said, Some one has touched me, for I have known that power has gone out 47 from me. And the woman, seeing that she was not hid, came trembling, and falling down before him declared^o before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she 48 was immediately healed. And he said to her, [Be of good courage,^p] daughter; thy faith has healed thee; 49 go in peace. While he was yet speaking, comes some one from the ruler of the synagogue, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; do not 50 trouble the teacher. But Jesus, hearing it, answered him saying,^q Fear not: only believe, and she shall be 51 made well. And when he came to^r the house he suffered no one to go in but Peter and John and James^s and the father of the child and the mother.
 52 And all were weeping and lamenting
 her. But he said, Do not weep, for^t 53 she has not died, but sleeps. And they derided him, knowing that she 54 had died. But he, having turned them all out and^v taking hold of her 55 hand, cried saying, Child, arise. And her spirit returned, and immediately she rose up; and he commanded [something] to eat to be given to her.

But Peter and those with him were oppressed with sleep: but having fully awoke up they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him. And it came to pass as they departed from him, Peter said to Jesus, Master,^o it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what ³⁴ he said. But as he was saying these things, there came a cloud and overshadowed^p them, and they feared ³⁵ as they^q entered into the cloud: and there was^r a voice out of the cloud saying, This is my beloved^s Son: hear him. And as the voice was^t [heard] Jesus was found alone: and they kept silence, and told no one in those days any of the things they had seen.

³⁷ And it came to pass on the following day, when they came down from the mountain, a great crowd met ³⁸ him. And lo, a man from the crowd cried out saying, Teacher, I beseech thee look upon my son, for he is mine ³⁹ only child: and behold, a spirit takes him, and suddenly he cries out, and it tears him with foaming, and with difficulty departs from him after ⁴⁰ crushing him. And I besought thy disciples that they might cast him ⁴¹ out, and they could not. And Jesus answering said, O unbelieving and perverted generation, how long^v shall I be with you and suffer you? Bring ⁴² hither thy son. But as he was yet coming, the demon tore him and dragged him all together. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child and gave him back to his ⁴³ father. And all were astonished at the glorious greatness of God. And as all wondered at all the things which [Jesus^w] did,^x he said to his ⁴⁴ disciples, Do ye let these words sink into your ears. For the Son of man is about to be delivered into men's ⁴⁵ hands. But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them that they should not perceive it. And they feared to ask him concerning this saying. And a reasoning came in amongst them, who should ⁴⁷ be [the] greatest of them. And Jesus,

30 And who is my neighbour? And Jesus replying said, A certain man descended from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell into [the hands of] robbers, who also, having stripped him and inflicted wounds, went away leaving him in a half-dead state. And a certain priest happened to go down that way, and seeing him, passed on the opposite side; and in like manner also a Levite, being at the spot, came and looked [at him] and passed on on the opposite side. But a certain Samaritan journeying came to him, and seeing [him^c], was moved with compassion, and came up [to him] and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine; and having put him on his own beast, took him to [the] inn and took care of him. And on the morrow [as he left^d], taking out two denaria he gave them to the innkeeper, and said to him,^e Take care of him, and whatsoever thou shalt expend more, I will render to thee on my coming back. Which [now^f] of these three seems to thee to have been neighbour of him who fell into [the hands of] the robbers? And he said, He that shewed him mercy. And Jesus^g said to him, Go and do thou likewise.

38 And it came to pass as they went that he^h entered into a certain village; and a certain woman, Martha by name, received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, who also, having sat down at the feet of Jesus,ⁱ was listening to his word.

40 Now Martha was distracted with much serving, and coming up she said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister has left me to serve alone? Speak to her therefore that she may help me. But Jesus^k answering said to her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things; but there is need of one, and Mary has chosen the good part, the which shall not be taken from her.

¹² shall give him a serpent? or if also he shall ask an egg, shall give him a scorpion? If therefore ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much rather shall the Father who is of^s heaven give [the] Holy Spirit to them that ask him?
¹⁴ And he was casting out a demon, and it was dumb; and it came to pass, the demon being gone out, the dumb [man] spoke. And the crowds ¹⁵ wondered. But some from among them said, By Beelzebub the^t prince of the demons casts he out demons.
¹⁶ And others tempting [him] sought from him a sign out of heaven. But he knowing their thoughts said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation: and a house set against a house falls; and if also Satan is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom subsist? because ye say that I cast out demons ¹⁹ by Beelzebub. But if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, your sons—by whom do they cast [them] out? For this reason they shall be your judges.
²⁰ But if by the finger of God I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God is come upon you. When the strong [man] armed keeps his own house,^v ²² his goods are in peace; but when the stronger than he coming upon [him] overcomes him, he takes away his panoply in which he trusted, and he will divide the spoil [he has taken] ²³ from him. He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathers ²⁴ not with me scatters. When the unclean spirit has gone out of the man, he goes through dry places seeking rest; and not finding [any] he says, I will return to my house whence I came out. And having come, he ²⁶ finds it swept and adorned. Then he goes and takes seven other spirits worse than himself, and entering in, they dwell there; and the last condition of that man becomes worse than ²⁷ the first. And it came to pass as he spake these things, a certain woman, lifting up her voice out of the crowd, said to him, Blessed is the womb that has borne thee, and the paps which ²⁸ thou hast sucked. But he^w said, Yea rather, blessed are they who hear the word of God and keep [it^x].

²⁹ But as the crowds thronged together, he began to say, This generation is a wicked generation;^y it seeks a^z sign, and a sign shall not be given to it but the sign of Jonas.^a For as Jonas was^b a sign to the Ninevites, thus shall also the Son of man be to this generation. A queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, more than ³¹ Solomon is here. Men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, more than Jonas

³⁷ But as he spoke, a certain^f Pharisee asked him that he would dine with him; and entering in he placed ³⁸ himself at table. But the Pharisee seeing [it] wondered that he had not ³⁹ first washed before dinner. But the Lord said to him, Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but your inward [parts] are full of plunder and wickedness. Fools, has not he who has made the outside made the inside ⁴⁰ also? But rather give alms of what ye have, and behold, all things are ⁴⁵ To you also woe, doctors of the law, for ye lay upon men burdens heavy to bear, and yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers.

⁴⁷ Woe unto you, for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, but your ⁴⁸ fathers killed them. Ye bear witness then and consent to the works of your fathers; for they killed them, and ye build [their sepulchres^h].
⁴⁹ For this reason also the wisdom of God has said, I will send to them prophets and apostles, and of these shall they kill and drive out by persecution, that the blood of all the prophets which has been poured out from the foundation of the world may be required of this generation,

And one of those that were lying at table with [them], hearing these things, said to him, Blessed [is] he who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. And he said to him, A certain man made a great supper and invited many. And he sent his bondman at the hour of supper to say to those who were invited, Come, for already all things are ready. And all began, without exception, to excuse themselves. The first said to him, I have bought land, and I must go out and see it; I pray thee hold me for excused. XV. And all the tax-gatherers and the sinners were coming^a near to him² to hear him; and^r the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This [man] receives sinners and eats with³ them. And he spoke to them this⁴ parable, saying, What man of you having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, does not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness and go after that which is lost, until⁵ he find it? and having found it, he lays it upon his own shoulders, rejoicing; and being come to the house, calls together the friends and the neighbours, saying to them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my lost⁷ sheep. I say unto you, that thus there shall be joy in heaven for one repenting sinner, [more] than for ninety and nine righteous who⁸ have no need of repentance. Or, what woman having ten drachmas, if she lose one drachma, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek carefully till she find it? and having found it she calls together the friends and^t neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the drachma which I had lost. Thus, I say unto you, there is^v joy before the angels of¹¹ God for one repenting sinner. And he said, A certain man had two sons; and the younger of them said to the father, Father, give to me the share of the property that falls [to me]. And he divided to them what he was¹³ possessed of.^w And after not many days the younger son gathering all together went away into a country a long way off, and there dissipated his¹⁴ property, living in debauchery. But when he had spent all there arose a violent famine throughout that country, and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.¹⁶ And he longed to fill his belly with the husks^x which the swine were eating; and no one gave to him. And coming to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have abundance of bread, and I perish¹⁸ here^y by famine. I will rise up and go to my father, and I will say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee; ²⁰I am no longer worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. And he rose up and went to his own father. But while he was yet a long way off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell upon his neck, and covered him with²¹ kisses. And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee; ²²I am no longer worthy to be called thy son. ²⁷ And he said to him, Thy brother is come, and thy father has killed the fatted calf because he has received him safe and well. But he became angry and would not go in. And ^chis father went out and besought him. But he answering said to his ^dfather, Behold, so many years I serve thee, and never have I transgressed a commandment of thine; and to me hast thou never given a kid that I might make merry with my friends: but when this thy son, who has devoured thy substance with harlots, is come, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. But he said to him, Child, thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. But it was right to make merry and rejoice, because this thy brother was dead and has come to life again, and was lost and has been found.

XVI. And he said also to [his^e] disciples, There was a certain rich man who had a steward, and he was accused to him as wasting his goods.
² And having called him, he said to him, What [is] this that I hear of thee? give the reckoning of thy stewardship, for thou canst be no longer steward. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do; for my lord is taking the stewardship from me? I am not able to dig; I am ashamed to beg. I know what I will do, that when I shall have been removed from the stewardship I may be received^f into their houses. And having called to [him] each one of the debtors of his own lord, he said to the first, How much owest thou to my lord? And he said, A hundred baths of oil. And he said to him, Take thy writing and sit down quickly and write fifty. Then he said to another, And thou, how much dost thou owe? And he said, A hundred cors of wheat. And he says^g to him, Take thy writing and write eighty.

⁸ And the lord praised the unrighteous steward because he had done prudently. For the sons of this world are, for their own generation, more prudent than the sons of light. And ⁹I say to you, Make to yourselves friends with the mammon of unrighteousness, that when it fails^h ye may be received into the eternal tabernacles. He that is faithful in the least is faithful also in much; and he that is unrighteous in the least is unrighteous also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who shall entrust to you the true? and if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who shall give to you your own? No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and will love the other, or he will cleave to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

¹⁴ And the Pharisees also,ⁱ who were covetous, heard all these things, and ¹⁵mocked him. And he said to them, Ye are they who justify themselves before men, but God knows your hearts; for what amongst men is highly thought of is an abomination before God. The law and the prophets [were] until John: from that time the glad tidings of the kingdom of God are announced, and every one ¹⁷forces his way into it. But it is easier that the heaven and the earth should pass away than that one tittle of the law should fail. Every one who puts away his wife and marries another commits adultery; and every one that marries one put away from a husband commits adultery.

19 Now there was a^j rich man and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, making good cheer in splendour
20 every day. And [there was] a^j poor man, by name Lazarus, [who] was^k
21 laid at his gateway full of sores, and desiring to be filled with the crumbs^l which fell from the table of the rich man; but the dogs also coming licked
22 his sores. And it came to pass that the poor man died, and that he was carried away by the angels into the bosom of Abraham. And the rich
23 man also died and was buried. And in hades lifting up his eyes, being in torments, he sees Abraham afar off, 24 and Lazarus in his bosom. And he crying out said, Father Abraham, have compassion on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, 25 for I am suffering in this flame. But Abraham said, Child, recollect that thou^m hast fully receivedⁿ thy good things in thy lifetime, and likewise Lazarus evil things. But now he is comforted here,^o and thou art in 26 suffering. And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm is fixed, so that those who desire to pass hence to you cannot, nor do they who 27 [desire to cross] from there pass over unto us. And he said, I beseech thee then, father, that thou wouldst send 28 him to the house of my father, for I have five brothers, so that he may earnestly testify to them, that they also may not come to this place of torment. But^p Abraham says to him,^q They have Moses and the prophets: let them hear them. But he said, Nay, father Abraham, but if one from the dead should go to them, they 31 will repent. And he said to him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, not even if one rise from among [the] dead will they be persuaded.

XVII. And he said to his^r disciples, It cannot be but that offences^s come, but woe [to him] by whom they come!
2 It would be [more] profitable for him if a millstone^t were hanged about his neck and he cast into the sea, than that he should be a snare^v to one of
3 these little ones. Take heed to yourselves: ^wif thy brother should sin,^x rebuke him; and if he should repent, 4 forgive him. And if he should sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times^y should return to thee, saying, I repent, thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said to the Lord,
6 Give more faith to us. But the Lord said, If ye have^z faith as a grain of mustard [seed], ye had said to this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea, and it
7 would have obeyed you. But which of you [is there] who, having a bondman ploughing or shepherding, when he comes in out of the field, will say,^a Come and lie down immediately^b to

⁸ them? I say unto you that he will avenge them speedily. But when the Son of man comes, shall he indeed find faith on the earth?
⁹ And he spoke also to some, who trusted in themselves that they were righteous and made nothing of all

29 And it came to pass when he came into the neighbourhood of Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the wayside begging. And when he heard the crowd passing, he inquired what this might be. And they told him that Jesus the Nazarean was passing by. 30 And he called out saying, Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me. And those who were going before rebuked him that he might be silent; but he cried out so much the more, Son of David, have mercy on me. 31 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be led to him. And when he drew nigh he asked him [saying^e], What wilt thou that I shall do to thee? And he said, Lord, that I may see. And Jesus said to him, See: thy faith has healed^f thee. And imme-

And when he came up to the place, Jesus looked up and saw him, and said to him, Zacchæus, make haste and come down, for to-day I must remain in thy house. And he made haste and came down, and received him with⁷ joy. And all murmured when they saw [it], saying, He has turned in⁸ to lodge with a sinful man. But Zacchæus stood and said to the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I return [him] fourfold. 9 And Jesus said to him, To-day salvation is come to this house, inasmuch⁹ as he also is a son of Abraham; for the Son of man has come to seek and to save that which is lost.

10 But as they were listening to these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was near to Jerusalem and they thought that the kingdom of God was about to be immediately¹¹ manifested. ¹⁸ And the second came, saying, [My] Lord, thy mina has made five minas.
¹⁹ And he said also to this one, And ²⁰ thou, be over five cities. And another came, saying, [My] Lord, lo, [there is] thy mina, which I have kept laid ²¹ up in a towel. For I feared thee because thou art a harsh man: thou takest up what thou hast not laid down, and thou reapest what thou ²² hast not sowed. ⁿ He says to him, Out of thy mouth will I judge thee, wicked bondman: thou knewest that I am a harsh man, taking up what I have not laid down and reaping what I ²³ have not sowed. And why didst thou not give my money to [the^o] bank; and I should have received it, at my me to reign over them,^p bring them here and slay [them] before me.

²⁸ And having said these things, he went on before, going up to Jerusalem. And it came to pass as he drew near to Bethphage and Bethany at^q the mountain called [the mount] of Olives, he sent two of his
²⁹ disciples, saying, Go into the village over against [you], in which ye will find, on entering it, a colt tied up, on which no [child] of man^r ever sat at any time: loose it and lead it ³⁰ [here]. And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose [it]? thus shall ye say to him, Because the Lord has need of it. And they that were sent, having gone their way, found as he had ³² need of it: and they led it to Jesus; and having cast their own garments on the colt, they put Jesus on [it].

³³ And as he went, they strewed their clothes in the way.
³⁴ And as he drew near, already at the descent of the mount of Olives, all the multitude of the disciples began, rejoicing, to praise God with a loud voice for all the works of power which they ³⁵ had seen, saying, Blessed the king that comes in the name of [the] Lord:^t peace in heaven, and glory in the highest. And some of the Pharisees from the crowd said to him, Teacher, ¹² him, sent [him] away empty. And again he sent a third; and they, having wounded him also, cast [him] out.

¹³ And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: perhaps when they see^d

For the second, κράσσει certainly means 'possess,' as κτήτορες, Acts iv. 31; see 1 Thess. iv. 4, which does not mean, evidently, 'obtain a wife,' as alleged. Compare

Matt. x. 9; Luke xviii. 12. There is the idea in the word of 'having by getting.' Kypke's interpretation, 'preserving our lives,' seems out of place. ³⁷ And by day he was teaching in the temple,^d and by night, going out, he remained abroad on the mountain ³⁸ called [the mount] of Olives; and all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple^d to hear him.

XXII. Now the feast of unleavened bread, which [is] called the passover, ² drew nigh, and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.
³ And Satan entered into Judas, who was surnamed^e Iscariote, being of the ⁵ deliver him up to them. And they were rejoiced, and agreed to give ⁶ him money. And he came to an agreement to do it, and sought an opportunity to deliver him up to them away from the crowd.

⁷ And the day of unleavened bread came, in which the passover was to ⁸ be killed. And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare the passover
⁹ for us, that we may eat [it]. But they said to him, Where wilt thou

¹² over with my disciples? And he^g will shew you a large upper room ¹³ furnished: there make ready. And having gone they found it as he had said to them; and they prepared the passover.

¹⁴ And when the hour was come, he placed himself at table, and the ¹⁵ [twelve^h] apostles with him. And he said to them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you ¹⁶ before I suffer. For I say unto you, that I will not eat any more at all of it until it be fulfilled in the heard Galilee [named], demanded 7 if the man were a Galilæan; and having learned that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, remitted^o him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem

 8 in those days. And when Herod saw Jesus he greatly rejoiced, for he had been a long while desirous of seeing him, because of hearing many things^p concerning him, and he hoped to see 9 some sign done by him; and he questioned him in many words, but 10 he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and the scribes stood 11 and accused him violently. And Herod with his troops having set him at nought and mocked him, having put a splendid robe upon him, sent 12 him back to Pilate. And Pilate and Herod became friends with one another the same day, for they had been at enmity before between themselves.
 13 And Pilate, having called together the chief priests and the rulers and 14 the people, said to them, Ye have brought to me this man as turning away the people [to rebellion], and behold, I, having examined him before you, have found nothing criminal in this man as to the things of which 15 ye accuse him; nor Herod either, for I remitted you to him, and behold, nothing worthy of death is done
 16 by him.^q Having chastised him 17 therefore, I will release him. (Now he was obliged to release one for them 18 at [the] feast.^r) But they cried out in a mass saying, Away with this [man] and release Barabbas to us;
 19 who was one who, for a certain tumult which had taken place in the city and [for] murder, had been cast

20 into prison. Pilate therefore,^s desirous to release Jesus, again address-21 ed [them]. But they cried out in reply 22 saying, Crucify, crucify him. And he said the third time to them, What evil then has this [man] done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will chastise him therefore and release 23 him. But they were urgent with loud voices, begging that he might be crucified. And their voices [and those of the chief priests^t] prevailed.
 24 And Pilate adjudged that what they 25 begged should take place. And he released^u him who, for tumult and murder, had been cast into^v prison, whom they begged for, and Jesus he delivered up to their will.
 26 And as they led him away, they laid hold on a certain Simon, a Cyrenian, ^wcoming from the field, and put the cross upon him to bear 27 it behind Jesus. And a great multitude of the people, and of women who^x wailed and lamented him, fol-28 lowed him. And Jesus turning round to them said,^y Daughters of Jerusa-which they will say, Blessed [are]

 30 suck. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall upon us; and 31 to the hills, Cover us: for if these things are done^z in the green tree, what shall take place in the dry?

 were led with him to be put to death.

crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, the other on the left. And Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.^b And, parting out his garments, they cast lots. And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also [with them^c] sneered, saying, He has saved others; let him save himself if this is the Christ, the chosen one of God. And the soldiers also made game of him, coming up^d offering him vinegar, and saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself. And there was also an inscription [written^e] over him in Greek, and Roman, and Hebrew letters: This is the king of the Jews.

Now one of the malefactors who had been hanged spoke insultingly to him, saying,^f Art not thou^g the Christ? save thyself and us. But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost thou too not fear God, thou that art under the same judgment? and we indeed justly, for we receive the just recompense of what we have done; but this [man] has done nothing amiss. And he said to Jesus, Remember me, [Lord,^h] when thou comest in thy kingdom. And Jesusⁱ said to him, Verily I say to thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

And it was about [the] sixth hour, and there came darkness over the whole land^k until [the] ninth hour. And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple rent in the midst.

And Jesus, having cried with a loud voice, said, Father, into thy hands I commit^l my spirit. And having said this, he expired. Now the centurion, seeing what took place, glorified God, saying, In very deed this [man] was just. And all the crowds who had come together to that sight, having seen^m the things that took place, returned, beating [theirⁿ] breasts. And all those who knew him stood afar off, the women also who had followed him from Galilee, beholding these things.

And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a just (this [man] had not assented to their counsel and deed), of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who also waited, [himself also,^o] for the kingdom of God—he having gone to Pilate begged the body of Jesus; and having taken it down, wrapped it in fine linen and placed him^p in a tomb hewn in the rock, where no one had ever been laid. And it was preparation day, and [the] sabbath twilight was coming on. And women,^q who^r had come along with him out of Galilee, having followed, saw the sepulchre and how his body was placed. And having returned they prepared aromatic spices and ointments, and remained quiet on the sabbath, according to the commandment. (XXIV.) But on the morrow of the sabbath,^s very early indeed in the morning, they came to the tomb, bringing the aromatic spices which

2 they had prepared.^t And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And when they had entered they found not the body of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass as they were in perplexity about it, that^v behold, two men suddenly^w stood by them in shining raiment. And as they were filled with fear and bowed their faces to the ground, they said to them, Why seek ye the living one among the dead? He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spoke to you, being yet in Galilee, saying, The Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinners,^x and be crucified, and rise the third day. And they remembered his words; and, returning from the sepulchre, related all these things to the eleven and to all the rest. Now it was Mary of Magdala, and Johanna, and Mary the^y [mother] of James, and the others with them, who told these things to the apostles. And their words appeared in their eyes as an idle tale, and they disbelieved them. But Peter, rising up, ran to the sepulchre, and stooping down he sees the linen clothes lying there alone, and went away home,^z wondering at what had happened.^a

13 And behold, two of them were going on the same day to a village distant sixty stadia^b from Jerusalem, called Emmaüs; and they conversed with one another about all these things which had taken place. And it came to pass as they conversed and reasoned, that^v Jesus himself drawing nigh went with them; but their eyes were holden so as not to know him. And he said to them, What discourses are these which pass between you as ye walk, and are downcast? And one [of them], named Cleopas, answering said to him, Thou sojournest alone in Jerusalem, and dost not know what has taken place in it in these days? And he said to them, What things? And they said to him, The things concerning Jesus the Nazarean,^c who was a prophet^d mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to [the] judgment^e of death and crucified him. But we had hoped that he was^f [the one] who is about to redeem Israel. But then,^g besides all these things, it is now, to-day, the third day since these things took place. And withal, certain women from amongst us astonished us, having been very early at the sepulchre, and, not having found his body, came, saying that they also had seen a vision of angels, who say that he is living. And some of those with us went to the sepulchre, and found it so, as the women also had said, but him they saw not. And he said to them, O senseless and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! Ought not the Christ to have suffered these things and to enter into his glory? And having begun from Moses and from all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. And they drew near to the village where they were going, and he made^h as though he would go farther. And they constrained him, saying, Stay with us, for it is toward evening and the day is declining. And he entered in to stay with them. And it came to pass as he was at

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO JOHN.^a

I. In [the] beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He^b was in the beginning with God. All things received being through him, and without him not one [thing] received being which has received being.
In him was life, and the life was the light of men.^c And the light appears in darkness, and the darkness apprehended it not.
There was a man sent from God, his name John. He^d came for witness, that he might witness concerning the light, that all might believe through him. He^e was not the light, but that he might witness concerning the light. The true light was that which, coming into the world, lightens^f every man. He was in the world, and the world had [its] being through him, and the world knew him not. He came to his own,^g and his own^h received him not; but as many as received him, to them gave he [the] right to beⁱ children of God, to those that believe on^j his name;

who have been born, not of blood nor of flesh's will nor of man's will, but of God.
And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us (and we have contemplated his glory, a glory as of an only-begotten with^k a father), full of grace and truth; (John bears witness of him, and he has cried, saying, This was he of whom I said, He that comes after me is preferred before me, for he was before me;) for^l of his ful-ness we^m all have received, and grace upon grace. For the law was given by Moses: grace and truth subsistsⁿ through Jesus Christ. No one has seen God at any time; the only-begotten Son, who is inⁿ the bosom of the Father, he^e hath declared [him].

^a It is well to remark that the introduction of the personal pronoun is so universal in John, that it is impossible always to give it an emphatic sense. I have noted its presence by this mark^{*} so that each can judge for himself when the emphasis is not marked in the translation.

The same spirit of emphasis causes the very frequent use of ἐκεῖνος. Its sense is 'that,' contrasted with 'this,' hence is emphatic; as 'that man' in English, sometimes having the sense of 'such a one as that.' There is a long but not very deep or acute article by A. Buttmann on its use in this Gospel, in Stud. u. Krit., 1860.—The use of ὅτι for ὅτι is another peculiarity of John.

^f Or 'is light to every man.' Not 'enlightens,' but 'sheds its light upon.' Not, I judge, 'every man coming,' in spite of the ancients. 'Comer into the world' is a Rabbinical expression for 'man,' but this refers to the incarnation, as ver. 10 shews. The Fathers' view of it was Platonism, which John refutes in every point. The introduction of ἄνθρωπον makes the citing the Rabbinical expression as an argument for the interpretation, 'every one coming into the world,' a mistake: for the Rabbis use 'comers into the world' as equivalent to 'men.'

^h οἱ ἴδιοι: here it is the masculine; cf. xvii. 2.

^j εἰς: see note to 2 Tim. i. 12.

^k παρά with a genitive, 'on the part of,' 'from,' what flows out on. παρά in lyric poetry and late prose is used with a genitive for 'with,' and it gives the sense in English at any rate. But I am not aware of any case in the New Testament where it means apud.

^m 'Has come,' that which not having actually been in being before (i.e., in the world) now begins to be so, ἐγένετο. So the Word 'was,' but everything 'ἐγένετο.' The world ἐγένετο through him. He ἐγένετο flesh. So 'grace and truth ἐγένετο.' I am not satisfied with 'subsists,' but 'came' gives the idea of coming into the world. No doubt they did so, but ἐγένετο has not this force. They began to exist de facto down here. The verb is singular, and 'grace and truth' go together in the person of Christ. Nothing subsisted by the law, it was a rule given; but grace and truth actually commenced to be, not in God's mind of course, but in revelation and actual existence down here. But its so taking place supposes its continuance. The ἐγένετο says it was not so before, but, though not the perfect, it implies that it is what we have now.

ⁿ εἰς, not ἐν: perhaps 'on,' ὁ ὢν εἰς, the place where, or the state: see Acts viii. 23; Mark i. 9. In chap. xiii. it is ἐν in ver. 23, ἐν in ver. 25.

19 And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and Levites that they might 20 ask him, Thou, who art thou? And he acknowledged and denied not, and acknowledged, I am not the Christ.
 21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he says, I am not. Art thou the prophet? And 22 he answered, No. They said therefore to him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to those who sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I [am] [the] voice of one crying in the wilderness,^o Make straight the path of [the] Lord,^p as said Esaias the prophet. And they were sent^a from among the Pharisees. And they asked him and said to him, Why baptisest thou then, if thou art not the Christ, nor Elias, nor the prophet? John answered them saying, I baptise with water. ^rIn the midst of you stands,^s whom ye do not know, he who comes after me,^t the thong of whose sandal I am not worthy to unloose. These things took place in Bethany,^v across the Jordan, where John was baptising.
 29 On the morrow he^w sees Jesus coming to him, and says, Behold the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world. He it is of whom I said, A man comes after me who takes a place before me, because he 31 was before me; and I knew him not; but that he might be manifested to Israel, therefore have I come bap-tising with water. And John bore witness, saying, I beheld the Spirit descending as a dove from heaven, and it abode upon him. And I knew him not; but he who sent me to baptise with water, he^x said to me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and abiding on him, he it is who baptises with [the] Holy Spirit. And I have seen and borne witness that this is the Son of God.

 35 Again, on the morrow, there stood John and two of his disciples. And, looking at Jesus as he walked, he says, Behold the Lamb of God. And the two disciples heard him speaking, and followed Jesus. But Jesus having turned, and seeing them following, says to them, What seek ye? And they said to him, Rabbi (which, being interpreted, signifies Teacher), where abidest thou? He says to them, Come and see. They went therefore,^y and saw where he abode;^z and they abode with him that day. ^aIt was about the tenth hour. Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who heard [this] from John and followed him. He first finds his own brother Simon, and says to him, We have found the Messiah (which being interpreted is ^bChrist).
 42 And he led him to Jesus. ^cJesus looking at him said, Thou art Simon, the son of Jonas; thou shalt be called Cephas (which interpreted is ^dstone^e).
 43 On the morrow he^f would go forth

^o The Masoretic Hebrew connects 'in the wilderness' with what follows. The LXX does not.

II. And on the third day a marriage

 Jesus also and his disciples were 3 invited to the marriage. And wine being deficient, the mother of Jesus says to him, They have no wine.
 4 Jesus says to her, What have I to do with thee, woman? mine hour has 5 not yet come. His mother says to the servants, Whatever he may say 6 to you, do. Now there were standing there six stone water-vessels, according to the purification of the Jews,

holding two or three measures each.
 7 Jesus says to them, Fill the water-vessels with water. And they filled 8 them up to the brim. And he says to them, Draw out now, and carry [it] to the feast-master. And they carried 9 [it]. But when the feast-master had tasted the water which had been made wine (and knew not whence it was,^l but the servants knew who drew the water), the feast-master calls the 10 bridegroom, and says to him, Every man sets on first the good wine, and when [men] have well drunk, then the inferior; thou hast kept the good 11 wine till now. This^m beginning of signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory; and his 12 disciples believed onⁿ him. After this he descended to Capernaum, he and his mother and his brethren and his disciples; and there they abode not many days.

13 And the passover of the Jews was 15 and the money-changers sitting; and,

 having made a scourge of cords,

²³ And when he was in Jerusalem, at the passover, at the feast, many believed on^w his name, beholding his signs which he wrought. But Jesus himself did not trust himself to them, ²⁴ because he knew all [men], and that he had not need that any should testify of man, for himself knew what was in man.

III. But there was a man from among the Pharisees, his name Nicodemus, ² a ruler of the Jews; he^x came to him^y by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art come a teacher from God, for none can do these signs that thou doest unless ³ God be with him. Jesus answered and said to him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except any one be born anew^z he cannot see the kingdom of ⁴ God. Nicodemus says to him, How can a man be born being old? can he enter a second time into the womb ⁵ of his mother and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except any one be born of water and of Spirit, he cannot enter ⁶ into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. ⁷ Do not wonder that I said to thee, It is needful that ye should be born ⁸ anew. The wind blows where it will, and thou hearest its voice, but knowest not whence it comes and where it goes: thus is every one that is born ⁹ of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said to him, How can these things ¹⁰ be? Jesus answered and said to him, Thou art the teacher of Israel and ¹¹ knowest not these things!? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that which we know, and we bear witness of that which we have seen. ¹² and ye receive not our witness. If I have said the earthly things to you, and ye believe not, how, if I say the heavenly things to you, will ye believe? And no one has gone up into ¹³ heaven save he who came down out of heaven, the Son of man who is in ¹⁴ heaven. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, thus must ¹⁵ the Son of man be lifted up, that every one who believes on^a him may [not perish, but^b] have life eternal. ¹⁶ For God so^c loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whosoever^d believes on^a him may not ¹⁷ perish, but have life eternal. For God has not sent his Son into the world that he may judge the world, but that the world may be saved through ¹⁸ him. He that believes on^a him is not judged: but he that believes not has been already judged, because he has not believed on^a the name of the only-begotten Son of God. And ¹⁹ this is the judgment, that light is come into the world, and men have loved darkness rather than light; for ²⁰ their works were evil. IV. When therefore the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus makes and baptises more disciples than John (however, Jesus himself did not baptise, but his disciples),

³ he left Judæa and went away again^o

⁷ hour. A woman comes out of Samaria to draw water. Jesus says to ⁸ her, Give me to drink (for his disciples had gone away into the city thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: whence then hast 12 thou the living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, and his sons, and his cattle?

 13 Jesus answered and said to her, Every one who drinks of this water shall 14 thirst again; but whosoever drinks of the water which I shall give him shall never thirst for ever,^r but the water which I shall give him shall become in him a fountain of water, 15 springing up into eternal life. The woman says to him, Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst nor come

 19 The woman says to him, Sir, I see say that in Jerusalem is the place 21 where one must worship. Jesus says to her, Woman, believe me, [the] hour^t is coming when ye shall neither in this mountain nor in Jerusalem 22 worship the Father. Ye worship ye know not what; we worship what we know, for salvation is of the Jews.

 23 But [the] hour^t is coming and now is,
 when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth;
 for also the Father seeks such as his 24 worshippers. God [is] a spirit, and they who worship him must worship 25 [him] in spirit and truth. The woman says to him, I know that Messias is coming, who is called Christ; when he^v comes he will tell us all things.

 26 Jesus says to her, I who speak to his disciples, and wondered that he spoke with a woman; yet no one said, What seekest thou? or, Why 28 speakest thou with her? The woman then^w left her waterpot and went away into the city, and says to the 29 men, Come, see a man who told me all things I had ever done: is not 30 he^x the Christ? They went^y out of the city and came to him.

But^z meanwhile the disciples asked 31 him saying, Rabbi, eat. But he said 32 to them, I have food to eat which 33 ye do not know. The disciples therefore said to one another, Has any one brought him [anything] to 34 eat? Jesus says to them, My food is that I should do the will of him that has sent me, and that I should 35 finish his work. Do not ye say, that there are yet four months and the harvest comes? Behold, I say to you, Lift up your eyes and behold the wages and gathers fruit unto life eternal, that both he that sows and he that reaps may rejoice together.

 37 For in this is [verified] the^b true saying, It is one who sows and another 38 who reaps. I have sent you to reap that on which ye have not laboured; others have laboured, and ye have entered into their labours.

 that city believed on him because of the word of the woman who bore witness, He told me all things that

13 But after the two days he went forth thence and went away^d into Galilee, 11 for Jesus himself bore witness that a prophet has no honour in his own 15 country. When therefore he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all that he had done in Jerusalem during the feast, for they also went to the feast.

17 He^e came therefore again to Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain courtier in Capernaum whose son was 47 sick. He,^f having heard that Jesus had come out of Judæa into Galilee, went to him and asked [him^g] that already, as he was going down, his inquired therefore from them the hour at which he got better. And they said to him, Yesterday at the 53 seventh hour the fever left him. The father therefore knew that [it was] in that hour in which Jesus said to him,

 Thy son lives; and he believed, 54 himself and his whole house. This second sign again did Jesus, being come out of Judæa into Galilee.

V. After these things was a feast of became well, whatever disease he 5 laboured under.^p] But there was a certain man there who had been suffering under his^q infirmity thirty 6 and^r eight years. Jesus seeing this that he was [in that state] now a great length of time, says to him, Wouldest 7 thou become well? The infirm [man] answered him, Sir, I have not a man, in order, when the water has been troubled, to cast me into the pool;

 but while I am coming another 8 descends before me. Jesus says to him, Arise, take up thy couch and 9 walk. And immediately the man became well, and took up his couch and walked: and on that day was sabbath.
 10 The Jews therefore said to the healed me well, he^t said to me, Take up thy 12 couch and walk. They asked him [therefore^u], Who is the man who said to thee, Take up thy couch^v and 13 walk? But he that had been healed^w knew not who it was,^x for Jesus had slidden away, there being a crowd in 14 the place. After these things Jesus finds him^y in the temple, and said to him, Behold, thou art become well :

 sin no more, that something worse 15 do not happen to thee. The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.
 16 And for this the Jews persecuted Jesus [and sought to kill him^z], because he had done these things on sabbath.
 17 But Jesus answered them, My Father 18 worketh hitherto and I[·] work. For this therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he had not only violated the sabbath, but also said that God was his own Father, making himself equal with God.
 19 Jesus therefore answered and said to them, Verily, verily, I say to you,
 The Son can do nothing of himself save whatever he sees the Father doing: for whatever things he^t does, these things also the Son does in like 20 manner. For the Father loves^a the Son and shews him all things which he himself does; and he will shew him greater works than these, that 21 ye[·] may wonder. For even as the Father raises the dead and quickens [them], thus the Son also quick-22 ens whom he will: for neither does the Father judge any one, but has 23 given all judgment to the Son; that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He who honours not the Son, honours not the Father 24 who has sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, that he that hears my word, and believes him that has sent me, has life eternal, and does not + come into judgment, but is passed 25 out of death into life. Verily, verily,

 I say unto you, that an hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and 26 they that have heard shall live. For even as the Father has life in himself, so he has given to the Son also 27 to have life in himself, and has given him authority to execute judgment [also^b], because he is Son of man.
 28 Wonder not at this, for an hour is coming in which all who are in the 29 tombs shall hear his voice, and shall go forth; those that have practised good, to resurrection of life, and those that have done evil, to resurrection 30 of judgment. I[·] cannot do anything of myself; as I hear, I judge, and my judgment is righteous, because I do not seek ~~my~~ will, but the will of him^c 31 that has sent me. If I[·] bear witness concerning myself, my witness is not 32 true. It is another who bears witness concerning me, and I know that the witness which he bears concerning 33 me is true. Ye[·] have sent unto John, and he has borne witness to the truth.
 34 But I[·] do not receive witness from man, but I say this that ye might be 35 saved. He^d was the burning and shining^e lamp, and ye[·] were willing 36 for a season to rejoice in his light. But I[·] have the witness [that is] greater than [that] of John; for the works which the Father has given me that I should complete them, the works themselves which I^f do, bear witness concerning me that the Father 37 has sent me. And the Father who has sent me himself^g has borne witness

VI. After these things Jesus went away beyond the sea of Galilee, [or] of

 3 And Jesus went up into the mountain,^o and there sat with his disciples:

7 Philip answered him, Loaves for two hundred denarii are not sufficient for them, that each^a may have some 8 little [portion]. One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, says
 9 to him, There is a^r little boy here who has five barley loaves and two small fishes; but this, what is it for 10 so many? [And^s] Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place: the men^t therefore sat down, in number about

Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we have therefore^s answered and said to them, 44 Murmur not among yourselves. No one can come to me except the Father who has sent me draw him, and I 45 will raise him up in^t the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every one^v that has heard from^w the Father seen the Father, except he who is of 47 God, he^r has seen the Father. Verily verily, I say to you, He that believes 48 [on me^x] has life eternal. I am the 49 bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness and died.

50 This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, that one may eat of it 51 and not die. I am the living bread which has come down out of heaven:
if any one shall have eaten of this bread he shall live for ever; but the bread withal^y which I shall give is my flesh, which I shall give^z for the

How can he^a give us this flesh^b to

Verily, verily, I say unto you, Un-

the Son of man, and drunk his blood, 54 ye have no life in yourselves. He that eats^c my flesh and drinks my blood has life eternal, and I shall

Some therefore of those of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill? and behold, he speaks openly, and they say nothing to him. Have the rulers then indeed recognised that this is^e the Christ? But [as to] this [man] we know whence he is. Now [as to] the Christ, when he comes, no one knows whence he is. Jesus therefore cried out in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know^f me and ye know^f whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye[•] do not know. ^gI[•] know him, because I am from him, and he^h has sent me. But many of the crowd believed on him, and said, Will the Christ, when he comes, do more signs than those^j which this [man] has done? The Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning him, and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers that they might take him. Jesus therefore said,^k Yet a little while I am with you, and I go to him that has sent me. Ye shall seek me and shall not find [me^l], and where I[•] am ye[•] cannot come. The Jews therefore said to one another, Where is he about to go that we[•] shall not find him? Is he about to go to the dis-

In the last, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried saying, If any one thirst, let him come to me and drink. He that believes on me, as the scripture has said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. But this he said concerning the Spirit, which they that believed on him were about to receive; for [the]^m Spirit was not yet, because Jesus had not yet been glorified. But some of them desired to take him, but no one laid hands upon him. The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they^q said to them, Why have ye not brought him? The officers answered, Never man spoke thus, as this man [speaks].^r The Pharisees therefore^s answered them, Are ye[•] also deceived? Has any one of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? And the scribes and the Pharisees bring [to him^w] a woman taken in adultery, and having set her in the midst, they say to him, Teacher, this woman has been taken in the very act, committing adultery. Now in the law Moses has commanded us to stone such;^x thou therefore, what sayest thou? But this they said proving him, that they might have [something] to accuse him [of]. But Jesus, having stooped down, wrote with his finger on the ground. The Pharisees therefore said to him, Thou bearest witness concerning thyself; thy witness is not true. Jesus answered and said to them, Even if I bear witness concerning myself, my witness is true, because I know whence I came and whither I go: but ye know not whence I come and^c whither I go. Ye judge according to the flesh, I judge no one. And if also I judge, my judgment is true, because I am not alone, but I and the Father who has sent me. And in your law too it is written that the testimony of two men is true: I am [one] who bear witness concerning myself, and the Father who has sent me bears witness concerning me. They said to him therefore, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye know neither me nor my Father. If ye had known me, ye would have known also my Father. - IX. And as he passed on, he saw a² man blind from birth. And his disciples asked him saying, Rabbi, who sinned, this [man] or his parents, that³ he should be born blind? Jesus answered, Neither has this [man] sinned nor his parents, but that the works of God should be manifested in him. I must work the works of him that has sent me while it is day. [The] night is coming, when no one can⁵ work. As long as I am in the world, I am [the] light of the world. Having said these things, he spat on the ground and made mud of the spittle, and put the mud, as ointment, on his⁷ eyes.^d And he said to him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, which is interpreted, Sent. He went therefore and⁸ washed, and came seeing. The neighbours therefore, and those who used to see him before, that he was a beggar,^e said, Is not this he that was⁹ sitting and begging? sabbath when^o Jesus made the mud 15 and opened his eyes. The Pharisees therefore also again asked him how he received his sight. And he said to them, He put mud upon mine eyes, 16 and I washed, and I see. Some of the Pharisees therefore said, This man is not of God, for he does not keep the sabbath. Others said, How can a sinful man perform such signs? And there was a division among them.
 17 They say therefore^p again to the blind [man], What dost thou[·] say of him, that he has opened thine eyes? And 18 he said, He is a prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him that he was blind and had received sight, until they had called the parents of him that had received 19 sight. And they asked them saying,
 This is your son, of whom ye[·] say that he was born blind: how then 20 does he now see? His parents answered [them^q] and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was 21 born blind; but how he now sees we do not know, or who has opened his eyes we[·] do not know. He^r is of age:
 ask him;^s he^r will speak concerning 22 himself. His parents said these things because they feared the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that if any one confessed him [to be the] Christ, he should be excommunicated from 23 the synagogue. On this account his parents said, He is of age: ask him.^s 24 They called therefore a second time the man who had been blind, and said to him, Give glory to God: we[·] 25 know that this man is sinful. He^t answered therefore,^v If he is sinful I know not. One thing I know, that, 26 being blind [before], now I see. And they said to him again,^w What did he do to thee? how opened he thine 27 eyes? He answered them, I told you already and ye did not hear: why do ye desire to hear again? do ye[·] also 28 wish to become his disciples? They^x railed at him, and said, Thou[·] art his^y disciple, but we[·] are disciples of 29 Moses. We[·] know that God spoke to Moses; but [as to] this [man], we 30 know not whence he is. The man answered and said to them, Now in this is a wonderful thing, that ye do not know whence he is, and he has 31 opened mine eyes. [But^z] we know that God does not hear sinners; but if any one be God-fearing and do his 32 will, him^a he hears. Since time was,

 it has not been heard that any one opened the eyes of one born blind.
 33 If this [man] were not of God he 34 would be able to do nothing. They answered and said to him, Thou[·] hast been wholly born in sins, and thou[·] teachest us? And they cast him out.
 35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out, and having found him, he said to him, Thou, dost thou believe on 36 the Son of God? He^t answered and said, And^b who is he, Lord, that I 37 may believe on him? And^c Jesus said to him, Thou hast both seen him, and he that speaks with thee is he.^t 38 And he said, I believe, Lord: and he 39 did him homage. And Jesus said,
 For judgment am I[·] come into this world, that they which see not may see, and they which see may become 40 blind. And^d [some] of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and they said to him, Are we⁴¹ blind also? Jesus said to them, If ye were blind ye would not have sin; but now ye say, We see, your sin^e remains. (X.) Verily, verily, I say to you, He that enters not in by the door to the fold of the sheep, but mounts up elsewhere, he^f is a thief² and a robber; but he that enters in by the door is [the] shepherd of the³ sheep. To him the porter opens; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calls his own sheep by name, and⁴ leads them out. ⁵ When he has put forth all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, because⁵ they know his voice. But they will not follow a stranger, but will flee from him, because they know not⁶ the voice of strangers. This allegory spoke Jesus to them, but they^f did not know what it was [of] which he⁷ spoke to them. Jesus therefore said again to them, Verily, verily, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep.⁸ All whoever came before me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep⁹ did not hear them. I am the door: if any one enter in by me, he shall be saved, and shall go in and shall go out¹⁰ and shall find pasture. The thief comes not but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I am come that they might have life, and might have¹¹ [it] abundantly. I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down¹² his life for the sheep: but he who serves for wages, and who is not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, sees the wolf coming, and leaves the sheep and flees; and the wolf seizes them and scatters the sheep.¹ Now he who serves for wages flees¹² because he serves for wages, and is not himself concerned about the sheep.¹⁴ I am the good shepherd; and I know those that are mine, and am known¹⁵ of those that are mine,¹ as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep.¹⁶ And I have other sheep which are not of this fold: those also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one flock, one shepherd.¹⁷ On this account the Father loves me, because I lay down my¹⁸ life that I may take it again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have authority^m to lay it down and I have authority to take it again. I have received this command-¹⁹ment of my Father. There was a divisionⁿ again among the Jews on account of these words; but^o many of them said, He has a demon and raves;²¹ why do ye hear him? Others said, These sayings are not [those] of one that is possessed by a demon. Can a demon open blind people's eyes?²² Now^p the feast of the dedication was celebrating at Jerusalem, and^q it²³ was winter. And Jesus walked in the²⁴ temple in the porch of Solomon. The Jews therefore surrounded him, and said to him, Until when dost thou hold our soul in suspense? If thou art the Christ, say [so] to us openly.²⁵ Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye do not believe. The works which I do in my Father's name, these²⁶ bear witness concerning me: but ye which work of them do ye stone me?

 31 The Jews therefore again took stones

 33 The Jews answered him,^v For a good therefore again to take him, and he 40 went away from out of their hand and departed again beyond the Jordan to the place where John was baptising at 41 the first: and he abode there. And many came to him, and said, John did no sign; but all things which John said of this [man] were true.

 42 And many believed on him there.

XI. Now there was a certain [man] sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and Martha her sister.

 2 It was [the] Mary^z who anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his

 3 Lazarus was sick. The sisters there-hold, he whom thou lovest^a is sick.

 4 But when Jesus heard [it], he said,
 This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of 5 God may be glorified by it. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, 6 and Lazarus. When therefore he heard, He is sick, he remained two days then in the place where he was.
 7 Then after this he says to his^b disciples, Let us go into Judæa again.
 8 The disciples say to him, Rabbi, [even but] now the Jews sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither again?
 9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any one walk in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world; 10 but if any one walk in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in 11 him. These things said he; and after this he says to them, Lazarus, our friend, is fallen asleep, but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.
 12 The disciples therefore said to him,^c Lord, if he be fallen asleep, he will get 13 well. But Jesus spoke of his death, but they^d thought that he spoke^e of ¹⁸ in the tomb. Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about fifteen stadia ¹⁹ off, and many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, that they might console them concerning their bro-²⁰ ther. Martha then, when she heard,

 Jesus is coming, went to meet him;
²¹ but Mary sat in the house. Martha therefore said to Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not ²² died; but^h even now I know, that whatsoever thou shalt askⁱ of God, ²³ God will give thee. Jesus says to her, Thy brother shall rise again.
²⁴ Martha says to him, I know that he will rise again in the resurrection in ²⁵ the last day. Jesus said to her, I am the resurrection and the life:
 + he that believes on me, though he ²⁶ have died, shall live; and every one who lives and believes on me shall ²⁷ never die. Believest thou this? She says to him, Yea, Lord; I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, who should come into the world.
²⁸ And having said this, she went away and called her sister Mary secretly, saying, The teacher is come and calls ²⁹ thee. She,^k when she heard [that], rises up quickly and comes to him.
³⁰ Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was in the place where ³¹ Martha came to meet him. The Jews therefore who were with her in the house and consoling her, seeing Mary that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, saying, She goes to the tomb, that she may weep there.

³² Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, seeing him, fell at his feet, saying to him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.
³³ Jesus therefore, when he saw her weeping, and the Jews who came with her weeping, was deeply moved^l in ³⁴ spirit, and was troubled,^m and said, Where have ye put him? They say to ³⁵ him, Lord, come and see. Jesus wept.
³⁶ The Jews therefore said, Behold how ³⁷ he loved him! And some of them said, Could not this [man], who has opened the eyes of the blind [man], have caused that this [man] also ³⁸ should not have died? Jesus therefore, again deeply moved^l in himself, comes to the tomb. Now it was a cave, ³⁹ and a stone lay upon it. Jesus says, Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of the dead, says to him, Lord,
 he stinks already, for he is four days ⁴⁰ [there]. Jesus says to her, Did I not say to thee, that if thou shouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of ⁴¹ God? They took therefore the stone away.ⁿ And Jesus lifted up his^o eyes on high and said, Father, I thank ⁴² thee that thou hast heard me; but I knew that thou always hearest me;
 but on account of the crowd who stand around I have said [it], that they may believe that thou hast sent me.
⁴³ And having said this, he cried with a ⁴⁴ loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. And^p the dead came forth, bound feet and hands with graveclothes, and his face was bound round with a handker-

^l Or 'groaned.' I am not satisfied with 'deeply moved,' nor can I accept the interpretations of those who insist on the sense drawn from the classical use of ἐμβριμάσθαι, found also in the Gospels (Matt. ix. 30; Mark i. 43; xiv. 5). It is originally 'snorting.' But here, as within in spirit, it is not the expression of anger. It was the feeling produced by the deep pain caused by seeing the power of death over the human spirit. There was so far indignation that there was deep antagonism to the power of evil and Satan in death. The fathers (see Suicer), with many moderns, understand it as repressing what was passing in his own spirit, restraining himself. But then it would be reproving himself, which cannot be, and does not suit with ἐν ἑαυτῷ, verse 38. Lucian is quoted for 'groaning.' It may be 'groaned' is the best word. Epiphanius attributes ἐμβριμήσεις to the Lord as a proof of his humanity, along with other subjective feeling (vol. i. 1002). Compare the use of analogous words in Hebrew in Gen. xl. 6; 1 Sam. xv. 11.

45 and let him go. Many therefore of the Jews who came to Mary and saw what he^a had done, believed on him; 46 but some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had 47 done. The chief priests, therefore, and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man 48 does many signs. If we let him thus alone, all will believe on him, and the Romans will come and take away 49 both our place and our nation. But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, 50 Ye^c know nothing nor consider that it is profitable for you^r that one man die for the people, and not that the 51 whole nation perish. But this he did not say of himself; but, being high priest that year, prophesied that Jesus was going to die for the nation; 52 and not for the nation only, but that he should also gather together into one the children of God who were 53 scattered abroad. From that day therefore they took counsel^s that they 54 might kill him. Jesus therefore walked no longer openly among the Jews, but went away thence into the country near the desert, to a city called Ephraim, and there he so-journed with the^t disciples.

55 But the passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, that they might purify 56 themselves. They sought therefore Jesus, and said among themselves, standing in the temple, What do ye think? that he will not come to the 57 feast? Now^v the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment^w that if any one knew where he was,^x he should make it known, that they might take him.

XII. Jesus therefore, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where was the dead^y [man] Lazarus, whom Jesus^z raised from among [the] dead.

2 There therefore they made him a supper, and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those at table 3 with him. Mary therefore, having taken a pound of ointment of pure^a nard of great price, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair, and the house was filled with 4 the odour of the ointment. One of his disciples therefore, Judas [son] of Simon, Iscariote, who was about 5 to deliver him up, says, Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred 6 denarii and given to the poor? But he said this, not that he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief and had the bag, and carried what was 7 put into [it]. Jesus therefore said, Suffer her to have kept this for the day of my preparation for burial;^b 8 for ye have the poor always with you, 9 but me ye have not always. A great crowd therefore of the Jews knew that he was^x there; and they came, not because of Jesus only, but also that they might see Lazarus whom he 10 raised from among [the] dead. But the chief priests took counsel that 11 they might kill Lazarus also, because many of the Jews went away on his account and believed on^c Jesus.

^b ἵνα (which many read with τηρήσῃ) is habitually used for ὅτι in John. He intimates it was now the time. See John xix. 40, and Gen. i. 2 of LXX. In Genesis it answers to embalming in Hebrew. I have accepted the reading of N B D K L Q X Π 33 Ital (exc. Brix) Vulg Memph, accepted by Lach., Tisch., Treg., Meyer and Alford, but rejected by De W.; Griesb. has it in margin. The sense is the same. T. R., with A E I Δ &c. Syrr, reads 'Let her alone,' or 'Suffer her: for the day of my preparation for burial has she kept this.'

¹³ On the morrow a great crowd who came to the feast, having heard that Jesus is coming into Jerusalem, ¹³ took branches of palms and went out to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, blessed [is] he that comes in the name of [the] Lord, the king of Israel. ¹⁴ And Jesus, having found a young ass, ¹⁵ sat upon it; as it is written, Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy king cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. ¹⁶ [Now^d] his disciples knew not these things at the first; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things ¹⁷ to him. The crowd therefore that was with him bore witness because^e he had called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from among [the] ¹⁸ dead. Therefore also the crowd met him because they had heard that he ¹⁹ had done this sign. The Pharisees therefore said to one another, Ye see that ye profit nothing: behold, the world is gone after him.

²⁰ And there were certain Greeks among those who came up that they ²¹ might worship^f in the feast; these therefore came to Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and they asked him saying, Sir, we desire to see ²² Jesus. Philip comes and tells Andrew, [and again] Andrew comes and Philip, ²³ and they tell^g Jesus. But Jesus answered them saying, The hour is come that the Son of man should be ²⁴ glorified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except the grain of wheat falling into the ground die, it abides alone; but if it die, it bears much ²⁵ fruit. He that loves his life shall lose it, and he that hates his life in this ²⁶ world shall keep it to life eternal. If any one serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there also shall be my servant. [And^h] if any one serve me, him shall the Father honour.

²⁷ Now is my soul troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour. But on account of this ²⁸ have I come to this hour. Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, I both have glorified and will glorify [it] again. ²⁹ The crowd therefore which stood [there] and heard [it] said that it had thundered. Others said, An angel ³⁰ has spoken to him. Jesus answered and said, Not on my account has this ³¹ voice come, but on yours. Now is [the] judgment of this world; now shall the prince of this world be cast ³² out: and I, if I be lifted up out of the earth, will draw all to me. But ³³ this he said signifying by what death ³⁴ he was about to die. The crowd answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abides for ever; and how sayest thou that the Son of man must be lifted up? Who ³⁵ is this, the Son of man? Jesus therefore said to them, Yet a little while is the light amongstⁱ you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness may not overtake^k you. And he who walks in the darkness does ³⁶ not know where he goes. While ye have the light, believe in^l the light, that ye may become sons of light. Jesus said these things, and going away hid himself from them.

³⁷ But though he had done so many signs before them, they believed ³⁸ not on^l him, that the word of the prophet Esaias which he said might be fulfilled, Lord, who has believed our report? and to whom has the ³⁹ arm of the Lord been revealed? On this account they could not believe,

⁴³ synagogue: for they loved glory from men rather than glory from God.ⁿ

⁴⁴ But Jesus cried and said, He that believes on me, believes not on me, ⁴⁵ but on him that sent me; and he that beholds me, beholds him that ⁴⁶ sent me. I am come into the world [as] light, that every one that believes on me may not abide in darkness;

XIII. Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus, knowing that his hour had come that he should depart out of this world to the Father, having loved his own who were in the ² world, loved them to the end.^a And during^r supper, the devil having already put it into the heart of Judas [son] of Simon, Iscariote, that he ³ should deliver him up, [Jesus,^s] knowing that the Father had given him all things into his^t hands, and that he came out from God and was

⁴ going^v to God, rises from supper and lays aside his^w garments, and having taken a linen towel he girded him-
⁵ self: then he pours water into the washhand basin, and began to wash the feet of the disciples, and to wipe them with the linen towel with which ⁶ he was girded. He comes therefore to Simon Peter; and he^x says to him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?
⁷ Jesus answered and said to him, What I do thou dost not know^y now, but thou shalt know^y hereafter.
⁸ Peter says to him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, Unless I wash thee, thou hast not ⁹ part with me. Simon Peter says to him, Lord, not my feet only, but also ¹⁰ my hands and my head. Jesus says to him, He that is washed all over^z needs not to wash save^a his feet, but is wholly clean; and ye are clean, ¹¹ but not all. For he knew him that delivered him up: on account of this ¹² he said, Ye are not all clean. When therefore he had washed their feet and taken his garments, having^b sat down again he said to them, Do ye ¹³ know what I have done to you? Ye call me the Teacher and the Lord, ²⁰ that I am [he]. Verily, verily, I say to you, He who receives whomsoever I shall send receives me; and he that receives me receives him who has sent me.

²¹ Having said these things, Jesus was troubled in spirit, and testified and said, Verily, verily, I say to you, that one of you shall deliver me up.
²² The disciples therefore^f looked one on another, doubting of whom he ²³ spoke.^g Now^h there was at table one of his disciples in the bosom of Jesus, ²⁴ whom Jesus loved. Simon Peter makes a sign therefore to himⁱ to ask who it might be of whom he spoke.^k ²⁵ But^l he,^m leaningⁿ on the breast of Jesus, says to him, Lord, who is

²⁷ of Simon, Iscariote. And, after the morsel, then entered Satan into him.^m Jesus therefore says to him, What ²⁸ thou doest, do quickly. But none of those at table knew why he said this ²⁹ to him; for some supposed, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus was ³⁰ saying to him, Buy the things of which we have need for the feast; or that he should give something to the poor. Having therefore received the morsel, he^m went out immediately; and it was night.

³¹ When therefore^p he was gone out Jesus says, Now is^q the Son of man glorified, and God is^q glorified in him.
³² If God be^q glorified in him, God also shall glorify him in himself, and shall ³³ glorify him immediately. Children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me; and, as I said to the Jews, Where I go ye cannot come, ³⁴ I say to you also now. A new commandment I give to you, that ye love one another; as I have loved you, ³⁵ that ye also love one another. By this shall all know that ye are disciples of mine, if ye have love amongst ³⁶ yourselves. Simon Peter says to him, Lord, where goest thou? Jesus answered him,^r Where I go thou canst not follow me now, but thou shalt ³⁷ follow me after. Peter says to him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thee.

and will make [it] known; that the love with which thou hast loved me may be in them and I in them.

¹² The band therefore, and the chiliarch,^b and the officers of the Jews, ¹³ took Jesus and bound him: and they led him away to Annas first; for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who ¹⁴ was high priest that year. But it was Caiaphas who counselled the Jews that it was better that one man should ¹⁵ perish^c for the people. Now Simon Peter followed Jesus, and the other disciple. But that disciple was known to the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high ¹⁶ priest; but Peter stood at the door without. The other disciple therefore, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to the ¹⁷ portress and brought in Peter. The maid therefore, who was portress, says to Peter, Art thou also of the disciples of this man? He^d says, I ¹⁸ am not. But the bondmen and officers, having made a fire of coals (for it was cold), stood and warmed themselves; and Peter^e was standing with them and warming himself. ¹⁹ The high priest therefore demanded of Jesus concerning his disciples and ²⁰ concerning his doctrine. Jesus answered him, I spoke openly to the world; I taught always in [the^f] synagogue and in the temple, where all the Jews^g come together, and in ²¹ secret I have spoken nothing. Why demandest thou of me? Demand of those who have heard, what I have spoken to them; behold, they^h know ²² what I have said. But as he said these things, one of the officers who stood by gave a blow on the face to Jesus, saying, Answerest thou the ²³ high priest thus? Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil; but if well, why ²⁴ smitest thou me? Annas [then]ⁱ had sent him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.

28 They lead therefore Jesus from Caiaphas to the prætorium; and it was early morn. And they^l entered not into the prætorium, that they might not be defiled, but^m eat the 29 passover. Pilate therefore went out to themⁿ and said, What accusation 30 do ye bring against this man? They answered and said to him, If this [man] were not an evildoer, we should not have delivered him up to thee.
 31 Pilate therefore said to them, Take him, ye^k, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said to him, It is not permitted to us to put 32 any one to death; that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled which he spoke, signifying what death he

 35 concerning me? Pilate answered, Am I^k a Jew? Thy nation and the chief priests have delivered thee up 36 to me: what hast thou done? Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my servants had fought that I might not be delivered up to the 37 Jews; but now my kingdom is not from hence. Pilate therefore said to him, Thou^k art then a king? Jesus answered, Thou^k sayest [it], that I am a king. I^k have been born for this, and for this I have come into the world, that I might bear witness to the truth. Every one that is of the 38 truth hears my voice. Pilate says to him, What is truth? And having said this he went out again to the Jews, and says to them, I^k find no 39 fault whatever in him. But ye have a custom that I release [some] one to you at the passover; will ye therefore that I release unto you the king of the 40 Jews? They cried therefore again all, saying, Not this [man], but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

XIX. Then Pilate therefore took Jesus
 2 and scourged [him]. And the soldiers having plaited a crown of thorns put it on his head, and put a purple
 3 robe on him, and came to him and^p said, Hail, king of the Jews! and 4 gave him blows on the face. And^q Pilate went out again and says to them, Lo, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find in him
 5 no fault whatever. (Jesus therefore went forth without, wearing the crown of thorn and the purple robe.) And he says to them, Behold the 6 man! When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him they cried out saying, Crucify, crucify [him^r]. Pilate says to them, Take 7 him ye^k and crucify [him], for I^k find 8 no fault in him. The Jews answered him, We^k have a law, and according to [our^s] law he ought to die, because 9 he made himself Son of God. When Pilate therefore heard this word, he was the rather afraid, and went into the prætorium again and says to Jesus, Whence art thou^k? But Jesus 10 gave him no answer. Pilate therefore^t says to him, Speakest thou not to me? Dost thou not know that I have authority to release^v thee and 11 have authority to crucify thee? Jesus answered,^w Thou hadst no authority whatever against me if it were not given to thee from above. On this account he that has delivered me up 12 to thee has [the] greater sin. From this time Pilate sought to release him; but the Jews cried out saying, If thou releasest this [man], thou art not a friend to Cæsar. Every one making himself a king speaks against Cæsar.

 13 Pilate therefore, having heard these words,^x led Jesus out and sat down upon [the^y] judgment-seat, at a place called Pavement, but in Hebrew
 14 Gabbatha; (now it was [the] preparation of the passover; it was^z about the sixth hour;) and he says to the 15 Jews, Behold your king! But they cried out, Take [him] away, take [him] away, crucify him. Pilate says to them, Shall I crucify your king? The chief priests answered, We have 16 no king but Cæsar. Then therefore he delivered him up to them, that he might be crucified; and they took Jesus and led him away.^a 17 And he went out, bearing his cross, to the place called [place] of a skull, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha;
 18 where they crucified him, and with him two others, [one] on this side, and [one] on that, and Jesus in the middle.
 19 And Pilate wrote a title also and put it on the cross. But there was written: Jesus the Nazaræan, the king of the 20 Jews. This title therefore many of the Jews read, for the place of the city where Jesus was crucified was near;^b and it was written in Hebrew, 21 Greek, Latin.^c The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Do not write, The king of the Jews, but that he^d said, I am king of the Jews.

 22 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written. The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his clothes, and made four parts, to each soldier a part, and the body coat; but the body coat was seamless, woven through the whole 24 from the top. They said therefore to one another, Let us not rend it, but let us cast lots for it, whose it shall be; that the scripture might be fulfilled which says,^e They parted my garments among themselves, and on my vesture they cast lots. The soldiers therefore did these things.
 25 And by the cross of Jesus stood his mother, and the sister of his mother, Mary the [wife] of Clopas, and Mary 26 of Magdala. Jesus therefore, seeing his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, says to his mother, 27 Woman, behold thy son. Then he says unto the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour the disciple took her to his own home.
 28 After this, Jesus, knowing that all things were now finished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, says, I 29 thirst. There was a vessel therefore^f there full of vinegar, and having filled a sponge with vinegar, and putting hyssop round it,^g they put it up to his 30 mouth. When therefore Jesus had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished; and having bowed his head, 31 he delivered up his spirit. The Jews therefore, that the bodies might not remain on the cross on the sabbath, for it was [the] preparation, (for the day of that sabbath was a great^h [day],) demanded of Pilate that their legs might be broken and they taken 32 away. The soldiers therefore came and broke the legs of the first and of the other that had been crucified with 33 him; but coming to Jesus, when they saw that he was already dead they did 34 not break his legs, but one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and immediately there came out blood

 35 and water. And he who saw it bearsⁱ witness, and his witness is true, and he^k knows that he says true that ye 36 also^l may believe. For these things took place that the scripture might be fulfilled, Not a bone of him shall 37 be broken. And again another scripture says, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 And^m after these things Joseph of Arimathæa, who was a disciple of Jesus, but secretly through fear of the Jews, demanded of Pilate that he might take the body of Jesus: and Pilate allowed it. He came therefore and took away the body of Jesus.ⁿ
 39 And Nicodemus also, who at first came to Jesus^o by night, came, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds [weight].
 40 They took therefore the body of Jesus and bound it up in linen with the spices, as it is the custom with the Jews to prepare for burial.^p
 41 But there was in the place where he had been crucified a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which 42 no one had ever been laid. There therefore, on account of the preparation of the Jews, because the tomb was near, they laid Jesus.

XX. And on the first [day] of the week Mary of Magdala comes in early morn to the tomb, while it was still dark, and sees the stone taken away
 2 from the tomb. She runs therefore and comes to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple to whom Jesus was attached, and says to them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they 3 have laid him. Peter therefore went forth and the other disciple, and came 4 to the tomb. And the two ran together, and the other disciple ran forward faster than Peter, and came 5 first to the tomb, and stooping down he sees the linen cloths lying; he 6 did not however go in. Simon Peter therefore comes, following him, and entered into the tomb, and sees the 7 linen cloths lying, and the handkerchief which was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but folded 8 up in a distinct place by itself. Then entered in therefore the other disciple also who came first to the tomb, 9 and he saw and believed; for they had not yet known the scripture, that he must rise from among [the] dead.
 10 The disciples therefore went away
 11 again to their own home. But Mary stood at the tomb^q weeping without. As therefore she wept, she stooped me where thou hast laid him, and I^w 16 will take him away. Jesus says to her, Mary. She, turning round, says to him in Hebrew,^v Rabboni, which 17 means Teacher. Jesus says to her, Touch me not, for I have not yet ascended to my^w Father; but go to my brethren and say to them, I ascend to my Father and your Father, and 18 [to] my God and your God. Mary of Magdala comes bringing word to the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and [that] he had said these things to her.

19 When therefore it was evening on that day, which was the first [day] of the week, and the doors shut where the disciples were,^x through fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and says to them, Peace [be] 20 to you. And having said this, he shewed to them his hands and his side. The disciples rejoiced there-21 fore, having seen the Lord. [Jesus]^y said therefore again to them, Peace [be] to you: as the Father sent me 22 forth, I^z also send you. And having said this, he breathed into [them], and says to them, Receive [the] Holy 23 Spirit: whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted^z to them; whose soever [sins] ye retain, they are retain-24 ed. But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus,^a was not with them 25 when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said to him, We have seen the Lord. But he said to them, Unless I see in his hands the mark of the nails, and put my finger into the mark^b of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not^c believe.

 26 And eight days after, his disciples were again within, and Thomas with them. Jesus comes, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst and said, 27 Peace [be] to you. Then he says to Thomas, Bring thy finger here and see my hands; and bring thy hand and put it into my side; and be not 28 unbelieving, but believing. ^dThomas answered and said to him, My Lord 29 and my God. Jesus says to him, Because thou hast seen me^e thou hast believed: blessed they who have not seen and have believed.

30 Many other signs therefore also Jesus did before his^f disciples, which 31 are not written in this book; but these are written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life in his name.

XXI. After these things Jesus^g manifested himself again to the disciples go to fish. They say to him, We^h also come with thee. They went forth and went on board,^h and that night

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

I. I composed the first discourse, O Theophilus, concerning all things which Jesus began both to do and to teach, until that day in which, having by the Holy Spirit charged the apostles whom he had chosen, he was taken up;^a to whom also he presented himself living, after he had suffered, with many proofs; being seen by them during forty days, and speaking of the things which concern the kingdom of God; and, being assembled with [them], commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to await the promise of the Father, which [said he] ye have heard of me. For John indeed baptised with water, but ye shall be baptised with the Holy Spirit after now not many days. They therefore, being come together, asked him saying, Lord, is it at this time that thou restorest the kingdom^b to Israel? And he said to them, It is not yours to know times or seasons, which the Father has placed in his own authority;^c but ye will receive^d power, the Holy Spirit having come upon you, and ye shall be my^e witnesses both in Jerusalem and in all Judæa and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.^f And having said these things he was taken up, they beholding [him], and a cloud received him out of their sight.^g

¹⁰ And as they were gazing into heaven, as he was going, behold, also two men stood by them in white clothing, who also said, Men of Galilee, why do ye stand looking into heaven? This Jesus who has been taken up^a from you into heaven, shall thus come in the manner in which ye have beheld him going into heaven. Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called [the mount] of Olives, which is near Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey off. And when they were come into [the city], they went up to the upper chamber where were staying both Peter, and John, and James,^h and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James [son] of Alphæus, and Simon the zealot, and Jude [the brother] of James. These gave themselves all with one accord to continual prayer,ⁱ with [several] women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

¹⁵ And in those days Peter, standing up in the midst of the brethren,^j said, (the crowd of names [who were] together [was] about a hundred and twenty,) Brethren,^k it was necessary that the^l scripture should have been

^a ἀνελήφθη, ἀναληφθείς. λαμβάνω has the sense of 'receiving' (see ver. 8), or when more active, of 'taking'; but in general in the New Testament, ἀναλαμβάνω has the more active sense; always indeed, unless in Mark xvi. 19, 1 Tim. iii. 16, and this chapter, in all which it speaks of the ascension, where its force is 'taken up'; δέχομαι is more passive reception, as in Acts iii. 21.

^c The word 'authority' does not please me as English here: but it is important to distinguish it from 'power' (δύναμις) in what follows: ἐξουσία is 'a right,' 'an authority,' one possesses: cf. Luke x. 19, and the note to Matt. x. 1.

^d Here λαμβάνω has a simple passive sense.

fulfilled which the Holy Spirit spoke before, by the mouth of David, concerning Judas, who became guide to ¹⁷ those who took Jesus; for he was numbered amongst^m us, and had received a part in this service. (This ¹⁸ [man] then indeed gotⁿ a field with [the^o] reward of iniquity, and, having fallen down headlong, burst in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.
¹⁹ And it was known to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that that field was called in their own^p dialect Acedama; that is, field of blood.) For it is written in [the] book of Psalms, Let his homestead become desolate, and let there be no dweller in it; and, Let ²¹ another take his overseership. It is necessary therefore that of the men who have assembled with us all [the] time in which^q the Lord Jesus came in and went out among^r us, beginning from the baptism of John until the day in which he was taken up from us, one of these should be a witness with us of his resurrection.
²³ And they appointed two, Joseph, who was called Barsabas, who had been surnamed Justus, and Matthias.
²⁴ And they prayed, and said, Thou Lord, knower of the hearts of all, shew which one of these two thou

²⁵ hast chosen, to receive the lot^s of this service and apostleship, from which Judas transgressing fell to go to his ²⁶ own place. And they gave lots on them,^t and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

II. And when the day of Pentecost was now accomplishing,^u they were ² all together^v in one place. And there came suddenly a sound out of heaven as of a violent impetuous blowing,^w and filled all the house where they
³ were sitting. And there appeared to them parted tongues, as of fire, and it sat^x upon each one of them.
⁴ And they were all filled with [the] Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues as the Spirit gave to them to speak forth.

⁵ Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, pious men, from every ⁶ nation of those under heaven. But the rumour of this having spread,^y the multitude came together and were confounded, because each one heard them speaking in his own dialect.
⁷ And all were amazed and wondered, saying,^z Behold, are not all these who ⁸ are speaking Galilæans? and how do we hear [them] each in our own dia-
⁹ lect in which we have been born, Par-

Meyer, and De Wette think that in versions it is wrongly omitted.

^y Or 'this voice having taken place.' In spite of De Wette and Alford, I believe what is in the text to be the sense. Kuinoel, accepted by Bloomfield and others, takes it as the loud voice of the speakers. But this is not $\phi\omega\nu\eta$, nor would it have spread over the city; nor would the sound of the mighty rushing wind over the city have brought them there. It was what happened at the place which brought the crowd there: that is, it was not the mighty rushing wind being heard everywhere. The end of the verse goes to confirm this. What struck those who came was hearing their own tongues. Alford says Gen. xlv. 16 and Jer. xxvii. (L.) 46 are no examples. Why not? The rumours of Jacob's coming spread to Pharaoh's house. Schleusner, who does not accept this sense, admits it as being right in Hebrew and Septuagint Greek.

^z τοὺς σωζόμενους, the remnant of Israel whom God was sparing. The word is used for this class in the LXX in the prophets. The Lord now added these to the christian assembly. It is used chiefly for פלט and שרר, 'to escape.' As to the form of the word, σωζόμενοι, σεσωσμένοι, σωθέντες are all found in the LXX. The difference of σωζόμενος is that it gives the character instead of the fact; as I might say, 'the spared ones,' or 'those to be spared;' or the fact, 'those who have been spared.' It is not this last here. It is the class of persons God was then saving. It is not a doubt as to their being saved, nor a state, but a class. Compare Luke xiii. 23, 'Are the σωζόμενοι, that class, few?' So the English means there—'that be saved.' The Jews discussed this point much, as may be seen in Lightfoot and Schoettgen.

See Kypke on the verse. It means simply 'together.' Probably we should read 'the Lord added together daily his mother's womb was being carried, whom they placed every day at the gate of the temple called Beautiful, to ask alms of those who were going ¹¹ And as he ^f held Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the portico which is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

¹² And Peter, seeing it, answered the people, Men of Israel, why are ye astonished at this? or why do ye gaze on us as if we had by our own power
¹³ or piety made him to walk? The God

And indeed all the prophets from Samuel and those in succession after [him], as many as have spoken, have announcedⁿ also these ²⁵ days. Ye are the^o sons of the prophets and of the covenant which God appointed to our fathers, saying to Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed. ²⁶ To you first God, having raised up his servant,^p has sent him, blessing you in turning each one [of you] from your wickedness.

IV. And as they were speaking to the people, the priests and captain of the temple^a and the Sadducees came ² upon them, being distressed on account of their teaching the people and preaching by Jesus^r the resurrection from among^s [the] dead; and they laid hands on them, and put them^t in ward till the morrow; for it was already evening.

⁴ But many of those who had heard the word believed, and the number of the men had become [about^{tt}] five thousand.

⁵ And it came to pass on the morrow that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together at Jerusalem, and Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of [the^u] high ⁷ priestly family; and having placed them in the midst they inquired, In what power or in what name have ye ⁸ done this? ¹³ But seeing the boldness of Peter and John, and perceiving that they were unlettered and uninstructed men, they wondered; and they recognised them that they were with ¹⁴ Jesus. And^x beholding the man who had been healed standing with them, ¹⁵ they had nothing to reply; but having commanded them to go out of the council they conferred with one another, saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed an evident sign has come to pass through their means is manifest to all that inhabit Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it. ¹⁷ But that it be not further spread among the people, let us threaten them severely^y no longer to speak to ¹⁸ any man in this name. And when the young men came in they found her dead; and, having carried her out, they buried her by her husband.¹¹ And great fear came upon all the assembly, and upon all who heard these things. And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders done among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch, but of the rest durst no man join them, but the people magnified them; and believers were more than ever added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;) so that they brought out the sick into the streets and put [them] on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter, when he came, might overshadow some one full of the Holy Spirit, having fixed his eyes on heaven, he saw [the] glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God, and said, Lo, I behold the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing at the right hand of God. And they cried out with a loud voice, and held their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord; and having cast [him] out of the city, they stoned [him]. And the witnesses laid aside their clothes at the feet of a young man called Saul. And they stoned Stephen, praying,^s and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And kneeling down, he cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And having said this, he fell asleep. (VIII.) And Saul was consenting to his being killed.

⁷ they laid their hands on them. And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples in Jerusalem was very greatly multiplied, and a great crowd of the priests obeyed the faith.

⁸ And Stephen, full of grace^g and power, wrought wonders and great signs^h among the people.

And on that day there arose a great persecution against the assembly which was in Jerusalem, and all were scattered into the countries of Judæa and Samaria except the apostles. And pious men buried Stephen and made great lamentation over him. But Saul ravaged the assembly, entering into the houses one after another, and dragging off both men and women delivered them up to prison.

Those then that had been scattered went through [the countries] announcing the glad tidings of the word. And Philip, going down to a city of Samaria, preached the Christ to them; and the crowds with one accord gave heed to the things spoken by Philip, when they heard [him] and saw the signs which he wrought. For from many^t who had unclean spirits they went out, crying with a loud voice; and many that were paralyzed and lame were healed. And there was great joy in that city.

But a certain man, by name Simon, had been before in the city, using magic arts, and astonishing the nation of Samaria, saying that himself was some great one. To whom they had all given heed, from small to great, saying, This is the power of God which is called^u great. And they gave heed to him, because that for a long time he had astonished them by his magic arts. But when they believed Philip announcing the glad tidings^v concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. And Simon also himself believed; and, having been baptized, continued constantly with Philip; and, beholding the signs and great works of power^w which took place, was astonished. And the apostles who were in Jerusalem, having heard that Samaria had received the word of God, sent to them Peter and John; who, having come down, prayed for them that they might receive [the] Holy Spirit; for he was not yet fallen upon any of them, only they were baptized to the name of the Lord Jesus. Then they laid their hands upon them, and they received [the] Holy Spirit. But Simon, having seen that by the laying on of the hands of the apostles the [Holy^x] Spirit was given, offered them money, saying, Give to me also this power, in order that on whomsoever I may lay hands he may receive [the] Holy Spirit. And Peter

^s ἐπικαλούμενον, 'invoking,' 'calling on,' but in English we must have a word after this, which mars the connection here. The Authorized Version seems to separate God and the Lord Jesus. 'Calling on the Lord' would leave God out. The Spirit of God, I doubt not, has purposely left both 'Lord' and 'God' out. No one can be called upon but God really, so that the word has great force when used as here. I have said 'praying' for want of a better word.

led as a sheep to slaughter, and as a lamb is dumb in presence of him that shears him, thus he opens not³³ his mouth. In his humiliation his judgment has been taken away, and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.³⁴ And the eunuch answering Philip said, I pray thee, concerning whom does the prophet say this? of himself or of some other? And Philip, opening his mouth and beginning from that scripture, announced the³⁵ glad tidings of Jesus to him. And as they went along the way they came upon a certain water, and the eunuch says, Behold water; what³⁶ hinders my being baptized?^b And he commanded the chariot to stop. And they went down both to the water, both Philip and the eunuch,³⁷ and he baptized him. But when they came up out of the water [the] Spirit of [the] Lord caught away Philip, and the eunuch saw him no longer, for he went on his way rejoicing.⁴⁰ And Philip was found at Azotus, and passing through he announced the glad tidings to all the cities till he came to Caesarea.

ACTS X.

And he said to him, Thy prayers and thine alms have gone up for a 5 memorial before God. And now send men to Joppa and fetch Simon, 6 who is surnamed Peter. He lodges with a certain Simon, a tanner, whose 7 house is by the sea.^f And when the angel who was speaking to him^g had departed, having called two of his household and a pious soldier of those who were constantly with 8 him, and related all things to them, 9 he sent them to Joppa. And on the morrow, as these were journeying and drawing near to the city, Peter went up on the house to pray, about 10 the sixth hour. And he became hungry and desired to eat. But as they were making ready an ecstasy 11 came^h upon him: and he beholds the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending,ⁱ as a great sheet, [bound^k] by [the] four corners [and^k] 12 let down to the earth; in which were all the quadrupeds^l and creeping things of the earth, and the fowls 13 of the heaven. And there was a voice to him, Rise, Peter, slay and 14 eat. And Peter said, In no wise, Lord; for I have never eaten any-15 thing common or^m unclean. And [there was] a voice again the second time to him, What God has cleansed, 16 do not thou make common. And this took place thrice, and the vessel was straightwayⁿ taken up into 17 heaven. And as Peter doubted in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold also the men who were sent by Cornelius, having sought out the house of 18 Simon, stood at the gate, and having called [some one], they inquired if Simon who was surnamed Peter 19 was lodged there. But as Peter continued pondering^o over the vision, the Spirit said to him, Behold, three 20 men seek thee; but rise up, go down, and go with them, nothing doubting, 21 because I have sent them. And Peter going down to the men^p said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause for which ye come?

22 And they said, Cornelius, a centurion, a righteous man, and fearing God, and borne witness to by the whole nation of the Jews, has been divinely instructed by a holy angel to send for thee to his house, and 23 hear words from thee. Having therefore invited them in, he lodged them.
And on the morrow, rising up he^q went away with them, and certain of the brethren from Joppa went 24 with him. And on the morrow they came to Cæsarea. But Cornelius was looking for them, having called together his kinsmen and [his] in-25 timate friends. And when Peter was now^r coming in, Cornelius met him, and falling down did [him] 26 homage. But Peter made him rise, saying, Rise up: I myself also am a 27 man. And he went in, talking with him, and found many gathered to-28 gether. And he said to them, Ye know how it is unlawful for a Jew to be joined or come to one of a strange race, and to me God has shewn to call no man common or unclean.

¹⁸ to forbid God? And when they heard these things they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then indeed God has to the nations also granted repentance to life.
¹⁹ They then who had been scattered abroad through the tribulation that took place on the occasion of Stephen, passed through [the country] to Phœnicia and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to no one but to ²⁰ Jews alone. But there were certain of them, Cyprians and Cyrenians, who entering into Antioch spoke to the Greeks^k also,^l announcing the glad tidings of the Lord Jesus. And [the] Lord's hand was with them, and a great number believed and ²² turned to the Lord. And the report concerning them reached the ears of the assembly which was in Jerusalem, and they sent out Barnabas to ²³ go through^m as far as Antioch: who, having arrived and seeing the grace of God,ⁿ rejoiced, and exhorted all with purpose of heart to abide with sembly and taught a large crowd: and the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch.

- ²⁷ Now in these days prophets went down from Jerusalem to Antioch; ²⁸ and one from among them, by name Agabus, rose up and signified by the Spirit that there was going to be a great famine over all the inhabited earth, which also came to pass under ²⁹ Claudius.^s And they determined, according as any one of the disciples was well off, each of them to send to the brethren who dwelt in Judæa, ³⁰ to minister^t [to them]; which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

XII. At that time Herod the king laid his hands on some of those of the ² assembly to do them hurt, and slew James, the brother of John, with the ³ sword. And seeing that it was pleasing to the Jews, he went on to take Peter also: (and they were the^u days ⁴ of unleavened bread :) whom having seized he put in prison, having delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep, purposing after the passover to bring him out to the ⁵ people. Peter therefore was kept in the prison; but unceasing prayer was made by the assembly to God concerning him. And when Herod was going to bring him forth, that night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and guards before the door kept the prison. And lo, an angel of [the] Lord came there, and a light shone in the prison: ^v and having smitten the side of Peter, he roused him up, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell ⁶ off his hands. And the angel said to him, Gird thyself and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he says to him, Cast thine upper garment

- ⁹ about thee and follow me. And going forth he followed [him^w] and did not know^x that what was happening by means of the angel was real, but ¹⁰ supposed he saw a vision. And having passed through a first and second guard, they came to the iron gate which leads into the city, which opened to them of itself; and going forth they went down one street, and immediately the angel left him. ¹¹ And Peter, being come to himself, said, Now I know certainly that [the] Lord has sent forth his angel and has taken me out of the hand of Herod and all the expectation of the ¹² people of the Jews. And having become clearly conscious [in himself], he came to the house of Mary, the mother of John who was surnamed Mark, where were many gathered ¹³ together and praying. And when he had knocked^y at the door of the entry, a maid came to listen, by ¹⁴ name Rhoda; and having recognised the voice of Peter, through joy did not open the entry, but running in, reported that Peter was standing before the entry. And they said to her, Thou art mad. But she maintained that it was so. And they said, ¹⁵ It is his angel. But Peter continued knocking: and having opened, they ¹⁶ saw him and were astonished. And having made a sign to them with his hand to be silent, he related [to them^z] how the Lord had brought him out of prison; and he said, Report these things to James and to the brethren. And he went out and ¹⁷ went to another place. And when it was day there was no small disturbance among the soldiers, what ¹⁸ then was become of Peter. ²⁰ And he^a was in bitter hostility with [the] Tyrians and Sidonians; but they came to him with one accord, and, having gained Blastus the king's chamberlain, sought peace, because their country was nourished by the ²¹ king's. And on a set day, clothed in royal apparel and sitting on the elevated seat [of honour], Herod made ²² a public oration to them. And the people cried out, A god's voice and ²³ not a man's. And immediately an angel of [the] Lord smote him, because he did not give the glory to God, and he expired, eaten of worms.
²⁴ But the word of God grew and spread ²⁵ itself. And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, having fulfilled the service [entrusted to them], taking also with them John, surnamed Mark.

XIII. Now there were in Antioch, in the assembly which was [there],
^b prophets and teachers: Barnabas, and Simeon who was called Niger,^c and Lucius the Cyrenian, and Manaen, foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. And as they were ministering to the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, Separate me now^d Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called ³ them. Then, having fasted and prayed, and having laid [their] hands on them, they let [them] go.
⁴ They^e therefore, having been sent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia, and thence sailed away ⁵ to Cyprus. And being in Salamis, they announced the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had John also as [their] attendant.

⁶ And having passed through the whole^f island as far as Paphos, they found a certain man^g a magician, a false prophet, a Jew, whose ⁷ name was Barjesus, who was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man. He, having called Barnabas and Saul to [him], desired
⁸ to hear the word of God. But Elymas the magician (for so his name is by interpretation) opposed them, seeking to turn away the proconsul
⁹ from the faith. But Saul, who also [is] Paul, filled with [the] Holy Spirit,^h
¹⁰ fixing his eyes upon him, said, O full of all deceit and all craft: son of [the] devil, enemy of all righteousness; wilt thou not cease perverting
¹¹ the right paths of [the] Lord? And now behold, [theⁱ] Lord's hand [is] upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell upon him a mist and darkness; and going about he sought persons who should lead ¹² him by the hand. Then the proconsul, seeing what had happened, believed, being amazed at the teaching of the Lord.

¹³ And having sailed from Paphos, Paul and his company came to Perga of Pamphylia; and John separated from them and returned to Jerusalem. But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and entering into the synagogue on the sabbath day they sat
¹⁴ down. And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, Brethren,^j if ye have any^k word of

¹⁶ And Paul, rising up and making a sign with the hand, said, Israelites,¹ ¹⁷ and ye that fear God, hearken. The God of this people Israel^m chose our fathers, and exalted the people in their sojourn in [the] land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought them ¹⁸ out of it, and for a time of about forty years he nursedⁿ them in the

²¹ hundred and fifty years. And then they asked for a king, and God gave to them Saul, son of Kis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, during forty ²³ shall do all my will. Of this man's seed according to promise has God brought^q to Israel a Saviour Jesus;

²⁴ John having proclaimed before the face of his entry [among the people] [the] baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. And as John was fulfilling his course he said, Whom do ye suppose that I am? I am not [he]. But behold, there comes one after me, the sandal of whose feet I am not worthy to loose.

²⁶ Brethren, sons of Abraham's race, and those who among you fear God, to you has the word of this salvation been sent: for those who dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, not having known him, have fulfilled also the voices of the prophets which are read on every sabbath, [by] judging [him]. And having found no cause of death [in him], they begged of Pilate that he might be slain.
²⁹ And when they had fulfilled all things written concerning him, they took him down from the cross^r and ³⁰ put him in a sepulchre; but God

^p Note. in verse 18 we have the accusative τεσσ. χρόνον, 'during that period;' here it is the dative, not properly 'duration,' but an epoch. When I say 'four hundred and fifty years,' there must be a period of course, but the difference seems to be the same as of durant and pendant in French. All through the whole of the time is durant; the space of time in which a thing happens is pendant. It may be only a given moment of that space. Thus Herodotus says, 'the fishermen used their nets to catch fish (τῇ ἡμέρᾳ, by day) in the daytime; but as bed-clothes (τὴν νύκτα) all the night.' Thus 'there were judges,' as in English Version, 'during the lapse of a space of four hundred and fifty years, up to Samuel.' Where the computation begins is not stated. The judges were given after the land's being given by lot, and that order of things reached up to Samuel, to four hundred and fifty years, whenever that four hundred and fifty years began. It might be at the Exodus, and very probably so. But it is not that there were judges during all that time. Indeed they were only raised up occasionally. I have no difficulty myself as to the chronology, notwithstanding the dicta of some men. The main blunder of their computations lies in this: they have taken Eli and Samson as distinct periods from the Philistine oppression, whereas it is perfectly clear the Philistine oppression included both. We have to go on to Mizpeh for the close. Josephus gives then twelve years for Samuel. You have ἑτη τεσσαράκοντα for the period and duration of Saul's reign, that is, the accusative, not the dative. In Σ A B C 13 61 (Am?) Memph 'and after these things he gave . . . the prophet' is put after 'about four hundred and fifty years,' but it makes nonsense of 450 years in dative.

^w 'Mercies,' ὀσια; 'gracious one,' ὁσιον. The words are the same, only singular and plural. It may and sometimes does mean 'holy,' but is not the regular word for it (ἅγιος): here it answers to chasid in Hebrew, and in the second phrase is contrasted (Ps. lxxxix. 19) with 'holy' (kadosh), which is applied to Jehovah, ver. 18. The beginning of the psalm speaks of the mercies (chasadim) or gracious ways of the Lord, and then in ver. 19 of that One in whom these graces or mercies are centred and conveyed, the Christ, to whom the apostle here applies it. The word chesed is generally 'grace' and 'loving-kindness' in God; chasid, 'pious'; 'gracious' applied to men, and 'merciful' 'holy' of God.

³ brethren. They stayed therefore a good while, speaking boldly, [confiding] in the^f Lord, who gave witness to the word of his grace, giving^g signs and wonders to be⁴ done by their hands. And the multitude of the city was divided, and some were with the Jews and some⁵ with the apostles. And when an assault was making, both of [those of] the nations and [the] Jews with their rulers, to use [them] ill⁶ and stone them, they, being aware of it, fled to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the⁷ surrounding country, and there they were announcing the glad tidings.

vanities to the living God, who made the heaven, and the earth, and the¹⁶ sea, and all things in them; who in the past generations suffered all the nations to go in their own ways,¹⁷ though indeed he did not leave himself without witness, doing good, and giving to you^m from heaven rain and fruitful seasons, filling yourⁿ hearts¹⁸ with food and gladness. And saying these things, they with difficulty kept the crowds from sacrificing to them.¹⁹ But there came Jews from Antioch and Iconium, and having persuaded the crowds and stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing him²⁰ to have died. But while the disciples encircled him, he rose up and entered into the city. And on the morrow he went away with Barnabas to²¹ Derbe. And having announced the glad tidings to that city, and having made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and^o Iconium, and²² Antioch, establishing the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to abide in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the²³ kingdom of God. And having passed through Pisidia they came²⁵ to Pamphylia, and having spoken the word^p in Perga, they came down²⁶ to Attalia; and thence they sailed away to Antioch, whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. XV. And certain persons, having come down from Judæa, taught the brethren, If ye shall not have been^r circumcised according to the custom² of Moses, ye cannot be saved. A commotion therefore having taken place, and no small discussion on the part of Paul and Barnabas against them, they arranged that Paul and Barnabas, and certain others from amongst them, should go up to Jerusalem to the apostles and elders³ about this question. They therefore, having been set on their way by the assembly, passed through Phœnicia and Samaria, relating the conversion of [those of] the nations. And they caused great joy to all the⁴ brethren. And being arrived at Jerusalem, they were received^s by the assembly, and the apostles, and the elders, and related all that God⁵ had wrought with them. And some of those who were of the sect of the Pharisees, who believed, rose up from among [them], saying that they ought to circumcise them and enjoin them to keep the law of⁶ Moses. And the apostles and the elders were gathered together to see⁷ about this matter. And much discussion having taken place, Peter, standing up, said to them, Brethren,^t ye know that from the earliest^v days God amongst you^w chose that the

And the heart-knowing God bore them witness, giving [them^x] ⁹ the Holy Spirit as to us also, and put no difference between us^y and them, having purified their hearts¹⁰ by faith. Now therefore why tempt ye God, by putting^z a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we have¹¹ been able to bear? But we believe that we shall be saved by the grace of the Lord Jesus,^a in the same¹² manner as they also. And all the multitude kept silence and listened to Barnabas and Paul relating all the signs and wonders which God had wrought among the nations by¹³ them. ²⁰ God; but to write to them to abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from what is strangled, and from blood.^c For Moses, from generations of old, has in every city those who preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

²² Then it seemed good to the apostles and to the elders, with the whole assembly, to send chosen men from among them with Paul and Barnabas to Antioch, Judas called^d Barsabbas and Silas, leading men among the brethren, having by their hand written [thus^e]: The apostles, and the elder[s, and the] brethren,^f to the brethren who are from among [the] nations at Antioch, and [in] Syria and Cilicia, greeting: Inasmuch as we have heard that some who went out from amongst us have troubled you by words, upsetting your souls, [saying that ye must be circumcised and keep the law^g]; to whom we gave no commandment;

²⁵ it seemed good to us, having arrived at a common judgment,^h to send chosen men to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men who have given up their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who themselves also will tell you by word

²⁸ [of mouth] the same things. For it has seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to lay upon you no greater burden than theseⁱ necessary things:

²⁹ to abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, and from fornication; keeping yourselves from which ye will do well. Farewell.

³⁰ They therefore, being let go, came^k to Antioch, and having gathered the multitude delivered to [them] the epistle. And having read it, they

³¹ rejoiced at the consolation. And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, exhorted the brethren with much discourse, and strengthened them. And having passed some time [there], they were let go in peace from the brethren to those ³⁵ who sent them.^l ^mAnd Paul and Barnabas stayed in Antioch, teaching and announcing the glad tidings, with many others also, of the word of the Lord.

³⁶ But after certain days Paul said to Barnabas, Let us return nowⁿ and visit the^o brethren in every city where we have announced the word of the Lord, [and see] how they are getting on. And Barnabas proposed to take with [them] John also,^p

³⁸ called Mark; but Paul thought it not well to take with them him who had abandoned them, [going back] from Pamphylia, and had not gone

³⁹ with them to the work. There arose therefore^q very warm feeling, so that they separated from one another; and Barnabas taking Mark sailed

⁴⁰ away to Cyprus; but Paul having chosen Silas went forth, committed by the brethren to the grace of God.^r

⁴¹ And he passed through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the assemblies.

ACTS XVI.

XVI. And he came to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, by name Timotheus, son of a^s Jewish believing woman,² but [the] father a Greek, who had a [good] testimony of the brethren in³ Lystra and Iconium. Him would Paul have go forth with him, and took [him and] circumcised him on account of the Jews who were in those places, for they all knew his⁴ father that he was a Greek. And as they passed through the cities they instructed them to observe the decrees^t determined on by the apostles and^v elders who were in Jerusalem.⁵ The assemblies therefore were confirmed in the faith, and increased in number every day.⁶ And having passed through Phrygia and the Galatian country,^w having been forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia,⁷ having come down^x to Mysia, they attempted to go to Bithynia, and the Spirit of Jesus^y did not allow⁸ them; and having passed by Mysia⁹ they descended to Troas. And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There was a certain Macedonian man, standing and^z beseeching him, and saying, Pass over into Macedonia and help us. And when he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go forth to Macedonia, concluding that the Lord had called us to announce to them the glad tidings.¹⁰ Having sailed therefore away from Troas, we went in a straight course to Samothracia, and on the morrow¹¹ to Neapolis, and thence to Philippi,¹² which is [the] first city of that part of Macedonia, a colony. And we were staying in that city certain¹³ days. And on the sabbath day we went outside the gate^a by the river, where it was the custom for prayer to be, and we sat down and spoke to the women who had assembled. And¹⁴ a certain woman, by name Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, who worshipped God, heard; whose heart the Lord opened to attend to the things spoken by Paul.¹⁵ And when she had been baptized and her house, she besought [us], saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and abide [there]. And she¹⁶ constrained us. And it came to pass as we were going to prayer^b that a certain female slave, having a spirit of Python, met us, who brought much profit to her masters by prophesying. She, having followed¹⁷ Paul and us, cried saying, These men are bondmen of the Most High God, who announce to you^c [the] way of salvation. And this she did¹⁸ many days. And Paul, being distressed, turned, and said to the spirit, I enjoin thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out the same hour.¹⁹ And her masters, seeing that the hope of their gains was gone,^d having seized Paul and Silas, dragged [them] into the market before the magistrates; and having brought²⁰ them up to the pretors,^e said, These men utterly trouble our city, being²¹ Jews, and announce customs which crowd rose up too^f against them;

and the pretors, having torn off their clothes, commanded to scourge ²³ [them]. And having laid many stripes upon them they cast [them] into prison, charging the jailor to ²¹ keep them safely; who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner prison, and secured their ²⁵ feet to the stocks. And at midnight Paul and Silas, in praying, were praising God with singing, and the ²⁶ prisoners listened to them. And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison shook, and all the doors were immediately opened, and the bonds ²⁷ of all loosed. And the jailor being awakened out of his sleep, and seeing the doors of the prison opened, having drawn a sword was going to kill himself, thinking the prisoners ²⁸ had fled. But Paul called out with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no ²⁹ harm, for we are all here. And having asked for lights, he rushed in,
and, trembling, fell down before ³⁰ Paul and Silas. And leading them out said, Sirs, what must I do that I ³¹ may be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus^h and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house.
³² And they spoke to him the word of the Lord, withⁱ all that were in his ³³ house. And he took them the same hour of the night and washed [them]
from their stripes; and was baptized, ³⁴ he and all his straightway. And having brought them into his house he laid the table [for them], and rejoiced with all his house,^k having ³⁵ believed in God. And when it was day, the pretors^e sent the lictors, ³⁶ saying, Let those men go. And the jailor reported these words to Paul:

The pretors^e have sent that ye may be let go. Now therefore go out and ³⁷ depart in peace. But Paul said to them, Having beaten us publicly un-condemned, us who are Romans, they have cast us into prison, and now they thrust us out secretly? no, indeed, but let them come themselves ³⁸ and bring us out. And the lictors reported these words to the pretors.^e
And they were afraid when they ³⁹ heard they were Romans. And they came and besought them, and having brought them out, asked them to ⁴⁰ go out of the city. And having gone out of the prison, they came to Lydia; and having seen the brethren they exhorted them and went away.

XVII. And having journeyed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was the syna-² gogue of the Jews. And according to Paul's custom he went in among them, and on three sabbaths reasoned ³ with them from the scriptures, opening and laying down that the Christ must have suffered and risen up from among the dead, and that this is the Christ, Jesus whom I announce ⁴ to you. And some of them believed, and joined themselves to Paul and Silas, and of the Greeks who worshipped, a great multitude, and of ⁵ the chief women not a few. But the^l Jews having been stirred up to jealousy, and taken to [themselves]

⁷ in tumult, are come here also, whom Jason has received; and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying, that there is another king, ⁸ Jesus. And they troubled the crowd and the politarchs^m when they heard ⁹ these things. And having taken security of Jason and the rest, they ¹⁰ let them go. But the brethren immediately sent away, in the night, Paul and Silas to Beroëa; who, being arrived, went away into the synagogue of the Jews. And these were ¹¹ more noble than those in Thessalonica, receivingⁿ the word with all readiness of mind, daily searching the scriptures if these things were so.
¹² Therefore many from among them believed, and of Grecian women of the upper classes and men not a few.
¹³ But when the Jews from Thessalonica knew that the word of God was announced in Beroëa also by Paul, they came there also, stirring up^o
¹⁴ ^p the crowds. And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as^q to the sea; but Silas and Timothy abode there. But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens; and, having received a commandment to Silas and Timothy, that they should come to him as quick as possible, they departed.
¹⁶ But in Athens, while Paul was waiting for them, his spirit was painfully excited in him seeing the city
¹⁷ given up to idolatry. He reasoned therefore in the synagogue with the Jews, and those who worshipped, and in the market-place every day ¹⁸ with those he met with. But some also^r of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers attacked him. And some said, What would this chatterer say? and some, He seems to be an announcer of foreign demons, because he announced the glad tidings of Jesus and the resurrection [to them^s].

¹⁹ And having taken hold on him they brought [him] to Areopagus,^t saying, Might we know what this new doctrine which is spoken by thee ²⁰ [is]? For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears. We wish therefore to know what these ²¹ things may mean. Now all [the] Athenians and the strangers sojourning there spent their time in nothing else than to tell and to hear the news.
²² And Paul standing in the midst of Areopagus^t said, Athenians,^u in every way I see you given up to demon
²³ worship; for, passing through and beholding your shrines, I found also an altar on which was inscribed, To the unknown God. Whom^v therefore ye reverence, not knowing [him], him ²⁴ I announce to you. The God who has made the world and all things which are in it, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in ²⁵ temples made with hands, nor is served by men's hands as needing something, himself giving to all life
²⁶ and breath and^w all things; and has made of one blood every nation of men to dwell upon the whole face of the earth, having determined ordained^x times and the boundaries of their
²⁷ dwelling, that they may seek God;^y if indeed they might feel after him and find him, although he is not far

²⁸ from each one of us: for in him we live and move and exist; as also some of the poets amongst you have said, For we are also his offspring.
²⁹ Being therefore [the] offspring of God, we ought not to think that which is divine to be like gold or silver or stone, [the] graven form of ³⁰ man's art and imagination. God therefore, having overlooked the times of ignorance, now enjoins men that they shall all² everywhere re-³¹ pent, because he has set a day in which he is going to judge the habitable earth in righteousness by [the] man whom he has appointed, giving the proof [of it] to all [in] having raised him from among [the] dead.
³² And when they heard [of the] resurrection of the dead, some mocked, and some said, We will hear thee again
³³ also concerning this. ^a Thus Paul

XVIII. And after these things, having left Athens, he^b came to Corinth; ² and finding a certain Jew by name Aquila, of Pontus by race, just come from Italy, and Priscilla his wife, (because Claudius had ordered all the Jews to leave Rome,) came to ³ them, and because they were of the same trade abode with them, and wrought. For they were tent-makers ⁴ by trade. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks. And when ⁵ both Silas and Timotheus came down from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in respect of^c the word,^d testifying to the Jews that Jesus ⁶ was the Christ.^e But as they opposed and spoke injuriously, he shook his clothes, and said to them, Your blood be upon your own head: I [am] pure;^f from henceforth I will go to ⁷ the nations. And departing thence he came to the house of a certain [man], by name Justus, who worshipped God, whose house adjoined ⁸ the synagogue. But Crispus the ruler of the synagogue believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing, ⁹ believed, and were baptized. And the Lord said by vision in [the] night to Paul, Fear not, but speak ¹⁰ and be not silent; because I am with thee, and no one shall set upon thee to injure thee; because I have ¹¹ much people in this city. And he remained [there] a year and six months, teaching among them the ¹² word of God. But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one consent rose against Paul and ¹³ led him to the judgment-seat, saying, This [man] persuades men to worship God contrary to the law. ¹⁴ But as Paul was going to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, If indeed it was some wrong or wicked criminality, O Jews, of reason I ¹⁵ should have borne with you; but if it be questions^g about words, and names, and the law that ye have, see to it yourselves; [for^h] I do not intend to be judge of these things. ¹⁶ And he drove them from the judg-

¹⁸ And Paul, having yet stayed [there] many days, took leave of the brethren and sailed thence to Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila, having shorn his head in Cenchrea, for he ¹⁹ had a vow; and he arrived at Ephesus, and left them there. But entering himself into the synagogue he ²⁰ reasoned with the Jews. And when they asked him that he would remain for a longer time [with them^k]
²¹ he did not accede, but bade them farewell, saying, [I must by all means keep the coming feast at Jerusalem^l]; ^mI will return to you again, if God will: and he sailed away from Ephesus. And landing at Cæsarea, and having gone up and saluted the assembly, he went down ²³ to Antioch. And having stayed [there] some time, he went forth, passing in order through the country of Galatia and Phrygia, establishing all the disciples.
²⁴ But a certain Jew, Apollos by name, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, who was mighty in the scriptures, arrived at Ephesus.
²⁵ He was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in his spirit, he spoke and taught exactly the things concerning Jesus,ⁿ knowing ²⁶ only the baptism of John. And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. And Aquila and Priscilla, having heard him, took him to [them] and unfolded to him the way of God ²⁷ more exactly. And when he proposed to go into Achaia, the brethren wrote to the disciples engaging them to receive him, who, being come, contributed much to those who believed through grace.^o For he with great force convinced the Jews publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

XIX. And it came to pass, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul, having passed through the upper districts, came to Ephesus, and finding ² certain disciples, he said to them, Did ye receive [the] Holy Spirit when ye had believed? And they [said^p] to him, We did not even hear if [the] Holy Spirit was [come].
³ And he said,^q To what then were ye baptized? And they said, To the ⁴ baptism of John. And Paul said, John indeed baptized [with] the baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe on him that was coming after him, ⁵ that is, on^r Jesus. And when they heard that, they were baptized to the name of the Lord Jesus. And Paul having laid [his]*hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spoke with tongues
⁷ and prophesied. And all the men
⁸ were about twelve. And entering into the synagogue, he spoke boldly during three months, reasoning and persuading [the things^s] concerning ⁹ the kingdom of God. But when some were hardened and disbelieved, speaking evil of the way before the multitude, he left them and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the ¹⁰ school of^t Tyrannus. And this took place for two years, so that all that inhabited Asia heard the word of the ¹¹ Lord,^u both Jews and Greeks. And God wrought no ordinary miracles napkins or aprons were brought from his body^v [and put] upon the sick, and the diseases left them, and the wicked spirits went out.^w And certain of the Jewish exorcists also,^x who went about, took in hand to call upon those who had wicked spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, I adjure^y you by Jesus, whom Paul preaches. And there were certain [men], seven sons of Sceva, Jewish high priest, who were doing this. But the wicked spirit answering said to them,^z Jesus I know, and Paul I am acquainted with; but ye, who are ye? And the man in whom the wicked spirit was leaped^a upon them, and having mastered both,^b prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who inhabited Ephesus, and fear fell upon all of them, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. And many of those that believed came confessing and declaring their deeds. And many of those that practised curious arts brought their books [of charms] and burnt them before all. And they reckoned up the prices of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. Thus with might the word of the Lord increased and prevailed. And when these things were fulfilled, Paul purposed in his spirit to go to Jerusalem, passing through Macedonia and Achaia, saying, After I have been there I must see Rome also. And having sent into Macedonia two of those ministering to him, Timotheus and Erastus, he remained himself awhile in Asia.

And there took place at that time no small disturbance about the way. For a certain [man] by name Demetrius, a silver beater, making silver temples of Artemis,^c brought no small gain to the artisans; whom having brought together, and those who wrought in such things, he said, Men, ye know that our well-living arises from this work, and ye see and hear that this Paul has persuaded and turned away a great crowd, not only of Ephesus, but almost of all Asia, saying that they are no gods which are made with hands. Now not only there is danger for us that our business come into discredit, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis be counted for nothing, and that her greatness should be destroyed whom the whole of Asia and the world reveres. And having heard [this], and being filled with rage, they cried out, saying, Great [is] Artemis of the Ephesians. And the [whole^d] city was filled with confusion, and they rushed with one accord to the theatre, having seized and carried off with [them] Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, fellow-travellers of Paul. But Paul intending to go in to the people, the disciples suffered him not; and some of the asiarchs^e also, who were his friends, sent to him and urged him not to throw himself into the theatre. Different persons therefore cried out some different thing; for the assembly was tumultuous, and the most did not know for what cause they had come together. But from among the crowd they put forward Alexander, the Jews pushing him forward. And Alexander, beckoning with his

^c I am fully satisfied that this is the right translation. To make it a question of the divinity of Christ (which I hold to be of the foundation of Christianity) is simply absurd. Wetstein, Griesb., Lach., Tisch., Meyer, De Wette, have Κυρίου (i.e., 'Lord'), not 'God' at all, following A C D E 13 and a host of other MSS. Matthæi has Κυρίου καὶ Θεοῦ, with all the Russian MSS. \aleph B Am have Θεοῦ; others χριστοῦ. I am persuaded that the reading is Θεοῦ and has been tampered with because of the difficulty of the phrase. Διὰ τοῦ αἵματος τοῦ ἰδίου is generally received, with \aleph A B C D E 13 31 (T. R. has διὰ τοῦ ἰδ. αἵμ.). Further, Athanasius, particularly in his second letter to Apollinarius, condemns all such language as 'the blood of God' as doctrinally false and the boldness of the Arians—used by them because they did not believe in the true divinity of Jesus, declaring scripture does not speak so. God could not be said to die or suffer; nor flowing of blood be applied to him. In one place you have, "The scriptures have nowhere taught αἷμα Θεοῦ διὰ σαρκός." The old editions had διὰ σαρκός. The latter is the form of all the language of Athanasius. At any rate, it is in Acts xx., if at all, διὰ σαρκός. On the other hand, Chrysostom has Θεοῦ and τοῦ ἰδίου αἷματος. His comment on it is general: only we have the evidence that already the false reading had crept in, for τοῦ ἰδίου αἷματος is not received as genuine. Quotations from the Fathers will be found in Wetstein in loco. Heb. ix. 12, xiii. 12, and even Chrys., as far as they go, shew what the more natural form of 'his own blood' would be in Greek. It has been questioned whether ἴδιος can be used thus absolutely in the singular. But we have it in John's Gospel, chapter xv. 19. It is used in the neuter singular for material things, Acts iv. 32. The torturing the passage as we find it in the manuscripts, I believe arose from their not seeing the sense I have given to it here, a touching expression of the love of God. The use of the neuter singular in John is common with πᾶς in this way. At any rate it is strange to found an argument for the divinity of Christ on a passage where Θεοῦ is rejected by almost all important editions, founding it on an expression which Athanasius declares to be nowhere found in scripture, and only used by Arians because they do not believe in the divinity of Christ. The subject is treated in the second book against Apollinarius: in particular in sections xii.—xiv., p. 758. (Benedict. ed., 1777, vol. i., part 2).

²⁹ [For^d] I know [this,^e] that there will come in amongst you after my departure grievous wolves, not sparing the flock; and from among your own selves shall rise up men speaking perverted things to draw away the disciples after them. Wherefore watch, remembering that for three years, night and day, I ceased not admonishing each one [of you] with tears. And now I commit you^f to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build [you] up and give [to you^g] an inheritance among all the sanctified. I have coveted [the] silver or gold or clothing of no one. ^h Yourselves know that these hands have ministered to my wants and to those who were with me. I have shewed you all things, that thus labouring [we] ought to come in aid of the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

XXI. And when, having got away^k from them, we at last sailed away, we came by a direct course to Cos, and on the morrow to Rhodes, and thence to Patara. And on the morrow Paul went in with us to James, and all the elders came there. And having saluted them, he related one by one the things which God had wrought among the nations by his ministry. And they having heard [it] glorified God,^o and said to him, Thou seest, brother, how many myriads there are of the Jews who have believed, and all are zealous of the law. And they have been informed concerning thee that thou teachest all the Jews among the nations apostasy from Moses, saying that they should not circumcise their children, nor walk in the customs. What is it then? a multitude must necessarily come together, for they will hear^p that thou art come. This do therefore that we say to thee: We have four men who have a vow on them; take these and be purified with them, and pay their expenses, that they may have their heads shaved; and all will^q know that [of those things] of which they have been informed about thee nothing is [true]; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law. But concerning [those of] the nations who have believed, we have written, deciding that they should [observe no such thing, only to^r] keep themselves both from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication. Then Paul, taking the men, on the next day, having been purified, entered with them^s into the temple, signifying the time the days of the purification would be fulfilled, until the offering was offered for every one of them.

For they had before seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. And the whole city was moved, and there was a concourse of the people; and having laid hold on Paul they drew him out of the temple, and immediately the doors were shut. And as they were seeking to kill him, a representation came to the chiliarch of the band that the whole of Jerusalem was in a tumult; who, taking with him immediately soldiers and centurions, ran down upon them. asked of what eparchy he was, and said, I will hear thee fully when thine accusers also are arrived. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's prætorium.

XXIV. And after five days came down the high priest Ananias, with the^u elders, and a certain orator called Tertullus, and laid their informations against Paul before the governor.

² And he having been called, Tertullus began to accuse, saying, Seeing we enjoy great peace through thee, and that excellent measures are executed for this nation by thy forethought, ³ we receive [it] always and everywhere, most excellent Felix, with ⁴ all thankfulness. But that I may not too much intrude on thy time, I beseech thee to hear us briefly in ⁵ thy kindness. For finding^v this man a pest, and moving sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a leader of the sect of the ⁶ Nazaræans; who also attempted to profane the temple; whom we also had seized, [and would have judged ⁷ according to our law; but Lysias, the chiliarch, coming up, took [him] away with great force out of our ⁸ hands, having commanded his accusers to come to thee;^w] of whom thou canst thyself, in examining [him], know the certainty of all these things of which we accuse ⁹ him. And the Jews also joined^x in pressing the matter against [Paul], saying that these things were so.
¹⁰ But Paul, the governor having beckoned to him to speak, answered, Knowing that for many years thou hast been judge to this nation, I answer^y readily as to the things ¹¹ which concern myself. As thou mayest know^z that there are not more than twelve days since I went ¹² up to worship at Jerusalem, and neither in the temple did they find me discoursing to any one, or making any tumultuous gathering together of the crowd, nor in the ¹³ synagogues, nor in the city; neither can they make good the things of ¹⁴ which they now accuse me. But this I avow to thee, that in the way which they call sect, so I serve my fathers' God, believing all things which are written throughout the ¹⁵ law, and in the prophets; having hope towards God, which they themselves also receive, that there is to be a resurrection^a both of just ¹⁶ and unjust. For this cause I also exercise [myself] to have in everything a conscience without offence ¹⁷ towards God and men. And after a lapse of many years I arrived, bringing alms to my nation, and ¹⁸ offerings. Whereupon they found me purified in the temple, with neither crowd nor tumult. But^b it ¹⁹ was certain Jews from Asia, who ought to appear before thee and accuse, if they have anything against ²⁰ me; or let these themselves say what wrong they found^c in me when I stood before the council, ²¹ [other] than concerning this one voice which I cried standing amongst them: I am judged this day by you curately the things concerning the way, adjourned them, saying, When Lysias the chiliarch is come down I

²⁴ And after certain days, Felix having arrived with Drusilla his wife, who was a Jewess, he sent for Paul and heard him concerning the faith in Christ. And as he reasoned concerning righteousness, and temperance, and the judgment about to come, Felix, being filled with fear, answered, Go for the present, and when I get an opportunity I will send for thee; hoping^h at the same time that money would be given him by Paul:ⁱ wherefore also he sent for him the oftener and communed with him. But when two years were completed, Felix was relieved by Porcius Festus as his successor; and Felix, desirous to oblige the Jews, to acquire their favour, left Paul bound.

XXV. Festus therefore, being come into the eparchy, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Cæsarea.

² And the chief priests^j and the chief of the Jews laid informations before him against Paul, and besought him, asking as a grace against him that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying people in wait to kill him on the way. Festus therefore answered that Paul should be kept at Cæsarea, and that he himself was about to set out shortly. Let therefore the persons of authority among you, says he, going down too, if there be anything in this man,^k accuse him.

⁶ And having remained among them not more than eight or^l ten days, he went down to Cæsarea; and on the next day, having sat down on the judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought. And when he was come, the Jews who were come down from Jerusalem stood round, bringing many and grievous charges^m which they were not able to prove: Paulⁿ answering for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Cæsar, have I offended [in] anything. But Festus, desirous of obliging the Jews, to acquire their favour, answering Paul, said, Art thou willing to go up to Jerusalem, there to be judged before me concerning these things? But Paul said, I am standing before the judgment-seat of Cæsar, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest.^o If then^p I have done any wrong and committed anything worthy of death, I do not deprecate dying; but if there is nothing of those things of which they accuse me, no man can give me up to them. I appeal to Cæsar. Then Festus, having conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed to Cæsar? To Cæsar shalt thou go. And when certain days had elapsed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived at Cæsarea to salute Festus. And when they had spent many days there, Festus laid before the king the matters relating to Paul, saying, There is a certain man left prisoner

¹⁵ by Felix, concerning whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews laid informations, requiring judgment
¹⁶ against him: to whom I answered, It is not [the] custom of the Romans to give up any man^a before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and he have got opportunity of ¹⁷ defence touching the charge. When therefore they had come together here, without putting it off, I sat the next day on the judgment-seat and commanded the man to be brought:
¹⁸ concerning whom the accusers, standing up, brought no such accusation of guilt as I supposed; but had against him certain questions of their own system of worship, and concerning a certain Jesus who is dead, whom Paul affirmed to be
¹⁹ living. And as I myself was at a loss as to an inquiry into these things,^r I said, Was he willing to go to Jerusalem and there to be judged ²⁰ concerning these things? But Paul having appealed to be kept for the cognisance of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I shall ²¹ send him to Cæsar. And Agrippa [said^s] to Festus, I myself also would desire to hear the man. To-morrow, said he,^t thou shalt hear him.

²² On the morrow therefore, Agrippa being come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and having entered into the hall of audience, with the chiliarchs and the men of distinction of the city, and Festus having given command, Paul was brought. And Festus said,^u King Agrippa, and all men who are here present with us, ye see this person, concerning whom all the multitude of the Jews applied to me both in Jerusalem and here, crying out against [him] that he ought not to live any longer.

²³ But I, having found that he had done nothing worthy of death, and this [man] himself having appealed to Augustus, I have decided to send ²⁴ him; concerning whom I have nothing certain to write to my lord. Wherefore I have brought him before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, so that an examination having been gone into I may ²⁵ have something to write: for it seems to me senseless, sending a prisoner, not also to signify the charges against him.

XXVI. And Agrippa said to Paul, It is permitted thee to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretching out his ²⁶ hand answered in his defence: I count myself happy, king Agrippa, in having to answer to-day before thee concerning all of which I am
²⁷ accused by the Jews, especially because thou art acquainted with all the customs and questions which are among the Jews; wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

²⁹ who knew me before from the outset [of my life], if they would bear witness, that according to the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.
³⁰ And now I stand to be judged because of the hope of the promise
³¹ made by God to our^v fathers, to which our whole twelve tribes serving incessantly day and night hope to arrive; about which hope, O king,^w I am accused of [the] Jews.

¹¹ And often punishing them in all the synagogues, I compelled them to blaspheme. And, being exceedingly furious against them, I persecuted them even to cities out [of our own ¹² land]. And when, [engaged] in this, I was journeying to Damascus, with authority and power from the chief ¹³ priests, at mid-day, on the way, I saw, O king, a light above the brightness of the sun shining from heaven round about me and those who were ¹⁴ journeying with me. And, when we were all fallen to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me^w in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? [it is] hard for thee to kick ¹⁵ against goads. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord^x said, I am Jesus whom thou^y persecutest:

¹⁸ I send thee, to open their eyes, that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive remission of sins and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in me.
¹⁹ Whereupon, king Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision;
²⁰ but have, first to those both in Damascus and Jerusalem, and to all the region of Judæa, and to the nations, announced that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy ²¹ of repentance. On account of these things the Jews, having seized me in the temple, attempted to lay ²² hands on and destroy me. Having therefore met with [the] help which is from God, I have stood firm unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying nothing else than those things which both the prophets and Moses have said should happen, ²³ [namely,] whether Christ should suffer; whether he first, through resurrection of [the] dead, should announce light both^b to the people

²⁴ and to the nations. And as he answered for his defence with these things, Festus says^c with a loud voice, Thou art mad, Paul; much ²⁵ learning turns thee to madness. But Paul^d said,^e I am not mad, most excellent Festus, but utter words of truth and soberness; for the king is informed about these things, to whom also I speak with all freedom. For I am persuaded that of these things nothing is hidden from him; for this was ²⁷ not done in a corner. King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know ²⁸ that thou believest. And Agrippa [said^f] to Paul, In a little thou persuadest me to become a christian.
²⁹ And Paul [said^g], I would to God, both in little and in much, that not only thou, but all who have heard me this day, should become such as I ³⁰ also am, except these bonds. And^h the king stood up, and the governor and Bernice, and those who sat with ³¹ them, and having gone apart, they spoke to one another saying, This man does nothing worthy of death

Festus, This man might have been let go if he had not appealed to Cæsar.

XXVII. But when it had been determined that we should sail to Italy, they delivered up Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion, by name Julius, of Augustus' company.
² And going on board a ship of Adramyttium about to navigate^h by the places along Asia, we set sail, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. And the next day we arrived at Sidon. And Julius treated Paul kindly and suffered him to go to his friends and refresh himself. And setting sail thence we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. And having sailed over the waters of Cilicia and Pamphylia we came to Myra in Lycia: and there the centurion having found a ship of Alexandria sailing to Italy, he made us go on board her. And sailing slowly for many days, and having with difficulty got abreast of Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete abreast of Salmone; and coasting it with difficulty we came to a certain place called Fair Havens, near to which was [the] city of Lasæa. And much time having now been spent, and navigation being already dangerous, because the fast also was already past, Paul counselled them, saying, Men, I perceive that the navigation will be with disaster and much loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives. But the centurion believed rather the helmsman and the shipowner than what was said by Paul. And the harbour being ill adapted to winter in, the most counselled to set sail thence, if perhaps they might reach Phœnice to winter in, a port of Crete looking north-east and south-east.ⁱ And [the] south wind blowing gently, supposing that they had gained their object, having weighed anchor they sailed close in shore along Crete.

¹⁵ And the ship being caught and driven, and not able to bring her head to the wind, letting her go we were driven [before it]. But running under the lee of a certain island called Clauda, we were with difficulty able to make ourselves masters of the boat; which having hoisted up, they used helps, frapping^k the ship; and fearing lest they should run into Syrtis and run aground,^l and having lowered the gear they were so driven. But the storm being extremely violent on us, on the next day they threw cargo overboard, and on the third day with their own hands they cast^m away the ship furniture.
²⁰ And neither sun nor stars appearing for many days, and no small storm lying on us, in the end all hope of our being saved was taken away. And when they had been a long while without taking food, Paul then standing up in the midst of them said, Ye ought, O men, to have hearkened to me and not have made sail from Crete and have gained this disaster and loss. And now I exhort you to be of good courage, for there shall be no loss at all of life of [any] of you, only of the ship. For an angel of the God whose I am and whom I serve stood by me this night, saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Cæsar; and behold, God has granted to thee all those that sail with ²⁵ thee. Wherefore be of good courage, men, for I believe God that thus it shall be, as it has been said to me.

²⁶ But we must be cast ashore on a cer-²⁷ tain island. And when the fourteenth night was come, we being driven about in Adria, towards the middle of the night the sailors supposed that ²⁸ some land neared them, and having sounded found twenty fathoms, and having gone a little farther and having again sounded they found fifteen ²⁹ fathoms; and fearing lest weⁿ should be cast on rocky places, casting four anchors out of the stern, they wished that day were come.

³⁰ But the sailors wishing to flee out of the ship, and having let down the boat into the sea under pretext of being about to carry out anchors ³¹ from the prow, Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, Unless these abide in the ship ye cannot be ³² saved. Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat and let her fall.
³³ And while it was drawing on to daylight, Paul exhorted them all to partake of food, saying, Ye have passed the fourteenth day watching in expectation without taking food.
³⁴ Wherefore I exhort you to partake of food, for this has to do with your safety; for not a hair from the head of any one of you shall perish.^o ³⁵ And, having said these things and taken a loaf, he gave thanks to God before all, and having broken it be-³⁶ gan to eat. And all taking courage, ³⁷ themselves also took food. And we were in the ship, all the souls, two ³⁸ hundred and seventy-six. And having satisfied themselves with food, they lightened the ship, casting out ³⁹ the wheat into the sea. And when it was day they did not recognise the land; but they perceived a certain bay having a strand, on which they were minded, if they should be ⁴⁰ able, to run the ship ashore; and, having cast off the anchors, they left [them] in the sea, at the same time loosening the lashings of the rudders, and hoisting the foresail to the wind, they made for the strand.

⁴¹ And falling into a place where two seas met they ran the ship aground, and the prow having stuck itself fast remained unmoved, but the stern was broken by the force of ⁴² the waves.^p And [the] counsel of the soldiers was that they should kill the prisoners lest any one should ⁴³ swim off and escape. But the cen-turion, desirous of saving Paul, hindered them of their purpose, and commanded those who were able to swim, casting themselves first [into ⁴⁴ the sea], to get out on land; and the rest, some on boards, some on some of the things [that came] from the ship; and thus it came to pass that all got safe to land.

XXVIII. And when we^a got safe [to land] we^a then knew that the island ² was called Melita. But the barbarians shewed us no common kindness; for, having kindled a fire, they took us all in because of the rain that was falling and because of the cold.
³ And Paul having gathered a [certain^r] quantity of sticks together in a bundle and laid [it] on the fire, a viper coming out from^s the heat seized ⁴ his hand. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said to one another, This man is certainly a murderer, whom, [though] saved out of the sea, Nemesis has not ⁵ allowed to live. He however,^t having

⁷ Now in the country surrounding that place were the lands belonging to the chief man^v of the island, by name Publius, who received us and gave [us] hospitality three days in ⁸ a very friendly way. And it happened that the father of Publius lay ill of fever and dysentery; to whom Paul entered in, and having prayed and laid his hands on him cured him.
⁹ But this^w having taken place, the rest also who had sicknesses in the ¹⁰ island came and were healed: who also honoured us with many honours, and on our leaving they made presents to us of what should minister to our wants.

¹¹ And after three months we sailed in a ship which had wintered in the island, an Alexandrian, with [the] ¹² Dioscouri for its ensign. And having come to Syracuse we remained three ¹³ days. Whence, going in a circuitous course, we arrived at Rhegium; and after one day, the wind having changed to south, on the second day ¹⁴ we came to Puteoli, where, having found brethren, we were begged to stay with them seven days. And ¹⁵ thus we went to Rome. And thence the brethren, having heard about us, came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and Tres Tabernæ, whom when Paul saw, he thanked God and took courage.

EPISTLE TO THE ROMANS.

I. Paul, bondman of Jesus Christ, [a] called^a apostle, separated to God's² glad tidings, (which he had before promised by his prophets in holy³ writings,^b) concerning his Son (come of David's seed according to flesh, marked out Son of God in power, according to [the] Spirit^c of holiness, by resurrection of [the] dead) Jesus⁴ Christ our Lord; by whom we have received grace and apostleship in behalf of his name, for obedience of⁵ faith among all the nations, among⁶ whom are ye also [the] called^d of Jesus Christ: to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called^e saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and [our] Lord Jesus Christ.⁷ First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is proclaimed in the whole⁸ world. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the glad tidings of his Son, how unceasingly⁹ I make mention of you, always beseeching at my prayers, if any way now at least I may be prospered^f by¹⁰ the will of God to come to you. For¹¹

^a 'A called apostle,' and ver. 7 'called saints:' in the latter case the sense is changed in the Authorised Version. In the original they are designated as already saints, 'saints by the calling of God,' not as simply called to be so. 'Called saints' is ambiguous in English: the sense is determined in the note on verse 7.

^b 'In holy writings:' there is no article; and 'in the holy scriptures' is not warranted by the original. The statement of the apostle is general, addressing himself, as he does, to Gentiles.

^c In many cases it is impossible to put a small or a large S rightly to the word Spirit, as the presence and power of the Holy Ghost characterises the state, and that and the state are both included. And so it is here. It is divine, not merely human, perfectness, and by the Holy Ghost, yet it is Christ's state. But it is not merely a state, but that state which consists in the presence and power of the Holy Ghost, and is the absolute expression of it. On the whole, I put a large S here, but it is the Son manifested on earth who is spoken of, and characteristic of him. Resurrection was the proof, but he who had eyes to see saw what came in flesh justified in the Spirit even when here, the same Spirit which was quickening power in resurrection, as 1 Peter iii. 18, ζωοποιηθεὶς πνεύματι.

^d 'Called ones of Jesus Christ' is what they are.

^e That is, saints by calling: 'called to be saints' is not the meaning of the passage.

^f εὐδωθήσομαι does not refer to a prosperous journey, but to the hope that God may favour or prosper him so that he may come; he had long wished it, and hoped that at last it might be granted him.

ROMANS I.

I greatly desire to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift ¹² to establish you; that is, to have mutual comfort among you, each by the faith [which is] in the other,
¹³ both yours and mine. But I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, that I often proposed to come to you, (and have been hindered until the present time,) that I might have some fruit among you too, even as ¹⁴ among the other nations also. I am a debtor both to Greeks and barbarians, both to wise and unintelligent:
¹⁵ so, as far as depends on me, am I ready to announce the glad tidings to you also who [are] in Rome.
¹⁶ For I am not ashamed of the glad tidings;⁵ for it is God's power to salvation, to every one that believes,
¹⁷ both to Jew first and to Greek: for righteousness of God^h is revealed therein, on the principle of faith, to faith: according as it is written, But the just shall live byⁱ faith.
¹⁸ For there is revealed wrath of God from heaven^j upon all impiety, and unrighteousness of men holding the truth in unrighteousness.
¹⁹ Because what is^k known of God is manifest among them, for God has ²⁰ manifested [it] to them,—for from [the] world's creation the invisible things of him are perceived, being apprehended by the mind through the things that are made, both his eternal power and divinity,^l—so as to render^m them inexcusable.

²¹ Because,ⁿ knowing God, they glorified [him] not as God, neither were thankful; but fell into folly in their thoughts,^o and their heart without understanding was darkened:
²² professing themselves to be wise, they
²³ became fools, and changed the glory of the incorruptible God into [the] likeness of an image of corruptible man and of birds and quadrupeds and reptiles. Wherefore God gave them up [also^p] in the lusts of their hearts to uncleanness, to dishonour their bodies between themselves:
²⁵ who^q changed the truth of God into falsehood, and honoured and served the creature more than him who had created [it], who is blessed for ²⁶ ever. Amen. For this reason God gave them up to vile lusts; for both their females changed the natural use into that contrary to nature;
²⁷ and in like manner the males also, leaving the natural use of the female, were inflamed in their lust towards one another; males with males working shame, and receiving in themselves the recompense of their error

^h 'Righteousness of God.' The absence of the article may arrest the mind here, and in some other places, in this part of the epistle. It is likely to do so, because the righteousness of God is now a known doctrine; not so when the apostle taught. The righteousness of God was a wholly new thought, as was indeed wrath from heaven: wrath on earth was not. The gospel, or 'glad tidings,' was the power of God to salvation, because righteousness of God (that kind of righteousness) was revealed—not that of man required. See also chap. iii. 21.

ⁱ 'By faith.' The word 'by' is the same in Greek (ἐκ) as that translated 'on the principle of.' I have left 'by' as being a quotation.

^j 'Wrath of God from heaven is revealed,' see note ^h; 'there' is merely the impersonal form, not an adverb, but necessary, as it is difficult to put the words in another order without injuring the sense.

^k Or 'may be.' Γνωστός is used for 'may be known,' and according to Fritzsche is so used in contrast with γνωτός 'known;' but it is given as equivalent by others, and is always used for 'known' in the N. T. and LXX. Still the τὸ γνωστόν is here spoken of 'knowledge acquirable by nature in contrast with revelation,' so that 'may be' does not misrepresent the force; it means what is within the capacity of man's apprehension. But 'is known' sufficiently represents that and is more exact.

^m εἰς τὸ εἶναι does not affirm that they are so, simply, but the consequence of the display of creative glory in what was seen. 'So that they should,' or 'might be,' is ambiguous in English, and implies purpose. Hence I have said 'so as to render,' which gives the sense.

ⁿ This is the second reason: the first is ver. 19.

^o διαλογισμοίς signifies the 'inward reasonings of the mind.' The word 'thoughts' in English conveys this best.

^p The 'also' is doubtful here, D E G K L P 37 and many others insert; & A B C 17 47 Am Memph omit.

II. Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, every one who judgest, for in that in which thou judgest another, thou condemnest^b thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things. ² But we know that the judgment of God is according to truth upon ³ those who do such things. And think-est thou this, O man, who judgest those that do such things, and practisest them [thyself], that thou shalt

⁴ escape the judgment of God? or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and long-suffering, not knowing that the goodness of God ⁵ leads thee to repentance? but, according to thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up to thyself wrath, in [the] day of wrath and revelation of [the] righteous judgment of ⁶ God, who shall render to each according to his works: to them who, in ⁷ patient continuance of good works,^c seek for glory and honour and in- ⁸ corruptibility,^d life eternal. But to those that are contentious, and are disobedient to the truth, but obey unrighteousness, [there shall be] ⁹ wrath and indignation,^e tribulation and distress, on every soul of man that works evil, both of Jew first, ¹⁰ and of Greek; but glory and honour and peace to every one that works good, both to Jew first and to Greek: ¹¹ for there is no acceptance of persons ¹² with God. For as many as have sinned without law shall perish also without law; and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by ¹³ law, (for not the hearers of the law [are] just before God, but the doers

^s Or, as some, 'a mind void of moral discernment,' ἀδόκιμον answering to 'did not think good,' οὐκ ἐδοκίμασαν.

^v The ancients and Calvin and others would translate 'God-haters;' but I doubt, in spite of ancient opinion drawn from reasoning, that it has this sense. It seems to me that it had acquired the sense of 'abominable,' 'abominably wicked:' as 'cursed children' does not mean that a curse is pronounced, but that they are so bad as to be only thus designated. So the moral state of θεοστυγής. See Fritzsch, Meyer, &c. Suidas and Œcumenius give it only as an opinion, not as the use of the word in Greek. Kypke's citations do not, I think, prove anything; they accord with the general sense given.

^w T. R. adds 'implacable,' with C K L P 17 37 47 and others Am; N A B D E G Memph and others omit.

^x οἷτινες, 'who being such as so knew.'

^y δικαίωμα, that which the righteous will of God requires, hence even an ordinance of His will, or a righteous act meeting His requirement. See Luke i. 6 and Rom. v. 18; and also Rev. xv. 4, where it is judgment itself. Compare chap. ii. 5, where 'righteous judgment' is δικαιοκρισία.

^z πράσσω is 'to do an act' as a matter of fact, to carry it out into a fact; ποιέω 'to make, produce.' I have therefore translated πράσσω 'to do,' and ποιέω 'practise,' which is more a course of action going on, doing it, as in German was machst du dort?

^a The constant use of σύν with the verb, by the apostle, is very difficult, sometimes impossible, to render justly. The apostle means here that not only their own passions hurry them away, but, being thoroughly corrupt, they enjoy other people's sinning; associating themselves in thought and spirit with them, as taking pleasure in their doing so.

^b There is in Greek a paronomasia, strengthening the sense: ἐν ᾧ κρίνεις τὸν ἑτέρον, σεαυτὸν κατακρίνεις.

^c Literally 'work,' in the singular.

^d ἀφθαρσία, 'incorruptibility,' not 'immortality;' the resurrection, or change, of the body is looked for; and it is thus a part of christian truth.

¹⁴ of the law shall be justified. For when [those of the] nations, which have no law, practise by nature the things of the law, these, having no ¹⁵ law, are a law to themselves; who^f shew the work of the law written^g in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts accusing or else excusing themselves between themselves;) in [the] day ¹⁶ when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my glad tidings, by Jesus Christ.

¹⁷ But if^h thou art named a Jew, and retest in the law, and makest ¹⁸ thy boast in God, and knowest the will, and discerningly approvest the things that are more excellent, being ¹⁹ instructed out of the law; and hast confidence that thou thyself art a leader of the blind, a light of those ²⁰ who [are] in darkness, an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having the form of knowledge and ²¹ of truth in the law: thou then that teachest another, dost thou not teach thyself? thou that preachest not to ²² steal, dost thou steal? thou that sayest [man should] not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou ²³ commit sacrilege? thou who boastest in law, dost thou by transgression ²⁴ of the law dishonour God? For the name of God is blasphemed on your account among the nations, according ²⁵ as it is written. For circumcision indeed profits if thou keepⁱ [the] law; but if thou be a law-transgressor, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. If therefore the uncircumcision keep the requirements of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned^k for circumcision, ²⁷ and uncircumcision by nature, fulfilling the law, judge thee, who, with^l letter and circumcision, [art] a law-transgressor? For he is not a Jew who [is] one outwardly,^m neither that ²⁸ circumcision which is outward in flesh; but he [is] a Jew [who is so] ²⁹ inwardly;ⁿ and circumcision, of the heart, in spirit, not in letter; whose praise [is] not of men, but of God.

III. What then [is] the superiority of the Jew? or what the profit of ² circumcision? Much every way: and first, indeed, that to them were ³ entrusted the oracles of God. For what? if some have not believed, shall their unbelief make the faith ⁴ of God of none effect? Far be the thought: but let God be true, and every man false; according as it is written, So that thou shouldest be justified in thy words, and shouldest overcome when thou art in judgment. ⁵ But if our unrighteousness commend God's righteousness, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who inflicts wrath?^o I speak according to man. ⁶ Far be the thought: since how shall ⁷ God judge the world? For if the truth of God in my lie has more abounded^p to his glory, why yet am ⁸ I also judged as a sinner? and not, according as we are injuriously charged, and according as some affirm that we say, Let us practise evil things, that good ones may come? whose judgment is just. ⁹ What then? are we better? No,

^g It is not the law, but the work which is written: τὸ ἔργον τοῦ νόμου γραπτόν.

^h T. R. reads 'Behold,' ἴδε, instead of εἰ δέ, with L 17 37 47; text A B D E K Am Memph.

ⁱ Literally 'do.'

^k The word often translated 'imputed,' in A. V.

^l δικά, with the genitive, has the sense of 'in a given state or condition,' as well as 'by means of.' 'By letter and circumcision' gives no definite sense here. I have endeavoured to express the sense by 'with,' as their having or possessing letter and circumcision practically puts them in that condition.

^m ἐν τῷ φανερῷ, 'openly,' 'manifestedly.'

ⁿ ἐν τῷ κρυπτῷ, 'in what is hidden or secret.'

^o 'Inflicts wrath' is hardly English, as wrath is a sentiment of the mind; and it is what reaches another which is inflicted, as punishment or pain. But 'executes' is not the sense, nor is 'takes vengeance.' The form of expression is in Greek, as in the use of 'inflict' in English, a figure of the effect for the cause, ἐπιφέρων τὴν ὀργήν. Parkhurst gives 'inflicts wrath' or 'vengeance'; so I have ventured it.

^p Or 'has more abounded by my lie.' In the translation in the text the thought is 'he remained true in spite of my failure.'

in no wise: for we have before charged both Jews and Greeks with ¹⁰ being all under sin: according as it is written, There is not a righteous
¹¹ [man], not even one; there is not the [man] that understands, there ¹² is not one that seeks after God. All have gone out of the way, they have together become unprofitable; there is not one that practises goodness, ¹³ there is not so much as one: their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; asps' poison [is] under their lips:
¹⁴ whose mouth is full of cursing and ¹⁵ bitterness; swift their feet to shed
¹⁶ blood; ruin and misery [are] in their ¹⁷ ways, and way of peace they have
¹⁸ not known: there is no fear of God
¹⁹ before their eyes. Now we know that whatever the things the law says, it speaks to those under the law,^a that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world be^r under ²⁰ judgment to God. Wherefore^s by works of law no flesh shall be justified before him; for by law [is] knowledge of sin.

²¹ But now without law righteousness of God is manifested, borne witness to by the law and the prophets; ²² righteousness of God by faith of Jesus Christ towards all, and upon all^u those who believe: ²³ for there is no difference; for all have sinned, and come short^v of the

²⁴ glory of God; being justified freely by his grace through the redemption
²⁵ which [is] in Christ Jesus; whom God has set forth a mercy-seat,^w through faith in his blood, for [the] shewing forth of his righteousness, in respect of the passing by^x the sins that had taken place before, through the forbearance of God; for ²⁶ [the] shewing forth of his righteousness in the present time, so that he should be just, and justify him
²⁷ that is of [the] faith of Jesus. Where then [is] boasting? It has been excluded. By what law? of works?
²⁸ Nay, but by law of faith; for^y we reckon that a man is justified by ²⁹ faith, without works of law. Is [God] the God of Jews only? is he not of [the] nations also? Yea, of ³⁰ nations also: since indeed [it is] one God who shall justify [the] circumcision on the principle of faith, ³¹ and uncircumcision by faith. Do we then make void law by faith? Far be the thought: [no,] but we establish law.

IV. What shall we say then that Abraham our father^z according to ² flesh has found? For if Abraham has been justified on the principle of works, he has whereof to boast:
³ but not before God; for what does the scripture say? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned ⁴ to him as^a righteousness. Now to

^a Literally 'in the law.'

^r γένηται: 'become in that state,' not as future, but the existing consequence. Hence I say 'be.'

^s Or 'because;' so Meyer, Alford, and De Wette, referring it to what goes before. But it is a much more general proposition deduced from that, as the second part of the sentence shews, which does refer to what goes before.

^u The Greek has δέ, but it is better left out for the sense in English.

^v ⁸ A B C P Memph omit 'and upon all;' but ⁸ is corrected. D E F G K L 17 37 and almost all Am have it.

^w 'Come' is the present fact: 'they come short:' 'are short' is too familiar. I add the note, otherwise 'come' might seem dependent on 'have.' 'Are come' is the perfect.

^x I do not think this word can be used for '[a] propitiatory [sacrifice]' or 'propitiation;' it certainly is not the habitual use in the LXX; and we have the two parts of the work of the great day of atonement, here and in chap. iv. 25.

^y 'In respect of the passing by the sins.' I have hesitated as to using διὰ with the accusative in this sense here; but on the whole I do not doubt it gives the sense. God had passed by, not brought into judgment, the sins of Old Testament believers; and the accomplishment of the atonement shewed His righteousness in this. Now the righteousness is itself shewn, and to be relied on.

⁸ I am not quite satisfied with 'as;' but I am that it is the nearest approach to the sense in English. 'For,' I object to; because then faith is made of positive worth, having the value of righteousness; whereas the sense is that he was holden for righteous in virtue of faith. 'For' him that works the reward is not reckoned. as of grace, but of debt: ⁵ but to him who does not work, but believes on him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is reckoned as ⁶ righteousness. Even as David also declares the blessedness of the man to whom God reckons righteousness ⁷ without works: Blessed [they] whose lawlessnesses have been forgiven, and whose sins have been covered: ⁸ blessed [the] man to whom^b [the] Lord shall not at all reckon sin.^c ⁹ [Does] this blessedness then [rest] on the circumcision, or also on the uncircumcision? For we say that faith has been reckoned to Abraham as righteousness. How then has it been reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. And he received [the] sign of circumcision [as] seal of the righteousness of faith which [he had] being in uncircumcision, that he might be^d [the] father of all them that believe being in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned to them also; ¹² and father of circumcision, not only to those who are of [the] circumcision, but to those also who walk in the steps of the faith, during uncircumcision, of our father Abraham.^f ¹³ For [it was] not by law that the promise was to Abraham, or to his seed, that he should be heir of [the] world, but by righteousness of faith. ¹⁴ For if they which [are] of law be heirs, faith is made vain, and the ¹⁵ promise made of no effect. For law^g works wrath; but^h where no law is neither [is there] transgression. Therefore [it is] on the principle of faith, that [it might be] according to grace, in order to the promise being sure to all the seed, not to that only which [is] of the law, but to that also which [is] of Abraham's faith, who is father of us ¹⁷ all, (according as it is written, I have made thee father of many nations,) before the God whom he believed, who quickens the dead, and calls the things which be not as being; ¹⁸ who against hope believed inⁱ hope to his becoming father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be: ¹⁹ and not being weak in faith, he considered not^k his own body already become dead, being about a hundred years old, and the deadening of ²⁰ Sarah's womb, and hesitated not at the promise of God through unbelief; but found strength in faith,^l ²¹ giving glory to God; and being fully persuaded that what he has promised ²² he is able also to do; wherefore also it was reckoned to him as righteous-does not go far enough as righteousness; too far as to a positive value of faith. Faith might be reckoned for righteousness, and yet the righteousness come short of what was required; whereas if it be reckoned as righteousness, the last word is taken in its own value as such: 'the man was held to be righteous,' 'to have righteousness.' It is a Hebrew form. See Psalm cvi. 31. I apprehend too that Genesis xv. 6, where there is no preposition, makes the force of the expression plain.

^c That is, 'not account of him as having any.' ^d εἰς τὸ εἶναι, 'in order to his being.' It is necessary perhaps to say, 'that he might be' in English; but there is an expression of purpose which goes rather too far. See note^m to chap. i. 20.

^e Some omit 'also,' with ¹² A B 47 Memph, perhaps rightly. C D E F G K L P Am Syrr have it.

^f Some may doubt of the accuracy of the translation of ver. 12, from the apparent order of the Greek words. However, I give without any hesitation the translation in the text, adding this notice to any one who can consult the Greek. It is merely the apparent form of the phrase which leads to another translation. 'Father of circumcision' means, he in whom real separation to God was first publicly established. Perhaps 'of the faith, during [his] uncircumcision, of our father Abraham' may be clearer. This notice will at any rate suffice.

^g Or 'For the law.'

^h T. R. reads 'for,' with D E F G K L P Am Syrr; text ¹⁴ A B C Memph.

ⁱ Or 'with:' ἐν is the state or condition of his mind in believing. See x. 19, and 1 Cor. ix. 10.

^k Some omit 'not,' with ¹⁹ A B C Am Memph, and take δε, 'and,' in ver. 20 in the sense of ἀλλά, 'but.'

^l 'Found strength in faith' may be rather free; but 'strengthened by faith' might very easily be applied to his body in this passage; whereas ἐνεδυναμώθη is inwardly strengthened:

²³ ness. Now it was not written on his account alone that it was reckoned ²⁴ to him, but on ours also, to whom, believing on him who has raised from among [the] dead Jesus our Lord, ²⁵ who has been delivered for our offences and has been raised for our justification, it will be reckoned.

V. Therefore having been justified on the principle of faith, we have^m peace towards God through our Lord
² Jesus Christ; by whom we haveⁿ also access by faith into this favour in which we stand, and we boast in hope of the glory of God.

³ And not only [that], but we also boast in tribulations, knowing that ⁴ tribulation works endurance; and endurance, experience; and experience, hope; and hope does not make ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by [the] Holy Ghost which has been
⁶ given to us: for we being still without strength, in [the] due time Christ
⁷ has died^o for [the] ungodly. For scarcely for [the^p] just [man] will one die, for perhaps for [the^p] good [man] some one might also dare to ⁸ die; but God commends his love to us, in that, we being still sinners, Christ has died for us. Much rather therefore, having been now justified in [the power of]^a his blood, we shall be saved by him from wrath.

¹⁰ For if, being enemies, we have been reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much rather, having been reconciled, we shall be saved in [the power of]^a his life.

¹¹ And not only [that], but [we are] making our boast in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom now we have received the reconciliation.

¹² ^rFor this [cause], even as by one man sin entered into the world, and by sin death; and thus death passed upon all men, for that all have ¹³ sinned: (for until law sin was in [the] world; but sin is not put to account^s when there is no law; but death reigned^t from Adam until ¹⁴ Moses, even upon those who had not sinned in^u the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is [the] figure of him to come. But [shall] not the act of favour [be] as the offence?^v ¹⁵ For if by the offence of one^w the many have died, much rather has

'was strong' is not a just translation. It is, I apprehend, in opposition to οὐ διεκρίθη τῇ ἀπιστίᾳ. ἐνδύναμος is 'gifted with strength.' Abraham was gifted with strength, by faith (i.e., inwardly, in contrast with doubt).

^m Many read 'let us have,' with A B C D E K L 17 37 Am Memph, but it is an unjustifiable change of copyist; so 1 Cor. xv. 49, where the hortatory form makes nonsense.

ⁿ Perfect: 'have obtained and possess.'

^o Or 'died.' It is the aorist; but 'has died' is used in English for the fact, which is the force of the aorist. That is, it is so used where the moral import is an abiding one, and time is not in question, though no abiding effect is meant. 'He has taken a journey.' The simple preterite i.e., without auxiliary, is not an aorist in English; it is historical, and the fact is viewed as past and done with, or part of a whole so regarded.

^q Or 'by his blood,' 'by his life:' when ἐν is used morally it has the force of 'in the power of,' 'in the intrinsic character of;' ἐν σαρκί, ἐν πνεύματι. It is not the same preposition here as in that which I have translated 'through the death.' Here the article and αὐτοῦ give it a somewhat more instrumental character.

^r The epistle divides itself here, as to doctrine, into two distinct parts, which a new paragraph hardly shews. Up to verse 11 'sins' had been treated of; from this point 'sin.'

^s This is a different word from that translated 'reckoned' in chapter iv. 22, 23 (both 'imputed' in Auth. Ver.). There, a man is estimated such or such, judicially esteemed such: here, a particular fault is put to a person's account. The former is found in Gal. iii. 6 and 2 Cor. v. 19; this only in Philem. 18.

^u Or 'according to.' 'Sinning after' has rather the character of copying, which is not the sense here. It refers to Hosea vi. 7, 'They, like Adam, have transgressed the covenant:' this of Israel. But they who had no law did not: ἐπί is here the form or character in or with which anything happens; that which gives it its character. It is a characterising condition of the act; a common use of ἐπί with a dative. So Heb. x. 28, ix. 17. So ἐφ' ᾧ, ἐπὶ πόσω. Herodian, quoted by Fritzsche, ἐφ' ἑτέrais εἰσελθὼν ἐλπίζων. It must be differently translated in different cases in English. In verse 12 here 'in that' or 'for that;' in Herodian 'with other hopes;' ἐπὶ πόσω, 'for how much;' Heb. x. 28, 'on [the credit or testimony of] two or three witnesses;' Heb. ix. 17, 'where death is come in, has intervened.' It is a condition necessary to, or characterising what is done by, the verb.

^v Or 'not as the offence [is] the act of favour.'

^w Lit. 'the one.'

the grace of God, and the free gift in grace, which [is] by the one man Jesus Christ, abounded unto the ¹⁶ many. And [shall] not as by one that has sinned [be] the gift?^x For the judgment [was] of^y one to condemnation, but the act of favour, of many offences unto justification.^z ¹⁷ For if by the offence of the one death reigned by the one, much rather shall those who receive the abundance of grace, and of the free gift of righteousness, reign in life by the one Jesus Christ:)^a so then as [it was] by one offence towards all men to condemnation, so by one righteousness^b towards all men for justification of life. For as indeed by the disobedience of the one man the many have been constituted sinners, so also by the obedience of the one the many will be constituted righteous. But law came in,^c in order that the offence might abound; but where sin abounded grace has²⁰ overabounded, in order that, even as sin has reigned in [the power of] death, so also grace might reign through righteousness^d to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.
 VI. What then shall we say? Should^e we continue in sin that grace may

² abound? Far be the thought. We who have died to sin, how shall we ³ still live in it? Are you ignorant that we, as many as have been baptized unto Christ Jesus, have been ⁴ baptized unto his death? We have been buried therefore with him by baptism unto death, in order that, even as Christ has been raised up from among [the] dead by the glory of the Father, so we also should ⁵ walk in newness of life. For if we are become identified with^f [him] in the likeness of his death, so also we ⁶ shall be of [his] resurrection; knowing this, that our old man has been crucified with [him], that the body of sin might be annulled, that we ⁷ should no longer serve sin. For he that has died is justified^g from sin.
⁸ Now if we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live
⁹ with him, knowing that Christ having been raised up from among [the] dead dies no more: death has do-¹⁰ minion over him no more. For in that he has died,^h he has died^h to sin once for all; but in that he lives, ¹¹ he lives to God. So also ye, reckon yourselvesⁱ dead to sin and alive to ¹² God in Christ Jesus.^k Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body

^x Or 'And not as by one that sinned [is] the gift.'

^y That is, had its foundation in, was grounded on, one single thing or act.

^z 'Justification,' or 'judicial righteousness.' Here the Greek is more exact than English perhaps allows. δικαίωμα is the state of accomplished subsisting righteousness before God, in which justification places us; δικαίωσις, the act of justifying. In English we must use justification for both. I cannot say 'righteousness;' it might be practical δικαιοσύνη. In the last verse of chap. iv. it is δικαίωσις, because it was the doing of it which was in view, for our justifying; not, as some read, because we were justified—this can be said only (chap. v. 1) in connection with faith, and would have been διὰ τὸ δικαιωθῆναι ἡμᾶς. Διὰ τὴν δικαιοσύνην ἡμῶν is the effect future to the rising again. I would add, δώρημα is translated 'gift,' χάρισμα 'act of favour,' and δωρεὰ 'free gift,' to distinguish them.

^b Here 'righteousness' is, as in ver. 16, δικαίωμα, translated there 'justification,' which here it evidently cannot be; it is the accomplished subsisting righteousness answering to the one offence.

^c παρεισῆλθεν, came in as an extra thing, or by the bye.

^d δικαιοσύνη. It is the thing on that principle, not simply an effectuated accomplished δικαίωμα.

^f σύμφυτοι. Lit. 'grown up with' and so thoroughly one. Hence I have said 'identified.' The A. V. has confounded συμφύω with συμφυτεύω, and so have Liddell and Scott up to 6th ed.; it is right in 7th. I do not find that συμφύω means 'to plant together,' but 'to make to grow together,' and in the passive simply 'to grow together.' See Luke viii. 7, where it is συμφύομαι.

^g 'Justified,' δεδικαίωται: 'free' is ambiguous, and might be supposed to be ἐλεύθερος. It is justified, cleared, discharged. From 'sin,' note, not 'sins.'

^h Or 'he died.' It is the fact.

ⁱ ἡ B Cadd εἶναι 'to be,' before νεκρούς. T. R., with K L P 37 47 and some versions, puts it after, so that it seems added. A D E F G 17 Memph omit; Am has it.

^k T. R. adds 'our Lord,' with ἡ C K L P 17 37 Memph; A B D E F G 47 Am omit.

¹³ to obey its lusts.¹ Neither yield^m your members instruments of unrighteousness to sin, but yield yourselves to God as alive from among [the] dead,ⁿ and your members instruments of righteousness to God.
¹⁴ For sin shall not have dominion over you, for ye are not under law but under grace.
¹⁵ What then? should we sin^o because we are not under law but under ¹⁶ grace? Far be the thought. Know ye not that to whom ye yield yourselves bondmen for obedience, ye are bondmen to him whom ye obey, whether of sin unto death, or of ¹⁷ obedience unto righteousness? But thanks [be] to God, that ye were bondmen of sin, but have obeyed from the heart the form of teaching ¹⁸ into which ye were instructed. Now, having got your freedom from sin, ye have become bondmen to righteousness.
¹⁹ I speak humanly on account of the weakness of your flesh. For even as ye have yielded your members in bondage^p to uncleanness and to lawlessness unto lawlessness, so now yield^q your members in bondage to ²⁰ righteousness unto holiness. For when ye were bondmen of sin ye were ²¹ free from righteousness. What fruit therefore had ye then in the things of which ye are now ashamed? for ²² the end of them [is] death. But now, having got your freedom from sin, and having become bondmen to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end eternal life.

²³ For the wages of sin [is] death; but the act of favour of God, eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

VII. Are ye ignorant, brethren, (for I speak to those knowing law,) that law^r rules over a man as long as he ² lives? For the married woman is bound by law to her husband so long as he is alive; but if the husband should die, she is clear from the law
³ of the husband: so then, the husband being alive, she shall be called an adulteress if she be to another man; but if the husband should die, she is free from the law, so as not to be an adulteress though she be to ⁴ another man. So that, my brethren, ye also have been made dead to the law by the body of the Christ, to be to another, who has been raised up from among [the] dead, in order that we might bear fruit to God.

⁵ For when we were in the flesh the passions of sins, which [were] by the law, wrought in our members to ⁶ bring forth fruit to death; but now we are clear from the law, having died^s in that in which we were held, so that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in oldness of letter.
⁷ What shall we say then? [is] the law^t sin? Far be the thought. But I had not known sin, unless by law: for I had not had conscience also of lust unless the law had said, Thou

^m The distinction between παριστάνετε and παραστήσατε—that is, the present, which has a continuous present sense; and the aorist, which gives the act in itself—I have sought in vain a means of distinguishing in English. μηδὲ παριστάνετε, 'neither yield your members:' it is at no time to be done. παραστήσατε, 'yield yourselves to God:' let it have been done, as a once accomplished act.

ⁿ Lit. 'as out of dead alive.' The order of the words gives a contrasted force to the ἐκ νεκρῶν: not merely that they came thence. But 'out of dead alive' is hardly English.

^o Or 'are we to sin?' the subjunctive aorist. T. R. reads 'shall we sin,' with cursives Am Syr Memph &c., but the Latin proves nothing. Text & A B C D E K L P 17 37 47 and others.

^p The word translated 'in bondage' is an adjective, expressing the state of slavery, to which no word answers in English.

^q This is the aorist, the act done once for all, have it done.

^s 'Having died:' T. R. reads 'that being dead in which.' But it is an unfounded reading after Beza, Erasm. and Steph. 1550 have ἀποθανόντες; Beza ἀποθανόντος, though in the French translation, (not the Latin,) it is given as if it were ἀποθανόντες. D E F G Vulg (not Am) read 'from the law of death in which we were held.' I may remark here that though from habit we say T. R., the A. V. is not from T. R. but from Beza or Stephanus as a rule; the first of Elz. was some thirteen years after the A. V. But in the main Elz. followed Steph. and Beza. Critics have corrected the differences.

^t Or 'the law [is] sin.' The sense is the same.

⁶ shalt not lust; but sin, getting a point of attack by the commandment, wrought in me every lust; for ⁹ without law sin [was] dead. But I was alive without law once; but the commandment having come, sin revived, but I died. And the commandment, which [was] for life, was found, [as] to me, itself [to be] unto ¹⁰ death: for sin, getting a point of attack by the commandment, deceived^v me, and by it slew [me].
¹² So that the law indeed [is] holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good. Did then that which is ¹³ good become^w death to me? Far be the thought. But sin, that it might appear sin, working^x death to me by that which is good; in order that sin by the commandment might ¹⁴ become exceeding sinful. For we know that the law is spiritual: but ¹⁵ I^y am fleshly,^z sold under sin. For that which I do,^a I do not own: for not what I will, this I do; but what ¹⁶ I hate, this I practise. But if what I do not will, this I practise, I consent to the law that [it is] right. Now then [it is] no longer I [that] do^a it, but the sin that dwells in me.
¹⁸ For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, good does not dwell: for to will is there with me,^b but to do^a ¹⁹ right [I find^c] not. For I do not practise the good that I will; but the evil I do not will, that I do.
²⁰ But if what I do not will, this I practise, [it is] no longer I [that] do^a it, but the sin that dwells in me. I find then the law upon me who wills to practise what is right, that with me ²² evil is there.^b For I delight in the law of God according to the inward

²³ man: but I see another law in my members, warring in opposition to the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin ²⁴ which exists in my members. O wretched man that I [am]! who shall deliver me out of this body of death? I thank^d God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve God's law; but with the flesh sin's law.

VIII. [There is] then now no condemnation to those in Christ Jesus.^e
² For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set me free from ³ the law of sin and of death. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, having sent his own Son, in likeness of flesh of sin, and for sin, has condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the righteous requirement^f of the law should be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to flesh but ⁵ according to Spirit. For they that are according to flesh mind the things of the flesh; and they that are according to Spirit, the things
⁶ of the Spirit. For the mind of the flesh [is] death; but the mind ⁷ of the Spirit life and peace. Be-

^v ἐξηπάτησε.

^w T. R. reads rather 'is become,' γέγονε: ἐγένετο is read by all the best uncial MSS. \aleph A B C D E P 47 Tisch 8th ed. Meyer Lach. Alford have ἐγένετο. I notice it as Tisch. 7th ed. and Griesb. have γέγονεν. F G, omit both.

^x Or 'working out.'

^y I have put 'I' in italic when the personal pronoun ἐγώ is emphatically introduced in Greek and the emphasis is not otherwise apparent; the position of ἐμοί, 'me,' produces the same effect, save in verse 9; the contrast is there apparent.

^z σάρκινος. T. R. reads σαρκικός, with K L P 37 and others; text \aleph A B C D E F G 17 47 and others.

^b 'Is there with me?' I find no better way of translating, though I am not satisfied. The word is παράκειται μοι, and in verse 21, ἐμοί παράκειται. 'Sin is by me,'—vorhanden.

^c Many omit 'I find,' with \aleph A B C 47 Memph; D E F G K L P 17 37 and others Am Syrr insert.

^d B D F G 17 Am Memph have χάρις for εὐχαριστώ, but \aleph A K L P 37 47 Syrr have the text. D E Am have gratia Dei.

^e T. R. adds 'who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit' to this verse; but it cannot be translated as in Auth. Ver. The Greek, were it to stand as part of the text, must be translated, 'There is no condemnation for those who, in Christ Jesus, walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit;' or, 'those in Christ Jesus, who,' &c. As far as 'flesh,' with A D² E K L P 17 37 47 Am Syrr; to 'Spirit,' E K L P 17 37 Syr-Hel; text \aleph B C D (F G) 47 Memph; \aleph A B C D F G 47 Am Memph and others omit second part.

cause the mind of the flesh is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God; for neither indeed ⁸ can it be: and they that are in flesh ⁹ cannot please God. But ye are not in flesh but in Spirit,^g if indeed God's Spirit dwell in you; but if any one has not [the] Spirit of Christ he is ¹⁰ not of him: but if Christ be in you, the body is dead on account of sin, but the Spirit life on account of ¹¹ righteousness. But if the Spirit of him that has raised up Jesus^h from among [the] dead dwell in you, he that has raised upⁱ Christ from among [the] dead shall quicken your mortal bodies also on account^k of his ¹² Spirit which dwells in you. So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the ¹³ flesh, to live according to flesh; for if ye live according to flesh, ye are about to die; but if, by the Spirit, ye put to death the deeds of the body, ¹⁴ ye shall live: for as many as are led by [the] Spirit of God, these are sons of God. For ye have not received a spirit of bondage again for fear, but ye have received a spirit of adoption, ¹⁶ whereby we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit itself bears witness with our spirit, that we are children of God. ¹⁷ And if children, heirs also: heirs of God, and Christ's joint heirs; if indeed we suffer with [him], that we may also be glorified with^l [him].

¹⁸ For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy [to be compared] with the coming glory ¹⁹ to be revealed^m to us. For the anxiousⁿ looking out of the creature expects the revelation of the sons of ²⁰ God: for the creature has been made subject to vanity, not of its will, but by reason of him who has subjected ²¹ [the same], in hope that the creature itself also shall be set free from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory^o of the children of God. ²² For we know that the whole creation^p groans together and travails in pain ²³ together until now. And not only [that], but even we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, we also ourselves groan in ourselves, awaiting adoption, [that is] the re- ²⁴ demption of our body. For we have been saved in hope; but hope seen is not hope; for what any one sees, why ²⁵ does he also hope? But if what we see not we hope,^q we expect in pa- ²⁶ tience. And in like manner the Spirit joins also its help^r to our weak- ²⁷ ness;^s for we do not know what we should pray for as is fitting, but the Spirit itself makes intercession^t with groanings which cannot be uttered.

^g Another instance of the difficulty of putting a large or small 'S.' It is clearly the state and characteristic of the believer; but it is so by the presence of the Spirit. See too verse 15.

^h SA B 47 have τὸν Ἰησοῦν; C D E F G K L P 17 37 omit τόν; in Latin and English no difference.

ⁱ Some add 'the,' with K L P 17 37; SA B C D E F G 47 omit. SA D 47 add 'Jesus' after 'Christ'; C Am Memph add it before 'Christ.'

^k T. R. reads 'by [or, through] his Spirit.' The reading was the subject of mutual charges of corrupting the text between the orthodox and the Macedonians in the fourth century. T. R. with SA C 37 and others Memph Æth; text B D E F G K L P 17 47 Am and others.

^l This is an example of the frequent use of συν prefixed to the verb, often difficult to render in English. 'If we co-suffer that we may be co-glorified' answers to it, but is hardly tolerable as English.

^m Or 'the glory about to be revealed:' ἀποκαλυφθῆναι depends, I suppose, grammatically on μέλλουσιν; but the sense is most nearly given in the text. See Gal. iii. 23, and 1 Cor. iii. 22. The emphasis is on μέλλουσιν in contrast with τοῦ νῦν καιροῦ.

ⁿ Or 'constant.'

^o 'Glorious liberty' does not give the sense: the creature has not part in the liberty of grace; it will in that which glory gives.

^p 'Creation' is the translation of the same word as that rendered 'creature' in vers. 19-21, κτίσις; but the word 'whole' gives it a concrete, and not an abstract, character; and therefore I have here translated it 'creation.'

^q 'Hope for' may seem more correct English, but separates from the force of the preceding words, with which we are all familiar.

^r συναντιλαμβάνεται. ἀντιλαμβάνω is 'to take up a person's cause, so as to help him.' But we have the συν-, 'with,' added, which I have rendered by the word 'join,' though not satisfied with it.

knows what [is] the mind of the Spirit, because he intercedes for saints according to God. But we ²⁸ do^u know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are called according to purpose. Because whom he has foreknown, he has also predestinated [to be] conformed to the image of his Son, so that he should be^v [the] firstborn among many brethren. But whom he has predestinated, these also he has called; and whom he has called, these also he has justified; but whom he has justified, these also he has glorified.

³¹ What shall we then say to these things? If God [be] for us, who ³² against us? He who, yea, has not spared his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him grant us all things? ³³ Who shall bring an accusation against God's elect? [It is] God who justifies: who is he that condemns? [It is] Christ who has died, but rather has been [also^w] raised up; who is also at the right hand of God; who ³⁵ also intercedes for us. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or ³⁶ danger, or sword? According as it is written, For thy sake we are put to death all the day long; we have been reckoned as sheep for slaughter. ³⁷ But in all these things we more than conquer through him that has loved us. For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, ³⁹ nor things to come, nor powers,^x nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which [is] in Christ Jesus our Lord.

IX. I say [the] truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness ² with me in [the] Holy Spirit, that I have great grief and uninterrupted ³ pain in my heart, for I have wished, I myself, to be a curse from the Christ for my brethren,^y my kinsmen, ⁴ according to flesh; who are Israelites; whose [is] the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the law-giving, and the service, and the ⁵ promises; whose [are] the fathers; and of whom, as according to flesh, [is] the Christ, who is over all,^z God blessed for ever. Amen.

⁶ Not however as though the word of God had failed; for not all [are] ⁷ Israel which [are] of Israel; nor because they are seed of Abraham [are] all children: but, In Isaac shall a seed ⁸ be called to thee. That is, [they that are] the children of the flesh, these [are] not the children of God; but the children of the promise are reckoned ⁹ as seed. For this word [is] of promise, According to this time I will come, and there shall be a son to ¹⁰ Sarah.^a And not only [that], but Rebecca having conceived by one, ¹¹ Isaac our father, [the children] indeed being not yet born, or having done anything good or worthless^b (that the purpose of God according to election might abide, not of works, ¹² but of him that calls), it was said to her, The greater shall serve the less:

^v εἰς τὸ εἶναι. See notes to i. 20; iv. 11.

^w 'Also' is omitted by \aleph A B C 17 Am Memph &c.; D E F G K L 37 47 have it.

^x T. R. reads 'nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,' i.e., changes order, with K L 17.

^y Here the sense depends on the punctuation. It may be 'pain in my heart for my brethren,' or 'a curse from Christ for my brethren.' I apprehend, in the apostle's mind the last phrase is connected with both: he parenthetically states how far his heart had gone for Israel, and then continues the phrase. This want of strictness of continuation of grammatical structure is very common with the apostle from the ardour of his style, and only adds force to what he says. He had loved them as much as Moses. (Ex. xxxii. 32.) His pain was continuous: the wish he speaks of, like that of Moses, was a moment's earnest appeal, as beside himself.

^z 'Who is over all:' ὁ ὢν ἐπὶ πάντων is more emphatic than ὁ ἐπὶ πάντων: he exists and subsists as such. It may be translated also 'is,' or 'exists God over all.'

^a The apostle's object is, not to state what the word of promise is, but that the word he quotes, on which all depended, is a matter of promise.

^b T. R. reads 'evil,' with D E F G K L 17 and others; text \aleph A B 37 47. It is φαῦλον for κακόν.

¹³ according as it is written, I have loved Jacob, and I have hated Esau.
¹⁴ What shall we say then? [Is there] unrighteousness with God?
¹⁵ Far be the thought. For he says to Moses, I will shew mercy to whom I will shew mercy, and I will feel compassion for whom I will feel compassion. So then [it is] not of him that wills, nor of him that runs, but ¹⁷ of God that shews mercy. For the scripture says to Pharaoh, For this very thing I have raised thee up from amongst^c [men], that I might thus^d shew in thee my power, and so that my name should be declared in ¹⁸ all the earth. So then, to whom he will he shews mercy, and whom he will he hardens.
¹⁹ Thou wilt say to me then, Why does he yet find fault? for who resists his purpose? Aye, but thou, O man, who art thou that answerest again to God? Shall the thing formed say to him that has formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?
²¹ Or has not the potter authority over the clay, out of the same lump to make one vessel to honour, and ²² another to dishonour? And if God, minded to shew his wrath and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering vessels of ²³ wrath fitted for destruction; and that he might make known the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he had before prepared for glory, us, whom he has also called, not only from amongst [the] Jews, but also from amongst [the] nations? As he says also in Hosea, I will call not-my-people My people; and the-not-beloved Beloved. And it shall be, in the place where it was said to them, Ye [are] not my people, there shall they be called Sons of ²⁷ [the] living God. But Esaias cries concerning Israel, Should the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, the remnant ²⁸ shall be saved: for [he] is bringing the matter to an end, and [cutting [it] short in righteousness; because]^e a cutting short of the matter will [the] Lord accomplish upon the earth.

²⁹ And according as Esaias said before, Unless [the] Lord of Hosts had left us a seed, we had been as Sodom, and made like even as Gomorrrha.
³⁰ What then shall we say? That [they of the] nations, who did not follow after righteousness, have attained righteousness, but [the] righteousness that is on the principle of ³¹ faith. But Israel, pursuing after a law of righteousness, has not attained ³² to [that] law.^f Wherefore? Because [it was] not on the principle of faith, but as of^g works.^h Theyⁱ have stumbled at the stumblingstone,^j according as it is written, Behold, I place in Sion a stone of stumbling and rock of offence: and he that believes on him shall not^k be ashamed.

X. Brethren, the delight^l of my own heart and my supplication which [I

^c 'Raised thee up from amongst,' ἐξήγειρα. The ἐξ has a definite force, but needs some word governed by it in English.

^d I have said, 'that I might thus,' because it is not ἔτι, the ultimate end; but ὅπως, the means or way of doing it. 'That,' by itself, in English, is ambiguous in this respect; 'so that' can hardly be used in the first member of the sentence: I have so expressed it in the second: in each case it is ὅπως.

^e Many leave out from 'cutting' to 'because,' with \aleph A B 47 Memph. The words complete the quotation from the LXX.

^f T. R. reads 'a law of righteousness,' with (F) K L P 37 and most others Am Syrr; \aleph A B D E G 17 47 Memph omit.

^g 'As of works.' What I have here translated 'of' is the preposition I have elsewhere translated 'on the principle of.' But this very sense is clearer in having simply 'of' after the 'as,' and the sentence less encumbered.

^h T. R. reads 'of law' after 'works,' with DE K L P 17 37 and most others Syrr; \aleph A B F G 47 Am Memph omit. The oldest versions have it, the Vulg. not.

ⁱ T. R. reads 'For they,' with E K L P 17 37 Syrr; 'for' was possibly added to make the sense here easier; it is omitted by \aleph A B D F G Am Memph.

^j 'That stumblingstone' is not exact, and spoils the sense. Christ is the stumblingstone, as Paul goes on to explain.

^k T. R. has 'no one that . . . shall,' with K L P 17 37 Am; \aleph A B D E F G 47 Memph omit.

^l εὐδοκία, 'his good pleasure,' the thought that delighted him. The order of the words, τῆς ἐμῆς καρδίας, gives, I think, the force of 'own,' or an emphatic 'my.' The connection of the beginning of the phrase with 'for' salvation' is not very address] to God for them^m is for ² salvation. For I bear them witness that they have zeal for God, but not ³ according to knowledge. For they, being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own [righteousnessⁿ], have not submitted to the righteousness of God.

⁴ For Christ is [the] end of law for righteousness to every one that believes.
⁵ For Moses lays down in writing the righteousness which is of the law, 'The man who has practised ⁶ those things shall live by them.^o But the righteousness of faith speaks
thus: Do not say in thine heart,
Who shall ascend to the heavens?
⁷ that is, to bring Christ down; or,
Who shall descend into the abyss?
that is, to bring up Christ from ⁸ among [the] dead. But what says it? The word is near thee, in thy mouth and in thy heart: that is,
the word of faith, which we preach:
⁹ that if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord,^p and shalt believe in thine heart that God has raised him from among [the] dead, ¹⁰ thou shalt be saved. For with [the] heart is believed^q to righteousness;
and with [the] mouth confession ¹¹ made to salvation. For the scripture says, No one believing on him shall ¹² be ashamed. For there is no difference of Jew and Greek; for the same Lord of all [is] rich towards all that ¹³ call upon him. For every one whosoever, who shall call on the name ¹⁴ of the Lord, shall be saved. How then shall they call upon him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe on him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without one ¹⁵ who preaches? and how shall they preach unless they have been sent?

according as it is written, How beautiful the feet of them that announce glad tidings of peace,^r of them that announce glad tidings of good things!
¹⁶ But they have not all obeyed the glad tidings. For Esaias says, Lord, ¹⁷ who has believed our report? So faith then [is] by a report, but the ¹⁸ report by God's word. But I say,
Have they not heard? Yea, surely,
Their voice has gone out into all the earth, and their words to the ex-¹⁹ tremities of the habitable world. But I say, Has not Israel known? First, Moses says, I will provoke you to jealousy through^s [them that are] not a nation: through^s a nation without understanding I will anger ²⁰ you. But Esaias is very bold, and says, I have been found by those not seeking me; I have become manifest to those not inquiring after ²¹ me. But unto Israel he says, All the day long I have stretched out my hands unto a people disobeying and opposing.^t

XI. I say then, Has God cast away his people? Far be the thought.
For I also am an Israelite, of [the] seed of Abraham, of [the] tribe of ² Benjamin. God has not cast away his people whom he foreknew. Know ye not what the scripture says in [the history of] Elias, how he pleads with ³ God against Israel?^u Lord, they grammatical; but this abruptness of style is usual with Paul.

^m T. R. reads 'for Israel,' with K L 37 and others; text \aleph A B D E F G P 17 47 Am Syrr Memph. 'For them' is the more correct reading: 'for Israel' is a gloss to explain. 'For them,' occupied as the apostle is with his subject, is far more beautiful. 'For salvation' is perhaps a little obscure; but what he says is, what would satisfy his heart was that; and his prayers tended that way, not to their judgment, evil as they were, and rejecters of Christ. But the judgement was not yet revealed.

ⁿ Some omit δικαιοσύνην, with A B D E P 47 Am Memph; \aleph has it, with F G K L 17 37 Syrr.

^o Some, with \aleph A B 17 47 Am Memph, read 'by it,' αὐτῇ, which must refer then to δικαιοσύνην.

^p Or '[the] Lord Jesus.' B has ὅτι κύριος Ἰησοῦς.

^q Or 'man believes.' 'Is believed' is literal, and sufficiently intelligible.

^s ἐπί signifies the occasion or condition under which a thing happens, not the means of, as an instrument: 'through' expresses this more nearly than 'by.' See also note on v. 14.

have killed thy prophets, ^v they have dug down thine altars; and I have been left alone, and they seek my ⁴ life. But what says the divine answer to him? I have left to myself seven thousand men, who have not ⁵ bowed knee to Baal.^w Thus, then, in the present time also there has been a remnant according to election of grace. But if by grace, no longer of works: since [otherwise] grace is no more grace.^x

⁷ What [is it] then? What Israel seeks for, that he has not obtained; but the election has obtained, and ⁸ the rest have been blinded,^y according as it is written, God has given to them a spirit of slumber, eyes not to see, and ears not to hear, unto ⁹ this day. And David says, Let their table be for a snare, and for a gin, and for a fall-trap, and for a recompense to them: let their eyes be ¹⁰ darkened not to see, and bow down their back away.

¹¹ I say then, Have they stumbled in order that they might fall? Far be the thought: but by their fall [there is] salvation to the nations to ¹² provoke them to jealousy. But if their fall [be the] world's wealth, and their loss [the] wealth of [the] nations, how much rather their fullness? For I speak to you, the nations, inasmuch as I am apostle of ¹⁴ nations, I glorify my ministry; if by any means I shall provoke to jealousy [them which are] my flesh, and shall save some from among ¹⁵ them. For if their casting away [be the] world's reconciliation, what [their] reception but life from among [the] dead?

¹⁶ Now if the firstfruit [be] holy, the lump also; and if the root [be] holy, ¹⁷ the branches also. Now if some of the branches have been broken out, and thou, being a wild olive tree, hast been grafted in amongst them, and hast become a fellow-partaker of the root and of the fatness of the ¹⁸ olive tree, boast not against the branches; but if thou boast, [it is] not thou bearest the root, but the ¹⁹ root thee. Thou wilt say then, The branches^z have been broken out in order that I might be grafted in. ²⁰ Right: they have been broken out through unbelief, and thou standest through faith. Be not high-minded, ²¹ but fear: if God indeed has not spared the natural branches; lest it might be he spare not thee either.^a

²² Behold then [the] goodness and severity of God: upon them who have fallen, severity; upon thee goodness of God,^b if thou shalt abide^c in goodness, since [otherwise] thou

^w 'Baal' has here the article in the feminine; and hence the Authorised Version has put in 'image.' The feminine article is doubtless borrowed from the LXX. The Chaldee inserts 'image.' Some learned men, as Selden, attribute it to the masculine and feminine characters in which Baal was adored in Syria. I notice the gender therefore merely in this note. F G have $\tau\tilde{\omega}$.

^x T. R. adds, with B (which puts however $\chi\alpha\rho\iota\varsigma$ for last $\epsilon\rho\gamma\omega\nu$) L 37 most others Syrr and fathers, 'but if of works, it is no longer grace: otherwise work is no more work;' \aleph A C D E F G P 47 Am Memph omit. Tisch. (7th ed. not 8th) keeps it as in T. R. I add 'otherwise;' $\epsilon\pi\epsilon\iota$ is constantly thus used in Greek. The ellipse when filled up is 'since [if it were], grace is no more grace;' or 'since [then].'

^y Or 'hardened,' made obdurate in heart.

^a This is another case where the grammatical structure is not complete. It may well be taken, 'fear . . . lest he spare not thee;' the beginning of ver. 21 adding a supplementary thought, of which the apostle's mind was full; still it is a broken phrase. $\gamma\alpha\rho$ may well be translated sometimes 'indeed;' otherwise we must say, 'for if God has not,' &c., and add 'take heed,' or something like it, as in the Authorised Version. \aleph A B C P 47 Memph read 'branches, neither will he spare thee.'

^b T. R. omits 'of God,' with F G L and cursives Syrr; \aleph A B C D Am Memph have it.

^c 'If thou shouldst abide,' or 'abidest.' There are three degrees of condition in Greek: indicative, if the fact arrives; subjunctive, doubtful if it will; and conditional, of uncertain probability. This is the subjunctive. The English hardly gives the three with 'if,' in the second person; in the third I can say, 'If he comes,' 'If he come,' 'If he should come.' Habit has, in conversation, preserved the subjunctive, or what answers to it: 'If he come,' implying more doubt than 'If he comes,' and less than 'If he should come;'

23 also will be cut away. And they too, if they abide not in unbelief, shall be grafted in; for God is able 24 again to graff them in. For if thou hast been cut out of the olive tree wild by nature, and, contrary to nature, hast been grafted into the good olive tree, how much rather shall they who are according to nature be grafted into their own
25 olive tree? For I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, of this mystery, that ye may not be wise in your own conceits, that blindness^d in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the nations be come 26 in; and so all Israel shall be saved. According as it is written, The deliverer shall come out of Sion; he^e shall turn away ungodliness from 27 Jacob. And this is the covenant from me to them, when I shall have taken away their sins. As regards the glad tidings, [they are] enemies on your account; but as regards election, beloved on account of the 29 fathers. For the gifts and the calling of God [are] not subject to repentance.^f For as indeed ye [also^g] once have not believed in God, but now have been objects of mercy through 31 the unbelief of these; so these also have now not believed in your mercy, in order that they also may be ob-32 jects of mercy.^h For God hath shut up together all in unbelief, in order that he might shew mercy to all.
33 O depth of riches both of [the] wisdom and knowledge of God!ⁱ how but in the second person this is hardly bearable in English: 'If thou abide.' The reader may use it if he pleases: see ver. 23. I have there said, 'If they abide.' There is no difference here in English between indicative and subjunctive: the conditional would be ill placed.

34 traceable his ways! For who has

XII. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the compassion of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, [which is] ² your intelligent service. And be not conformed to this world,^j but be transformed by the renewing of [your^k] mind, that ye may prove¹ what [is] the good and acceptable ³ and perfect will of God. For I say, through the grace which has been given to me, to every one that is among you, not to have high thoughts above what he should think; but to think so as to be wise,^m as God has ⁴ dealt to each a measure of faith. For, as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not the ⁵ same office; thus we, [being] many, are one body in Christ, and each one ⁶ members one of the other. But having different gifts, according to the grace which has been given to us, whether [it be] prophecy, [let us prophesy] according to the proportion of faith; ⁷ or service, [let us occupy ourselves] in service; or he that teaches, in ⁸ teaching; or he that exhorts, in exhortation; he that gives, in simplicity;ⁿ he that leads, with diligence; he right to the promises being gone, they come in at the end as objects of mere mercy, as any poor Gentile might be; though, by that mercy, God accomplishes His promises, to which, as to their now responsibility, they had lost all title. It is this which gives rise to the apostle's expressions of admiration as to the wisdom of God.

⁹ Let love be unfeigned; abhorring
¹⁰ evil; cleaving to good: as to brotherly love, kindly affectioned towards one another: as to honour, each taking the lead in paying it^o to the ¹¹ other: as to diligent zealousness, not slothful; in spirit fervent; serving the Lord. As regards hope, rejoicing: as regards tribulation, enduring: as regards prayer, persevering: distributing to the necessities of the saints; given to hospitality.
¹² Bless them that persecute you; bless,
¹³ and curse not. Rejoice with those that rejoice,^p weep with those that weep. Have the same respect one for another, not minding high things, but going along with the lowly:^a be ¹⁸ heap coals of fire upon his head. Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

XIII. Let every soul be subject^t to the authorities that are above [him]. For there is no authority except from God; and those^v that exist are set

² up by God. So that he that sets himself in opposition to the authority resists the ordinance of God; and they who [thus] resist shall bring^w
³ sentence of guilt on themselves. For rulers are not a terror to a good work, but to an evil [one].^x Dost thou desire then not to be afraid of the authority? practise [what is] good, and thou
⁴ shalt have praise from it; for it is God's minister to thee for good. But if thou practisest evil, fear; for it bears not the sword in vain; for it is God's minister, an avenger for wrath
⁵ to him that does evil. Wherefore it is necessary to be subject, not only on account of wrath, but also on account of conscience. For on this ⁶ account ye pay tribute also; for they are God's officers, attending continually on this very thing. Render^y to all their dues: to whom tribute [is due], tribute; to whom custom, custom; to whom fear, fear; to whom

XV. But we ought, we that are strong, to bear the infirmities of the weak,

Now the God of endurance and of encouragement give to you to be like-minded one toward another,

¹³ in him shall [the] nations hope. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that ye should abound in hope by [the] power of [the] Holy Spirit.

¹⁴ But I am persuaded, my brethren, I myself also, concerning you, that yourselves also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also

It is again the subjunctive; i.e., not a fact assumed to happen, though not yet come; nor treated as improbable, though it may happen; but between the two—the possibility and intention expressed. T. ⁿ I continue the word 'minister' here, to connect it with minister, as a verb, elsewhere, though it has also a technical use in English; but we say 'ministered to my wants,' as well as 'ministered the word,' and 'they had John to their minister,' though in Greek this is another word (ὕμνητης); here it is διάκονος, deacon or deaconess; but this in modern times has another sense also. She did the needed service in the assembly there; she was not properly a servant.

^o 'Assist' is παρίστημι, 'to stand by her and help her.' The word translated 'helper' is stronger and has a higher sense. παρίστημι assists the principal person, whereas προστάτης, or -τις in the feminine, is more helping as a patron, is used by Plutarch for a Roman patron, and is applied in special honour to Phœbe as one whose help many had been dependent on and had profited by. It was a complimentary touch of heart in which the apostle never fails: they were to be παρα-, but she had been προ- in the matter.

^d It formed no part of what was unfolded in those ages, in which God developed His plans in creation; it was a purpose before, a subject outside their history. It had been eternally hidden; it was not in reckoned time.

FIRST EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

I. Paul, [a] called apostle of Jesus Christ, by God's will, and Sosthenes
² the brother, to the assembly of God which is in Corinth, to [those] sanctified in Christ Jesus, called saints,^a with all that in every place call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, ³ both theirs and ours: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.
⁴ I thank my God always about you, in respect of^b the grace of God given
⁵ to you in Christ Jesus; that in everything ye have been enriched in him, in all word [of doctrine],^c and all
⁶ knowledge, (according as the testimony of the Christ has been confirmed in you,) so that ye come short in no gift, awaiting^d the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ;
⁸ who shall also confirm you to [the] end, unimpeachable in the day of ⁹ our Lord Jesus Christ. God [is] faithful, by whom ye have been called into [the] fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.
¹⁰ Now I exhort^e you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all say the same thing, and that there be not among you divisions; but that ye be perfectly united^f in the same mind and in the same ¹¹ opinion. For it has been shewn to me concerning you, my brethren, by those of [the house of] Chlōe, that ¹² there are strifes among you. But I speak of this, that each of you says, I am of Paul, and I of Apollos, and I ¹³ of Cephas, and I of Christ. Is the Christ divided? has Paul been crucified for you? or have ye been baptised unto the name of Paul? I ¹⁴ thank God that I have baptised none of you, unless Crispus and Gaius, that ¹⁵ no one may say that I have baptised^g unto my own name. Yes, I baptised also the house of Stephanas; for the rest I know not if I have baptised

¹⁶ any other. For Christ has not sent me to baptise, but to preach glad tidings; not in wisdom of word, that the cross of the Christ may not be made ¹⁷ vain. For the word of the cross^h is to them that perish foolishness, but to us that are saved it is God's power.
¹⁸ For it is written, I will destroy the

^b I am not quite satisfied with 'in respect of.' It is not ὑπέρ with a genitive, signifying 'for;' nor διὰ, with an accusative, signifying 'on account of;' but ἐν with a dative, which has the force of 'the occasion of,' or condition under which anything happens, not its cause. 'By occasion of' is hardly English. We use 'to occasion' and 'occasion' in a somewhat similar way. If any prefer 'by reason of,' I know of no objection.

^c λόγῳ, whatever is the expression of a thought formed in the mind, and otherwise unknown; hence used for the thing expressed, or the expression of it: hence 'word.' Here it is the communication of the mind of God in the gospel of Christ. (See ii. 1.) I retain therefore 'word' in the expression 'all word, and all knowledge,' adding 'of doctrine' in brackets, because 'in all word' is scarcely English, and the 'word of doctrine' is, I believe, here the sense. 'Utterance' gives the sense imperfectly. It is the matter and form of thought and expression, as well as the utterance of it. It is a word so large in sense as to be very hard to express. Whatever expresses the mind is λόγος. Νοῦς is the intelligent faculty: whatever expresses the thought formed in it is λόγος. When it is in exercise, there is thinking, and consequently a thought, νόημα. As the Platonists said, there is the intelligent and intelligible; what is νοερός and νοητός. But to be a positive object of another's mind, and so de facto, and not merely abstractedly, νοητός, there must be λόγος, the objective subject matter of thought in another. Thus all that communicates the divine mind (the intelligible) is λόγος, and first of all Christ. But we are said, having the Holy Ghost, to have also the νοῦς of Christ, the intelligent faculty with its thoughts. (Chap. ii. 16.)

^f κατηρητισμένοι, where all the members have each its own place, or make a whole; or, if broken, are restored to one complete and perfect whole.

^h Or, 'the word which [speaks] of the cross.'

I CORINTHIANS I. II.

wisdom of the wise, and set aside the understanding of the understanding ones. Where [is the] wise? where scribe? where disputer of this world?¹ has not God made foolish the wisdom of the^k world?¹ For since, in the wisdom of God, the world¹ by wisdom has not known God, God has been pleased by the foolishness of the preaching^m to save those that believe. Since Jews indeed ask for signs,ⁿ and Greeks seek wisdom; but we preach Christ crucified, to Jews an offence,^o and to nations^p foolishness; but to those that [are] called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ God's power and God's wisdom. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men. For consider your calling, brethren, that [there are] not many wise according to flesh, not many powerful, not many high-born. But God has chosen the foolish things of the world, that he may put to shame the wise;^q and God has chosen the weak things of the world, that he may put to shame the strong things; and the ignoble things of the world, and the despised, has God chosen, [and^r] things that are not, that he may annul the things that are; so that no flesh should boast before God.^s But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who has been made to us wisdom from God, and righteousness,

³¹ and holiness,^t and redemption; that according as it is written, He that boasts, let him boast in [the] Lord.^v

II. And I, when I came to you, brethren, came not in excellency of word, or wisdom, announcing to you the testimony of God. For I did not judge [it well] to know anything among you save Jesus Christ, and ⁸ him crucified. And I was with you in weakness and in fear and in much ⁴ trembling; and my word and my preaching, not in persuasive words of^w wisdom, but in demonstration of ⁵ [the] Spirit and of power; that your faith might not stand^x in men's wisdom, but in God's power.

⁶ But we speak wisdom among the perfect; but wisdom not of this world,ⁱ nor of the rulers of this ⁷ world,ⁱ who come to nought. But we speak God's wisdom in [a] mystery, that hidden [wisdom] which God had predetermined before the ⁸ ages^y for our glory: which none of the princes of this age^z knew, (for had they known, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory;) ⁹ but according as it is written, Things which eye has not seen, and ear not heard, and which have not come into man's heart, which^a God has prepared for them that love him, but God has revealed to us by [his^b] Spirit; for the Spirit ~~searches~~ all things, ¹¹ even the depths of God. For who of men hath known the things of a man^c

^m 'The preaching' gives a different sense from 'preaching.' Without the article it is the instrument, the foolishness of such a means. Here 'the preaching' is the actual thing preached; and such is the power of the Greek form of word κήρυγμα, not κήρυξις nor τοῦ κηρύσσειν.

ⁿ T. R. reads 'a sign,' with L 37 47; 'signs' ⁸ A B C D E F G P 17 Am Syrr Memph.

^y Or 'worlds.' I add this in note to keep up the connection with 'world' in verse 6, where 'world' has a moral signification: see Eph. ii. 2.

^z Or 'world.'

^b 'His' is a doubtful reading. If rejected it should be 'the Spirit': D E F G L P 37 47 and most others Am Syrr versions insert αὐτοῦ; ⁸ A B C 17 Memph omit.

^c 'Man' here has the article, but the sense is this: what is in man's mind is not known of any except the spirit of the man which is in him? thus also the things of God knows no one except the Spirit of God. But we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit^d which [is] of God, that we may know the things which have been freely given to us of God: which also we speak, not in words taught by human wisdom,^e but in those taught by the^f Spirit, communicating^g spiritual [things] by spiritual [means]. But [the] natural^h man does not receive the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him; and he cannot know [them] because they are spiritually discerned; but the spiritual discerns all things, and he is discerned of no one. For who has known the mind of [the] Lord, who shall instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

III. And I, brethren, have not been able to speak to you as to spiritual, but as to fleshly;ⁱ as to babes in Christ. I have given you milk to drink,^k not meat, for ye have not yet been able, nor indeed are ye yet able;

but the spirit of the man himself, who has the thoughts; a fortiori it is so with God.

^d Note here again the difficulty, arising from 'spirit' used for cause and state, as to putting a large S to signify the person of the Holy Ghost.

^e It may perhaps be translated, 'taught words of human wisdom.'

^g Or 'expounding:' the word means literally 'mixing or putting together;' but the use of it, as interpreting or expounding, is common in the LXX; Num. xv. 34; Gen. xl. 8; xli. 12, 15. σύγκριμα and σύγκρισις are the words constantly used in Daniel for 'interpretation' and 'interpreting.' It seems also 'to decide or decree;' the communication of the judge's mind, as well as of God's before unknown. To this Num. xv. 34 may be referred. The opposition of ἀνακρίνω left no doubt in my mind before I found its use in the LXX.

ⁱ σάρκινος, with \aleph A B C D 17; E F G L P 37 47 - κοίς: (both times in verse 3 σάρκινος \aleph A B C E L P; D F G σάρκινος). Rom. vii. 14 and Heb. vii. 16, in the oldest MSS; and 2 Cor. iii. 3, in all, have σάρκινος, a form which Winer (Gr. 122) says is properly the material. But there are many places where σάρκινος is used for either, as Rom.

for ye are yet carnal. For whereas [there are] among you emulation and strife,¹ are ye not carnal, and walk according to man? For when one says, I am of Paul, and another, I of Apollos, are ye not men?² Who then is Apollos, and who Paul? Ministering servants,³ through whom ye have believed, and as the Lord has given to each. I have planted; Apollos watered; but God has given the increase. So that neither the planter is anything, nor the waterer; but God the giver of the increase. But the planter and the waterer are one; but each shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. For we are God's fellow-workmen;⁴ ye are God's husbandry, God's building. According to the grace of God which has been given to me, as a wise architect, I have laid the foundation, but another builds upon it. But let each see how he builds upon it. For other foundation can no man lay besides that which [is] laid, which is Jesus Christ.⁵ Now if any one build upon [this⁶] foundation, gold, silver, precious stones,

xv. 27, physical; Rom. vii. 14, moral; 2 Cor. iii. 3, physical (σάρκινος). Here (1 Cor. iii. 3) σάρκινος is neither ψυχικός merely nor πνευματικός. 1 Pet. ii. 11, 'fleshly lusts,' shews how in N. T. thoughts they run into one another. In classical Greek σάρκινος is generally physical. In the LXX we find only σάρκινος in 2 Chron. xxxii. 8; Ezek. xi. 19; xxxvi. 26, only there is another reading σάρκινος in 2 Chron.

³ T. R. reads 'Who then is Paul and who Apollos, but ministering servants' (see also note to iv. 1, here διάκονοι), with L 47 Syrr. 'Who,' with C D E F G L P 37 47 Syrr Memph. 'What' \aleph A B 17 Am.

⁴ 'Workers, or labourers together with God,' goes too far. I have no doubt that συνεργός has the sense of journeyman, but they are fellows doing the chief's work, as Gesell in German, and even compagnon in French.

⁵ T. R. reads 'Jesus the Christ,' with a few cursives; D E Am 'Christ Jesus;' text \aleph A B L P 17 37 47 Memph.

Some omit τοῦτον, with \aleph A B C; we should then read 'the foundation.'

¹³ wood, grass, straw, the work of each shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare [it], because it is revealed in fire;^r and the fire^s shall ¹⁴ try the work of each what it is. If the work of any one which he has built upon [the foundation] shall ¹⁵ abide,^t he shall receive a reward. If the work of any one shall be consumed, he shall suffer loss, but he shall be saved, but so as through ¹⁶ [the] fire.^v Do ye not know that ye are [the] temple^w of God, and [that] ¹⁷ the Spirit of God dwells in you? If any one corrupt^x the temple^w of God, him^y shall God destroy;^x for the temple^w of God is holy, and such ¹⁸ are ye. Let no one deceive himself: if any one thinks himself to be wise among you in this world, let him become foolish, that he may be wise.
¹⁹ For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God; for it is written, He who takes the wise in their ²⁰ craftiness. And again, [The] Lord knows the reasonings of the wise ²¹ that they are vain. So that let no one boast in men; for all things ²² are yours. Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or [the] world, or life, or death, or things present, or ²³ things coming, all are yours; and ye [are] Christ's, and Christ [is] God's.

IV. Let a man so account of us as servants^z of Christ, and stewards of ² [the] mysteries of God. Here,^a further, it is sought in stewards that a ³ man be found faithful. But for me it is the very smallest matter that I be examined^b of you or of man's day. Nor do I even examine my-⁴ self. For I am conscious of nothing in myself; but I am not justified by this: but he that examines ⁵ me is the Lord. So that do not judge anything before [the] time, until the Lord shall come, who shall also both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and shall make manifest the counsels of hearts; and then shall each have [his] praise from God.^c

^r That is, the day. Compare 2 Thess. ii. 8. The word used for revealing the character of the work is another here, δηλώσει. I doubt much that ἀποκαλύπτω has ever that sense.

^t T. R. reads 'abide.' The change is only that of an accent, but justified by the whole phrase; so Am Syrr Memph and others.

^v Here the addition of the article wholly changes the sense: 'saved by fire' is as if the fire was a means of safety, whereas 'through the fire' is in spite of it, or going through the danger and difficulty of it. διά has the same double sense as 'through' in English. Compare 1 Peter iii. 20.

^x φθείρει, φθερεῖ. The word for 'destroy' and 'corrupt' is the same in Greek; the force of this, as to terms, is necessarily lost in English.

^y τοῦτον, 'this [man],' is in & B C L P 17 37 47 Memph; but 'him' gives the sense, only τοῦτον is more emphatic: I have therefore put 'him' in italics. αὐτόν A D E F G Am Syrr (Syr-Hel in marg.). Very likely τοῦτον is the better reading.

^z The appointed servant, ὑπηρέτης. Three words are translated 'servant' in Auth. Ver.: δούλος, a slave; διάκονος, a person who acts or waits in service; and ὑπηρέτης. This last is always used in the New Testament as an official servant, or messenger, or apparitor.

^a T. R. omits 'Here,' reading ὁ δέ for ὧδε, but with little authority. Some copies read 'ye seek' for 'is sought.' Text B L 37 47 and others Am Syrr Memph. ζητεῖτε & A C D E F G P 17.

^b ἀνακρίνω: the word does not signify 'judgment,' but the preliminary examination, at which the accused has to answer and give an account of himself.

^d The word is used for a metaphor no doubt, because a metaphor transfers the thoughts as to one object, to another which is an image of it. Amos says 'The lion has roared,' speaking of God's threatening ways with Israel, as if he were his prey: in thought it is to be transferred to Israel. So here Paul is really speaking of those who came with great pretensions amongst the Corinthians, and he transferred it to himself and Apollos, that he might establish the principle universally, without naming these persons. By saying he 'transferred' it, the application was easy: but one can hardly say that is a figure.

^e Some have 'letting your thoughts go,' φρονεῖν, in text, with L P 17 37 47 Syrr Memph; but & A B D E F G Am omit it. I suspect it has the end of the sentence ill connected in the words which follow. Athanasius has φυσιοῦσθαι for φρονεῖν.

I CORINTHIANS IV. V.

⁷ against another. For who makes thee to differ? and what hast thou which thou hast not received? but if also thou hast received, why boastest ⁸ thou as not receiving? Already ye are filled; already ye have been enriched; ye have reigned without us; and I would that ye reigned, that ⁹ we also might reign with you. For I think that God has set us the apostles for the last, as appointed to death. For we have become a spectacle to the world, both to angels and men. ¹⁰ We [are] fools for Christ's sake, but ye prudent in Christ: we weak, but ye strong: ye glorious, but we in dishonour. To the present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are in nakedness, and buffeted, and ¹² wander without a home, and labour, working with our own hands. Railed at, we bless; persecuted, we suffer ¹³ [it]; insulted,^f we entreat: we are become as [the] offscouring of the world, [the] refuse of all, until now. ¹⁴ Not [as] chiding do I write these things to you, but as my beloved children I admonish [you]. For if ye should have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet not many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you ¹⁶ through the glad tidings. I entreat^g you therefore, be my imitators. ¹⁷ For this reason I have sent to you Timotheus, who is my beloved and faithful child in [the] Lord, who shall put you in mind of my ways [as] they [are] in Christ, according as I teach everywhere in every assembly. But some have been puffed up, as if I were not coming to you;

^g Or 'exhort,' παρακαλέω: a word which has to be rendered very differently in English in different places, and hard to render, though simple and easy to understand. It means 'calling upon a person so as to stimulate him to anything:' hence 'to exhort, and to comfort, encourage:' it has a fuller force here than a mere apostolic or pastoral exhortation.

^h 'It is universally reported' does not quite give the sense of ὅλος ἀκούεται. It was the reputation they had got by common report.

ⁱ T. R. adds 'named,' with L P 37 47 an most Syrr; \aleph A B C D E F G 17 Am Memph omit.

¹¹ but I will come quickly to you, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of those that are puffed up, ²⁰ but the power. For the kingdom of God [is] not in word but in power. ²¹ What will ye? that I come to you with a rod; or in love, and [in] a spirit of meekness?

V. It is universally reported^h [that there is] fornication among you, and such fornication as [is] not evenⁱ among the nations, so that one should ² have his father's wife. And ye are puffed up, and ye have not rather mourned, in order that he that has done this deed might be taken away ³ out of the midst of you. For I, [as^j] absent in body but present in spirit, have already judged as present, [to deliver,] in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ^k (ye and my spirit being gathered together, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ), him ⁵ that has so wrought this: to deliver him, [I say,] [being] such, to Satan for destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of ⁶ the Lord Jesus. Your boasting [is] not good. Do ye not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? ⁷ Purge^l out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, according as ye are unleavened. For also our passover, Christ, has been sacrificed;^m ⁸ so that let us celebrate the feast, not with old leaven, nor with leaven of malice and wickedness, but with unleavened [bread] of sincerity and truth.

⁹ I have written to you in the epistle ¹⁰ not to mix with fornicators; ⁿ not

^k Some omit 'Christ' here both times. \aleph has it the first time, but not the ἡμῶν, 'our.' There is more authority for its omission the second time. \aleph P, with many others Am, have it the first time; A B D neither time.

^l T. R. adds 'therefore,' with C L P 17 37 47 and many others; \aleph A B D E F G Am Memph omit.

altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the avaricious and^o rapacious, or idolaters, since [then] ye should go out of the world.

- ¹¹ But now I have written to you, if any one called brother be fornicator, or avaricious, or idolater, or abusive, or a drunkard, or rapacious, not to mix with [him]; with such a one ¹² not even to eat. For what have I [to do] with judging those outside also?^p ye, do not ye judge them ¹³ that are within? But those without God judges.^a ^rRemove the wicked person from amongst yourselves.

VI. Dare any one of you, having a matter against another, prosecute his suit before the unjust, and not ² before the saints? ^sDo ye not then know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy of [the] ³ smallest judgments?^t Do ye not know that we shall judge angels? and not then matters of this life? ⁴ If then ye have judgments as to things of this life, set those [to judge] who are little esteemed in the assembly. I speak to you [to put you] to shame. Thus there is not a wise person among you, not even one, who shall be able to decide between ⁶ his brethren!^v But brother prosecutes his suit with brother, and that ⁷ before unbelievers. Already indeed then it is altogether a fault in you^w that ye have suits between yourselves. Why do ye not rather suffer wrong? why are ye not rather de-⁸ frauded? But ye do wrong, and defraud, and this^x [your] brethren.

⁹ Do ye not know that unrighteous [persons] shall not inherit [the] kingdom of God? Do not err: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor those who make women of themselves, nor who abuse themselves with men, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor abusive persons, nor [the] rapacious, shall ¹¹ inherit [the] kingdom of God. And these things were some of you; but ye have been washed, but ye have been sanctified, but ye have been justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

- ¹² All things are lawful to me, but all things do not profit; all things are lawful to me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.
¹³ Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats; but God will bring to nothing both it and them: but the body [is] not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.
¹⁴ And God has both raised up the Lord, and will raise us up from among [the dead] by his power.
¹⁵ Do ye not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then, taking the members of the Christ, make [them] members of a harlot? Far be the thought. Do ye not know that he [that is] joined to the harlot is one body? for the two, he says, shall be one flesh.^y

^o T. R. reads 'or,' with E L 47 Am Syrr Memph; text \aleph A B C D F G P 17.

^p Many authorities omit 'also,' with \aleph A B C F G P 17 Am Memph; D E L 37 47 have it.

^a On the whole I prefer 'judges,' though the Fathers and Vulgate read 'will judge;' Ital. 'judges.' The older MSS afford no help, as it is the difference merely of an accent, κρίνει and κρίνεται.

^s η is added here, which is not in T. R. \aleph A B C D F G P 17 37 Am Syrr insert; E L 47 and others omit; but it has the force of a question, but with some expression of surprise suggested, as 'is it so that you do not?' previous circumstances leading to suppose they could not know, or the like; so that something of the original sense of 'or' is in its use. The 'or' may be used here. Compare the same sense of η in Romans vi. 3, vii. 1, xi. 2. In Rom. ii. 4 the force of 'or' is more apparent. Compare Matt. vii. 9, xx. 15, Rom. iii. 29, in which last it is a simple question. I have put 'then' as the force in English. 'Or do ye not know' may be said.

^y εἰς σάρκα μίαν. It is impossible to translate εἰς here in English: 'shall' or 'shall become,' is the nearest in sense. The word is left out in Greek when he says 'one Spirit.' We are really 'one Spirit,' not two, with the Lord. But we cannot say, 'to' or 'for one flesh.' The two become so practically by their union; they are

¹⁷ But he that [is] joined to the Lord ¹⁸ is one Spirit. Flee fornication.
 Every sin which a man may practise is without the body, but he that commits fornication sins against his ¹⁹ own body. Do ye not know that your body is [the] temple of the Holy Spirit which [is] in you, which ye have of God; and ye are not ²⁰ your own? for ye have been bought with a price: glorify now then God in your body.²

VII. But concerning the things of which ye have written [to me^a]: [It is] good for a man not to touch a
² woman; but on account of fornications, let each have his own wife, and each [woman] have her own
³ husband. Let the husband render her due^b to the wife, and in like manner the wife to the husband.
⁴ The wife has not authority over her own body, but the husband: in like manner also the husband has not authority over his own body, but the
⁵ wife. Defraud^c not one another, unless, it may be, by consent for a time, that ye may devote yourselves to^d prayer, and again be^e together, that Satan tempt you not because of ⁶ your incontinency. But this I say, as consenting [to],^f not as commanding [it]. Now^g I wish all men to be even as myself: but every one has his own gift of God: one man thus,

⁸ and another thus. But I say to the unmarried and to the widows, It is good for them that they remain even as I. But if they have not control over themselves, let them marry; for it is better to marry than to burn. But to the married I enjoin, not I, but the Lord, Let not wife be separated
¹¹ from husband; (but if also she shall have been separated, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband;) and let not husband leave ¹² wife. But as to the rest, I say, not the Lord, If any brother have an unbelieving wife, and she consent to dwell with him, let him not leave ¹³ her. And a woman who has an unbelieving husband, and he consents to dwell with her, let her not ¹⁴ leave [her] husband.^h For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother;ⁱ since [otherwise] indeed your children are ¹⁵ unclean, but now they are holy. But if the unbeliever go away, let them^j go away; a brother or a sister is not bound in such [cases], but God has ¹⁶ called us in peace. For what knowest thou, O wife, if thou shalt save thy husband? or what knowest thou, O husband, if thou shalt save thy wife?
¹⁷ However, as the Lord has divided to each, as God^k has called each, so let created individually. The union induces unity in the flesh; 'shall be,' or 'shall become' partly, though imperfectly, implies this. It is not therefore said 'shall be one Spirit:' but 'he is.' The Spirit which is in the Lord himself dwells in us, and in the living power of the new life. I know not how to express it better in English; but this note was needed to explain the difference. It is the Hebrew לֵב .

^d $\text{\textit{\text{ἀποστερεῖτε}}}$ means to 'deprive another of anything wrongfully:' so that it has the sense of 'rob,' 'defraud;' but with the sense of taking away, or depriving of, what another had a right to. Such is the sense. I have said 'defraud,' as it is the same word as in vi. 7, 8. The sense is just the same; only here it is of one another.

him walk; and thus I ordain in all the ¹⁸ assemblies. Has any one been called circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised: has any one been called in uncircumcision? let him ¹⁹ not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but keeping God's com-²⁰ mandments. Let each abide in that calling in which he has been called.
²¹ Hast thou been called [being] a bond-man, let it not concern thee; but and if thou canst become free, use ²² [it] rather. For the bondman that is called in [the] Lord is the Lord's freedman; in like manner [also¹] the freeman being called is Christ's bond-²³ man. Ye have been bought with a price; do not be the bondmen of ²⁴ men. Let each, wherein he is called, brethren, therein abide with God.
²⁵ But concerning virgins, I have no commandment of [the] Lord; but I give my opinion, as having received mercy of [the] Lord to be faithful.
²⁶ I think then that this is good, on account of the present necessity, that [it is] good for a man to remain ²⁷ so as he is. Art thou bound to a wife? seek not to be loosed; art thou free from a wife? do not seek ²⁸ a wife. But if thou shouldest also marry, thou hast not sinned; and if the virgin marry, they have^m not sinned: but such shall have tribulation in the flesh; but I spare you.
²⁹ But this I say, brethren, the time is straitened. For the rest, that they who have wives,ⁿ be as not having [any]: and they that weep, as not weeping; and they that rejoice, as not rejoicing; and they that buy, ³¹ as not possessing; and they that use the^o world, as not disposing of it as their own;^p for the fashion of ³² this world passes. But I wish you to be without care. The unmarried cares for the things of the Lord, how ³³ he shall please the Lord; but he that has married cares for the things of the world, how he shall please ³⁴ his^a wife. There is a difference between the wife and the virgin. The unmarried cares for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and spirit; but she that has married cares for the things of the world, how she shall please her hus-³⁵ band. But I say this for your own profit; not that I may set a snare before you, but for what [is] seemly, and waiting on the Lord without ³⁶ distraction. But if any one think that he behaves unseemly to his virginity, if he be beyond the flower of his age, and so it must be, let him do what he will, he does not sin: let ³⁷ them marry. But he who stands firm in his heart, having no need, but has authority over his own will,

and has judged this in his heart to keep his own virginity, he does well.
³⁸ So that he that marries himself^r does well; and^s he that does not marry ³⁹ does better. A wife is bound^t for whatever time her husband lives;
but if^u the^v husband be fallen asleep, she is free to be married to whom

ⁿ It may be translated 'for the rest [I say it], in order that even they who have wives.' Some have translated 'the time is straitened, or shortened henceforth.' $\tauὸ$ λοιπόν is so used with a verb. But I can hardly think it to be so used here. T. VIII. But concerning things sacrificed to idols, we know,^w (for we all have knowledge: knowledge puffs ² up, but love edifies. ³ If any one think he knows^y anything, he knows nothing^z yet as he ought to know ³ [it]. But if any one love God, he is ⁴ known of him):—concerning then the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that an idol [is] nothing in [the] world, and that there ⁵ [is] no other^a God save one. For and if indeed there are [those] called gods, whether in heaven or on earth,^b (as there are gods many, and lords ⁶ many,) yet to us [there is] one God, the Father, of whom all things, and we for him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, by whom [are] all things, ⁷ and we by him. But knowledge [is] not in all: but some, with conscience^c of the idol, until now eat as of a thing sacrificed to idols; and their conscience, being weak, is defiled. But meat does^d not commend us to God;^e neither if we should not eat do we come short; nor if we should eat have we an advantage. ⁹ But see lest anywise this your right^f [to eat] itself be a stumbling block to ¹⁰ the weak. For if any one see thee, who hast knowledge, sitting at table in an idol-house, shall not his conscience, he being weak,^g be emboldened^h to eat the things sacrificed ¹¹ to the idol? andⁱ the weak [one], the brother for whose sake Christ died, will perish through^j thy knowledge. Now, thus sinning against the ¹² brethren, and wounding their weak

^w The words for 'know' are different here, though the distinction is very faint in Greek. 'We all have knowledge' is of objective knowledge: γνώσις, 'knowledge [the same word] puffs up.' If any man thinks he knows, (εἰδέναι: has the inward conscious knowledge of in his mind,) 'he knows [objectively: ἐγνώκε] nothing as he ought to know it' (the same word). 'But if any man love God, the same is known [objectively] of him.' 'Concerning eating things offered to idols, we know' (have the conscious knowledge in our minds). Verse 10, 'If any one see thee, which hast knowledge' (objectively, what a man has learned, acquired). So verse 11. Hence from the word meaning 'inward conscious knowledge,' a derivative means 'conscience.' So 'I know nothing against myself,' I am conscious of no fault. So 2 Tim. i. 12: 'I know whom I have believed.' I have the inward conscious knowledge: not, 'I know him.' Thus we might say in English, 'I know whom I know, or what I know.' The first is inward conscious knowledge; the other objective, being acquainted with. Objective knowledge however passes into consciousness, but not vice versa. They are expressed by savoir and connaître in French, wissen and kennen in German. Thus, when one has no need to inform a person because he has the knowledge of it already in his own mind, I can say οἶδας, not γινώσκεις: thus in 2 Tim. i. 15. When it was not already known and realised in the mind, but communicated objectively to it—'This know'—it is τοῦτο δὲ γινώσκε, 2 Tim. iii. 1. 2 Tim. iii. 14, 'knowing of whom thou hast learned them:' he was conscious of it, οἶδας. So οἶδας, 'thou hast known the scriptures:' he had the knowledge of them in his own mind realised. Though the difference is made in French and German, it must not be supposed that the distinct use of the words corresponds exactly, but it suffices here to have shewn the use in Greek. The German seems to me to answer more fully to the Greek, but different nations think differently. Thus 'ye know the household of Stephanas.' It was their inward acquaintance with their qualities, not objective; it is οἶδατε. Of such a process the French is incapable. It must be vous connaissez, or explicitly vous savez ce qui en est de. ἐπίγνωσις is used for certain objective knowledge, and consequent recognition of the truth of a thing.

IX. Am I not free?^k am I not an apostle? have I not seen Jesus^l our Lord? are not ye my work in [the] ² Lord? If I am not an apostle to others, yet at any rate I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ³ ye in [the] Lord. My defence to ⁴ those who examine me is this: Have we not a right to eat and to drink?
⁵ have we not a right to take round a sister [as] wife, as also the other apostles, and the brethren of the ⁶ Lord, and Cephas? Or I alone and Barnabas, have we not a right not ⁷ to work? Who ever carries on war at his own charges? who plants a vineyard and does not eat of^m its fruit? or who herds a flock and does not eat of the milk of the flock?
⁸ Do I speak these things as a man, or does not the law also say these ⁹ things? Forⁿ in the law of Moses it is written, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that is treading out corn. Is ¹⁰ God occupied about the oxen, or does he say [it] altogether for our sakes? Forⁿ for our sakes it has been written, that the plougher should plough in^o hope, and he that treads out corn, in hope of partaking

¹¹ of [it].^p If we have sown to you spiritual things, [is it a] great [thing] if we shall reap your^q carnal things?
¹² If others partake of this right over you, should not rather we? But we have not used this right, but we bear all things, that we may put no hindrance in the way of the glad tidings of the Christ. Do ye not know that they who labour [at] sacred things^r eat of the [offerings offered in the] temple;^s they that attend at the altar partake with ¹⁴ the altar? So also the Lord has ordained to those that announce the glad tidings to live of the glad tidings. But I have used none of these things. Now I have not written these things that it should be thus in my case; for [it were] good for me rather to die than that any one should make vain my boast.
¹⁶ For if I announce the glad tidings, I have nothing to boast of; for a necessity is laid upon me; for^t it is woe to me if I should not announce ¹⁷ the glad tidings. For if I do this voluntarily, I have a reward; but if not of my own will, I am entrusted ¹⁸ with an administration. What is the reward then that I have? That in announcing the glad tidings I make the glad tidings^v costless [to others], so as not to have made use, as belonging to me,^w of my right in ⁿ I have preserved these two 'fors' as an example of the rapidity of the apostle's style. To make the sense hang together, we should have to add in the first case, 'not as a man merely,' or, 'surely it does: 'For in the law of Moses,' &c.; and in the second 'not about the oxen, for for our sakes,' &c.

^o Or 'with.' See Rom. iv. 18.

^r Or 'perform the sacred rites.'

^s Or 'of what is sacred,' ἐκ τοῦ ἱεροῦ. It is well to distinguish ναός, 'the house,' and ἱερόν,

'the buildings in general of the temple.' The English language, not formed on the existence of temple worship, affords no appropriate word to distinguish them. The sanctuary is properly 'the holy of holies: ' ναός includes both parts of the house.

^w καταχρησασθαι: it is the same word as that I have translated chap. vii. 31, 'not disposing of it as his own,' instead of 'abusing.' καταχρησάσθαι, according to a common force of κατά in composition, is 'to use as one who has possession of a thing; ' using it as he likes, as his own. The apostle, as sent of the Lord to preach, had a right to be supported; but he did not use this right. It would not have been an abuse; but he did not use it for himself, as a thing he possessed. He weighed the effect as to Christ's glory. 'Made use of it ' hardly fully expresses

¹⁹ [announcing] the glad tidings. For being free from all, I have made myself bondman to all, that I might ²⁰ gain the most [possible].^x And I became to the Jews as a Jew, in order that I might gain the Jews: to those under law, as under law, not being myself under law,^y in order that I might gain those under ²¹ law: to those without law,^z as without law, (not as without law to God, but as legitimately subject to Christ,) in order that I might gain ²² [those] without law. I became to the weak, [as^a] weak, in order that I might gain the weak. To all I have become all things, in order that at all events^b I might save ²³ some. And I do all things^c for the sake of the glad tidings, that I may be fellow-partaker with them.

²⁴ Know ye not that they who run in [the] race-course run all, but one receives the prize? Thus run in ²⁵ order that ye may obtain. But every one that contends [for a prize] is temperate in all things: they then indeed that they may receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible. ²⁶ I therefore thus run, as not uncertainly; so I combat, as not ²⁷ beating the air. But I buffet my body, and lead it captive, lest [after] having preached to others I should be myself rejected.

X. For^d I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed ² through the sea; and all were baptised^e unto Moses in the cloud and ³ in the sea; and all ate the same ⁴ spiritual food, and all drank the same spiritual drink, for they drank of a spiritual rock which followed [them]: (now the rock was the ⁵ Christ;) yet God was not pleased with the most of them, for they were ⁶ strewed in the desert. But these things happened [as] types of us, that we should not be lusters after evil ⁷ things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to ⁸ play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fell in one day three ⁹ and twenty thousand. Neither let us tempt the Christ,^f as^g some of them tempted, and perished by ser- ¹⁰ pents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them^h murmured, and perished the force of it. The sense is given in result in adding 'as belonging to me.' παραχράσμαι is 'to misuse' or 'abuse.' It is so used by Philo, as to the world, in his treatise on Joseph, ἰδιον τοῦτο χρῶ μὴ παραχρώμενος. (Vol. ii. p. 61, l. 41. ed. Mangey.)

^x 'The most possible.' I think this gives the sense of τοὺς πλείονας. It is used for the major part of any body, and hence for the mass opposed to leaders. It is not 'the more,' i.e., so much the more, but the greatest number possible, the whole mass that he could reach by these means.

^y T. R. omits 'not being myself under law,' with K 37 47 Memph; text \aleph A B C D E F G P 17 and others Am.

^z ἄνομος, important, as shewing the true force of the word employed elsewhere: ἡ ἀμαρτία ἐστὶν ἡ ἀνομία, 'lawlessness,' not 'transgression of law,' (1 John iii. 4.) 'Under law to Christ' (not under the law) ἐννομος, rightfully, duly, subject to Him. I have said 'legitimately' to preserve the connexion with law; ἐννομος is what is lawful and right. (Acts xix. 39.)

^a T. R. has 'as' in text, with C D E F G K L P 17 37 47 Syrr Memph. \aleph A B Am omit.

^b Or 'by all means.'

^d T. R. reads δέ, 'Now,' or 'But,' with K L 37 47 and others Syrr; text \aleph A B C D E F G P 17 Am Memph. The Auth. Ver. has 'Moreover.' 'For,' γάρ, which the best copies read, gives the connection.

^e \aleph A C D E F G 17 have ἐβαπτίσθησαν for ἐβαπτίσαντο, read by B K L P 37 47. The middle form of the verb is also used in Acts xxii. The difference is difficult to express in English, as we have no middle voice which has a reflective force. It is when an act returns back in its effect on oneself. Paul was to act in this case as Acts xxii. 16; not to baptise himself, that would be active; but 'get baptised.' 'Be baptised' gives this where the command is to the person. Here we must say the same in English. They passed through the sea and so got baptised. There was no action of course of a baptiser here, hence the middle voice. The many MSS which have the passive, overlooking this, used the habitual passive word, in which the action is that of another: as Acts x. 47, 48.

^g T. R. adds 'also,' with E K L 47 and others; \aleph A B C D F G P 17 37 Am Memph omit.

I CORINTHIANS X. XI.

¹¹ by the destroyer. Now allⁱ these things happened to them [as] types,^j and have been written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ages are come. So that let him that thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall. No temptation has taken you but such as is according to man's nature; and God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above what ye are able [to bear], but will with the temptation make the issue also, so that [ye^k] should be able to bear [it]. Wherefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. I speak as to intelligent [persons]: do ye judge what I say. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not [the] communion of the blood of the Christ? The bread which we break, is it not [the] communion of the body of the Christ? Because we, [being] many, are one loaf,^l one body; for we all partake of that one loaf.^l See Israel according to flesh: are not they who eat the sacrifices in communion with the altar? What then do I say? that what is sacrificed to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything?^m But that what [the nationsⁿ] sacrifice they sacrifice to demons, and not to God. Now I do not wish you to be in communion with demons. Ye cannot drink [the] Lord's cup, and [the] cup of demons: ye cannot partake of [the] Lord's table, and of [the] table of demons. Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?

²³ All things are lawful,^o but all are not profitable; all things are lawful,^o but all do not edify. Let no one seek his own [advantage], but^p that of the other. Everything sold in the shambles eat, making no inquiry for conscience sake. For the earth [is] the Lord's and its fulness. But if any one of the unbelievers invite you, and ye are minded to go, all that is set before you eat, making no inquiry for conscience sake. But if any one say to you, This is offered to holy purposes,^q do not eat, for his sake that pointed it out, and conscience sake;^r but conscience, I mean, not thine own, but that of the other: for why is my liberty judged by another conscience? ^sIf I partake with thanksgiving, why am I spoken evil of for what I give thanks for? Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatever ye do, do all things to God's glory. Give no occasion to stumbling, whether to Jews, or Greeks, or^t the assembly of God. Even as I also please all in all things; not seeking my own profit, but that of the many, that they may be saved. XI. Be my imitators, even as I also [am] of Christ.

² Now I praise you,^v that in all things ye are mindful of me; and that as I have directed you, ye keep

^o T. R. adds 'for me' twice, with H K L 37 47 Syrr. 'Are lawful' is the verb, of which the word translated (viii. 9) 'right or liberty' is the noun. The word 'liberty' (ver. 29 of this chapter) is another one.

^p T. R. reads 'but every one,' with E K L 37 47 and many others Syrr; N A B C D F G H P 17 71 Am Memph omit.

I CORINTHIANS XI.

³ the directions.^w But I wish you to know that the Christ is the head of every man,^x but woman's head [is] the man, and the^y Christ's head
⁴ God. Every man praying or prophesying, having [anything] on his ⁵ head, puts his head to shame. But every woman praying or prophesying with her head uncovered puts her own head to shame; for it is one and the same as a shaved [woman].
⁶ For if a woman be not covered, let her hair also be cut off. But if [it be] shameful to a woman to have her hair cut off or to be ⁷ shaved, let her be covered. For man^x indeed ought not to have his^z head covered,^a being God's image and glory; but woman is man's^b
⁸ glory. For man is not of woman,
⁹ but woman of man. For also man was not created for the sake of the woman, but woman for the sake of the man. Therefore ought the woman to have authority on her^z head, ¹⁰ on account of the angels. However, neither [is] woman without man, nor man without woman,^c in [the] ¹¹ Lord. For as the woman [is] of the man, so also [is] the man by the ¹² woman, but all things of God. Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman should pray to God uncovered?
¹³ Does not even nature itself teach you, that man, if^d he have long hair, it is a dishonour to him?
¹⁴ But woman, if she have long hair, [it is] glory to her; for the long hair is given [to her^e] in lieu of a veil.

¹⁵ But if any one think to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor the assemblies of God.
¹⁶ But [in] prescribing^f [to you on] this [which I now enter on], I do not praise,^g [namely,] that^h ye come together, not for the better, but for the worse. For first, when ye come together inⁱ assembly, I hear there exist divisions among you, and I ¹⁷ partly give credit [to it]. For there must also be sects^k among you, that the approved may become manifest ¹⁸ among you. When ye come therefore together into one place, it is not ¹⁹ to eat [the] Lord's supper. For each one in eating takes his own supper before [others], and one is hungry and ²⁰ another drinks to excess. Have ye not then houses for eating and drinking? or do ye despise the assembly of God, and put to shame them who have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you? In this [point]
²¹ I do not praise. For I received from the Lord, that which I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus, in the night in which he was delivered up, ²² took bread, and having given thanks broke [it], and said,^l This is my body, which [is]^m for you: this do in remembrance of me.ⁿ In like manner also the cup, after having supped, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood: this do, as often as ye shall drink [it], in remembrance of this bread, and drink the^o cup, ye announce the death of the Lord, ²⁷ until he come. So that whosoever shall eat the^o bread, or drink the cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty in respect of the body and ²⁸ of the blood of the Lord. But let a man prove himself, and thus eat of ²⁹ the bread, and drink of the cup. For [the] eater and drinker^p eats and drinks judgment^a to himself, not distinguishing the body.^r On this account many among you [are] weak and infirm, and a good many are ³¹ fallen asleep. But^s if we judged ourselves,^t so were we not judged. ³² But being judged, we are disciplined of [the] Lord, that we may not be ³³ condemned with the world. So that, my brethren, when ye come together ³⁴ to eat, wait for one another. ^u If any one be hungry, let him eat at home, that ye may not come together for judgment.^v But the other things, whenever I come, I will set in order.

XII. But concerning spiritual [manifestations], brethren, I do not wish ² you to be ignorant. Ye know that when^w ye were [of the] nations [ye were] led away to dumb idols, in ³ whatever way ye might be led. I give you therefore to know, that no one, speaking in [the power of the] Spirit of God, says, Curse [on] Jesus; and no one can say, Lord Jesus, unless in [the power of the] Holy Spirit. ⁴ But there are distinctions of gifts, ⁵ but the same Spirit; and there are distinctions of services, and the same ⁶ Lord; and there are distinctions of operations, but^x the same God who ⁷ operates all things in all. But to each the manifestation of the Spirit ⁸ is given for profit. For to one, by the Spirit, is given [the] word of wisdom; and to another [the] word of knowledge, according to the same ⁹ Spirit; and to a different one faith, in [the power of] the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healing in ¹⁰ [the power of] the same Spirit; and to another operations of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discerning of spirits; and to a different one kinds of tongues; and to another interpretation of ¹¹ tongues. But all these things operates the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each in particular according as he pleases. For even as the body is one and has many members, but all the members of the^y body, being many, are one body, so ¹³ also [is] the Christ. For also in [the power of]^z one Spirit we have all been baptised into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bondmen or free, and have all been given to ¹⁴ drink of^a one Spirit. For also the

^t Here the English language fails. 'Judge ourselves' is διακρίνω, not the same word as 'judged of the Lord,' but as 'distinguish the Lord's body.' But in 'distinguish' the active exercise of judgment on our own state is not expressed. The word is not applied to a formal scrutiny. Here the force is, If I scrutinise and judge myself, I shall not come under an actual judgment from the Lord's hand. Judging oneself has this force in English, while the Lord's judgment is felt to be a positive result of judgment affecting us.

^u T. R. adds 'But,' with E K L P 37 47 and others Syrr; \aleph A B C D F G 17 Am Memph omit.

¹⁵ If the foot say, Because I am not a hand I am not of the body, is it on account of^b this not indeed of the body?^c And if the ear say, Because I am not an eye I am not of the body, is it on account of this not indeed of the body?^c If the whole body [were] an eye, where the hearing? if all hearing, where the smelling? But now God has set the members, each one of them in the body, according as it has pleased [him]. But if all were one member, where the body?
²⁰ But now the members [are] many, and the body one.^d ^eThe eye cannot say to the hand, I have not need of thee; or again, the head to the feet, I have not need of you. But much rather, the members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary; and those [parts] of the body which we esteem to be the more void of honour,^f these we clothe with more abundant honour; and our uncomely [parts] have more abundant comeliness; but our comely [parts] have not need. But God has tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to [the part] that lacked; that there might be no division in the body, but that the members might have the same concern one for another.
²⁶ And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with [it]; and if one member be glorified, all the members rejoice with [it]. Now ye are Christ's body, and members in particular.
²⁸ And God has set certain in the assembly: first, apostles; secondly, prophets; thirdly, teachers; then miraculous powers; then gifts of healings; helps; governments; kinds of tongues. [Are] all apostles? [are] all prophets? [are] all teachers? [are] all [in possession of] miraculous powers? have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? ³¹ do all interpret? But desire earnestly the greater^g gifts, and yet shew I unto you a way of more surpassing excellence.

XIII. If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass ² or a clanging cymbal. And if I have prophecy, and know^h all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. ³ And if I shall doleⁱ out all my goods in food, and if I deliver up my body that I may be burned,^k but have not ⁴ love, I profit nothing. Love has long patience, is kind; love is not emulous [of others]; love is not insolent and ⁵ rash,^l is not puffed up, does not behave in an unseemly manner, does not seek what is its own, is not quickly ⁶ provoked, does not impute evil, does not rejoice at iniquity but rejoices with ⁷ the truth, bears^m all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures ⁸ all things. Love never fails; but whether prophecies, they shall be done away; or tongues, they shall cease; or knowledge, it shall be ⁹ done away. For we knowⁿ in part, ¹⁰ and we prophesy in part: but when

^f ἀτιμότερα. We may read 'and those [parts] of the body which we esteem to be less honourable, or dishonourable;' ἀτιμος means 'without honour, or dishonourable.' The question is if ἀτιμος be used as parallel with ἀσχήμων, or as contrasted as to degree. Does the apostle mean the same by ἀτιμότερα and ἀσχήμονα; or by one the seemly members, which yet have not such a place as the face; by the other, the unseemly?

^g T. R. reads 'better,' with D E F G K L 47 and others Memph; text \aleph A B C 17 37 Am.

^h εἰδῶ, 'know inwardly in my mind,' 'am acquainted with.'

ⁱ T. R. (not Stephanus) reads 'if I dole,' with K and a few cursives. B has ψωμίσω.

^k Some read 'that I may boast,' καυχῶμαι for καυθήσωμαι, with \aleph A B 17; καυθήσομαι D E F G L 47 and others; -σωμαι C K 37 and others.

that which is perfect has come,^o that which is in part shall be done away.

- ¹¹ When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I felt^p as a child, I reasoned as a child; ^qwhen I became a man, I had done with what belonged to the child. For we see now through a dim window^r obscurely, but then face to face; now I know partially, but then I shall know according as I also have been known. ¹³ And now abide faith, hope, love; these three things; and the greater of these [is] love.

XIV. Follow after love, and be emulous of spiritual [manifestations], but rather that ye may prophesy.

- ² For he that speaks with a tongue does not speak to men but to God: for no one hears; but in spirit he ³ speaks mysteries. But he that prophesies speaks to men [in] edification, and encouragement, and consolation. He that speaks with a tongue edifies himself; but he that prophesies edifies [the] assembly. ⁵ Now I desire that ye should all speak with tongues, but rather that ye should prophesy. But^s greater is he that prophesies than he that speaks with tongues, unless he interpret, that the assembly may receive edification. And now, brethren, if I come to you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I shall speak to you either in revelation, or in knowledge, or in prophecy, or in ⁷ teaching? Even lifeless things giving

- a sound, whether pipe or harp, if they give not distinction to the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped ⁸ or harped? For also, if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall ⁹ prepare himself for war? Thus also ye with the tongue, unless ye^t give a distinct speech, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will ¹⁰ be speaking to the air. There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none^u of undistinguishable sound. If therefore I do not know the power of the sound, I shall be to him that speaks a barbarian, and he that speaks a barbarian for me. Thus ye also, since ye are desirous of spirits,^v seek that ye may abound for the edification of ¹³ the assembly. Wherefore let him that speaks with a tongue pray that ¹⁴ he may interpret. For if I pray with a tongue, my spirit prays, but my ¹⁵ understanding is unfruitful. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray also with the understanding; I will sing with the spirit, but^w I will sing also with ¹⁶ the understanding. Since otherwise, if thou blessest with [the^x] spirit, how shall he who fills the place of the simple [christian] say Amen, at thy giving of thanks, since he does ¹⁷ not know what thou sayest? For thou indeed givest thanks well, but ¹⁸ the other is not edified. I thank God^y I speak in a tongue^z more ¹⁹ than all of you: but in [the] assem-

deprives the phrase of its force here. As Gentiles, they were in danger of confounding demons' action with the Holy Ghost; and they did not adequately hold the unity of the Spirit, but looked for a spirit's power and action to distinguish them. Such is man. Hence the apostle was obliged to point out the difference between demons and the Holy Ghost. But the word further tends to shew the reality of a personal spirit acting, though for the Christian there be but one, the Spirit of God.

^t Or 'ye, unless by means of the tongue, ye,' &c. In either case 'tongue' means the language he spoke, not the organ of speech.

^u I leave out 'of them,' αὐτῶν, with \aleph A B D F G P 17 Am Memph.

^v 'Spiritual gifts,' though in sum the sense,

bly I desire to speak five words with my understanding,^a that I may instruct others also, [rather] than ten thousand words in a tongue. Brethren, be not children in [your] minds, but in malice be babes; but in [your] minds be grown men. It is written in the law, By people of other tongues, and by strange lips, will I speak to this people; and neither thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. So that tongues are for a sign, not to those who believe, but to unbelievers; but prophecy, not to unbelievers, but to those who believe. If therefore the whole assembly come together in one place, and all speak with tongues, and simple [persons] enter in, or unbelievers, will not they say ye are mad? But if all prophesy, and some unbeliever or simple [person] come in, he is convicted of all, he is judged of all; ^b the secrets of his heart are manifested; and thus, falling upon [his] face, he will do homage to God, reporting that God is indeed amongst you.

What is it then, brethren? whenever ye come together, each [of you^c] has a psalm, has a teaching, has a tongue, has a revelation, has an interpretation. Let all things be done to edification. If any one speak with a tongue, [let it be] two, or at the most three, and separately, and let one interpret; but if there be no interpreter, let him be silent in [the] assembly, and let him speak to himself and to God. And let two or three prophets speak, and let the others judge. But if there be a revelation to another sitting [there], let the first be silent. For ye can all prophesy one by one, that all may learn and all be encouraged. And spirits of prophets are subject to prophets. For God is not [a God] of disorder^d but of peace, as in all the assemblies of the saints.^e

Let [your^f] women be silent in the assemblies, for it is not permitted to them to speak; but to be in subjection, as the law also says. But if they wish to learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home; for it is a shame for a woman^g to speak in assembly. Did the word of God go out from you, or did it come to you only? If any one thinks himself to be a prophet or spiritual, let him recognise the things that I write to you, that it is [the^h] Lord's commandment.ⁱ But if any be ignorant, let him be ignorant. So that, brethren, desire to prophesy, and do not forbid the speaking with tongues. But^k let all things be done comely and with order.

XV. But I make known to you, brethren, the glad tidings which I announced to you, which also ye received, in which also ye stand, by which also ye are saved, (if ye hold fast the word which I announced to you as the glad tidings,) unless indeed ye have believed in vain. For I delivered to you, in the first place, what also I had received, that Christ died for our sins, according to the scriptures; and that he was buried; and that he was raised the third day, according to the scriptures; and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the most remain until now, but some also have fallen asleep. ⁷ Then he appeared to James; then ⁸ to all the apostles; and last of all, as to an abortion, he appeared to ⁹ me also. For I am the least of the apostles, who am not fit to be called apostle, because I have persecuted ¹⁰ the assembly of God. But by ¹¹ God's grace I am what I am; and his grace, which [was] towards me, has not been vain; but I have laboured more abundantly than they all, but not I, but the grace of God ¹² which [was] with me. Whether, therefore, I or they, thus we preach, ¹³ and thus ye have believed. Now if Christ is preached that he is raised from among [the] dead, how say some among you that there is not a resurrection of [those that are] dead? ¹⁴ But if there is not a resurrection of [those that are] dead, neither is Christ raised: but if Christ is not raised, then, indeed, vain also ¹⁵ [is] our preaching, and vain also your faith. And we are found also false witnesses of God; for we have witnessed concerning God that he raised the Christ, whom he has not raised if indeed [those that are] dead are ¹⁶ not raised. For if [those that are] dead are not raised, neither is Christ ¹⁷ raised; ¹⁸ but if Christ be not raised, your faith [is] vain; ye are yet in your sins. Then indeed also those who have fallen asleep in Christ ¹⁹ have perished. If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are [the] most miserable of all men.

²⁰ (But now Christ is raised from among [the] dead, ²¹ firstfruits of those fallen asleep. For since by man [came] death, by man also resurrection of [those that are] dead. For as ²² in the Adam all die, thus also in the Christ all shall be made alive. But ²³ each in his own rank: [the] firstfruits, Christ; then those [that are] ²⁴ the Christ's at his coming. Then the end, when he gives up the kingdom to him [who is] God and Father; ²⁵ when he shall have annulled all rule and all authority and power. For he must reign until he put all ²⁶ enemies under his feet. [The] last enemy ²⁷ [that] is annulled [is] death. For he has put all things in subjection under his feet. But when he says that all things are put in subjection, [it is] evident that [it is] except him who put all things in subjection to ²⁸ him. But when all things shall have been brought into subjection to him, then the Son also himself shall be placed in subjection to him who put all things in subjection to him, that God may be all in all.)

²⁹ Since what shall the baptised ³⁰ for the dead do if [those that are] dead rise not at all? why also are they baptised for them? ³¹ Why do we also endanger ourselves every hour?

^m ἐγείρονται, ἐγήγεραται, 'are not raised,' 'is raised.' The first word applies to the abstract fact of being raised whenever it may be; the second, an accomplished but continuing fact. The English tenses do not always secure this distinction. I have not put 'do not rise,' because then the thought of being raised by another, God, is lost, which, if ἐγείρονται be passive, is found in the Greek. ἐγήγεραται, vers. 17, 20, is applied to Christ: ἐγείρονται to the doctrinal fact as to dead people. 'Neither has Christ been raised' would not give His present state like the Greek.

ⁿ T. R. adds 'he is become,' with K L 37 47 and others Syrr; \aleph A B D E F G P 17 Am Memphomit.

^o T. R. omits 'the,' probably by error.

^p 'Him [who is] God and Father.' This, I acknowledge, is an awkward phrase. It is almost impossible to render the Greek idiom, which unites with one article either two qualities of the same person, or two persons under the same quality. But I prefer this awkward English to 'God, even the Father,' because this phrase is equivocal in doctrine, and might be used as meaning that the Father only is God, which is no way the sense. Some have gone too far with this rule, as to the use of the article, as if it was necessarily one personal object, whereas it can be used with two, as τῷ Παύλῳ καὶ Βαρνάβᾳ, if both are apostles together, or found in the same service.

^q τοῦς, the article, cannot be translated in English: 'his' goes too far. It has the effect of recognising them as such, objectively manifested as such.

³¹ Daily I die, by your boasting which ³² I have in Christ Jesus our Lord. If, [to speak] after the manner of man, I have fought with beasts in Ephesus, what is the profit to me if [those that are] dead do not rise? let us eat and ³³ drink; for to-morrow we die. Be not deceived: evil communications ³⁴ corrupt good manners. Awake up righteously, and sin not; for some are ignorant^t of God: I speak to you as a matter of shame.

³⁵ But some one will say, How are the dead raised? and with what body
³⁶ do they come? Fool; what thou sowest is not quickened unless it die.
³⁷ And what thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain: it may be of wheat, or ³⁸ some one of the rest: and God gives to it a body as he has pleased, and to each of the seeds its own body.
³⁹ Every flesh [is] not the same flesh, but one [is]^v of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another [flesh] of ⁴⁰ birds,^w and another of fishes.^x And [there are] heavenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but different is the glory of the heavenly, different that ⁴¹ of the earthly: one [the] sun's glory, and another [the] moon's glory, and another [the] stars' glory; for star ⁴² differs from star in glory. Thus also [is] the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised ⁴³ in incorruptibility. It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness, it is raised in ⁴⁴ power. It is sown a natural^y body, it is raised a spiritual body: if^z there is a natural^y body, there is also a ⁴⁵ spiritual [one].^a Thus also it is written, The first man Adam became a living soul; the last Adam a quick-⁴⁶ ening^b spirit. But that which is spiritual [was] not first, but that which is natural,^c then that which ⁴⁷ is spiritual: the first man out of [the] earth, made of dust; the second ⁴⁸ man,^d out of heaven. Such as he made of dust, such also those made of dust; and such as the heavenly ⁴⁹ [one], such also the heavenly [ones]. And as we have borne the image of the [one] made of dust, we shall bear^e also the image of the heavenly ⁵⁰ [one]. But this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit God's kingdom, nor does corruption inherit incorruptibility.

⁵¹ Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all fall asleep, but we shall ⁵² all be changed, in an instant, in [the] twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
⁵³ For this corruptible must needs put on incorruptibility, and this mortal ⁵⁴ put on immortality. But when this corruptible shall have put on incorruptibility, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the word written: Death has

^t On the whole, 'ignorant of God' gives the sense. 'Have not the knowledge' is weak. 'No knowledge' does not meet the case; 'ignorant' is not indeed used of a person; but here it refers to the true character of God.

^e I do not follow the mass of authorities with \aleph at their head here. It is a warning against trusting mere diplomatic evidence. Band many cursives and versions have the text of T. R. Copyists have tampered with it to make it an exhortation as Chrysostom and the heretic Marcion, which runs counter to the whole sense of the passage. Theodoret expressly rejects φερόμεν. Theophylact gives both; I believe φερόμεν as really his own. Meyer and Alford both accept T. R. The same attempt has been made in Romans v. 1.

⁵⁵ been swallowed up in victory. Where, O death [is] thy sting? where, O ⁵⁶ death,^f thy victory? Now the sting of death [is] sin, and the power of sin ⁵⁷ the law; but thanks to God, who gives us the victory by our Lord Jesus ⁵⁸ Christ. So then, my beloved brethren, be firm, immovable, abounding * always in the work of the Lord, knowing that your toil is not in vain in [the] Lord.

XVI. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I directed^g the assemblies of Galatia, so do ye do ² also. On [the] first of [the] week let each of you put by at home, laying up [in] whatever [degree] he may have prospered, that there may ³ be no collections when I come. And when I am arrived, whomsoever ye shall approve, these I will send with letters^h to carry your bounty to Jerusalem: and if it be suitable that I also should go, they shall go with ⁵ me. But I will come to you when I shall have gone through Macedonia; for I do go through Macedonia. ⁶ But perhaps I will stay with you, or even winter with you, that ye may set me forward wheresoever I may go. ⁷ For I willⁱ not see you now in passing, for^k I hope to remain a certain time with you, if the Lord ⁸ permit. But I remain in Ephesus ⁹ until Pentecost. For a great door is opened to me and an effectual [one], and [the] adversaries many.

he works the work of the Lord, even ¹¹ as I. Let not therefore any one despise him; but set him forward in peace, that he may come to me; for ¹² I expect him with the brethren. Now concerning the brother Apollos, I begged him much^l that^m he would go to you with the brethren; but it was not at all [his] willⁿ to go now; but he will come when he shall have ¹⁸ good opportunity. Be vigilant; stand ¹⁹ fast in the faith; quit yourselves ¹⁴ like men; be strong. Let all things ye do^o be done in love.

¹⁵ But I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and they have devoted themselves^p to the saints for service,) that ye should also be subject to such, and to every one joined in the work and labouring. ¹⁷ But I rejoice in the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus; because they have supplied what was lacking on your part. For they have refreshed my spirit and ¹⁹ yours: own therefore such. The assemblies of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla,^q with the assembly in their house, salute you much in [the] ²⁰ Lord. All the brethren salute you. Salute one another with a holy kiss.

²¹ The salutation of [me] Paul with ²² my own hand. If any one love not the Lord [Jesus Christ^r] let him be ²³ Anathema Maran-atha. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ^s [be] with ²⁴ you. My love [be] with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

^g Directed, διέταξα. Ordering troops, so as to set them in array; and in general, thence, any order directing any plan to be followed.

^h It may be read 'approve by letters, I will send them to carry,' &c.

ⁱ θέλω. Not exactly 'purpose;' but 'it is not my desire or intention.'

^l πολλά may mean 'often,' but in verse 19 of this chapter we have it used as meaning 'much.'

^m ἵνα, in order that.

ⁿ Or 'but it was not, at any rate, his will.'

^o Literally 'all your things.'

^p 'Devoted themselves,' &c. In sum this is the sense; but the force of the apostle's phrase is not wholly given. The word ἐρασαν is 'appointed to,' as an officer to a regiment. The family of Stephanas had appointed themselves to the saints for service—given themselves up to serve them, or rather given themselves up to them. 'The saints' is governed by the verb, not by 'service.' The idea resulting from what I have given in the text is more what the apostle means.

^q Or 'Prisca,' as some, with \aleph B M P 17 Am Memph.

^r \aleph A B C M 17 omit; T. R., with D E F G K L P 37 47 Syrr Am Memph, insert. \aleph C have corrections.

SECOND EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

I. Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ by God's will, and the brother Timotheus, to the assembly of God which is in Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia. Grace² to you, and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.
³ Blessed [be] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassions, and God of all encouragement; who encourages^a us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to encourage those who are in any tribulation whatever, through the encouragement with which we ourselves are encouraged of God.
⁵ Because, even as the sufferings of the Christ^b abound towards us, so through the^c Christ does our encouragement also abound. But whether we are in tribulation, [it is] for your encouragement and salvation, wrought in the endurance of the same sufferings which we also suffer, ⁷ (and our hope for you [is] sure;)^d or whether we are encouraged, [it is] for your encouragement and salvation: knowing that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also of the⁸ encouragement. For we do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, as to our tribulation which happened [to us^e] in Asia, that we were excessively pressed beyond [our] power, so as to⁹ despair^f even of living. But we ourselves had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not have ~~our~~ trust in ourselves, but in God¹⁰ who raises the dead; who has delivered us from so great a death, and does deliver; in whom we confide¹¹ that he will also yet deliver; ye also labouring together by supplication for us that the gift towards us, through means of many persons, may be the subject of the thanksgiving of¹² many for us. For our boasting is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity^g and sincerity before God,^h (not in fleshly wisdom but in God's grace,) we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly towards you.

¹³ For we do not write other things to you but what ye well knowⁱ and recognise; and I hope that ye

^a I do not say 'comforts'; that is rather παραινέσις (1 Thess. ii. 11, and v. 14; John xi. 31). It is only a shade of difference. See Acts xx. 12; Matt. ii. 18. In these, particularly the first, it has somewhat the sense of 'cheered.' Perhaps the latter word might replace 'encouragement' and 'encourage' in the text, if there were a noun formed from 'to cheer.'

^b I would take this opportunity of drawing attention to the difference between 'Christ' and 'the Christ.' 'The Christ' is the designation of a condition, not a name; 'Christ' is a name. Not only are these not used indifferently, but in the Gospels, where the word is used alone, it is almost invariably 'the Christ,' the Messiah, or Anointed; while in the Epistles it is rarely so. It is used as a name. Some cases are doubtful, because the structure of the Greek phrase requires or prefers the article: this is the case here. However, on the whole I believe the article should be inserted here in English.

^c T. R. omits 'the,' with a few cursives.

^d T. R. puts the words within the parenthesis before the word 'knowing' in ver. 7; \aleph A C M P 37 Am Memph do the same, but they put the first half of verse 7 after the word 'salvation' in ver. 6; text B D F G K L and very many others.

^e \aleph A B C D F G M P 17 Am omit; E K L 37 47 Syrr Memph insert; in \aleph D ἡμῶν has been added.

^f There is an ἡμᾶς, 'we,' left out in the translation, as regards the letter, but the sense is more exact, the inferential force of ὥστε being preserved. 'So that we despaired' is too historically affirmative.

^g Many read 'holiness,' with \aleph A B C K M P 17 37 Memph; text D F G L 47 Am Syrr. \aleph is corrected to ἀπλ.

^h Greek, 'simplicity and sincerity of God.' The force I take to be, such as God would have, and God would produce. As we say, 'That is the stroke of a master,' 'the act of a prince.' 'Godly' seems to me feeble, but not wrong. One cannot say 'of God' in English. \aleph A B C D M 17 37 47 have the article before θεοῦ.

ⁱ Or 'own [personally].' Some would render this 'but what ye read.' The word has this sense also; but it refers here, I think, to what they knew and had learnt of him by his being amongst them. The Greek runs thus: ἡ ἃ ἀναγινώσκετε ἡ καὶ ἐπιγινώσκετε.

¹⁴ will^j recognise to the end, even as also ye have recognised us in part, that we are your boast, even as ye [are] ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.
¹⁵ And with this confidence I purposed to come to you previously, that ye
¹⁶ might have a second favour; and to pass through to Macedonia by you, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and to be set forward by you ¹⁷ to Judæa. Having therefore this purpose, did I then use lightness? Or what I purpose, do I purpose according to flesh, that there should be with me yea yea, and nay nay?
¹⁸ Now God [is] faithful, that our word
¹⁹ to you is^k not yea and nay. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, he who has been preached by us among you (by me and Silvanus and Timotheus), did not become^l yea and nay, but ²⁰ yea is^m in him. For whatever promises of God [there are], in him is the yea, and in him the amen, for ²¹ glory to God by us.ⁿ Now he that establishes us with you in^o Christ, ²² and has anointed us, [is] God, who also has sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.
²³ But I call God to witness upon my soul that to spare you I have ²⁴ not yet come to Corinth. Not that we rule over your faith, but are fellow-workmen of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

^j I omit 'also,' with \aleph A B C D E F G 17 Am Memph; T. R. has it, with K L M P 37 47.

^m The apostle here changes from the aorist to the perfect, $\gamma\epsilon\gamma\omicron\tau\epsilon$. He is not speaking of the character of his preaching, but declaring that the verification of all divine truth is in the Person of Christ.

ⁿ Or 'with' or 'before God, for glory by us.' It may be read thus: 'was not yea and nay, but in him is the yea, (for whatsoever promises of God there are, in him is the yea, and in him the amen,) for glory to God by us.'

^o Literally 'unto,' $\beta\epsilon\beta\alpha\iota\omega\nu\ \epsilon\iota\varsigma$, 'attaches firmly to,' 'connects firmly with.'

^p T. R. has 'is' in text, with D F G K L O P 17 37 47 &c.; \aleph A B C Memph omit.

^q Some refer this phrase to his first letter. In this case it must be translated, 'and I wrote the very [letter I did].' But I think $\tau\omicron\upsilon\tau\omicron$ $\alpha\upsilon\tau\omicron$

II. But I have judged this with myself, not to come back to you in ² grief. For if I grieve you, who also ³ [is^v] it that gladdens me if not he
⁴ that is grieved through me? And I have written this very [letter]^a [to you^r], that coming I may not have grief from those from whom I ought to have joy; trusting in you all that ⁵ my joy is [that] of you all. For out of much tribulation and distress of heart I wrote^s to you, with many tears; not that ye may be grieved, but that ye may know the love which I have very abundantly towards you.
⁶ But if any one has grieved, he has grieved, not me, but in part (that I may not overcharge [you]) all of you.
⁷ Sufficient to such a one [is] this rebuke which [has been inflicted] by
⁹ to assure him of [your] love. For to this end also I have written, that I might know, by putting you to the test, if as to everything ye are obedient. But to whom ye forgive anything, I also; for I also, what I have forgiven,^w if I have forgiven^w anything, [it is] for your sakes^x in ¹⁰ [the] person of Christ; that we might ¹¹ not have Satan get an advantage

can hardly mean that; and in the following words he refers it to the present time, when he was coming. It is evident that, if $\epsilon\gamma\gamma\alpha\psi\alpha$ (ver. 4) refers to his first letter, it must be translated 'I wrote;' but $\epsilon\kappa\pi\iota\nu\alpha$, 'I have judged,' (ver. 1) refers to the general determination of his mind. $\epsilon\gamma\gamma\alpha\psi\alpha$ clearly often refers to what is written in the letter that contains it, and then we must say in English, 'I have written.'

^s This, I should think, must refer to the first epistle, as he was now much relieved through the news Titus brought. It is again $\epsilon\gamma\gamma\alpha\psi\alpha$.

^t The body at large.

^v Or 'forgive,' as in verse 10; the word is the same.

^w $\kappa\epsilon\chi\alpha\tau\epsilon\lambda\epsilon\iota\sigma\mu\alpha\iota$, the perfect: he had done it, but it continued as a present thing.

^x T. R., with K L 17, reads 'to whom ye forgive anything, I also; for I also, if I have forgiven anything, to whom I have forgiven it, it is for your sakes;' text \aleph A B C F G O (E P 37) Am.

II CORINTHIANS II. III.

against us, for we are not ignorant of his thoughts.

- ¹² Now when I came to Troas for the [publication of the] glad tidings of the Christ, a door also being ¹³ opened to me in [the] Lord, I had no rest in my spirit at not finding Titus my brother; but bidding them adieu, I came away to Macedonia.
¹⁴ But thanks [be] to God, who always leads us in triumph in the Christ, and makes manifest the odour of his knowledge through us in every place.
¹⁵ For we are a sweet odour of Christ to God in the saved and in those ¹⁶ that perish: to the one an odour from^y death unto death, but to the others an odour from^y life unto life; and who [is] sufficient for these ¹⁷ things? For we do not, as the many, make a trade of^z the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as of God, before God, we speak in Christ.

III. Do we begin again to commend ourselves? or^a do we need, as some, commendatory letters to you, or² [commendatory^b] from you? Ye are our letter, written in our hearts, ³ known and read^c of all men, being manifested to be^d Christ's epistle ministered by us, written, not with ink, but [the] Spirit of [the] living God; not on stone tables, but on ⁴ fleshy tables of [the] heart. And such confidence have we through

- ⁵ the Christ towards God: not that we are competent^e of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves, but ⁶ our competency [is] of God; who has also made us competent, [as] ministers of [the] new covenant;^f not of letter, but of spirit. For the letter kills,^g but the Spirit quickens.
⁷ (But if the ministry of death, in letters, graven in stones, began^h with glory, so that the children of Israel could not fix their eyes on the face of Moses, on account of the glory of his face, [a glory] which is ⁸ annulled; how shall not rather the ministry of the Spirit subsist in ⁹ glory? For if the ministry of condemnation [be] glory, much rather the ministry of righteousness abounds
¹⁰ in glory. For also that [which was] glorified is not glorifiedⁱ in this respect, on account of the surpassing ¹¹ glory. For if that annulled^j [was introduced] with glory, much rather that which abides [subsists] in glory.
¹² Having therefore such hope, we use
¹³ much boldness: and not according as Moses put a veil on his own face, so that the children of Israel should not fix their eyes on the end of that ¹⁴ annulled.^j But their thoughts have been darkened,^k for unto this day the same veil remains in reading the old covenant, unremoved, which in ¹⁵ Christ is annulled.^l But unto this

^y T. R. reads 'of,' omitting ἐκ, with D F G K L Am; ^z A B C 17 37 Memph have ἐκ, 'from' or 'out of;' 47 has it the first time only.

^a Or 'adulterate:' the word signifies properly 'to retail.'

^b T. R. reads 'unless we need,' εἰ μὴ for ἢ μὴ, with A K L P 17 47; text ^c B C D F G 37 Am Memph.

^d T. R. repeats 'commendatory,' after 'or,' with D F G K L P 37 47 Syrr; ^e A B C 17 Am Memph omit.

^f The word translated 'read' means also 'well known;' a thing read of all, not private. There is a force in the form of the Greek words which is lost in English: γνωσκομένη καὶ ἀναγνωσκομένη.

^g Literally '[ye] being manifested that ye are.'

^h I do not prefer particularly 'competent' to 'sufficient,' but the connection of the word is lost the third time it is used if we say 'sufficient,' as that word cannot be used there.

ⁱ The anarthrous form of καὶνῆς διαθήκης makes it characteristic, as 'letter' and 'spirit;' if it were 'α new covenant,' I think it would be διαθήκης καὶνῆς: perhaps it may be rendered 'competent [as] new covenant ministers.'

^j Or 'For letter kills.'

^k It is not said that the ministry was glorious, but that the system was introduced with glory, ἐγενήθη ἐν δόξῃ. It is in contrast with 'subsisting in glory' (ver. 8).

^l T. R. reads 'for neither also is that glorified which was glorified,' &c., with many cursives Am.

^m 'That annulled,' or 'done away,' is used sometimes a little harshly here. But the apostle uses it as a formula for the old covenant done away in Christ. If this be borne in mind, the harshness will disappear, and the sense be clearer by adhering to the use of it. It is the τὸ καταργούμενον in contrast with the τὸ μένον. 'That which is done away' would be too historical, and too little the abstract character of the old thing which was not to abide.

ⁿ Elsewhere rightly 'hardened,' but 'thoughts hardened' is scarcely intelligible.

^o Some would translate 'it not being discovered, (literally, 'unveiled,') that in Christ it looking on the glory of the Lord with unveiled face, are transformed

IV. Therefore, having this ministry, as we have had mercy shewn us, we ² faint not. But we have rejected the hidden things of shame, not walking in deceit, nor falsifying the word of God, but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every ³ conscience of men before God. But if also our gospel is veiled, it is ⁴ veiled in those that are lost;^p in whom the god of this world has blinded the thoughts of the unbellieving, so that the radiancy of the glad tidings of the glory of the Christ, who is [the] image of God, should ⁵ not shine forth^a [for them^r]. For we do not preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus Lord, and ourselves is done away.' Or it may be 'the veil not being taken off that which is done away in Christ;' or 'unremoved, because it is done away in Christ.'

 In the last case ὅτι is to be read, not ὅτι. But I have no doubt that the text is right, and that Moses covered his face while he talked to the people, and that the Hebrew means nothing else.
 Ex. xxxiv. 33 means it, and ver. 34 proves it.

^p Or 'that perish,' as ii. 15.

^a I have doubted as to this passage. αὐγάζαι is found here only in the New Testament. 'For them,' is rejected by the editors. I add it, as those who introduced it in Greek did so to complete the sense; but I do not find that αὐγάζαι is used in classical Greek as a neuter verb. It is found as an active and passive one in, I believe, Nazianzen, and in Euripides in the sense of 'brightening,' enlightening something else, but its regular, habitual use is 'to see or discern.'
 We find, however, αὐγάζον, as a neuter participle, used in Lev. xiii. 24, to describe the white appearance of leprosy, which supposes, perhaps, a neuter verb, if it be not a substantive, and in Hebrew הִרְאָה from הָרָא 'to-shine.' If we translate it 'discern,' the sense would be 'so that they [are] for your sakes, that the grace abounding through the many^b may cause thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God. Wherefore we faint not; but if indeed our outward man is consumed, yet the inward is renewed day by day. For our momentary [and] light^c affliction works for us in surpassing measure an eternal weight of glory; while^d we look not at the things that are seen, but at the things that are not seen; for the things that are seen [are] for a time, but those that are not seen eternal.

V. For we know that if our earthly tabernacle house^e be destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. For indeed in this we groan, ardently desiring to have put on our house which [is] from^f heaven; if indeed being also clothed we shall not be found naked. For indeed we who are in the tabernacle groan, being burdened; while yet^g we do not wish to be unclothed, but clothed, that [what is] mortal may be swallowed up by life. Now he that has wrought us for this very thing [is] God, who also^h has given to us the earnest of the Spirit.

^b 'Grace abounding through the many.' The grace of God, perfect in itself, multiplies itself in its objects, so that thanksgiving abounds. Paul was delivered, but everything was for the church. It was not therefore merely a benefit to him, but still more to all, so that the grace or benefit was multiplied, and caused thanksgiving to abound to God's glory. The form of thought is peculiar, but the sense plain and striking. I add the note because, unless it be the Vulgate, I am not aware of its being so translated: some moderns however, I find, have done so.

^d 'While' has not the sense of time here. I leave it because 'we not looking' has a somewhat causative sense, which is not the force of the passage.

^e There is an article before σκήνους in Greek: but I have no doubt σκήνους is characteristic, the article being before οικία because of ἡμῶν, and hence regularly before σκήνους: ἡ οἰκία τοῦ σκήνους is one idea, ἡμῶν applying to the whole.

His ecstasy was not excitement or folly, but if out of himself it was with God; if sober, it was the calculation of love for their good.

^o T. R. adds 'if.' I leave it out, with κ B D F G K L P 17 47 Syrr. A fails; C 37 Am Memph Theoph. have it, Theodore not. It is possible it may be right, in spite of authorities, as εἰ being followed by εἰς gave early occasion to leave it out.

So that we henceforth know^r no one according to flesh; but if even we have known^r Christ according to flesh, yet now we know^r [him thus] no longer. ^v Or simply 'of reconciliation.'

^w 'As of God beseeching;' 'as though,' or 'as if,' is too much similarity or comparison. God being in Christ, and they Christ's ambassadors, they besought on God's behalf. He was as beseeching by them. The apostle will not say God was beseeching, but it amounted to that, as done on his behalf. It is very difficult to translate, though the sense be most evident and beautiful. The apostle would not quite say 'God beseech-ing,' but softens it by ὡς. I am not satisfied with 'as it were,' but know nothing better.

^x T. R. adds 'For,' with E K L P 37 47 and others Syrr; \aleph B C D F G 17 Am Memph omit.

⁴ together. Great [is] my boldness towards you, great my exulting in respect of you; I am filled with encouragement; I overabound in joy ⁵ under all our affliction. For indeed, when we came into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but [we were] afflicted in every way; without com-⁶ bats, within fears. But he who encourages those that are [brought] low, [even] God, encouraged us by 7 the coming of Titus; and not by his coming only, but also through the encouragement with which he was encouraged as to you; relating to us your ardent desire, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I the ⁸ more rejoiced. For if also^l I grieved you in the letter, I do not regret [it], if even I have regretted it; for I see that that letter, if even [it were] only for a time, grieved you.

⁹ Now I rejoice, not that ye have been grieved, but that ye have been grieved to repentance; for ye have been grieved according to God, that in nothing ye might be injured by ¹⁰ us. For grief according to God works repentance to salvation, never to be regretted; but the grief of the ¹¹ world works death. For, behold, this same thing, your being grieved according to God, how much^m diligence it wrought in you, but [what] excusing [of yourselves], but [what] indignation, but [what] fear, but [what] ardent desire, but [what] zeal, but [what] vengeance: in every way ye have proved yourselves to be ¹² pure in the matter. So then, if also I wrote to you, [it was] not for the sake of him that injured, nor for the sake of him that was injured, but for the sake of our diligent zeal for you being manifested to you before God.ⁿ

ⁱ ναός. See 1 Cor. iii. 16.

^j I have no doubt that the article is left out here in Greek because 'Lord' is a proper name, answering to Jehovah. Jehovah Shaddai, (the Old Testament names of Elohim, to Israel, and to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob,) takes the name of Father with us.

^k It may be translated 'corrupted.'

^l It seems to me 'if also,' while literal, is more delicate, as expression of feeling, than 'though.'
 'If even' would here express an extreme case or doubt; 'also' is admitting an additional fact.
 Hence I put 'if even' for the other cases of εἰ καὶ in the sentence. He suggests in the way of admission, as the extreme to which he went; he was right and inspired, but felt the distress individually, and would not leave them ignorant of how far his love went; so in the third case with 'only,' 'if even:' it is the same limitation of their grief. 'Ye were sorry, if even it were only for a time.'

^m Or 'what.'

ⁿ Or perhaps 'for the sake of our diligent zeal for you before God being manifested to you.'
 The reading is uncertain here. It is very possible that the true reading is 'your zeal for us.' \aleph D (Greek), F (Greek) have 'your zeal for you;' G (Gr. and Lat.) D (Lat.) 'our zeal for us.'
 B C D² E K L P 17 37 Syrr Memph have 'your zeal for us;' F (Lat.) 47 Vulg. have 'our zeal for you;' so Chrysostom. Matthæi 'your zeal for us.' The 'to you' is a difficulty. Tisch., Meyer, and Alf. adopt 'your zeal for us;' De Wette not, on account of πρὸς ὑμᾶς. Its force, if it be read 'your zeal for us,' would be, that you might discern how truly you loved us, though turned aside by false teachers. Compare verse 7, which possibly led to ὑμῶν ὑπὲρ ἡμῶν.

^o Or 'have been comforted.'

^p T. R., with 37 47 and other cursives, omits δέ
 after ἐπὶ and adds it after περισσοτέρως, reading
 'we have been encouraged in your encourage-joiced in^a our encouragement^r more abundantly^s by reason of the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been¹⁴ refreshed by you all.^t Because if I boasted to him anything about you, I have not been put to shame; but as we have spoken to you all things in truth, so also our boasting to Titus¹⁵ has been [the] truth; and his affections^u are more abundantly towards you, calling to mind the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. I rejoice^v that in everything I am confident as to you.

VIII. But we make known to you, brethren, the grace of God bestowed² in the assemblies of Macedonia; that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty has abounded to the riches of their free-hearted liberality.³ For according to [their] power, I bear witness, and beyond [their]

ment; and we the rather rejoiced more abundantly; text \aleph B C D F G K L P 17 Am Syrr.

^a Or 'besides.'

^r Or 'in our comfort.' T. R. has 'your,' instead of 'our,' with F (Gr.) K L 37 47 and others Memph; text \aleph B C D G P 17 Am Syrr.

^s 'The rather . . . more abundantly;' περισσotέρως μάλλον. This is a common Greek idiom, even with πολλῶ added (see Wetstein, Phil. i. 23), but it is impossible to render μάλλον exactly in English. 'More abundantly rather than.' With ὅσον (Mark vii. 36), μάλλον is translated 'so much the more,' which is a little too much in contrast with what precedes. In Phil. i. 23, with πολλῶ, μάλλον κρείσσον is translated in the Auth. Ver. 'far better;' here without πολλῶ 'exceedingly the more.' But in English 'the more' supposes more than something, and because of something. 'I did it the more,' that is, because of something done. But while a common Hellenism to strengthen the comparative, though said by Thom. M. to be οὐ λογογράφω τὸ λέγειν, I do not think it always merely emphatic; there is an unexpressed motive which is the cause of 'the rather' in the mind. Hence I have added 'the rather' here, though much inclined to generalise it by 'very.' I have no objection to this generalisation, if the reader prefer. But I somewhat suspect that verse 14 gives the clue to the force of it, while quite admitting it is, I may say, a common form in all ages of Greek, from Homer to Euripides, and Aristophanes and Isocrates.

^t It may, perhaps, be translated 'and in (or 'besides') our encouragement we the rather rejoiced more abundantly in the joy of Titus, (for his spirit is refreshed by you all,) because if I, &c. There are often examples of the change of 'I' and 'we,' in this epistle; it is the power, [they were] willing of their⁴ own accord, begging of us with much entreaty [to give effect to] the grace^w and fellowship of the service which [was to be rendered] to⁵ the saints. And not according as we hoped, but they gave themselves first to the Lord, and to us by God's⁶ will. So that^x we begged Titus that, according as he had before begun, so he would also complete as to^y you this grace also; but^z even as ye abound in every way, in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all diligence, and in love from you to us, that ye may abound in this grace⁸ also. I do not speak as commanding [it], but through the zeal of others, and proving the genuineness of your^a love. For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that for your sakes he being rich became poor, in order that ye by his^b poverty might¹⁰ be enriched. And I give [my] case in this very context. But not without a reason in the sense, 'I' being more personal to Paul.

^w Or 'as to the gift.' There is no apparent verb in this sentence, and it has amazingly puzzled the commentators. 'Us to receive' has been introduced into the text by T. R., with a few cursives, but it is rejected, I may say, by all, and evidently a gloss. But χάριν is not the collection, (hence 'receive' is wrong,) but the grace and favour shewn to the poor in the gift. Instead then of Paul having to press this grace on the Macedonians, they beg of him the grace and fellowship of the administration; that is, to be the instrument (though an apostle) of its manifestation by them. The χάριν καὶ κοινωνίαν is the active exercise of grace towards the Jewish saints. This they begged of Paul. (See verse 19.)

^x εἰς τό, 'so that we were led to beg,' 'leading us to beg.' 'So that' merely states the effect produced, εἰς τό the tendency of the grace among the Macedonians he had been speaking of. That led to it.

^y 'As to' or 'with,' εἰς, apud.

^z Translating ἀλλά by 'therefore,' and adding 'see,' as the authorised English translation, is not necessary here. The apostle means 'but it is,' or 'my object in doing so is,' 'what I have in my mind in thus sending Titus.' The use of ἀλλά as 'come now,' is, it seems to me, out of place here; it always refers to something adversatively.

^b The 'his' is emphatic: ἐκείνου, 'of that one,' such a one as he.

opinion in this, for this is profitable for you who began before, not only to do, but also to be willing, a year ago. But now also complete the doing of it; so that as [there was] the readiness to be willing, so also to complete out of what ye have. For if the readiness be there, [a man is] accepted^c according to what he^d may have, not according to what he has not. For [it is] not in order that there may be ease for others, and for you distress, but [on the principle] of equality; in the present time your abundance for their lack, that their abundance may be for your lack, so that there should be equality. According as it is written, He who [gathered] much had no excess, and he who [gathered] little was nothing short. But thanks [be] to God, who gives the same diligent zeal for you in the heart of Titus. For he received indeed the entreaty, but, being full of zeal, he went of his own accord to you; but we have sent with him the brother whose praise [is] in the glad tidings through all the assemblies; and not only [so], but [is] also chosen by the assemblies as our fellow-traveller with this grace, ministered by us to the glory of the Lord himself, and [a witness of] our^e readiness; avoiding this,^f that any one should blame us in this abundance [which is] administered by us; for we provide^g for things honest, not only before [the] Lord, but also before men. And we have sent with them our brother whom we have often proved to be of diligent zeal in many things, and now more diligently zealous through the great confidence [he has] as to you.

²³ Whether as regards Titus, [he is] my companion and fellow-labourer in your behalf; or our brethren, [they are] deputed messengers of assemblies, Christ's glory. Shew^h therefore to them, beforeⁱ the assemblies, the proof of your love, and of our boasting about you.

IX. For concerning the ministration which [is] for the saints, it is superfluous my writing to you. For I know your readiness, which I boast of as respects you to Macedonians, that Achaia is prepared since a year ago, and the zeal [reported] of you has stimulated the mass^j [of the brethren]. But I have sent the brethren, in order that our boasting about you may not be made void in this respect, in order that, as I have said, ye may be prepared; lest haply, if Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we, that we say not ye, may be put to shame in this confidence.^k I thought it necessary therefore to beg the brethren that they would come to you, and complete beforehand your fore-announced blessing,^l that this may be ready thus as blessing, and not as got out of you.^m But this [is true], he that sows sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that sows in [the spirit of] blessing shall reap also in blessing: each according as he is

^e T. R. reads 'your,' with F and a few others. $\sigma\tau\acute{\epsilon}\lambda\lambda\omicron\mu\alpha\iota$, found nowhere else used in this sense, derived, as it appears, from a nautical use of it. See Erasmus.

^f T. R. reads 'providing,' and omits the preceding 'for,' with K L (C 17 37 47) and most (Memph) Theodoret; text \aleph B D E F G P Am Syrr; C 17 37 47 Memph have $\gamma\acute{\alpha}\rho$, 'for.'

^g Some read 'shewing,' with B D E F G 17; text \aleph C K L P 37 47 Am Syrr Memph.

^h T. R. reads 'and before,' with some cursives.

ⁱ τοὺς πλείονας. 'Many' is not the sense, but

'the body,' as οἱ πολλοί.

^k T. R. adds 'of boasting,' with E K L P 37 47 and others Syrr; \aleph B C D F G 17 Am Memph omit.

^l 'Blessing.' The sense is plain, though the word is unusual. I note it in view of verse 6. It is the spirit in which a man gives: as God gives, freely to bless, so ought we: and such as so give shall so reap from him. \aleph B C D F G P 17 read 'already promised blessing,' $\pi\rho\omicron\epsilon\pi\eta\gamma\gamma\epsilon\lambda\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\eta\nu$, for $\pi\rho\kappa\alpha\tau\eta\gamma\gamma\epsilon\lambda\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\eta\nu$.

^m Or 'as covetousness,' from a verb signifying, along with the desire of having, an over-reaching to get. T. R., with a few cursives, reads $\omega\sigma\pi\epsilon\rho$ for $\omega\varsigma$: the sense is the same.

purposed in his heart; not grievingly,ⁿ or of necessity; for God loves 8 a cheerful giver. But God is able to make every gracious gift^o abound towards you, that, having in every way always all-sufficiency, ye may 9 abound to every good work: according as it is written, He has scattered abroad, he has given to the poor, his righteousness remains for ever.
10 Now he that supplies seed to the sower and bread for eating shall^p supply and make abundant^a your sowing, and increase the fruits of your 11 righteousness: enriched in every way unto all free-hearted liberality, which works through us thanksgiving to 12 God. Because the ministration of this service is not only filling up the measure of what is lacking to the saints, but also abounding by many 13 thanksgivings to God; they glorifying God through the proof of this ministration, by reason of your subjection, by profession, to the glad tidings of the Christ, and your free-hearted liberality in communicating 14 towards them and towards all; and in their supplication for you, full of ardent desire for you, on account of the exceeding grace of God [which 15 is] upon you. ¹Thanks [be] to God for his unspeakable free gift.

X. But I myself, Paul, entreat you by the meekness and gentleness of the Christ, who, as to appearance, [when present] [am] mean among you, but absent am bold towards 2 you; but I beseech that present I may not be bold with the confidence with which I think to be daring towards some who think of us as 3 walking according to flesh. For walking in flesh, we do not war 4 according to flesh. For the arms of our warfare [are] not fleshly, but powerful according to God^s to 5 [the] overthrow of strongholds; overthrowing reasonings and every high thing that lifts itself up against the knowledge of God, and leading captive every thought into the obedience 6 of the Christ;^t and having in readiness to avenge all disobedience when your obedience shall have been ful-7 filled. Do ye look at what concerns appearance?^u If any one has confidence in himself that he is of Christ, let him think this again in himself, that even as he [is] of Christ, 8 so also [are] we.^v For and if I should boast even somewhat more abundantly of our authority, which the Lord has given [to us^w] for building up and not for your overthrow-9 ing, I shall not be put to shame; that I may not seem as if I was frighten-10 ing you by letters: because his letters, he says, [are] weighty and strong, but his presence in the body weak, and 11 his speech naught. Let such a one think this, that such as we are in word by letters [when] absent, such 12 also present in deed. For we dare not class ourselves or compare ourselves with some who commend themselves;

but these, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are not intel-13 ligent.^x Now we will not boast out of measure,^y but according to the measure of the rule which the God of ⁿ Or 'not as grieving [to do it].' It is in contrast with 'cheerful.'

^o 'Every grace' or 'benefit.'

^p T. R. omits 'shall,' with (F G) K L 47 and others; text \aleph B C D P 17 37 Am Memph. C has $\pi\lambda\eta\theta\acute{\upsilon}\nu\eta$, but $\chi\omicron\sigma\eta\gamma\eta\sigma\epsilon\iota$ and, with F G, $\alpha\upsilon\acute{\xi}\eta\sigma\epsilon\iota$.

^a It is possible to translate 'shall both supply bread for the eating, and make abundant.'

^t T. R., with E K L P 37 47 Syrr Memph, adds
 $\delta\acute{\epsilon}$, 'But,' or 'Now;' \aleph B C D F G 17 Am omit.

^s Or 'divinely powerful,' as a Hebraism; or 'in a divine way,' before God, in his view; bringing him in; or 'through God.' Moses was $\alpha\sigma\tau\epsilon\acute{\iota}\omicron\varsigma$ $\tau\omega$ $\theta\epsilon\omega$ (Acts vii. 20).

^u Or 'of Christ.'

^v See verse 1.

^w T. R. adds 'of Christ,' with E K L 37 47 and most Memph; \aleph B C D F G P Am Syrr omit.

^x \aleph B C D 17 omit $\eta\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$: E F G K L 37 47 Memph
&c. have it; P has it before $\kappa\upsilon\acute{\rho}\iota\omicron\varsigma$: A fails us.

^y 'Wise' is not the sense here, at least it seems to give the sense of 'not being wise in doing so,' which is not the force of $\sigma\omicron\nu\nu\iota\omicron\delta\omicron\varsigma\iota\nu$, but 'not to perceive,' whether in capacity or fact. See Mark
vi. 52, vii. 14, viii. 17, 21, Rom. iii. 11, Mark iv. 12, Matt. xiii. 13, Rom. xv. 21, and other passages.

^z There is an amphibology here which is lost in English, the words signifying generally 'out of measure, immoderately,' but alluding also to the false teachers going where God had not sent them. (See ver. 15.)

II CORINTHIANS X. XI.

measure has apportioned to us, to ¹⁴ reach² to you also. For we do not, as not reaching to you, overstretch ourselves, (for we have come to you also in the glad tidings of the Christ;) ¹⁵ not boasting out of measure in other people's labours, but having hope, your faith increasing, to be enlarged amongst you, according to our rule, ¹⁶ yet more abundantly to announce the glad tidings to that [which is] beyond you, not to be boasting in another's rule of things made ready ¹⁷ to hand. But he that boasts, let ¹⁸ him boast in the Lord. For not he that commends himself is approved, but whom the Lord commends.

XI. Would that ye would bear with me [in] a^a little folly; but indeed ² bear^b with me. For I am jealous as to you with a jealousy [which is] of God; for I have espoused you unto one man, to present [you] a chaste ³ virgin to Christ. But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent deceived Eve by his craft, [so^c] your thoughts should be corrupted from simplicity^d ⁴ as to the Christ. For if indeed he that comes preaches another Jesus whom we have not preached, or ye get a different Spirit which ye have not got, or a different glad tidings which ye have not received, ye ⁵ might well bear with [it]. For I reckon that in nothing I am behind those who are in surpassing degree ⁶ apostles. But if [I am] a simple^e person in speech, yet not in knowledge, but in everything making [the truth] manifest^f in all things

⁷ to you.^g Have I committed sin, abasing myself in order that ye might be exalted, because I gratuitously announced to you the glad ⁸ tidings of God? I spoiled other as-semblies, receiving hire for minis-⁹ try towards you. And being present with you and lacking, I did not lazily burden any one, (for the brethren who came from Macedonia supplied what I lacked,) and in everything I kept myself from being a burden to ¹⁰ you, and will keep myself. [The] truth of Christ is in me that this boasting shall not be stopped as to ¹¹ me in the regions of Achaia. Why?
 because I do not love you? God ¹² knows. But what I do, I will also do, that I may cut off the opportunity of those wishing [for] an opportunity, that wherein they boast they ¹³ may be found even as we. For such [are] false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into apos-¹⁴ tles of Christ. And [it is] not wonderful, for Satan himself transtorm ¹⁵ himself into an angel of light. It is no great thing therefore if his ministers also transform themselves as ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

¹⁶ Again I say, Let not any one think me to be a fool; but if otherwise, receive me then even as a fool, that I also may boast myself some ¹⁷ little. What I speak I do not speak according to [the] Lord, but as in folly, in this confidence of boasting.
¹⁸ Since many boast according to flesh,
¹⁹ I also will boast. For ye bear fools

^a Some translate 'which God has apportioned to us, a measure to reach.'

^b F G have the article, τῆς instead of τι. K L P Stephens have τῇ; text τι, with N B D E M 17 Am. T. R. has both τῆς and τι.

^c I am aware that some translate 'ye do bear;' but I think wrongly. No doubt the Greek allows it.

^d E K L M 37 47 Am Syrr have it; N B D F G P Memph omit.

^e 'Simplicity' is not a personal trait, but the doctrine as to Christ; what a faithful heart retained in simplicity, as taught in the truth. I had at first translated (explaining it in a note)

'which [is] in the Christ.' But this is too much as if it were in Christ Himself, not the doctrine. Some, with N B F G 17, would add 'purity,' ἀγνότητος, after ἀπλότητος, or before it, with D E. But it seems to me a gloss. Tisch. has it not, nor Meyer, omitting with N^{corr} D³ K L M P 37 47 Am Syrr: it is a wrong allusion to verse 2.

^f ἰδιώτης.

^h Or 'before you.'

²⁰ readily, being wise. For ye bear if any one bring you into bondage, if any one devour [you], if any one get [your money], if any one exalt himself, if any one beat you on the ²¹ face. I speak as to dishonour, as though we had been weak; but wherein any one is daring, (I speak in ²² folly,) I also am daring. Are they Hebrews? I also. Are they Israelites? I also. Are they seed of Abraham? I also. Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as being beside myself) I above measure [so],^h in labours exceedingly abundant, in stripes to excess, in prisons exceedingly abundant, in deaths oft. From the Jews five times have I received ²⁵ forty [stripes], save one. Thrice have I been scourged, once I have been stoned, three times I have suffered shipwreck, a night and day I ²⁶ passed in the deep: in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from [my own] race, in perils from [the] nations, in perils in [the] city, in perils in [the] desert, in perils on [the] sea, in ²⁷ perils among false brethren; in labour and toil, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, ²⁸ in cold and nakedness. Besides those things that are without, the

^h ὑπὲρ ἐγώ. The use of ὑπὲρ in this way is constant in the apostle, though not indeed separated from the word it refers to. But I do not find that it is used adverbially for 'more than;' and the expression, παραφρονῶν seems to refer to the extraordinariness of what he was saying, for he felt that to say 'minister of Christ' was to say all that was excellent. Hence he does not repeat ἄφρων, 'without sense;' but παραφρονῶν, wandering quite away from a right mind; his own heart did not allow him to say it without judging the expression, though forced to use it for these foolish Corinthians. The περισσοτέρως is not really a comparison, and the ὑπερβαλλόντως and πολλάκις shew that no comparison was instituted; he left his miserable competitor far behind, and his soul turned back with true heartfelt satisfaction to all he had undergone for Christ. His folly is given to us for gain by God. 'I more' would mean either more than they, or more than a minister of Christ. Neither I believe to be the sense; the last would be the strict meaning, and cannot be at all allowed; the other fails as to the Greek, it seems to me. However, if any one prefer 'I more [than they],' or 'I beyond [them],' in result the sense is not crowd [of cares] pressing on me daily, the burdenⁱ of all the assemblies. Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is stumbled, and I burn ⁸⁰ not? If it is needful to boast, I will boast in the things which concern my infirmity. The God and ⁸¹ Father of the^k Lord Jesus knows—he who is^l blessed for ever—that I ⁸² do not lie. In Damascus the ethnarch of Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes shut up, ⁸³ wishing to take me; and through a window in a basket I was let down by^m the wall, and escaped his hands.

XII. Well, it is not of profit to me to boast,ⁿ for I will come to visions ² and revelations of [the] Lord. I know^o a man in Christ, fourteen years ago, (whether in [the] body I know^o not, or out of the body I know not, God knows;) such [a one] caught up ³ to [the] third heaven. And I know such a man, (whether in [the] body or out of the body I know not, ⁴ God knows;) that he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable things said^p which it is not ⁵ allowed to man to utter. Of such [a one] I will boast, but of myself I will not boast, unless in my weak- ⁶ nesses. For if I shall desire to boast, altered, though, it seems to me, feebler and more disjointed.

ⁱ I am not satisfied with 'burden.' It is any solicitude or anxiety, but 'care' wholly misleads, because it conveys the idea of taking care of, which is not the sense.

^k ἡ B F G K L 17 37 Am omit ἡμῶν, 'our.' T. R. adds it, and 'Christ,' with D M P 47 Memph; K L add 'Christ' only.

^m Or 'through.'

ⁿ Some read 'I must (I have to) boast, it is not profitable for me,' with B E F G L P 37 (17 Am εἰ δέ) Syrr, δέ for δῆ. N D Memph have δέ. T. R. has δῆ, with K M 47. Some, with N B (D) F G P 17 Am Memph, omit 'to me,' reading οὐ συμφέρων μὲν, and put δέ, 'but,' instead of 'for.'

^o οἶδα, conscious knowledge; and so all through.

^p ἄρρητα ῥήματα. ῥῆμα is 'the saying,' and thence the things said, as he says, 'heard' here. It is evidently 'things said,' and it was not merely like heathen mysteries, dreadful forms of speech, but the communications were of things not suited to this lower world and our mortal condition.

II CORINTHIANS XII. XIII.

I shall not be a fool; for I will say [the] truth; but I forbear, lest any one should think as to me above what he sees me [to be], or what-⁷ ever he may hear of me. And that I might not be exalted by the exceeding greatness of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn for the flesh, a messenger of Satan that he might buffet me, that I might ⁸ not be exalted. For this I thrice besought the Lord that it might de-
⁹ part from me. And he said to me, My grace suffices thee; for [my^a] power is perfected in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather boast in my weaknesses, that the power of the Christ^r may dwell^s upon me.
¹⁰ Wherefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in insults, in necessities, in persecutions, in straits, for Christ: for when I am weak, then I am powerful.
¹¹ I have become a fool;^t ye have compelled me; for I ought to have been commended by you; for I have been nothing behind those who were in surpassing degree apostles, ¹² if also I am nothing. The signs indeed of the apostle were wrought among you in all endurance, ^u signs, and wonders, and works of power.
¹³ For in what is it that ye have been inferior to the other assemblies, unless that I myself have not been in laziness a charge upon you? For-¹⁴ give me this injury. Behold, this^v third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be in laziness a charge;^w for I do not seek yours, but you; for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents

¹⁵ for the children. Now I shall most gladly spend and be utterly spent for your souls, if even in abundantly loving you I should be less loved.
¹⁶ But be it so. I did not burden you, but being crafty I took you by ¹⁷ guile. Did I make gain of you by any of those whom I have sent ¹⁸ to you? I begged Titus, and sent the brother with [him]: did Titus at all make gain of you? have we not walked in the same spirit? [have we] not in the same steps?
¹⁹ Ye have long been supposing^x that we excuse ourselves to you: we speak before God in Christ; and all things, beloved, for your building
²⁰ up. For I fear lest perhaps coming I find you not such as I wish, and that I be found by you such as ye do not wish: lest [there might be] strifes, jealousies, angers, conten-²¹ tions, evil speakings, whisperings, puffings up, disturbances; lest my God should humble me as to^y you when I come again, and that I shall grieve over many of those who have sinned before, and have not repented as to the uncleanness and fornication and licentiousness which they have practised.

XIII. This third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every matter be es-
² tablished. I have declared beforehand, and I say beforehand as present the second time, and now absent,^z to those that have sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again

Now I hope that ye will know that^f we are not reprobates. But we^f pray to God that ye may do nothing evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do what is right, and we be as reprobates. For we can do nothing against the truth, but for ⁹ the truth. For we rejoice when we may be weak and ye may be powerful. But^g this also we pray for, your perfecting. On this account I write these things being absent, that being present I may not use severity according to the authority^h which the Lord has given me for building up, and not for overthrowing.

¹¹ For the rest, brethren, rejoice;ⁱ be perfected; be encouraged; be of one mind; be at peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you. Salute one another with a holy¹² kiss. EPISTLE TO THE GALATIANS.

I. Paul, apostle, not from men nor through man, but through Jesus Christ, and God [the] Father who raised him from among [the] dead, and all the brethren with me, to the² assemblies of Galatia. Grace to you, and peace, from God [the] Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins, so that he should deliver us out of the present evil world,^a according to the will of our⁵ God and Father; to whom [be] glory to the ages of ages. Amen.

⁶ I wonder that ye thus quickly change,^b from him that called you in Christ's grace, to a different gospel,^c which is not another [one]; but^d there are some that trouble you, and desire to pervert the glad tidings⁸ of the Christ. But if even we or an angel out of heaven announce as glad tidings to you [anything] besides what we have announced as glad tidings to you, let him be⁹ accursed. As we have said before, now also again I say, If any one announce to you as glad tidings [anything] besides what ye have received, let him be accursed. For do I now seek to satisfy men or God? or do I seek to please men? ^eIf I were yet pleasing men, I were not Christ's bondman. But I let you know, brethren, [as to] the glad tidings which were announced by me, that they are not according to man. ¹²For neither did I receive them from man, neither was I taught [them], but by revelation of Jesus Christ. ¹³For ye have heard [what was] my conversation formerly in Judaism, that I excessively persecuted the assembly of God, and ravaged it; ¹⁴and advanced in Judaism beyond many [my] contemporaries in my nation, being exceedingly zealous of the doctrines^f of my fathers. But when God,^g who set me apart [even^h] from my mother's womb, and called ¹⁶[me] by his grace, was pleased to reveal his Son in me, that I may announce him as glad tidings among the nations, immediately I took not counsel with flesh and blood, nor ¹⁷went I up to Jerusalem to those [who were] apostles before me; but I went to Arabia, and again returned ¹⁸to Damascus. Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to make acquaintance with Peter,ⁱ and I remained with him fifteen days; ¹⁹but I saw none other of the apostles, but^j James the brother of the ²⁰Lord. Now what I write to you, behold, before God, I do not lie. ²¹Then I came into the regions of ²²Syria and Cilicia. But I was unknown personally to the assemblies ²³of Judæa which [are] in Christ; only they were hearing that he who persecuted us formerly now announces the glad tidings of the faith which ²⁴formerly he ravaged: and they glorified God in me.

II. Then after a lapse of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with ²[me]; and I went up according to revelation, and I laid before them the glad tidings which I preach among the nations, but privately to those conspicuous [among them], lest in any way I run or had run in ³vain; (but neither was Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, compelled ⁴to be circumcised;) and [it was] on account of the false brethren brought in surreptitiously, who came in surreptitiously to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might^k bring us into bondage; ⁵to whom we yielded in subjection not even for an hour, that the truth of the glad tidings might remain with you. ⁶But from those who were conspicuous as being somewhat—whatsoever they were, it makes no difference to me: God does not accept man's person; for to me those who were conspicuous ⁷communicated nothing;^l but, on the

^f Or 'traditions.'

^g Or 'the God who,' &c. Some, with B F G Am Syrr, leave out δ θεός. \aleph A D K L P 17 37 47 Memph insert. Theod. Theoph. leave out. If left out we must read 'He who,' &c.

^h I have inserted 'even' here that it may be quite clear that 'from my mother's womb' is a date of time. (See Matt. xix. 12, Luke i. 15, Acts iii. 2, xiv. 8.) Indeed, there can be no doubt of it. The authorised translation, 'separated me from,' is ambiguous, to say the least; δ φορίζω has somewhat the force of 'taking out,' as distinguished or appropriated to something, though doubtless meaning 'to separate.' I have therefore said 'set apart.'

ⁱ Very probably we should read 'Cephas' here, (and at chap. ii. 11, 14,) with \aleph A B 17 Memph. D F G K L P 37 47 Am have Πέτρον.

In ii. 11 \aleph A B C H P 17 Am Memph have 'Cephas,' and also, except P (H) in ii. 14; H C fail in i. 18, and H also after the beginning of ii. 14.

^j εἰ μή. See ver. 7, and Luke iv. 27.

^k ἵνα with a future indicative. See chap. ii. 19; Phil. iii. 8 and Rev. xxii. 14. It seems to be a joining of the certain fact as a consequence, with the purpose or object of what precedes the ἵνα. T. R. reads καταδουλώσονται, with K 37; text \aleph A B C D.

^l The grammatical structure is interrupted and broken. It may be translated 'But from those who were conspicuous as being somewhat; (whatsoever they were it makes no difference to me; God does not accept man's person;) to me indeed (or, 'for to me') those who were conspicuous communicated nothing.' I have thought that ἀπό at beginning of verse 6 might be 'of,'— 'of those.' But I do not find that ἀπό is so used: it is always ἐκ.

contrary, seeing that the glad tidings of the uncircumcision were confided to me,^m even as to Peter that of the circumcision, (for he that wrought in Peter for [the] apostleship of the circumcision wrought also in me towards the Gentiles,) and recognising the grace given to me, James and Cephas and John, who were conspicuous as being pillars, gave to me and Barnabas [the] right hands of fellowship, that we [should go] to the nations, and they to the circumcision; only that we should remember the poor, which same thing also I was diligent to do.

But when Peterⁿ came to Antioch, I withstood him to [the] face, because he was to be condemned:^o for before that certain came from James, he ate with [those of] the nations; but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing those of [the] circumcision; and the rest of the Jews also played the same dissembling part with him; so that even Barnabas was carried away too by their dissimulation. But when I saw that they do not^p walk straightforwardly, according to the truth of the glad tidings, I said to Peterⁿ before all, If thou, being a Jew, livest as the nations and not as the Jews, how^q dost thou compel the nations to Judaize? We, Jews by nature, and not sinners of [the] nations, but^r knowing that a man is not justified on the principle of works of law [nor^s] but by the faith of Jesus Christ, we also have believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified on the principle of [the] faith of Christ; and not of works of law; because on the principle of works of law no flesh shall be justified. Now if in seeking to be justified in Christ we also have been found sinners, then [is] Christ minister of sin. Far be the thought. For if the things I have thrown down, these I build again, I constitute myself a transgressor. For I, through law, have died to law, that I may^t live to God. I am crucified with Christ, and no longer live, I,^u but Christ lives in me; but [in] that I now live in flesh, I live by faith, the [faith] of the Son of God, who has loved me and given himself for me. I do not set aside the grace of God; for if righteousness [is] by law, then Christ has died for nothing.

III. O senseless Galatians, who has bewitched you;^v to whom, as before your very eyes, Jesus Christ has been portrayed, crucified [among you^w]? This only I wish to learn of you, Have ye received the Spirit on the principle of works of law, or of [the] report of faith? Are ye so senseless? having begun in Spirit, are ye going to be made perfect in flesh? Have ye suffered so many things in vain, if indeed also in vain? He therefore who ministers to you the Spirit, and works miracles among you, [is it] on the principle of works of law, or of [the] report of faith? Even as Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteous-

^o Or rather 'convicted of evil.' See Winer 45, 1, who says however that the sense 'to be condemned' does not suit here. It seems to me to suit perfectly. Others take it in the strict passive participle sense: 'condemned.' See Wolff in Cur. Philol. in loco.

^p The present here is characteristic; it is not the present of time; as Acts xxv. 11 ἀδικῶ, and John viii. 14 ἐρχομαι. Perhaps we might say 'they not walking;' but it is too free.

7 ness. Know then that they that are on the principle of faith, these are 8 Abraham's sons; and the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the nations on the principle of faith, announced beforehand the glad tid-9 ings to Abraham: In thee all the nations shall be blessed. So that they who are on the principle of faith are blessed with believing 10 Abraham. For as many as are on the principle of works of law are under curse. For it is written, Cursed is every one who does not continue in all things which [are] written in 11 the book of the law to do them; but that by ^x law no one is justified with God [is] evident, because The just shall live on the principle of faith; 12 but the law is not on the principle of faith; but, He^y that shall have done these things shall live by^z 13 them. Christ has redeemed us out of the curse of the law, having become a curse for us, (for it is written, Cursed [is] every one hanged upon 14 a tree,) that the blessing of Abraham might come to ^a the nations in Christ Jesus, that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.
 15 Brethren, (I speak according to man,) even man's confirmed covenant no one sets aside, or adds other 16 dispositions to. But to Abraham were the promises addressed, and to his seed: he does not say, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one,
 And to thy seed; which is Christ.
 17 Now I say this, A covenant confirmed beforehand by God,^b the law, which took place four hundred and thirty years after, does not annul, so as to 18 make the promise of no effect. For if the inheritance [be] on the principle of law, [it is] no longer on the principle of promise; but God gave it in grace to Abraham by promise.

 19 Why then the law? It was added for the sake of transgressions, until the seed came to whom the promise was made, ordained through angels 20 in [the] hand of a mediator. But a^c mediator is not of one, but God is one.
 21 [Is] then the law against the promises of God? Far be the thought.
 For if a law had been given able^d to quicken, then indeed righteousness 22 were on the principle of law; but the scripture has shut up all things under sin, that the promise, on the principle of faith of Jesus Christ, should be given to those that be-23 lieve. But before faith came, we were guarded under law, shut up to faith^e [which was] about to be re-24 vealed. So that the law has been our tutor up to^f Christ, that we might be justified on the principle of faith.
 25 But, faith having come, we are no
 26 longer under a tutor; for ye are all God's sons by faith in Christ Jesus.
 27 For ye,^g as many as have been baptized unto Christ, have put on 28 Christ. There is no Jew nor Greek; there is no bondman nor freeman; there is no male and female; 29 for ye are all one in Christ Jesus: but if ye [are] of Christ, then ye are Abraham's seed,^h heirs according to promise.

bondman, though he be lord of all ;
² but he is under guardians and stewards until the period fixed by the ³ father. So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under ⁴ the principles of the world ; but when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, comeⁱ of woman, ⁵ come under law, that he might redeem those under law, that we might ⁶ receive sonship.^k But because ye are sons, God has sent out the Spirit of his Son into our^l hearts, crying, ⁷ Abba, Father. So thou art no longer bondman, but son ; but if son, heir also through God.^m
⁸ But then indeed, not knowing God, ye were in bondage to those ⁹ who by nature are not gods ;ⁿ but now, knowing God, but rather being known by God, how do ye turn again to the weak and beggarly principles to which ye desire to be again anew ¹⁰ in bondage ? Ye observe days and ¹¹ months and times and years. I am afraid of you, lest indeed I have laboured in vain as to you.
¹² Be as I [am], for I also [am] as ye, brethren, I beseech you : ye have ¹³ not at all wronged me. But ye know that in weakness^o of the flesh I announced the glad tidings to you ¹⁴ at the first ; and my^p temptation, which [was] in my flesh, ye did not slight nor reject with contempt ;^q but ye received me as an angel of ¹⁵ God, as Christ Jesus. What then [was] your blessedness ?^r for I bear you witness that, if possible, plucking out your own eyes ye would ¹⁶ have given [them] to me. So I have become your enemy in speaking the ¹⁷ truth to you ? They are not rightly zealous after you, but desire to shut you^s out [from us], that ye may be zealous after them. But [it is] right ¹⁸ to be zealous at all times in what is right, and not only when I am ¹⁹ present with you—my children, of whom I again travail in birth until Christ shall have been formed in you :

²⁰ and I should wish to be present with you now, and change my voice, for ²¹ I am perplexed as to you. Tell me, ye who are desirous of being under law, do ye not listen to the law ?
²² For it is written that Abraham had two sons ; one of the maid servant,^t ²³ and one of the free woman. But he [that was] of the maid servant was born according to flesh, and he [that was] of the free woman through the ²⁴ promise. Which things have an allegorical sense ; for these are^u two covenants : one from mount Sina, gendering to bondage, which is Hagar.
²⁵ For Hagar is mount Sina in Arabia, and corresponds to Jerusaⁱ Or 'born ;' but 'born' is a secondary sense : it is anything that begins its existence, (hence used for 'born,') or 'becomes anything,' or 'happens.'

^k Or 'adoption ;' but receiving adoption is scarcely sense. 'Adoption' is receiving the position of sonship as a gift. 'Receive' has a peculiar force here. It is ἀπολάβωμεν. They, Jew or Gentile, received it as a gift (for the Jew was in bondage under law : the Gentile had right to nothing) from another, even freely from God.

^m T. R. reads 'heir also of God through Christ,' with D E K L P 37 47 and many others Theoph. ; Theod. Syrr adding also Ἰησοῦ before Χριστοῦ. There are different readings, but διὰ Θεοῦ is the most accredited : so N A B C 17 Am Memph. It is God Himself who has made us heirs.

ⁿ It answers to 2 Chron. xiii. 9, ἡμεῖς καὶ οὐκ ἔσμεν.

^o I take δι' ἀσθενείαν as διὰ νύκτα. So διὰ γλυκὺν ὕπνον. It is a state, as has been said, where it is not going through and out, but staying within the time or space or limits, as βῆ διὰ δῶμα. διὰ δώματος would have quite another sense. I have no doubt of the sense here : it is the state he was in ; it characterised the manner of his coming to them.

^p N A B D F G 17 Am Memph read 'your ;' E K L P 47 Syr-Hel μου. Theod. μου. C 37 Syr-Pst Theoph. nothing. I have with Tisch. (7th ed., not 8th) changed nothing. It is very probable there was nothing, as Theoph.

^q Literally 'spit out.'

^t Or 'bondmaid,' παιδίσκη. I do not deny that in practice παιδίσκη amounted to the same as a bondmaid ; but the root is essentially different from that of 'bondman,' δούλος.

^u T. R. reads 'the two covenants,' with N and a few cursives ; but N is corrected.

lem which [is] now, for^v she is in 26 bondage with her children; but the Jerusalem above is free, which is our^w mother.

27 For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break out and cry, thou that travailest not;
because the children of the desolate are more numerous than [those] of her that has a husband.

28 But ye,^x brethren, after the pattern of Isaac, are children of promise.

29 But as then he that was born according to flesh persecuted him [that was born] according to Spirit, so

30 also [it is] now. But what says the scripture? Cast out the maid servant^y and her son; for the son of 31 the maid servant^y shall not^z inherit with the son of the free woman. So then, brethren, we are not maid servant's^a children, but [children] of the free woman.

V. Christ has set us free in freedom; stand fast therefore,^b and be not held 2 again in a yoke of bondage. Behold,

I, Paul, say to you, that if ye are circumcised, Christ shall profit you

3 nothing. And I witness again to every man [who is] circumcised, that he is 4 debtor to do the whole law. Ye are deprived of all profit^c from the Christ

as separated [from him], as many as are justified by law; ye have fallen

5 from grace. For we, by [the] Spirit, on the principle of faith, await the 6 hope of righteousness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision has any force, nor uncircumcision; but faith

7 working through love. Ye ran well; who has stopped^d you that ye should

8 not obey the truth? The persuasi-bleness^e [is] not of him that calls

9 you. A little leaven leavens the 10 whole lump. I have confidence as to you in [the] Lord, that ye will have no other mind; and he that is troubling you shall bear the guilt [of it], whosoever^f he may be.

11 But I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why am I yet persecuted? Then the scandal of the 12 cross has been done away. I would that they would even cut^g themselves off who throw you into confusion.

13 For ye have been called to^h liberty, brethren; only [do] not [turn] liberty into an opportunity to the flesh, but 14 by love serve one another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, in Thou shalt love thy neighbour as 15 thyself; but if ye bite and devour one another, see that ye are not consumed one of another.

16 But I say, Walk inⁱ [the] Spirit, and ye shall no way^j fulfil flesh's

17 lust. For the flesh lusts against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these things are opposed

one to the other, that ye should not

^x 'Ye,' with B D F G 17; T. R. has 'we,' $\eta\mu\epsilon\iota\varsigma$, and $\epsilon\sigma\mu\epsilon\upsilon$, with \aleph A C E K L P 37 47 Am Syrr Memph. Theod. Theoph. $\eta\mu\epsilon\iota\varsigma$.

^y Or 'bondmaid.'

^z οὐ μὴ, 'not at all,' 'in no wise;' stronger than οὐ.

^a Or 'bondmaid's.'

^b T. R. reads 'Stand fast therefore in the freedom wherewith Christ has freed us,' with (E) K L (F G 47 Am); text \aleph A B C (D) P 17 (37); D E 37 47 Am omit 'therefore.' F G 'in that freedom,' &c.

^c $\kappa\alpha\tau\eta\rho\gamma\eta\theta\eta\tau\epsilon$, a word very hard to translate. The active means to render anything useless and unprofitable, or miss an opportunity. Here it is passive and with $\acute{\alpha}\pi\acute{o}$. It is, hence, to be deprived of the profit or effect of anything. It is used in Rom. vii. 6 in the same form as here, for our deliverance from under the law, $\kappa\alpha\tau\eta\rho\gamma\eta\theta\eta\mu\epsilon\upsilon$

$\acute{\alpha}\pi\acute{o}$; only there it was not profit, but the action of the law; it no longer attained them, had for them become void of effect. So here Christ. 'The English Authorised Version only gives the 'effect'; 'profit' is a little too weak, but 'the Christ is become' is objectionable. Some translate 'separated,' but what the word speaks of is, not separation from the thing, but from its efficacy.

^d $\epsilon\nu\epsilon\kappa\omicron\upsilon\sigma\epsilon\nu$. T. R. reads 'hindered,' $\acute{\alpha}\nu\epsilon\kappa\omicron\upsilon\sigma\epsilon\nu$, with a few cursives. But $\epsilon\gamma\kappa\omicron\pi\tau\omega$ is used in pretty much the same sense in Rom. xv. 22, 1 Thess. ii. 18, 1 Peter iii. 7. As they had run well, the proper sense of $\epsilon\gamma\kappa\omicron\pi\tau\omega$ (to stop by cutting off the way), which others take as the sense, may as well be used.

^f $\theta\sigma\tau\iota\varsigma$, including his character.

^g Or 'mutilate.'

^h $\acute{\epsilon}\pi\acute{\iota}$, the condition into which they are called, what characterises their calling as a condition of its existence.

ⁱ Or 'by.' See note to verse 25.

^j οὐ μὴ, stronger than simply 'not.'

do those things which ye desire;
¹⁸ but if ye are led by^k the Spirit, ye ¹⁹ are not under law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are^l fornication, uncleanness, licentious-²⁰ ness, idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strifes, jealousies, angers, contentions, dis-²¹ putes, schools of opinion, envyings, murders,^m drunkennesses, revels, and things like these; as to which I tell you beforehand, even as I also have said before, that they who do such things shall not inherit God's king-²² dom. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kind-²³ ness, goodness, fidelity, meekness, self-control: against such things ²⁴ there is no law. But they that [are] of the Christⁿ have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts.
²⁵ If we live by the Spirit, let us walk ²⁶ also by the Spirit.^o Let us not become vain-glorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

VI. Brethren, if even a man be taken in some fault, ye who are spiritual restore such a one in a spirit of meekness, considering thyself lest thou also be tempted.

² Bear^p one another's burdens, and thus fulfil^p the law of the^q Christ.
³ For if any man reputes himself to be something, being nothing, he de-⁴ ceives himself; but let each prove his own work, and then he will have his boast in what belongs to^r himself alone, and not in what belongs to^u ⁵ another. For each shall bear his own burden.

⁶ Let him that is taught in the word communicate to him that teaches in all good things.

⁷ Be not deceived: God is not mocked; for whatever a man shall ⁸ sow, that also shall he reap. For he that sows to his own flesh, shall reap corruption from the flesh; but he that sows to the Spirit, from the ⁹ Spirit shall reap eternal life: but let us not lose heart in doing good; for in due time, if we do not faint, we ¹⁰ shall reap. So then, as we have occasion, let us do good towards^s all,
and specially towards those of the household of faith.

¹¹ See how long a letter^t I have writ-¹² ten to you with my own hand. As many as desire to have a fair appearance in [the] flesh, these compel you to be circumcised, only that they may not be persecuted because of^u the ¹³ cross of Christ. For neither do they that are circumcised themselves keep the law; but they wish you to be circumcised, that they may boast in ¹⁴ your flesh. But far be it from me to boast save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom^v [the] world is crucified to me, and I to the ¹⁵ world. For [in Christ Jesus^w] neither is^x circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision; but new creation.

It is characteristic of the walk, leading, and life, the Spirit being the instrument and power.

^p 'Bear' is in the present, 'fulfil' in the aorist: 'thus have it fulfilled.' See Rom. vi. 13.

^q Or 'of Christ.' The form of the phrase requires the article, or at least prefers it. But I apprehend it is better in English also. It alludes to their fondness for law.

^r Or 'in respect to.'

^s ἐργαζόμεθα τὸ ἀγαθὸν πρὸς. Herodotus, viii. 79, has ἀγαθὰ τὴν πατρίδα ἐργάσεται in a speech of Aristides to Themistocles, without any πρὸς, 'render most service to his country.' ἐργαζόμεθα supposes more positive activity of service: ποιεῖν τὸ καλόν, ver. 9, is the character of conduct; ἐργάζεσθαι the service and labour in which it is shewn.

^t Or perhaps 'in what large letters,' πηλικοῖς γράμμασιν. γράμματα is used for letters, epistles, in Acts xviii. 21, and in the classics, and in the plural; πηλίκος is used for any mathematical extent, as πηλίκη γραμμὴ, 'how long a line.' It was long for the apostle to write with his own hand, as he generally dictated to an amanuensis.

EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS.

- I. Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ by God's will, to the saints and faithful in Christ Jesus who are at Ephesus.^a ² Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.
³ Blessed [be] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with^b every spiritual blessing in the heavenlies in Christ; according as he has chosen us in him before [the] world's foundation, that we should be holy and blameless before him in love; having marked us out beforehand^c for adoption through Jesus Christ to himself, according to ⁶ the good pleasure of his will, to [the] praise of [the] glory of his grace, wherein^d he has taken us into favour^e ⁷ in the Beloved: in whom we have

- redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of offences, according to ⁸ the riches of his grace; which he has caused to abound towards us in all
⁹ wisdom and intelligence, having made known to us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he purposed in himself
¹⁰ for [the] administration of the fullness of times; to head up all things in the Christ, ^fthe things in the heavens and the things upon the earth; in him, in whom we have also obtained an inheritance, being marked out beforehand according to the purpose of him who works all things according to the counsel of his own
¹² will, that we should be to [the] praise of his glory who have pre-trusted
¹³ in the Christ: in whom ye also

^a It may be interesting to the reader to mention, that though ἐν Ἐφέσῳ is found in almost all copies, many would leave it out. 8 and B have nothing; and Basil, in the beginning of the fourth century, states that in the ancient copies it was not there. Some, without sufficient ground, have considered it as a kind of circular. Compare Col. iv. 16.

^b ἐν. 'With' does not quite give the force; it expresses the simple fact. ἐν gives something of the power and value of what is enjoyed; gives the blessing characteristically. A man does a thing ἐν πνεύματι, ἐν σαρκί. But in English with the word 'bless,' 'in' is used in a different way.

^c Προορίσας involves purpose. It is not βούλομαι, 'counsel,' though it is κατά, 'according to' the good pleasure of his will, and, in verse 11, 'according to his purpose,' 'according to the counsel (βουλή) of his own will.' The passive of ὀρίζω is 'marked out,' 'determined,' as in Rom. i. 4; here προ-, 'beforehand,' is prefixed. It refers generally to persons, but is applied to things as in 1 Cor. ii. 7. But when applied to persons, always, I think, adding that to which they are destined.

^d Many, with 8 A B P 17 47, read ἡς (if so, read 'which he has bestowed upon us' or 'with which he has favoured us'); ἐν ἡ D (F) G K L 37 Am (F omits ἡ). Theod. has ἐν ἡ; Theoph. ἡ.

^e ἐχαρίτωσεν, 'taken us into his favour,' 'put us into a position of grace and favour.' 'Accepted us' is too formal a doctrine here, not so general as χαρίτω. But 'shewn us grace or favour' does not give the force of the word. 'In the Beloved' is then merely in an instrument; whereas it is in the Beloved that we enter into favour. If we accept ἡς, which seems to be the best attested reading, we should say 'the favour or acceptance in grace, which he has freely bestowed upon us;' χαρίτος ἡς (by attraction for ἡν) ἐχαρίτωσεν ἡμᾶς. T. R. and Tisch. (7th ed. not 8th) read ἐν ἡ. See preceding note.

[have trusted], having heard the word of the truth, the glad tidings of your salvation; in whom also, having believed, ye have been sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, who is [the] earnest of our inheritance to^g the redemption of the acquired possession to [the] praise of his glory.

¹⁵ Wherefore I also, having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which [is] in you, and the love which [ye have] towards all the saints, do not cease giving thanks for you, making mention [of you^h] at my prayers, ¹⁷ that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, would give you [the] spirit of wisdom and revelation in the full knowledge of him, ¹⁸ being enlightened in the eyes of your heart,ⁱ so that ye should know what is the hope of his calling, [and^k] what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, and what the surpassing greatness of his power towards us who believe, according to the working of the might of his strength, [in] which he wrought in the Christ [in] raising him from among [the] dead, and he set him down at his right hand in the heavenlies, ²¹ above every principality, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name named, not only in this ²² age, but also in that to come; and has put all things under his feet, and gave him [to be] head over all things ²³ to the assembly, which is his body, the fulness of him who fills all in all: (II.) and you, being dead in your^l ² offences and sins—in which ye once walked according to the age of this world, according to the ruler of the authority of the air, the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience: among whom we also all once had our conversation in the lusts of our flesh, doing what the flesh and the thoughts willed to do,^m and were children, by nature, of wrath, even ⁴ as the rest: but God, being rich in mercy, because of his great love ⁵ wherewith he loved us, (we too being dead in offences,) has quickened us with the Christ, (ye are saved by ⁶ grace,) and has raised [us] up together, and has made [us] sit down together in the heavenlies in Christ ⁷ Jesus, that he might display in the coming ages the surpassing riches of his grace in kindness towards usⁿ in ⁸ Christ Jesus. For ye are saved by grace, through faith; and this not of ⁹ yourselves; it is God's gift: not on the principle of works, that no one ¹⁰ might boast. For we are his workmanship, having been created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God has before prepared that we should walk in them.

¹¹ Wherefore remember that ye, once nations in [the] flesh, who [are] called uncircumcision by that called circumcision in [the] flesh done with ¹² the hand; that ye were at that time without Christ, aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God^o in the ¹³ world: but now in Christ Jesus ye who once were afar off are become ¹⁴ nigh by the blood of the Christ. For he is our peace, who has made both one, and has broken down the middle wall of enclosure, having annulled the enmity in his flesh, the law of commandments in ordinances, ¹⁵

^g Or 'up to,' εἰς. It is more than 'till,' because it has the inheritance in view. Compare Gal. iii. 24. It may be translated 'for the redemption,' connecting it with 'sealed,' instead of with 'earnest'; thus, 'Ye have been sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, (who is the earnest of our inheritance,) for,' &c.

^r Though A C P and Chrys. (text) and correction in \aleph & c. insert ἡ, I judge πάσα οἰκοδομή is right, and the sense much better than πάσα ἡ οἰκοδομή. That would be Greek grammatically no doubt, but it would suppose, I think, οἰκοδομή to be one complete thing pointed out, whereas it was 'growing to' a temple. But it is a mistake to suppose πάς, as 'all,' has the article always. Moral ideas as a rule, where a general term comprises and resumes a multitude of particulars, have not the article: 'all righteousness,' 'power,' &c., &c., and all like words used characteristically, and so universally, leave it out. It would destroy the sense to put it in. Nor is it confined to these words, as is seen in such cases as the following: πάς οἶκος Ἰσραὴλ (1 Sam. vii. 2, 3; Ezek. xxxvii. 11; Acts ii. 36; cf. Neh. iv. 16); πάσα ἐκκλησία Ἰσραὴλ (1 Kings viii. 14); πάσα συναγωγή υἱῶν Ἰσραὴλ (Ex. xvi. 2); πάς Ἰσραὴλ (2 Sam. xvii. 13; Rom. xi. 26). I think it a mistake of Winer to account for πάσα Ἱεροσόλυμα (Matt. ii. 3), πάς Ἰσραὴλ, by their being proper names. Both with and without the article, πάσα ἡ Ἱεροσόλυμα would have been the one town called by that name; but without the article the mind turns to all the people in it: it is mentally distributed into all it contains. So Ex. xvi. 2, πάσα συναγωγή; so πάς οἶκος Ἰσραὴλ. So with οἰκοδομή here, and the συν-οικοδομείσθε, 'ye are builded together,' is the key to this. He is looking at a building composed of living stones as a whole, but mentally apprehended as composed of many parts. Amongst these, in Christ, the Gentiles at Ephesus were built in too, to be now already a habitation of God by the presence of the Spirit.

^e Many reject the words 'of our Lord Jesus Christ.' But as they are well supported by MSS and the most ancient versions and fathers, I have not struck them out, though disposed to think them an addition. De Wette retains them, and Griesbach; Alford, Ellicott, Meyer, and others reject. Jerome expressly says, they are not to be added as in the Latin copies. \aleph A B C P 17 Memph omit; D F G K L 37 47 Am Syrr Theod. Theoph. &c. insert. There is a connection between Father and family somewhat lost in English: $\pi\alpha\tau\eta\rho \dots \pi\alpha\tau\rho\iota\acute{\alpha}$.

^f The whole of chapter iii. except verse 1 is a parenthesis.

^g Or 'according to which.'

^h It is not only $\delta\epsilon\sigma\mu\acute{\omega}$, but $\sigma\upsilon\nu\delta\acute{\epsilon}\sigma\mu\omega$. I know not how better to represent $\sigma\upsilon\nu$ - than by 'uniting.' It is not the power of union—that is the Holy Ghost; but practically uniting in fact, as amongst men on earth.

ⁱ It may be translated '[the] body is one,' and so on. If the English mind could leave out

'there is' or 'is,' the force would be only so much the greater.

^k The reading is uncertain: T. R. reads 'in you all,' with a few cursives; D F G K L 37 47 Am Syrr 'in us all'; \aleph A B C P 17 Memph read 'in all,' omitting $\eta\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$. It is as likely that $\eta\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$ was left out to make it uniform and as not understood, as that it was added to apply it to Christians; and in this the false reasonings of critical editors who read 'in all' confirm me. However the most ancient MSS have 'in all,' but earlier versions 'in us all.' The mistake has been applying the two first $\pi\acute{\alpha}\nu\tau\omega\nu$ to Christians, or making the Trinity out of the three, which verse 4 clearly shows to be false.

^m $\pi\rho\acute{o}s$ thinks of the object when reached, or the subject is at or with it. $\epsilon\iota\varsigma$ is the object in the mind of the person. See Mark xi. 1, $\pi\rho\acute{o}s$ τὸ ὄσος. Only $\pi\rho\acute{o}s$ with a dative is more actually 'at,' $\pi\rho\acute{o}s$ τῷ ὄρει (Mark v. 11; in Luke viii. 32, it is $\epsilon\nu$). The 'Word' (John i. 1) was $\pi\rho\acute{o}s$ τὸν Θεόν.

* The form of the Greek phrase makes it somewhat difficult to translate—παντὶ ἀνέμῳ τῆς διδασκαλίας—where the introduction of the article is peculiar. Nor is it τῆς διδασκαλίας τῆς ἐν, &c., so as to distinctly connect διδασκαλίας with what follows. Still, I do not think that ἐν τῇ κυβείᾳ, ‘in the sleight of,’ &c., is in connection with κλυδανιζόμενοι and περιφερόμενοι, ‘tossed and carried about,’ but, in sense, with διδασκαλίας. The cheating, as of dice-players, and still more methodic craft, characterised the teaching. The ἐν marks the power and character of the teaching, as in similar cases elsewhere. ‘Every wind of doctrine’ seems to stand by itself in the Authorised Version; and ‘by the sleight of men’ may be connected with ‘tossed to and fro.’ I had thought of saying, ‘of the teaching [which comes] through the sleight, or in the sleight, of men,’ &c. But what I have given is more literal, and ‘that teaching [which is] in the sleight of men,’ &c., is sufficiently clear. The τῆς before διδασκαλίας has practically the force of ‘that,’ ‘that teaching.’ It would regularly require τῆς after it. I have nothing to object to ‘every wind of teaching [which is] by,’ only the emphatic force of the article is somewhat lost. This use of the article is perhaps occasioned by παντί. Compare verse 16. Hence, also, perhaps, we may translate verse 16 ‘from whom the whole body fitted together, and connected by every

^m Some translate it 'everything that is manifested is light.' But I prefer the other, both for sense and Greek. It would not be $\pi\alpha\nu$ $\tau\acute{o}$ if it were as translated in this note; $\tau\acute{o}$ would be left out.

VI. Children, obey your parents in 2 [the] Lord, for this is just. Honour thy father and thy mother, which is the first commandment with a 3 promise, that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest be 4 long-lived on the earth. And [ye] fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in [the] discipline and admonition of [the] Lord.

5 Bondmen, obey masters according to flesh, with fear and trembling, in simplicity of your heart as to the 6 Christ; not with eye service as men-pleasers; but as bondmen of^g Christ, doing the will of God from 7 [the] soul, serving with good will as^h
 8 to the Lord, and not to men; knowing that whatever good each shall do, this he shall receive of [theⁱ] Lord, 9 whether bond or free. And, masters, do the same things towards them, giving up threatening, knowing that both their and your^j Master is in heaven, and there is no acceptance of persons with him.

10 For the rest, brethren,^k be strong in [the] Lord, and in the might of 11 his strength. Put on the panoply of God, that ye may be able to stand 12 against the artifices of the devil: because our struggle is not against blood and flesh, but against principalities, against authorities, against the universal lords of this darkness,¹ against spiritual [power^m] of wickedness in the heavens. For this reason takeⁿ [to you] the panoply of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having accomplished all things,^o to stand. Stand therefore, having girt about your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, and shod your feet with [the] preparation of the glad tidings of peace: besides^p all [these] having taken the shield of faith with which ye will be able to quench all the inflamed^q darts of the wicked one. Have^r also the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is God's word; praying at all seasons, with all prayer and supplication in [the] Spirit, and watching unto this very thing^s with all perseverance and supplication for all the saints; and for me in order that utterance may be given to me in [the] opening of my mouth to make known with boldness the mystery of the glad tidings, for which I am an ambassador [bound] with a chain, that I may be bold in it as I ought to speak.

EPISTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

I. Paul and Timotheus, bondmen of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, with [the] overseers and ministers;^a grace to you, and peace from God our Father and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

I thank my God for my whole remembrance of you, constantly in my every supplication, making the supplication for you all with joy,^b because of your fellowship with the gospel, from the^c first day until now; having confidence of this very thing, that he who has begun in you a good work will complete it unto Jesus Christ's day: as it is righteous^d for me to think this as to you all, because ye have me in your hearts, and that both in my bonds and in^e the defence and confirmation of the glad tidings ye are all participators in my grace.

⁸ For God is my witness how I long after you all in [the] bowels of Christ Jesus.^f
⁹ And this I pray, that your love may abound^g yet more and more in full knowledge and all intelligence, ¹⁰ that ye may judge of and approve the things that are more excellent, in order that ye may be pure and ¹¹ without offence for Christ's day, being complete as regards the fruit^h of righteousness, which [is] by Jesus Christ, to God's glory and praise.
¹² But I would have you know, brethren, that the circumstances in which I am have turned out rather to the furtherance of the glad tidings, ¹³ so that my bonds have become manifest [as being] in Christⁱ in all the ¹⁴ prætorium and to all others;^k and that the most of the brethren, trusting in [the] Lord through my bonds,^l dare more abundantly to speak the ¹⁵ word of God^m fearlessly. Some indeed also for envy and strife, but some also for good will, preach the ¹⁶ Christ. These indeed out of love, knowing that I am set for the defence
¹⁷ of the glad tidings; but those out of contention, announce the Christ, not purely, supposing to arouseⁿ tribulation for my bonds.^o What is it then? at any rate, in every way, whether in pretext or in truth, Christ is announced; and in this I rejoice, yea, ¹⁹ also I will rejoice; for I know that this shall turn out for me to salvation, through your supplication and [the] supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ;

²⁰ according to my earnest^p expectation and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but in all boldness, as always, now also Christ shall be magnified in my body whether by life or ²¹ by death. For for me to live [is]
²² Christ, and to die gain; but if to live in flesh [is my lot], this is for me worth the while:^q and what I shall choose I cannot tell. But^r I am pressed by both, having the desire for departure and being with Christ,
²⁴ [for^s] [it is] very much better, but remaining in the flesh [is] more
²⁵ necessary for your sakes; and having confidence of this, I know that I shall remain and abide along with you all, for your progress and joy
²⁶ in^t faith; that your boasting may abound in Christ Jesus through me^v by my presence again with you.
²⁷ Only conduct yourselves worthily of the glad tidings of the Christ, in order that whether coming and seeing you, or absent, I may hear of what concerns you, that ye stand firm in one spirit, with one soul,

^d Or perhaps 'I feel it righteous.' It may be said, 'it is right.' See Eph. vi. 1.

^g It is a question how far the abounding applies to the love itself; or, supposing the love, that it should grow in these qualities. It is, I think, determined to be the latter by Eph. i. 8. It means 'grow in these,' yet love that would grow in them. Hence, I put 'may abound' after 'love;' if the former, it would be better before 'in full knowledge.'

labouring together in ^w the same conflict with the faith of the glad tidings;
²⁸ and not frightened in anything by the opposers, which is to them a demonstration of destruction, but of your ^x salvation, and that from God;
²⁹ because to you has been given, as regards Christ, ^y not only the believing on him but the suffering for him
³⁰ also, having the same conflict which ye have seen in me, and now hear of in me.

II. If then [there be] any comfort ^z in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of [the] Spirit, if ² any bowels and compassions, fulfil my joy, that ^a ye may think the same thing, having the same love, joined in soul, thinking one thing;
³ [let] nothing ^b [be] in the spirit of strife or vain glory, but, in lowliness of mind, each esteeming the other as more excellent than themselves;
⁴ regarding ^c not each his own [qualities ^d], but each those of others ⁵ also. For let this mind be in you ^e which [was] also in Christ Jesus;
⁶ who, subsisting in the form of God, did not esteem it an object of rapine ^f to be on an equality with God; ^g but emptied himself, taking a bondman's form, taking his place ^h in [the] likeness of men; and having been found in figure as a man, humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death, and [that the] death of [the] cross.

⁹ Wherefore also God highly ⁱ exalted him, and granted him a ^k name, that ¹⁰ which is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of heavenly and earthly and ¹¹ infernal [beings], and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ [is] Lord to God [the] Father's glory.

¹² So that, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much rather in my absence, work out ^l your own salvation with fear and trembling,
¹³ for it is God who works ^m in you both the willing and the working ^m according to [his] good pleasure. Do all things without murmurings and ¹⁴ reasonings, that ye may be harmless and simple, irreproachable children of God in the midst of a crooked and perverted generation; ⁿ among whom ye appear ^o as lights in [the]
¹⁵ world, holding forth [the] word of life, so as to be a boast for me in Christ's day, that I have not run in ¹⁶ vain nor laboured in vain. ^p But if also I am poured out as a libation on the sacrifice and ministration of your faith, I rejoice, and rejoice in com-¹⁷ mon with you all. In like manner do ye also rejoice, and rejoice with ¹⁸ me. But I hope in [the] Lord Jesus

^w That is, the faith of the gospel being in conflict, they identified themselves with it, and entered into the struggle, 'striving in favour of it.'

^x On the whole this seems the best reading, but T. R. is supported by many authorities. Some read 'to us.' The text, with Σ A B P 17 47 Syrr, is $\upsilon\mu\omega\nu$. T. R., with E (F) K L 37 and others Am Memph, has $\upsilon\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$. C D (F?) G have $\eta\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$.

^y Or 'in behalf of Christ,' the sentence being broken in upon and resumed.

^z I do not think $\pi\alpha\rho\acute{\alpha}\kappa\lambda\eta\sigma\iota\varsigma$ is 'exhortation' here. That misses the whole mind of the apostle: $\pi\alpha\rho\acute{\alpha}\kappa\lambda\eta\sigma\iota\varsigma$ is 'encouragement,' by word or any way, and so 'comfort.' Here the apostle beautifully alludes to what he felt by their sending supply to him from so far; and adds, if you want me to be fully happy, be at one among yourselves.

^a 'That' depends on an understood exhortation.

^b Or 'nothing' may be in sense joined with 'thinking,' which precedes, leaving out 'let,' and 'be.'

^c T. R. reads 'regard,' with L (K) 37 (Syrr); text Σ A B C D F G P 17 47 Am.

^d Or 'advantages.'

^e Or perhaps 'be found amongst you.'

^f Or simply 'esteem it rapine.'

^g I have no doubt all this is in contrast with the first Adam.

^h 'Being made' is wrong; it is 'becoming,' $\gamma\epsilon\nu\acute{o}\mu\epsilon\nu\omicron\varsigma$, what he was not before.

ⁱ Or 'has highly . . . and given.'

^k Or 'the [or that] name which is,' &c.: $\tau\acute{o}$ $\omicron\nu\omicron\mu\alpha$ $\tau\acute{o}$ $\upsilon\pi\acute{\epsilon}\rho$, with Σ A B C 17; T. R., with D F G K L P 17 37 47 and most others omit $\tau\acute{o}$.

^m $\epsilon\nu\epsilon\rho\gamma\acute{\epsilon}\omega$, internal operation of power, though seen in results. I add the note lest the word in verse 12 should be supposed from the English to be the same.

ⁿ Deut. xxxii. 5, LXX.

^o $\phi\alpha\acute{\iota}\nu\epsilon\sigma\theta\epsilon$, 'appear,' used in the middle voice for rising or appearing of the heavenly bodies; so here with $\phi\omega\sigma\tau\acute{\eta}\rho\epsilon\varsigma$, 'lights.'

^p This is the other alternative from 'coming and finding them walking well,' as he had said.

to send Timotheus to you shortly, that I also may be refreshed, know-²⁰ ing how ye get on. For I have no one like-minded who will care with ²¹ genuine feeling how ye get on. For all seek their own things, not the things of Jesus Christ.
²² But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child a father, he has served with me in the work of the ²³ glad tidings. Him therefore I hope to send immediately, as soon as I ²⁴ shall see how it goes with me: but I trust in [the] Lord that I myself
²⁵ also shall soon come; but I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-
²⁶ workman and fellow-soldier, but your messenger and minister^a to my need, since he had a longing desire after ²⁷ you all, and was distressed because ye had heard that he was sick; for he was also sick close to death,^r but God had mercy on him, and not indeed on him alone, but also on me, that I might not have sorrow upon ²⁸ sorrow. I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that seeing him ye might again rejoice,^s and that I ²⁹ might be the less sorrowful. Receive him therefore in [the] Lord with all ³⁰ joy, and hold such in honour; because for the sake of the work^t he drew near even to death, venturing^v his life that he might fill up what lacked in your ministration toward me.
 III. For the rest, my brethren, rejoice in [the] Lord: to write the same things to you, to me [is] not ² irksome, and for you safe. See to dogs, see to evil workmen, see to the ³ concision. For we are the circumcision, who worship by [the] Spirit of God,^w and boast in Christ Jesus, ⁴ and do not trust in flesh. Though I have [my] trust even in flesh; if any other think to trust in flesh, I rather:

⁵ as to circumcision, [I received it] the eighth day; of [the] race of Israel, of [the] tribe of Benjamin, Hebrew of Hebrews; as to [the] law, a Pharisee; as to zeal, persecuting the ⁶ assembly; as to righteousness which [is] in [the] law, found^x blameless;
⁷ but what things were gain to me these I counted, on account of Christ,
⁸ loss. But surely I count also all things to be loss on account of the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, on account of whom I have suffered the loss of all and count them to be filth, that I may gain
⁹ Christ;^y and that I may be found in him, not having my righteousness, which [would be]^z on the principle of law, but that which is by faith of Christ, the righteousness which [is]
¹⁰ of God through^a faith, to know him and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings,
¹¹ being conformed to his death, if any way I arrive at the resurrection

It is 'like' too, but used as we use 'like,' 'a like number,' that is, 'the same.' In Hebrews the object is not the essential sameness (that is expressed by μετέσχε τῶν αὐτῶν), but the similarity or sameness of the form and manner.

^s Or 'seeing him again ye might rejoice.'

^t T. R., with D K L 37, adds τοῦ Χριστοῦ, 'of Christ; others Χριστοῦ only, with B F G; others again, κυρίου, 'of the Lord; some 'of God,' thus evidencing an addition. C has neither. κυρίου N A P 17 47 Memph.

was in question as early as Ambrose and Augustine. Augustine reads both. Ambrose, till the Benedictine edition, was given as reading Θεῶ, 'serving God the Spirit; but they give Θεοῦ, 'serving the Spirit of God.' The diplomatic evidence is in favour of Θεοῦ, 'who worship by the Spirit of God; but I do not feel assured of its correctness. N has Θεοῦ; but after all N is only an Alexandrian witness of the completest kind. But it is anything but a correct MS. In Revelation it is very incorrect indeed. D and P (in Tisch. M. S. ¹³ Brethren, I do not count to have got possession myself; but one thing—forgetting the things behind, and ¹⁴ stretching out to the things before, I pursue, [looking] towards [the] goal, for the prize of the calling on high ¹⁵ of God in Christ Jesus. As many therefore as [are] perfect, let us be thus minded; and if ye are any otherwise minded, this also God shall

Thus, in verse 15, it is not of each individual as such, but of everything called κτίσις in its nature (compare Heb. ix. 11). 'Creature' individually is κτίσμα. T. you, and I fill up^e that which is behind of the tribulations of Christ in my flesh, for his body, which is the ²⁵ assembly; of which I^f became minister, according to the dispensation of God which [is] given me towards you to complete the word of God, ²⁶ the mystery which [has been] hidden from ages and from generations, but has now been made manifest to his
²⁷ saints; to whom God would make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the nations, which is Christ in you the hope ²⁸ of glory: whom we announce, admonishing every man, and teaching every man, in all wisdom, to the end that we may present every man perfect in Christ.^g Whereunto also I ²⁹ toil, combating according to his working, which works in me in power.

II. For I would have you know what combat I have for you, and those in Laodicea, and as many as have not ² seen my face in flesh; to the end that their hearts may be encouraged, being united together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to [the] full knowledge of the mystery of God;^h in which are hid all the treasures of ⁴ wisdom and of knowledge. And I say this to the end that no oneⁱ may delude you by persuasive speech.
⁵ For if indeed in the flesh I am absent, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing and seeing your order, and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

⁶ As therefore ye have received the Christ, Jesus the Lord, walk in him,
⁷ rooted and built up^k in him, and assured^l in the faith, even as ye have been taught, abounding in it^m with ⁸ thanksgiving. See that there be no one who shall lead *you*ⁿ away as a prey through philosophy and vain deceit, according to the teaching of men, according to the elements of the world, and not according to ⁹ Christ. For in him dwells all the ¹⁰ fulness of the Godhead bodily; and ye are complete^o in him, who is the head of all principality and authority,
¹¹ in whom also ye have been circumcised with circumcision not done by hand, in the putting off of the body^p of the flesh, in the circumcision of the Christ; buried with him in baptism, in which^q ye have been also raised with [him] through faith of the working of God who raised him ¹² from among the dead. And you, being dead in offences and in the uncircumcision of your flesh, he has quickened together with him, having ⁱ T. R. reads 'lest any one,' with K L 47; text \aleph A B C D P 17 37.

^k 'Rooted' is the perfect participle, what had been done and continued 'built up' present or continuous. Perhaps we might say 'being built up.'

^m Some omit 'in it,' reading 'abounding in thanksgiving,' with \aleph A C 17 37 47 Am Memph; B K L (P) Syrr have it. P omits 'in thanksgiving.'

ⁿ 'You' is emphatically put; but the verb 'be' is in the future, implying present danger more than possibility.

^o Or 'filled full,' referring to all fulness being in Him. The fulness or completeness of the Godhead is in Christ, as towards us; and we, as towards God, are complete in Him. Note here 'Godhead' is Θεότης, not Θεϊότης—Godhead in the absolute sense, not merely divine in character.

^q Or 'in whom.'

^r T. R. (not Stephens) reads 'you,' with L P 37 Am.

^s Used for annulling a decree of law.

^t Handwriting, obligation to which a man is subject by his signature.

^v ἀπεκδυόμενος. This word has raised questions, being generally applied to things, garmade a show of them publicly, leading them in triumph by^w it.^x

¹⁶ Let none therefore judge you in meat or in drink, or in matter of feast, or new moon, or sabbaths, ¹⁷ which are a shadow of things to come; but the body [is] of Christ.

²⁰ If^a ye have died with^b Christ from the elements of the world, why as [if] alive in [the] world do ye sub- ²¹ ject yourselves to ordinances? Do not handle, do not taste, do not ²² touch, (things which are all for destruction in the using [of them]:^c) according to the injunctions and

²³ teachings of men, (which have indeed an appearance^d of wisdom in voluntary worship, and humility, and harsh treatment of the body, not in a certain honour,) to [the] satisfaction of the flesh.^e

III. If therefore ye have been raised with the Christ, seek the things [which are] above, where the Christ is sitting at [the] right hand of God: ² have your mind on the things [that are] above, not on the things [that are] ³ on the earth; for ye have died, and your life is hid with the Christ in ⁴ God. When the Christ is manifested who [is] our^f life, then shall ye also be manifested with him in glory.

⁵ Put to death^g therefore your members which [are] upon the earth, fornication, uncleanness, vile passions, evil lust, and unbridled desire,^h ⁶ which is idolatry. On account of which things the wrath of God comes ⁷ upon the sons of disobedience.ⁱ In which ye also once walked when ye ments, &c., on oneself, not on other persons; but there is ample proof, it seems, of the latter use. See Kypke in loco. See also Schleusner sub voce as to middle voice. Hence I have retained it in spite of many objections made to it. It has been suggested that it should be translated 'having stripped himself [for combat], he made a show of,' &c.; but I am not aware of a case where the word is used without any objective word after it. So read, it would apply to Christ's glory and even life. Otherwise it is taken as getting rid of the principalities and powers. Meyer takes it as here. The old Latin has exuens se, and connects 'principalities' with what follows: 'having stripped [unclothed] himself, exposed principalities,' &c. See Wolff in Cur. Philol. in loco.

^w Or 'in.' ^x Or 'him.' In all the preceding passage the reader must remark that the natural antecedent is God. If this be so, the force of ἀπεκδυσάμενος is evident. Ellicott seeks to make it Christ as God; which, though scriptural, seems to me very forced. Something might be said for God in Christ as to its sense, for the passage speaks of the fulness of the Godhead in Him. Alford takes it in verse 13 as God, yet ἀπεκδυσάμενος as 'having divested himself of.' They do not seem justified in denying the active sense to ἀπεκδυσάμενος. Besides others, also in Schleusner, Wolff quotes Hesiod for it.

^y θέλων. Some translate 'wilfully deprive you,' others 'desiring [to do so] by humility.' I prefer 'doing his will or pleasure in,' &c.

^z Many omit 'not' here, translating ἐμβατεύων 'walking in, treading on:' that is, taking his stand on professed visions of angels. T. R. has μῆ, with C K L P 37 47 Am Syrr; F G have οὐκ;

⋈ A B D 17 Memph omit. Augustine notices the question as to μῆ. Theod. has μῆ. The sense is not affected really. If μῆ be left out, the passage speaks of what the visionaries allege; if in, it is the apostle's own denial of their having really seen the angelic choirs.

^a T. R. adds 'then,' with many cursives.

^b T. R. adds the article before 'Christ,' with a few cursives.

^c I apprehend this is a term of Roman law: a class of objects as to the possession of which there were peculiar rules. Inst. ii. Tit. 4. s. 2: 'rebus . . . quæ ipso usu consumuntur.' Cf. Tit. 5, ss. 1, 2, and see Ulpian, Reg. Jur. xxiv. 27: 'rerum quæ in abusu continentur.'

^d λόγος. See Demosth. in Kypke. Both senses there are really the same. There was something to allege, something to say for it.

^e I have put the preceding clause in parentheses, as shewing that the harsh usage of the body, and all the teaching of the seducer, was for the satisfaction of the flesh; 'not in a certain honour' is what is due to the body. Others translate 'not in any honour to the satisfying the flesh'—taking the whole sentence in this sense. 'To [the] satisfaction' may be connected with ἀφειδία τοῦ σώματος, 'harsh treatment of the body.' In the text it is connected with 'teaching of men.' So connected I have sometimes thought πρὸς might have the force of 'as to.'

^f ⋈ C D F G P 17 47 Am read 'your:' B K L 37 Syrr Memph 'our.'

hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, before ⁴ our God and Father; knowing, brethren beloved by God, your election.
⁵ For our glad tidings were not with you^c in word only, but also in power, and in [the] Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; even as ye know what we were among you for your
⁶ sakes: and ye became our imitators and of the Lord, having accepted the word in much tribulation with joy of ⁷ [the] Holy Ghost, so that ye became models^d to all that believe in Macedonia and in^e Achaia: for the word of the Lord sounded out from you, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but^f in every place your faith which [is] towards God has gone abroad, so that we have no need to say
⁹ anything; for they themselves relate concerning us what entering in we had to you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve a living and ¹⁰ true God, and to await his Son from the heavens, whom he raised from among the^g dead, Jesus, our deliverer from the coming wrath.

II. For ye know yourselves, brethren, our entering in which [we had] to you, that it has not been in vain;
² but, having^h suffered before and been insulted, even as ye know, in Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the glad tidings of God with much earnest striving.
³ For our exhortation [was] not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile;
⁴ but even as we have been approved of God to have the glad tidings entrusted to us, so we speak; not as

⁵ our hearts. For we have not at any time been [among you] with flattering discourse, even as ye know, nor with a pretext for covetousness, God
⁶ [is] witness; nor seeking glory from men, neither from you nor from others, when we might have been a
⁷ charge as Christ's apostles; but have been gentle in the midst of you, as a nurse would cherish her own children. Thus, yearning over you, we had found our delight in having imparted to you not only the glad tidings of God, but our own lives also, because ⁹ ye had become beloved of us. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and toil:ⁱ working night and day, not to be chargeable to any one of you, we have preached to you the glad ¹⁰ tidings of God. Ye [are] witnesses, and God, how piously and righteously and blamelessly we have conducted ¹¹ ourselves with you that believe: as ye know how, as a father his own children, we used to exhort each one
¹² of you, and comfort and testify, that ye should walk worthy of God, who calls^k you to his own kingdom and ¹³ glory. And^l for this cause we also give thanks to God unceasingly that, having received [the] word of [the] report of God by us, ye accepted, not men's word, but, even as it is truly, God's word, which also works in you

III. Wherefore, being no longer able to refrain ourselves, we thought good
² to be left alone in Athens, and sent Timotheus, our brother and fellow-workman under God^a in the glad tidings of Christ, to confirm you and encourage [you^r] concerning your faith, ³ that no one might be moved by these afflictions. (For yourselves know that ⁴ we are set for this; for also, when we were with you, we told you beforehand we are about to be^a in tribulation, even as also it came to pass, and ye

⁵ know.) For this reason I also, no longer able to refrain myself, sent to know your faith, lest perhaps the tempter had tempted you and our labour should be come to nothing.
⁶ But Timotheus having just come^t to us from you, and brought to us the glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have always good remembrance of us,^v desiring much
⁷ to see us, even as we also you; for this reason we have been comforted in you,^w brethren, in all our distress and tribulation,^x through your faith,
⁸ because now we live if ye stand firm
⁹ in [the] Lord. For what thanksgiving can we render to God for you, for all the joy wherewith we rejoice on account of you before our God,
¹⁰ night and day beseeching exceedingly to the end that we may see your face, and perfect what is lacking
¹¹ in your faith? But our God and Father himself^y and our Lord Jesus^z

^m T. R. reads 'their own,' with K L 37 47; \aleph A B D F G P 17 Am Memph omit.

ⁿ I have added 'separated,' to express the somewhat emphatic reiteration of ἀπό in the Greek.

^o Or 'is it not even ye?'

^a The reading is perplexed. But I suppose it is either 'our brother, and fellow-workman under God,' συνεργὸν τοῦ Θεοῦ, or 'our brother and minister of God.' Some simply leave out καὶ συνεργὸν ἡμῶν. \aleph A P have διάκονον τοῦ Θεοῦ, omitting καὶ συνεργὸν ἡμῶν. B reads καὶ συνεργὸν ἐν τῷ εὐαγγελίῳ τοῦ Χριστοῦ, leaving out τοῦ Θεοῦ, as well as καὶ διάκονον and ἡμῶν. C falls us here; so that we have for συνεργόν, B, and D (Gr. and Lat.), for διάκονον, \aleph A P Am. I have given it as in (B) D. If any prefer \aleph A P the choice and authorities are there. Alf. Lünemann Ell. Griesb. Tisch. De Wette have as in text.

^r T. R. adds a second 'you' in text, with K L and others; \aleph A B D F G P 17 37 47 Am Memph omit.

^s Very competent critics, beginning with Bengel, would translate here 'we are to be,' that is, such is the lot of Christians; but προελέγομεν, 'told you beforehand,' seems to make it applicable to the Thessalonians. Both may be joined, and I suspect were in the apostle's mind; but it is added to verse 3, and not the repetition of it.

^t Or 'But now, Timotheus having come,' &c.

But I doubt that ἀπὸ has ever the semi-inferential force of νῦν or νυνί.

^v Or 'have good remembrance of us, always desiring much to see.'

^w ἐφ' ὑμῖν I believe here, and in 2 Cor. vii. 7, is the occasion. The ἐπὶ with a dative, with the force of a condition, or circumstance, which gives an occasion, not the cause: moyennant. It is the same structure as ἐπὶ πάσῃ τῇ ἀνάγκῃ, not here strictly a condition, nor 'in spite of,' nor merely 'in reference to,' but still with the sense of occasion. We say 'it was the occasion of his doing so,' 'the occasion failed,' 'he had no occasion;' but also 'on this occasion,' and that is the force, with the same difference, of ἐπὶ here. So ἐπὶ πάσῃ τῇ χάριτι, verse 9. We can say 'for' perhaps there, but it is the occasion of his thanksgiving; his thanksgiving was conditional; that was necessary to it as a condition precedent.

^y Or 'but may God himself and our Father;' but this, closely examined, is unsatisfactory; they might be two, whereas the one article in Greek refers 'God and Father' to one person, without necessarily referring 'our' to more than Father. 'Now may himself [who is] God and our Father.'

^z T. R. adds 'Christ,' with E F G K L and others 37 47 Syrr Memph; \aleph A B D 17 Am omit.

¹² direct^a our way to you. But you^b may the Lord make to exceed and abound in love toward one another, and toward all, even as we also towards you, in order to the confirming of your hearts unblamable in holiness before our God and Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus^c with all his saints.

IV. For the rest, then, brethren, we beg you and exhort you in [the] Lord Jesus, even as ye have received from us how ye ought to walk and please^d God, even as ye also do walk,^e that ye would abound still² more. For ye know what charges we gave you through the Lord Jesus. ³ For this is [the] will^f of God, [even] your sanctification, that ye should ⁴ abstain from fornication; that each of you know how to possess^g his own vessel in sanctification and honour, ⁵ (not in passionate desire, even as the ⁶ nations who know not God,) not overstepping the rights of and wronging his brother in the matter,^h because the Lord [is] the avenger of all these things, even as we also told you before, and have fully testified. For God has not called us toⁱ uncleanness, but in sanctification.^j He therefore that [in this] disregards [his brother], disregards, not man, but God, who has given also his Holy Spirit to you.^k

⁹ Now concerning brotherly love ye have no need that we should write to you, for ye yourselves are taught ¹⁰ of God to love one another. For also ye do this towards all the brethren in the whole of Macedonia; but we exhort you, brethren, to abound ¹¹ still more, and to seek earnestly to be quiet and mind your own affairs, and work with your [own^l] hands, even ¹² as we charged you, that ye may walk reputably towards those without, and may have need of no one.^m

¹³ But weⁿ do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them that are fallen asleep, to the end that ye be not grieved even as also the

^a It is well to remark here that 'direct' in Greek is in the singular; God the Father and Christ the Lord forming, so to speak, one in the thought of the apostle's mind, though, personally, clearly distinguished.

^b 'You' is in contrast with 'our . . . to you.'

^c T. R. adds 'Christ,' with F G L 17 Syrr Memph; \aleph A B D K 37 47 Am omit.

^d I do not say 'to please,' because then pleasing God would be a distinct object. Here it is 'rather to walk so as to please.' The point is, what is the way ($\tau\acute{o}$ $\pi\acute{\omega}\varsigma$) to please him, not that it ought to be an object, however true that may be. Here it is assumed.

^e T. R. omits 'even as ye also do walk,' with K L 47 and most others; \aleph A B D F G 17 37 Am Memph insert.

^f The article is not before $\theta\acute{\epsilon}\lambda\eta\mu\alpha$, 'will,' in Greek, and the force much increased thereby. It is before $\Theta\epsilon\omicron\upsilon$. It is not merely the fact that God wills so, but it is a matter of God's will. God is looked at as a person in authority (not merely a divine being), but the will is looked at characteristically, not merely as a fact that He so wills. This is of such a character that God Himself wills it.

^g 'Possess.' It is alleged that $\kappa\tau\acute{\alpha}\sigma\theta\alpha\iota$ means 'acquire,' not 'possess.' No doubt it is its force, the perfect tense giving it the force of possession. What I possess myself of, I possess when the action is complete and permanent. But it is not, I think, exactly 'acquire,' but 'to get into possession,' or 'come into possession of,' the difference being great in moral things. Thus Luke xxi. 19, and xviii. 12, so Sirach li. 20. You cannot say 'acquire his soul by patience.' We do say 'self-possession,' yet it is an active state. But 'keep,' 'preserve,' is a kindred sense undoubtedly used in the LXX; Sirach xvii. 23, $\pi\acute{\iota}\sigma\tau\iota\nu$ $\kappa\tau\eta\sigma\alpha\iota$, 'keep faith with one's neighbour.' So Lysias, quoted by Kypke. Sirach vi. 7 does not apply, nor a passage quoted by Stephens, sub voce, from Xenophon; but Demosthenes seems so to use it. This is not the place to discuss the use of $\sigma\kappa\epsilon\upsilon\omicron\varsigma$, but certainly verse 5 and $\tau\acute{o}$, before $\mu\grave{\eta}$ $\upsilon\pi\epsilon\rho\beta\alpha\iota\nu\epsilon\iota\nu$, verse 6, seems to exclude the taking it to mean wife. I reject the sense of acquiring, and take that of possessing and preserving. His remark, $\lambda\alpha\beta\acute{\omega}\nu$, $\acute{\epsilon}\chi\omega\nu$, may refer to the force of the aorist, which is used for possessing, like the perfect. Another use of $\kappa\tau\acute{\alpha}\sigma\theta\alpha\iota$ is to take or have a wife, and, I apprehend, to be conversant with places and things. See Schleusner. 'His own' may well be taken in reference to his brother.

^h A euphemism for intercourse with a female, as his wife or another's.

^j Or 'holiness,' as in Rom. vi. 19, 22, $\acute{\alpha}\gamma\iota\alpha\sigma\mu\acute{o}\varsigma$. But 'sanctification' is used in English for the result as well as the activity which produces it. Compare verses 3, 4 and the note on 1 Cor. i. 30.

¹⁴ rest who have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus has died and has risen again, so also God will bring with him those who have fallen
¹⁵ asleep through Jesus. (For this we say to you in [the] word of [the] Lord, that we, the living, who remain to the coming of the Lord, are in no way to anticipate^o those who have fallen asleep; for the Lord
¹⁶ himself, with an assembling shout, with archangel's voice and with trump of God, shall descend from heaven; and the dead in Christ

^x ἀπὸ παντὸς εἶδους πονηροῦ. Even if πονηροῦ be an adjective, what is in the text gives the sense:

'every wicked form' would have a wholly different sense in English. I do not think that πονηροῦ could have the article here. εἶδος, as often remarked, is 'kind,' 'species;' but if the article be put before πονηροῦ, it is either 'the wicked one,' and εἶδος has no sense; or it is the abstract idea of τὸ πονηρόν; and an abstract idea is one absolute and single whole; you cannot have kinds of it. Hence πονηροῦ is looked at as a general thing, a genus, and has kinds or species of it. They were to hold fast the τὸ καλόν, 'the right,' the thing in itself. But you cannot speak of evil in itself as an abstract existence. Its most absolute form is Satan, though we may practically speak of 'evil;' but I cannot say 'evilness' as I can 'goodness.' I must suppose an existence of what is good to have an idea of evil. τὸ καλόν and πονηρόν are therefore profoundly beautiful. If I say 'wickedness,' I think of an act or of evil will in some one, malice.

SECOND EPISTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

I. Paul and Silvanus and Timotheus to the assembly of Thessalonians in God our Father and [the] Lord Jesus
² Christ. Grace to you, and peace from God our ^a Father, and [the] Lord Jesus Christ.

³ We ought to thank God always for you, brethren, even as it is meet, because your faith increases exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all towards one another abounds;

⁴ so that we ourselves make our boast in you in the assemblies of God for your endurance and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations, which

⁵ ye are sustaining; a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, to the end that ^b ye should be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for

[of] everlasting destruction from [the] presence of the Lord, and from the ¹⁰ glory of his might, when he shall have come to be glorified in his saints, and wondered at in all that have believed,^e (for our testimony to you has been believed,) in that day.

¹¹ To which end we also pray always worthy of the calling, and fulfil all [the] good pleasure of [his] goodness and [the] work of faith with power,

¹² so that the name of our Lord Jesus [Christ^f] may be glorified in you and ye in him, according to the grace of Christ.^g

II. Now we beg you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ

you in any manner, because [it will not be] unless the apostasy have first come, and the man of sin have been ⁴ revealed, the son of perdition; who opposes and exalts himself on high^k against^l all called God, or object of veneration; so that he himself^m sits down in the temple of God, shewing
⁵ himself that he is God. Do ye not remember that, being yet with you, ⁶ I said these things to you? And now ye know that which restrains, that he should be revealed in his ⁷ own time. For the mystery of lawlessness already works; only [there is] he who restrains now until he be ⁸ gone, and then the lawless one shall be revealed, whom the Lord Jesusⁿ shall consume^o with the breath^p of his mouth, and shall annul by the ⁹ appearing of his coming; whose coming is according to the working^q of Satan in all^r power and signs and ¹⁰ wonders of falsehood, and in all^r deceit of unrighteousness to^s them that perish, because they have not received the love of the truth that ¹¹ they might be saved. And for this reason God sends^t to them a working^q of error, that they should believe what is false, that all might be ¹² judged who have not believed the truth, but have found pleasure in ¹³ unrighteousness. But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of [the] Lord, that God has chosen you from [the] beginning to salvation in sanctification of [the] Spirit and belief of [the] truth: whereto he has called you by our glad tidings, to [the] obtaining of [the] glory^v of our Lord Jesus

¹⁶ by word or by our letter. But our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and our God and Father, who has loved us, and given [us] eternal consolation
¹⁷ and good hope by grace, encourage your hearts, and establish you^w in every good work and word.^x

III. For the rest, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also ² with you; and that we may be delivered from bad and evil men, for faith [is] not [the portion] of all.
³ But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you and keep [you] from ⁴ evil.^y But we trust in the Lord as to you, that the things which we ⁵ enjoin,^z ye both do and will do. But the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the^a patience of the Christ.

⁶ Now we enjoin you, brethren, in the name of our^b Lord Jesus Christ,

^k 'Before,' or 'exceedingly,' ὑπεραιρόμενος followed by ἐπὶ. There is some question as to the force of ἐπὶ here. Ellicott gives 'above' and 'against,' but I suppose הַגָּדֹל is 'magnify oneself against,' as Is. x. 15 as well as Dan. xi. 36; but in Dan. xi. 37 the idea of 'above' seems to come in, and this ὑπέρ implies. There is opposition, but in the way of arrogant self-exaltation. See following note; but there the verb also has ἐπὶ.

D F G 17 Am. The sense is the same. It is when the lawless one is revealed. πέμψει is historic, πέμψει the moral fact. The making it present as to time, referring to verse 7, is a mere blunder. It is in contrast with that time.

^v 'The obtaining of the glory' is anarthrous in Greek, which gives a shade of meaning which one cannot express in English. With the article it is the fact of obtaining the glory; without it, it is the character of the calling: 'to obtaining glory.' What that glory is is then stated: 'that of our Lord Jesus Christ.' 'We are called to obtention of glory, [that] of our Lord Jesus Christ.'

But for this reason mercy was shewn me, that in me, [the] first, Jesus Christ might display the whole long-suffering, for a delineation of^l those about to believe ¹⁷ on him to life eternal. Now to the King of the ages, [the] incorruptible, invisible, only^m God, honour and glory to the ages of ages. Amen. ¹⁸ This charge,ⁿ [my] child Timotheus, I commit to thee, according to the prophecies as to thee preceding, in order that^o thou mightest war by ¹⁹ them the good warfare, maintaining^p faith and a good conscience; which [last] some, having put away, have ²⁰ made shipwreck as to faith; of whom is Hymenæus and Alexander, whom I have delivered to Satan, that they may be taught by discipline not to blaspheme.

II. I exhort therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions,^q thanksgivings be made for all men; ² for kings and all that are in dignity, that we may lead a quiet and tranquil life in all piety and gravity; ³ for^r this is good and acceptable before ⁴ our Saviour God, who desires that all men should be saved and come to [the] knowledge^s of [the] truth. ⁵ For God is one,^t and [the] mediator of God and men one, [the] man Christ

^g Plato, Phaed. contrasts these and ἀνδροφόνους; but δαόω is 'to smite' or 'beat,' not 'to kill.'

^h 'And' is doubtful. D K L 37 47 Syrr have it; N A F G P 17 Am Memph omit.

ⁱ Or 'I thank him who has given me power, Christ Jesus our Lord.'

^k Or 'appointing me to ministry, who.' N A D F G P 17 47 read τό for τόν before πρότερον.

^l I think it a mistake to apply the delineation simply to the long-suffering, and so make 'of' mean 'for.' 'for those,' &c. Paul was a delineation of Christ's ways in their case, even, I doubt not, in the case of the rebellious Jews hereafter: the whole long-suffering was in Paul's case, so as to picture every case. In those who accompanied with Him when alive this was not the case, though the grace was really the same; but there was not the same ἐνδειξις of it.

^m T. R. adds 'wise,' with K L P (37) 47 and others; N A D F G 17 Am Memph omit.

ⁿ Same word as 'enjoin,' verses 3, 5.

^o The connection of the words here is much discussed. I have left the same ambiguity as in Greek. It may be 'I commit to thee (in this way) in order that,' or 'going before in order that,' it may be 'prophecies as to thee,' or 'going before, as to thee.' I apprehend the series of ideas in the apostle's mind is: he commits—in order that; but he refers to the prophecies—that by them. As to the second point, the whole is one idea; but the 'as to thee' is more closely connected with prophecies. There is a more serious difficulty as to the word 'faith;' because it embraces two ideas: doctrine, as taught of God and received; and subjectively the state of soul. If I have cast off the faith, the doctrine and the state of soul are both gone. In verse 19 it is the inward energy of grace which holds fast the truth. The two are not separated, but the state of the soul is first in the apostle's mind. In the second, having lost a good conscience, they did not hold fast the faith, but they lost it in some way thus objectively. In the second case, there is the article in Greek, which does not exclude faith in the soul, but leads the mind to the faith. This comes out in the following verse; but in English 'the faith' would be too absolute or merely doctrinal. I think it is clear as I have put it.

^p Or 'holding,' I should say 'keeping;' but 'keeping faith,' in English, has another sense; but it is more than 'having.'

^q ἐντενύεις, personal and confiding intercourse with God on the part of one able to approach Him.

^r N A 17 Memph omit 'for;' D F G K L &c. Am Syrr have it.

^s ἐπίγνωσις, 'full knowledge,' which acknowledges the truth of a thing; but I have said 'knowledge,' not 'full' or 'certain knowledge,' as more just in English. If I said, in English, 'acquainted with the truth,' it would imply not possessed; but knowledge is ἐπίγνωσις. If we say 'full,' it is contrasted with 'partial;' 'certain' with 'doubtful.' To know the truth suggests possession of it.

^t Or 'there is one God and one mediator,' &c.

I TIMOTHY II. III.

⁶ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all, the testimony [to be rendered] ⁷ in its own times; to which I have been appointed a herald and apostle, (I speak [the] truth,^v I do not lie,) a teacher of [the] nations in faith and truth.

⁸ I will therefore that the men pray in every place, lifting up pious hands, ⁹ without wrath or reasoning. In like manner also that the women in decent deportment and dress^w adorn themselves with modesty and discretion, not with plaited [hair] and^x gold, or pearls, or costly clothing, ¹⁰ but, what becomes women making profession of the fear of God, by ¹¹ good works. Let a woman learn in ¹² quietness in all subjection; but I do not suffer a woman to teach nor to exercise authority over^y man, but ¹³ to be in quietness; for Adam was ¹⁴ formed first, then Eve: and Adam was not deceived; but the woman, having been deceived,^z was in transgression. But she shall be preserved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and holiness with discretion.

III. The word [is] faithful: if any one aspires to exercise oversight, he desires a good work. The overseer then must be irreproachable, husband of one wife, sober, discreet, decorous, hospitable, apt to teach; ³ not given to excesses from wine, not a striker,^a but mild, not addicted to ⁴ contention, not fond of money, conducting his own house well, having [his] children in subjection with all ⁵ gravity; (but if one does not know how to conduct his own house, how shall he take care of the assembly of ⁶ God?) not a novice, that he may not, being inflated, fall into [the] ⁷ fault^b of the devil. But it is necessary that he should have also a good testimony from those without, that he may fall not into reproach and ⁸ [the] snare of the devil. Ministers,^c in like manner, grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not seeking gain by base means, ⁹ holding the mystery of the faith in ¹⁰ a pure conscience. And let these be first proved, then let them minister,^d being without charge [against them]. ¹¹ [The] women in like manner grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all ¹² things. Let [the] ministers^e be husbands of one wife, conducting [their] children and their own houses well: ¹³ for those who shall have ministered well obtain for themselves a good degree, and much boldness in faith ¹⁴ which [is] in Christ Jesus. These things I write to thee, hoping to ¹⁵ come to thee more quickly;^e but if I delay, in order that thou mayest know how one ought to conduct oneself in God's house, which is [the] assembly of [the] living God, [the] ¹⁶ pillar and base of the truth. And confessedly the mystery of piety is great. God^f has been manifested in flesh, has been justified in [the]

^w καταστολή is more than στολή, and includes the whole deportment; the way in which the woman presents herself, though dress be a great sign of this.

^y T. R. reads 'or.' The MSS vary, but on the whole 'and' is the best supported. \aleph A D F G and most Memph 'and;' K L 37 47 and others Am have 'or.'

^a ἐξαπατηθεῖσα, a stronger word than ἀπατηθεῖσα, which T. R. reads, with K L 37 47 and many others. But scriptural Greek often adds strengthening prepositions with the force little changed. See Rom. vii. 11, xvi. 18; 1 Cor. iii. 18; 2 Cor. xi. 3; 2 Thess. ii. 3.

^b κρίμα is the subject matter of which a person had to be accused. They set up the κρίμα of the Lord on the cross; that for which He came into accusation—the charge. So it is used here. The devil was puffed up with his own excellency, and abode not in the truth. Hence, in a strongly taken sense, our word 'crime.' See also note on 1 Cor. xi. 29.

^c διάκονοι, 'servants' or 'deacons.'

^d 'Serve,' as servants or deacons.

^e More quickly than the writing of the letter supposed; but in case he delayed he wrote. The verse refers to his fears of being delayed.

^f I do not enter on the criticism of this text. It very likely should be read ὅς, 'He who has,' &c. \aleph has ὅς, but has been meddled with. P (Porph. Tisch. Mon. Sacr. Ined.) has Θεός: it generally, in Paul's epistles, has the readings of \aleph , but occasionally is more like the T. R. According to

Spirit, has appeared to^g angels, has been preached among [the] nations, has been believed on in [the] world, has been received up in glory.

IV. But the Spirit speaks expressly, that in latter times some shall apostatise from the faith, giving their mind to deceiving spirits and teachings of demons speaking^h lies in hypocrisy, cauterised as to their own conscience, forbidding to marry, [bidding] to abstain from meats, which God has created for receiving with thanksgiving for them who are faithful and knowⁱ the truth. For every creature of God [is] good, and nothing [is] to be rejected, being received with thanksgiving; for it is sanctified by God's word and freely addressing^k [him]. Laying these things before the brethren, thou wilt be a good minister^l of Christ Jesus,^m nourished with the words of the faith and of the good teaching which thou hast fully followed up.ⁿ But profane and old wives' fables avoid, but exercise thyself unto piety; for bodily exercise is profitable for a little,^o but piety is profitable for everything, having promise of life, of the present one, and of that to come. The word [is] faithful and worthy of all acceptance; for, for this we^p labour and suffer reproach,^q because we hope in a living God, who is preserver of all men, specially of those that believe. Enjoin and teach these things. Let no one despise thy youth, but be a model of the believers, in word, in conduct,^r in love,^s in faith, in purity. Till I come, give thyself to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. Be not negligent of the gift [that is] in thee, which has been given to thee through prophecy, with imposition of the hands of the elderhood. Occupy thyself with these things; be wholly in them, that thy progress may be manifest to^t all. Give heed to thyself and to the teaching; continue in them; for, doing this, thou shalt save both thyself and those that hear thee.

V. Rebuke not an elder sharply, but exhort [him] as a father, younger [men] as brethren, elder women as mothers, younger women as sisters, with all purity. Honour widows who are really widows; but if any widow have children or descendants, let them learn first to be pious as regards their own house, and to render a return on their side to [their] parents; for this is^v acceptable in the sight of God. Now she who [is] a widow indeed, and is left alone, has put [her] hope in God, and continues in supplications and prayers night and day. But she that lives in habits of self-indulgence is dead [while] livⁱ Or 'acknowledge.' See note to chap. ii. 4.

^k This I believe to be the sense here: ἐντευγίς means 'intercourse with a person,' then 'petitions and intercession;' one person speaking personally to another. See note to ii. 1. I believe the creature, fallen through Adam, belongs to the faithful, and those who know the truth, by God's speaking to us, and our freely speaking to Him. This has set all on a new footing, because we have met God again, the word of God having put us into communication by grace. And the faithful, and those who know the truth, have availed themselves of it, and come and enter into intercourse. It is no longer by nature, but by the word of God.

7 ing. And these things enjoin, that 8 they may be irreproachable. But if any one does not provide for his own, and specially for those of [his] house,
he has denied the faith, and is worse 9 than the unbeliever. Let a widow be put upon the list, being of not less than sixty years, [having been] wife 10 of one man, borne witness to in good works, if she have brought up children, if she have exercised hospitality, if she have washed saints' feet, if she have imparted relief to the distressed, if she have diligently 11 followed every good work. But younger widows decline; for when they grow wanton against Christ, 12 they desire to marry, being guilty, because they have cast off their first 13 faith. And, at the same time, they learn also [to be] idle, going about to people's houses;^w and not only idle, but also gossipers and meddlers, 14 speaking things not becoming. I will therefore that the younger marry, bear children, rule the house, give no occasion to the adversary in respect^x of reproach. For already some 15 have turned aside after Satan. If any believing man or woman have widows, let them impart relief to them, and let not the assembly be charged, that it may impart relief to those [that are] widows indeed.

^w I have said 'people's houses,' to represent the article, τὰς οἰκίας of the saints or people. They knew different houses represented to the mind as known.

^x Or 'by reason of,' χάριν. χάριν and ἕνεκα approach each other in use very nearly, but are not the same. χάριν refers always to a productive power, as regards the noun governed by it, or a motive which has governed the mind as drawn favourably to it. It is the motive before the mind, or act, attractively; not behind it as a mere cause. Approbation or object is in χάριν, simply why in ἕνεκα. But in this case the application is very fine. The adversary found in the reproach that which produced an occasion to exercise his hostility. So χάριν is a motive by reason of something accepted, viewed favourably, approved. To use the example given by Eustathius, 'I could not arm myself χάριν an enemy.' I could χάριν a friend, or χάριν a victory. I apprehend it would be ἕνεκα an enemy. See Wetstein, Luke vii. 47, and the passages in a Greek Concordance. As to 'adversary,' discussed here, the habit of Paul is to speak of Satan directly when acting through men, because he not an accusation unless where there 20 are two or three witnesses. Those that sin convict^y before all, that the 21 rest also may have fear. I testify before God and^z Christ Jesus^a and the elect angels, that thou keep these things without prejudice, doing nothing by favour.

22 Lay hands quickly on no man, nor partake in others' sins. Keep 23 thyself pure. Drink no longer only water, but use a little wine on account of thy stomach and thy frequent ill-24 nesses. Of some men the sins are manifest beforehand, going before to judgment, and some also they follow 25 after. In like manner good works also are manifest beforehand, and those that are otherwise cannot be hid.

VI. Let as many bondmen as are under yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the teaching be not 2 blasphemed. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise [them] because they are breth-knew the activity of the adversary, and the part he takes in such matters. To such an adversary reproach is a favoured, accepted motive. The sense of χάριν remains essentially the same—the favour borne to anything; only sometimes it is an object, sometimes a pleasing motive.

^y Or 'reprove.' But it is bringing home demonstratively to a man's conscience. It means 'to put to shame,' 'prove,' 'conquer,' 'rebuke,' but with conviction.

^z God and the Lord Jesus Christ are looked at as one object in respect of the apostle's testifying, τοῦ Θεοῦ καὶ κυρίου Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ. But the reading is perhaps doubtful; see following note. Note, G. Sharpe's rule, that it is one person, is far from always true. One office or position of two is sufficient for the second article being suppressed. See Acts xiii. 1; Eph. ii. 20, iii. 5; Col. iv. 11. Here as a name it hardly applies at all if κυρίου be left out; 'the elect angels' has a distinct article.

ren; but let them the rather serve them with subjection, because they are faithful^b and beloved, who profit by the good and ready service [rendered]. These things teach and exhort.³ If any one teach differently, and do not accede to sound words, those of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the teaching which [is] according to piety,⁴ he is puffed up, knowing nothing, but sick about questions and disputes of words, out of which arise envy, strife, injurious words,⁵ evil suspicions, constant quarrellings^c of men corrupted in mind and destitute of the truth, holding gain to be [the end of] piety.^d But piety with contentment^e is great gain. For we have brought nothing into the world: [it is] [manifest^e] that neither can we carry anything out. But having sustenance and covering, we will be content^f with these. But those who desire^g to be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and many unwise and hurtful lusts, which plunge men into destruction and ruin. For the love of money is [the] root^h of every evil; which some having aspired after, have wandered from the faith, and pierced themselves with many sorrows. But thou, O man of God, flee these things, and pursue righteousness, piety, faith, love, endurance, meekness of spirit.ⁱ Strive earnestly [in] the good conflict^k of faith.¹ Lay hold of eternal life, to which^m thou hast been called, and hast confessed the good confession¹³ before many witnesses. Amen.

¹⁷ Enjoin on those rich in the present age not to be highminded, nor to trust on the uncertainty of riches; but in the God^p who affords us all things richly for [our] enjoyment; to do good, to be rich in good works, to be liberal in distributing, disposed to communicate [of their substance],¹⁹ laying by for themselves a good foundation for the future, that they may lay hold of [what is] really life.^q

SECOND EPISTLE TO TIMOTHY.

- I. Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ^a by God's will, according to promise of life, the [life] which [is] in Christ² Jesus, to Timotheus, [my] beloved child: grace, mercy, peace, from God [the] Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.
- ³ I am thankful to God, whom I serve from [my] forefathers with pure conscience, how unceasingly I have the remembrance of thee in my⁴ supplications night and day, earnestly desiring to see thee, remembering thy tears, that I may be filled with⁵ joy; calling to mind^b the unfeigned faith which [has been^c] in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also.
- ⁶ For which cause I put thee in mind to rekindle the gift of God which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.
- ⁷ For God has not given us a spirit of cowardice, but of power, and of love,⁸ and of wise discretion.^d Be not therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but suffer evil along with the glad tidings,^e according to the power of⁹ God; who has saved us, and has called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to [his] own purpose and grace, which [was] given to us in Christ¹⁰ Jesus before [the] ages of time, but has been made manifest now by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who has annulled death, and brought to light life and incorruptibility by the glad tidings; to which I have been appointed a herald and apostle¹¹ and teacher of [the] nations.^f For which cause also I suffer these things; but I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed,^g and am persuaded that he is able to keep for

^a Or 'Christ Jesus,' with \aleph D F G K P 17 47 and others (Am) Memph; A L 37 and most others have 'Jesus Christ.'

^b Or '.... conscience, (as I have unceasingly the.... with joy) calling to mind.' That is, 'I am thankful, calling to mind.'

^c As some verb must be inserted, I have said 'has been,' warranted by the apostle's 'calling it to mind.' 'Is' affirms it is now, whereas it might seem there was discouragement. 'Was' implies it was gone. In Greek there is nothing; but the proper sense of ἀναζωπυρέω is 'to revive, rekindle, what is drooping.' So Gen. xlv. 27, and 1 Macc. xiii. 7. The whole subject of the epistle is energy in the darkening state of the church.

^d Some would take σωφρονισμός in the active sense of 'warning,' 'setting right,' zurechtweisen, strafen. But it is clearly used with the passive or subjunctive meaning also, 'of a sober right mind.' See in the passages from Josephus quoted by De Wette, Ant. xvii. 9, 2, and Bell. Jud. ii. 1, 3, both referring to the same history, where σωφρονισμός is evidently a quiet, sound, or sober mind.

^e This personification of the gospel is very common with Paul.

^f \aleph A 17 omit 'of the nations.'

^g 'I know whom I have believed.' The Authorized Version is, I think, right: πιστεύω, with the dative is always in the New Testament to believe a person. The only case that might raise a doubt is John v. 24; but there, I apprehend, the passage must be governed by universal usage. εἰς τινα is the object of belief, used very often in John, who employs the word πιστεύω far more than any, (next to his Gospel is the Acts,) the person who is the object of my faith, on whom I believe, ich glaube an ihn. ἐπὶ τόν goes on to the idea of confidence: I rest my faith on him, yet with a more general idea of looking to any one with this confidence. It is only used however six times, that I am aware of: Acts ix. 42, xi. 17, xvi. 31, xxii. 19; Rom. iv. 5, 24. ἐπὶ τινι is yet rarer, and besides Luke xxiv. 25, only used the three times that Isaiah xxviii. 16 is quoted, Rom. ix. 33, x. 11; 1 Peter ii. 6: here it is confidence in, reliance upon. ἐν τινι is used still more seldom. Mark i. 15, where it refers to the truth of the substance of a thing, as in English, 'I believe in the gospel,' the good news, a story. The LXX use it thrice: Ps. lxxvii. (Heb. lxxviii.) 22, 32, ἐν and ἐπὶ in 22, ἐν in 32, and Jer. xii. 6. It is once used in the Apocrypha. The habitual use therefore is with a dative, to believe a person: εἰς τινα, to believe on or in a person as object of faith, as John xiv. 1: 'Ye believe in God:' do not see him; so, now they were losing Christ on earth, they were to believe in him. ἐπὶ τινα adds the thought of the mind looking to any one with trust: ἐπὶ τινι, trusting in: ἐν τινι, receiving a statement as true.

that day the deposit I have entrusted ¹³ to him. Have^h an outline of sound words, which [words] thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which [are] ¹⁴ in Christ Jesus. Keep, by the Holy Ghost which dwells in us, the good ¹⁵ deposit entrusted. Thou knowest this, that all who [are] in Asia, of whom is Phygellus and Hermogenes, ¹⁶ have turned away from me. The Lord grant mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for he has often refreshed me, and has not been ashamed of my chain; but being in Rome sought me out very diligently,ⁱ and found ¹⁸ [me]—the Lord grant to him to find mercy from [the] Lord in that day—and how much service he rendered in Ephesus thou knowest best.

II. Thou therefore, my child, be strong in the grace which [is] in Christ
² Jesus. And the things thou hast heard of me in the presence of^k many witnesses, these entrust to faithful men, such as shall be competent to ³ instruct others also. Take thy share in suffering^l as a good soldier of Jesus
⁴ Christ.^m No one goingⁿ as a soldier entangles himself with the affairs of life, that he may please him who has ⁵ enlisted him as a soldier. And if also any one contend [in the games], he is not crowned unless he contend ⁶ lawfully. The husbandman must labour^o before partaking of the fruits.

⁷ Think of what^p I say, for the Lord will give^q thee understanding ⁸ in all things. Remember Jesus Christ raised from among [the] dead, of [the] seed of David, according to ⁹ my glad tidings, in which I suffer even unto bonds as an evildoer: but ¹⁰ the word of God is not bound. For this cause I endure all things for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain^r the salvation which [is] in ¹¹ Christ Jesus with eternal glory. The word [is] faithful; for if we have died together with [him], we shall ¹² also live together; if we endure,^s we shall also reign together; if we deny^t
¹³ he also will deny us; if we are unfaithful, he abides faithful, for^v he cannot deny himself.

¹⁴ Of these things put in remembrance, testifying earnestly before the Lord not to have disputes of words, profitable for nothing, to the ¹⁵ subversion of the hearers. Strive diligently to present thyself approved to God, a workman that has not to be ashamed, cutting in a straight ¹⁶ line the word of truth. But profane vain babblings shun, for they will

^h Or 'hold fast.' There is no article to ὑποτύπωσιν. Accusatives after a verb often have not. They explain the nature of the action of the verb. But Timothy had heard no form from Paul, but words or doctrines. Hence, he had not to keep the form, but to have a summary or outline, so as to state clearly and definitely what he did hold. Hence, the article is far better away. I have added 'words' in [], because in English, 'which' might be thought to refer to outline. ὑποτύπωσις is a systematic exposé, in outline, of any system of doctrine or philosophy. It is the name given to the sketch of Pyrrhonic doctrine given by Sextus Empiricus, for example. See 1 Tim. i. 16, 'delineation.'

ⁱ So ^h C D F G P 17; T. R., with E K L 37 47, has the comparative 'more diligently.'

act, is too familiar; and 'missed the truth' has another sense; see note to 1 Tim. vi. 21.

^x μέντοι affirms with certainty where doubt may have been raised: 'surely you do not; 'why you do not.' Hence 'yet, still.' As here, this overthrowing might seem to call in question God's foundation. Yet that remains firm. All the speculation as to what the foundation is is futile, particularly Huther's, followed (and Wiesinger's still more closely) by Ellicott and Alford and many others, who say the invisible church. The church is founded, a building; not a foundation. It is simply God's foundation abstractedly.

^z ἐκκαθάρη ἀπό. ἐκκ. is only found 1 Cor. v. 7, 'Purge out the old leaven.' There it was getting rid of it out of the lump; here he has to purge himself from among them (the vessels). Hence we have ἀπό, which, with ἐκ, is rendered by 'separating from.'

^a T. R. adds 'and,' with C E K L P 37 47 Am and many others; N A D F G 17 Memph omit.

^b Literally 'foolish and undisciplined questionings,' ἀπαιδευτος, used for many different words by LXX, but in general, a mind not subject to God, a man following his own mind and will. It is used by Æschines with μαρτυρία, an unskilful, ill-ordered testimony. See Eur. in

^d It is here a question whether it be God's will or Satan's; whether εἰς refers to 'awake up' or 'taken captive:' 'awake up for his (God's) will out of the snare,' &c.; that those who have been taken as prey by the devil may, God having given them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth, awake up to follow his will. It is ἐκείνου, not αὐτοῦ; and therefore properly refers to God. However, ἐκείνου may designate emphatically Satan as saying, 'that being's will.' I have a little doubt whether the apostle would use ἐκείνου in this way of God. It is somewhat familiar. As to Christ however, see ii. 13; 2 Pet. i. 16; and cf. Tit. iii. 7. I have not myself difficulty in this emphatic use of ἐκείνου, and none in the employment of ἐξωγρημένοι. I rather prefer however its application to God, but I am not quite sure if ἀνανήψω εἰς be right Greek.

happened to me in Antioch, in Iconium, in Lystra; what persecutions I endured; and the Lord delivered me out of all. And all indeed who desire to live piously in Christ Jesus will be persecuted. But wicked men and juggling impostors shall advance in evil,^k leading and being led astray. But thou abide in those things which thou hast learned, and [of which] thou hast been fully persuaded, knowing of whom thou hast learned [them]; and that from a child thou hast known the sacred letters, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which [is] in Christ Jesus. Every scripture [is] divinely inspired, and profitable for teaching, for conviction, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be complete, fully fitted to every good work.

IV. themselves teachers, having an itching ear; and they will turn away their ear from the truth, and will have turned^o aside to fables. But thou, be sober^p in all things, bear evils, do [the] work of an evangelist, fill up the full measure of thy ministry. For I am already being poured out,^q and the time of my release is come. I have combated the good combat, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth^r the crown of righteousness is laid up for me, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will render to me in that day; but not only to me, but also to all who love his appearing. Use diligence to come to me quickly; for Demas has forsaken me, having loved the present age, and is gone to Thessalonica; Cresces to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia. Luke alone is with me. Take Mark, and bring [him] with thyself, for he is serviceable to me for ministry. But Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus. Literally 'to worse.'

^m That is 'I testify or charge you before God, and by the appearing.' Some read 'at.' It may be taken as 'according to,' that is, the judgment is according to the power and glory of his appearing and his kingdom. There are two readings, $\kappa\alpha\iota$, the editions; and $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$, T. R. With $\kappa\alpha\iota$ it must be taken 'and by.' So it is by Vulgate; whereas, Syr-Pst reads 'at,' according to Leusden and Etheridge. It may be connected with $\delta\iota\alpha\mu\alpha\rho\tau\acute{\upsilon}\rho\omicron\mu\alpha\iota$ if $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$ be read. So Matthæi takes it, who reads $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$. For the construction, see Deut. iv. 26. $\kappa\alpha\iota$ \aleph A C D F G 17 Am Memph; $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$ E K L P 37 47 Syrr.

ⁿ Or 'reprove.' See 1 Tim. v. 20.

^o Or 'will be turned aside.' The thing will have taken place. Or, something medial, 'will have turned themselves.' $\epsilon\kappa\tau\rho\acute{\epsilon}\pi\omega$ has commonly a causative force. Hence the middle or passive, a neuter or reflective. In the New Testament, the passive for reflective middle is not uncommon. Here their being already turned aside leads them to turn away their ear from the truth.

^p $\nu\eta\phi\omega$ implies not watching actively, nor being awake; but that sober clearness of mind resulting from exemption from false influences—not muddled with the influence of what intoxicates. So we think of one when we say, He has a sober judgment.

^q I had conceived this long as 'I have had the libation poured on me, ready to sacrifice.' But, though Wetstein so takes it with Parkhurst, I cannot find any example of $\sigma\pi\acute{\epsilon}\nu\delta\omicron\mu\alpha\iota$ as passive: 'I have had the libation poured on me.' And $\alpha\nu\alpha\lambda\acute{\upsilon}\omega$ does not speak of being sacrificed. The reference to the departure of guests after libations is questionable, though the words correspond. It is as Phil. ii. 17.

^s See Genesis i. 15, 17, and Apocrypha, prayer of Azarias 19; but the sense of 'shewing' is lost. We say 'shewing kindness,' referring to acts, because they shew what was in the heart; but we do not say 'shew evil.' 'Did me evil' I do not say, as it may involve effects on the work.

I. Paul, bondman of God, and ^a apostle of Jesus Christ according to [the] faith of God's elect, and knowledge ^b of [the] truth which [is] according to piety; in ^c [the] hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before the ages of time, but ^a has manifested in its own due season his word in [the] proclamation with which I have been entrusted according to [the] commandment of our Saviour God; to Titus, my own child according to [the] faith common [to us]: Grace ^d and peace from God [the] Father, and Christ Jesus ^e our Saviour. ⁵ For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou mightest go on to set right what remained [unordered], and establish elders in each city, as I had who subvert whole houses, teaching things which ought not [to be taught]¹² for the sake of base gain. One of themselves, a prophet of their own, has said, Cretans are always liars,¹³ evil wild beasts, lazy gluttons. This testimony is true; for which cause rebuke them severely, that they may¹⁴ be sound in the faith, not turning [their] minds to Jewish fables and commandments of men turning away¹⁵ from the truth. All things [are] pure to the pure; but to the defiled and unbelieving nothing [is] pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled. They profess to know God, but in works deny [him], being abominable, and disobedient, and found worthless as to every¹ good work. (II.) But do thou speak the things that become sound teaching; that the elder men be sober, grave, discreet, sound in faith, in³ love, in patience;² that the elder women in like manner be in deportment as becoming those who have to say to sacred things, not slanderers, not enslaved to much wine, teachers of⁴ what is right; that they may admonish⁵ the young women to be attached to [their] husbands, to be attached to [their] children, discreet, chaste, diligent in home work,¹ good, subject to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be evil⁶ spoken of. The younger men in like⁷ manner exhort to be discreet: in all things affording thyself as a pattern of good works; in teaching uncorrupt-⁸edness, gravity,¹ a sound word, not to be condemned; that he who is opposed may be ashamed, having no⁹ evil thing to say about us:^k bondmen to be subject to their own masters, to make themselves¹ acceptable in¹⁰ everything; not gainsaying;^m not robbing [their masters], but shewing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the teaching which [is]ⁿ of our Saviour¹¹ God in all things. For the grace of God which carries with it salvation¹² for all men^o has appeared, teaching^p us that, having denied impiety and worldly lusts, we should live soberly,^q and justly, and piously in the present¹³ course of things,^r awaiting the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of our great God and Saviour Jesus¹⁴ Christ;^s who gave^t himself for us, that he might redeem us from all lawlessness, and purify to himself a peculiar people, zealous for good¹⁵ works. These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no one despise thee.

^k T. R. reads 'you,' with A 47 Memph; text \aleph C D F G K L P 17 37 Am Syrr.

^l Though I have put 'to make themselves,' instead of 'to be,' I judge I have given the true sense. It is elsewhere used of the Christian towards God or Christ; but to be acceptable is a fact. I cannot exhort a person to be it; to make himself so I can; and that is the sense here.

^m Or 'contradictory'; that is, opposing their masters when they speak to them.

ⁿ T. R. omits the second τήν, with K L P 37 47; \aleph A C D F G 17 have it.

^o It may be translated 'has appeared to all men,' but I prefer the text.

^p παιδεύω has certainly the sense of discipline, and always perhaps carries with it something of the thought of setting right, zurechtweisen; but it is used unquestionably for instructing, as in Acts vii. 22, and elsewhere. So Cyropædeia.

^q Elsewhere translated 'discreet'; that is, with self-restraint and consideration.

^r Often translated 'age,' but that hardly gives the sense. 'World' gives the false idea of this world as one, and heaven another. The ὁ νῦν αἰὼν was, for the Jews, the present state of things in contrast with that to be introduced by Messiah.

^s This may possibly be translated as in Auth. Ver. Why Ellicott should say the Vulg. does, I cannot tell. It is so punctuated in printed editions. The best argument for the translation of Auth. Ver. is the use of κυρίου in a similar position; but then note that ἡμῶν is placed before, so that it is really an argument the other way.

^t Or 'has given.'

TITUS III., PHILEMON.

² good work, to speak evil of no one, not to be contentious, [to be] mild, shewing all meekness towards all ³ men. For we were once ourselves also without intelligence, disobedient, wandering in error, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, [and] hating one another. But when the kindness and love to man^w of our ⁵ Saviour God appeared, not on the principle of works which [have been done] in righteousness which we had done, but according to his own mercy he saved us through [the] washing^x of regeneration and renewal ⁶ of [the] Holy Spirit, which he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ ⁷ our Saviour; that, having been justified by his ^y grace, we should become heirs according to [the] hope of eternal life. The word [is] faithful, and I desire that thou insist strenuously on these things, that they who have believed God may take care to pay diligent attention to good works. These things are good and profitable ⁹ to men. But foolish questions, and genealogies, and strifes, and contentions about the law, shun; for they ¹⁰ are unprofitable and vain. An heretical man after a first and second ¹¹ admonition have done with, knowing that such a one is perverted, and sins, being self-condemned. ¹² When I shall send Artemas to thee, or Tychicus, use diligence to come to me to Nicopolis; for I have ¹³ decided to winter there. Zenas the lawyer and Apollos set forward diligently on their way, that nothing ¹⁴ may be lacking to them; and let ours also learn to apply themselves to good works for necessary wants, that they may not be unfruitful. ¹⁵ All with me salute thee. Salute those who love us in [the] faith. Grace [be] with you all.^z

^x 'Washing' is right here. It is a bath, or the water for it. The proper word for the bath as a vessel is λουτήρ. 'Regeneration' is not the same word as 'being born again,' nor used for it in scripture. Besides this verse, it is only used in Matt. xix. 28, for the Saviour's coming kingdom.

⁷ [Jesus^e]. For we have great thankfulness^f and encouragement through^g thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

⁸ Wherefore having much boldness in Christ to enjoin thee what is fitting, for love's sake I rather exhort, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also prisoner of Jesus Christ.^h
⁹ I exhort thee for *my*ⁱ child, whom I have begotten in [my^k] bonds, Onesimus, once unserviceable to thee, but now serviceable to thee and to me:

¹² of the glad tidings; but I have wished to do nothing without thy mind, that thy good might not be as of necessity
¹³ but of willingness: for perhaps for this reason he has been separated [from thee] for a time, that thou mightest possess him fully for ever;
¹⁴ not any longer as a bondman, but above a bondman, a beloved brother, specially to me, and how much rather to thee, both in [the] flesh ¹⁵ and in [the] Lord? If therefore thou holdest me to be a partner

¹⁶ [with thee], receive him as me; but if he have wronged thee anything or owe anything [to thee], put this to ¹⁷ my account. I Paul have written [it] with mine own hand; I will repay [it]: that I say not to thee that thou owest even thine own self also ⁱ 'My' is put first as emphatic.

^k 'My' is doubtful, perhaps better left out, with \aleph A D F G 17 Am.

^l I have put this in brackets, as it is doubtful whether it be not added to make the sense clearer, the apostle having interrupted his sentence, and the προσλαβοῦ being in verse 17. But it is very probable that the reading is σοι, as in \aleph A C by first hand 17, instead of σὺ δέ. In that case the translation would be 'whom I have sent unto thee, him that is my bowels.' C² D Memph have both. The connection with προσλαβοῦ remains the same. T. R., with C D K L P 37 47 Am Syrr Memph, has σὺ δέ and προσλαβοῦ.

^m That is, 'instead of thee,' a not unimportant testimony to the sense of ὑπέρ.

EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

I. God having spoken in many parts and in many ways formerly^a to the² fathers in the prophets, at the end^b of these days has spoken to us in [the person of the^c] Son, whom he has established heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds;^d

^b T. R., with 47 and many cursives Syrr, reads ἐσχάτων, not ἐσχάτου, that is, is plural and refers to 'days' last noticed. It is a Hebrew expression, as several here, for the end of the period of the law, when Messiah was to be introduced. Kimchi, ad Ies. ii. 2, 'wherever these words, באחרית הימים, are read, there the discourse is of the days of the Messiah.' So Moses Nachmanides, Ies. xlix. 1, says it is so understood by consent of all. Cf. Bleek and Schoettgen in loco. Text & A B D K L M P 17 37 Am Memph.

^c The absence of the article here is important, though difficult to render in English; the result is, that God, speaking in the prophets, is clearly distinct, and using them as his mouth. ἐν νῷ, literally 'in Son,' is not exactly 'as Son,' because that would be the character of the speaking, yet is perhaps the nearest to an adequate expression. It is an instance of the use of ἐν. On the whole, I have paraphrased it, 'in [the person of the] Son.' It is God Himself who speaks; not by another; not as the Father nor in the person of the Father; not merely by the Holy Ghost using a person not divine, but as Himself a divine person, and that person the Son.

^d τοὺς αἰῶνας. There cannot, I think, be a doubt, from the Jewish use of this expression, (see Schoettgen and many others), that this means 'the universe.'

^e ἀπαύγασμα, what fully presents the glory which is in something else. Thus light makes us know what the sun is; the tabernacle, what the pattern in the mount was. So Wisdom of Jesus, son of Sirach, calls wisdom ἀπαύγασμα of eternal light: and Philo, i. 327, has τὸ δὲ ἀγίασμα οἶον ἁγίων ἀπαύγασμα μίμημα ἀρχετύπου, speaking of the created world, εἰπεῖτα αἰσθήσει καλὰ καὶ νοήσει καλῶν εἰκόνες.

^f Clearly 'substance,' 'essential being,' not 'person.' It is of God, not of the Father: and no one can see the use of ὑπόστασις in LXX and not see its force; and even its early ecclesiastical use confirms this. It went so far as to condemn three hypostases, and it afterwards was agreed to say one hypostasis for the substance, and three for the person.

[by himselfⁱ] the purification of^k sins, set himself down on the right hand⁴ of the greatness on high, taking a place by so much better than the angels, as he inherits a name more⁵ excellent than they. For to which of the angels said he ever, Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee? and again, I will be to him for father, and he shall be to me for son?⁶ and again, when he brings^l in the ^h 'Made' has a peculiar reflective force here, 'having done it for himself.' Though we, as alone the sinners, have the profit, yet the work was done within his own person and work, without us, as when a man journeys, and so when he makes a person his friend, his wife, his son by adoption. Note also the difference of tenses. I add, as it is called in question, that Delitzsch maintains δὲ ἑαυτοῦ. Bleek is not decided. ⁸ has not the words. Syrr and Ital have them. It is a question of criticism, not changing the sense. The form of ποιησάμενος involves it.

ⁱ & A B P 17 47 Am (Memph) omit; E K L M 37 Syrr have the words. D has δὲ αὐτοῦ.

^k T. R. adds 'our' before 'sins,' with K L 17 37 47 and others; & A B D M P Am Memph omit.

^l I have said 'brings' for εἰσαγάγη, because the present in English has the sense of the aorist as to the fact, not the time. The Greek present is more 'is bringing.' Compare 1 Cor. xv. 27, ὅταν δὲ εἴπῃ. Only the aorist thus used speaks of one definite act, not a prolonged one. It is a fact antecedent to the reasoning of the writer, and in this respect has a past sense. This may seem to require the future perfect. But when it is merely an antecedent in reasoning, this is too exact a time, expresses what is past (at a future time) too much. The reference here is to Ps. xcvi. where He is just coming in; but, in a certain sense, He must be there to be worshipped. His introduction is antecedent to his worship as firstborn, but it is on introducing that this follows (hence the aorist), not when his whole introducing is a past thing and gone. It will be found that, in English, with a distinct shade of meaning, present, perfect, future-perfect may be used: 'when he pays the debt he shall come out;' here it is antecedent as causal. 'When he has paid the debt:' the payment must come first. 'When he shall have paid:' the same sense, but noting that it is not yet done, but that it must be before he comes out. I have referred to all this because critics have much contested here the place of 'again,' what coming into this world is alluded to, and the force to be given to the tense employed. Here the glory of the person of Christ is before the writer's thought, not firstborn into the habitable world, he says, And let all God's angels⁷ worship him. And as to the angels he says, Who makes his angels spirits⁸ and his ministers a flame of fire; but as to the Son, Thy throne, O God, [is] to the age of the age, and^m a sceptre of uprightness [is] the sceptre of thy⁹ kingdom. Thou hast loved righteousness and hast hated lawlessness; therefore God, thy God, has anointed thee with oil of gladness above thy¹⁰ companions. And, Thou in the beginning, Lord, hast founded the earth, and works of thy hands are¹¹ the heavens. They shall perish, but thou continuest still; and they all¹² shall grow old as a garment, and as a covering shalt thou roll them up, and they shall be changed; but thou art the same,ⁿ and thy years shall¹³ not fail. But as to which of the angels said he ever, Sit at my right hand until I put^o thine enemies [as]¹⁴ footstool of thy feet? Are they not all ministering spirits, sent out for service on account of those who shall inherit salvation?

II. For this reason we should give heed more abundantly to the things [we have] heard, lest in any way we² should slip away.^p For if the word which was spoken by angels was^q firm, and every transgression and disobedience received just retribution,⁸ how shall we escape if we have been negligent of^r so great salvation, which, having had its commencement in being spoken [of] by the Lord, has been confirmed to us by those⁴ who have heard; God bearing, besides, witness with [them] to [it], both by signs and wonders, and various acts of power, and distributions of [the] Holy Ghost, according to his will?

⁵ For he has not subjected to angels the habitable world which is to come,^s of which we speak; but one has testified somewhere, saying, What is man, that thou rememberest him,^t or son of man that thou visitest him? ⁷ Thou hast made him some little inferior to the angels; thou hast crowned him with glory and honour, [and hast set him over the works of thy⁸ hands;]^v thou hast subjected all things under his feet. For in subjecting all things to him, he has left nothing unsubject to him. But now we see not yet all things subjected to him,⁹ but we see Jesus, who [was] made some little inferior to angels^w on account of the suffering of death,^x

the time of introducing. I have myself no doubt whatever as to the translation, and that, as to this last point, what I give is the only right one.

^m T. R. omits 'and,' with K L P 37 47 Syrr; & A B D M 17 Am Memph have it.

ⁿ אֵלֹהִים הַיּוֹנֵק, 'the existing one who does not change.' Every creature is changeable.

^o See note to verse 6: 'put,' 'have put,' 'shall have put,' have fundamentally the same sense; but as the causal sense of antecedence I prefer the present in English.

^p παραρρύνωμεν. What decides me in giving π. this sense, adopted as it is by a vast number of critics, is Prov. iii. 21, and Origen con. Cels. viii. (De la Rue, i. 759); in both which the word is so used. Proverbs is a free translation, for the Hebrew is plural: 'Let them not slip away from thine eyes; that is, what is spoken of in the end of the verse; but it shews the sense of the word. νίε, μη παραρρύνῃς. Origen argues that, though spiritual Christians have no need of festivals—every day is a Lord's day—the mass of those who profess christianity do: δείται αἰσθητῶν παραδειγμάτων ἵνα μη τέλειον παραρρύνῃ, 'that it may not wholly slip away;' so here, παραρρύνωμεν, 'that we may not slip away.'

^q ἐγένετο, that is, was so when given; all is in the aorist here, or a truth as to the past.

^r ἀμελήσαντες. Not merely neglected when presented, but not cared for when, as here, they were nominally inside, making profession. It is found in Matt. xxii. 5. 'They did not care for' the invitation to the supper. 1 Tim. iv. 14: 'negligent' of the gift in him: he had it. Heb. viii. 9: Israel was disobedient, and Jehovah 'did not care for them.' 2 Peter i. 12: 'I will not be negligent, and will be careful to put you always in remembrance.'

^s A known division among the Jews. עולם הזה, 'this age;' and what was to be introduced by the Messiah, עולם הבא. See vi. 5; there αἰών, here οἰκουμένη. See note to ix. 9 and Tit. ii. 12.

^t An active recollection, because the object is cared for; so Heb. xiii. 3.

^v Some, with B K L 47, omit 'and thou hast set him over the works of thy hands.' But & A C D M P 17 37 Ital Vulg Memph have it. It is in the Psalms, and may have been added as supposed to be left out.

^w Or 'him who was made some little inferior to angels, [even] Jesus.'

^x 'On account of,' may be read 'made lower on account of,' or 'crowned on account of;' both are true. All the ancient commentators take crowned with glory and honour; so that by the grace of God he should¹⁰ taste death for every thing.^y For it became him, for whom [are] all things, and by whom [are] all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make perfect^z the leader of their salvation through sufferings.

¹¹ For both he that sanctifies and those sanctified^a [are] all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to¹² call them brethren, saying, I will declare thy name to my brethren; in [the] midst of [the] assembly will I¹³ sing thy praises.^b And again, I will trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children which God has¹⁴ given me. Since therefore the children partake^c of blood and flesh,^d he also, in like manner, took part in^e the same, that through death he might annul him who has the might¹⁵ of death, that is, the devil; and might set free all those who through fear of death through the whole of their life were subject to bondage.

¹⁶ For he does not indeed take hold of angels [by the hand^f], but he takes hold of the seed of Abraham.

¹⁷ Wherefore it behoved him^g in all things to be made like to [his] brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things relating to God, to make propitiation¹⁸ for the sins of the people; for, in that himself has suffered, being tempted, he is able to help those that are being tempted.

III. Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers^h of [the] heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest² of our confession,ⁱ Jesus, who is the first meaning. The modern reasonings, as of Lünemann, Alford, have no force to my mind. My impression is that, were it joined to the latter, it would be διὰ τὸ παθεῖν, and that πάθημα is merely the subjective state or fact which required it. See on this point Delitzsch. Thus the sense would run 'But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than angels on account of the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour;' or 'But we see him who, on account of the suffering of death, was made a little lower than angels, [even] Jesus, crowned with glory and honour.' The 'so that' is an appended sentence: 'he was made lower....so that.' Verse 10 justifies his being made lower for suffering death. So does verse 11. The crowning is the accomplishment of the Psalm. Hence I have so punctuated it, though for a time hesitating.

^y Or 'every one.'

^z 'Make perfect,' τελειῶ, (not τέλειον always) is used in the Hebrews in the sense of doing all required to initiate into an office, whatever was needed to make him fit to be installed in the office. Hence the word employed is sometimes, when speaking of religious offices, translated 'consecrate.'

^a ἀγιαζόμενοι: not 'who have been,' nor does it mean 'who are being;' but simply the character, without reference to done or doing; the ἀγιάζων and the ἀγιαζόμενοι, the agent and patients.

^b Or 'praise thee with singing,' ὑμνήσω σε.

^c κεκοινῶνῃκε, have been introduced into, and are in, that condition, as their common lot.

^e I cannot doubt that there is an intended difference in κεκοινῶνῃκε and μετέσχε, which is in the force of the words indeed themselves. κεκ. is a common equal sharing; they were κοινωνοί of the nature. He took a part in it; got a share or took a share. μετέχω, is always something which is supposed, or might be, outside myself, but which I take, or take a part in. κοινωνός is a joint participation in that which belongs to me or to known fellowship. So μετέχω γάλακτος, 'taking or using milk;' Heb. v. 13. In 1 Cor. ix. 10, the reaper is to get a share in the sower's hope; so in x. 17, the fact of 'partaking' is μετέχομεν: in vers. x. 17, 21, 30, the taking part, was to prove them κοινωνοί, which exactly makes the difference; we were κοινωνοί in flesh and blood, Christ μετέσχε. (The passage quoted by Bleek from Lycurgus proves the same; they took part in the dangers, but did not have their joint share in the fortune.) The word does not say how far the taking share went. παραπλησίως, 'in like manner,' is strictly 'near to.' Phil. ii. 27, 'all as one as dead;' but it is used as we use 'like,' and even 'similar.' It is a 'similar' book to the other; one army is 'like' the other. It is not strictly ἴσος or ὅμοιος. κεκοινῶνῃκε is more accurate than κοινωνοί, because it is not their joint participation amongst themselves, but that they have all received (shared) this common nature.

^f ἐπιλαμβάνεται. Compare Sirach iv. 11. It means 'to take hold of,' but it is constantly used for 'taking up a person to help him,' though in other senses as well. We say, 'he took him by the hand.' But this would be too free and too familiar. It is used in the sense of 'taking hold of,' literally 'deliver.' See Jer. xxxi. (xxxviii.) 32, but there with χεῖρός.

^g He speaks, I apprehend, historically; it was necessary for him to do this by the alleged reason, not his present judgment of divine necessity or purpose. 'Has behaved' would speak more of continuance. It behoved him when he became a man. It is what he became as man, not what he took on him.

^h Here μέτοχοι, who have been made, called to be, partakers of it. They had been κοινωνοί of Israel's rights.

ⁱ T. R. adds 'Christ,' with K L 37 a few cursives Syrr; 8 A B C D M P 17 47 Am Memph omit.

faithful to him that has constituted him, as Moses also in all his house.

³ For he has been counted worthy of greater glory than Moses, by how much he that has built it has more honour than the house. For every house is built by some one; but he who has built all things [is] God. ⁵ And Moses indeed [was] faithful in all his house, as a ministering servant, for a testimony of the things ⁶ to be spoken after; but Christ, as Son over his ^k house, whose house are we, if indeed we hold fast the boldness and the boast of hope firm to the end.

⁷ Wherefore, even as says the Holy Spirit, To-day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness; where ¹ your fathers tempted [me^m], by proving [me],ⁿ and saw my works forty ¹⁰ years. Wherefore I was wroth with this^o generation, and said, They always err in heart; and they^p have ¹¹ not known my ways; so I swore in my wrath, If they shall enter into ¹² my rest. See, brethren, lest there be in any one of you a wicked heart of unbelief, in turning away from ¹³ [the] living God. But encourage yourselves¹ each day, as long as it is called To-day, that none of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of ¹⁴ sin. For we are become companions^r of the Christ if indeed we hold the beginning of the assurance ¹⁵ firm to the end; in that it is said, To-day if ye will hear his voice, do not harden your hearts, as in the ¹⁶ provocation; ^s(for who^t was it, who, having heard, provoked? but [was it] not^u all who came out of Egypt ¹⁷ by Moses? And with whom was he wroth forty years? [Was it] not with those who had sinned, whose ¹⁸ carcasses^v fell in the wilderness? And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to those who had not hearkened to the word?^w ¹⁹ And we see that they could not enter in on account of unbelief;) (IV.) Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left^x of entering into his rest, any one of you might seem ² to have failed [of it]. For indeed we have had glad tidings presented to us, even as they also; but the word of the report did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in ³ those who heard. For we enter into the rest who have believed; as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, ^k What is to be remarked here is, that the house is not referred to Moses at all; he was faithful in all God's house as a ministering servant. The 'own' is more than questionable. The contrast is 'Moses a servant in,' 'Christ as a Son over.' But the house is, I apprehend, God's house. The Father is not brought in as such at all, but the Son is over the house as Son. The connexion with its being God's house is evident, because he (Christ) has built the house, verse 3, and he who built all things is God; but he is over it as Son.

¹ Some translate 'wherewith' (that is, 'with which temptation'), making οὐ agree with πειρασμοῦ. Am has υἱ.

^m T. R. has 'me' in text, with K L M P 37 47 Am Syrr Memph; ⲛ A B C D 17 omit.

ⁿ ἐν δοκιμασίᾳ. Thus ⲛ A B C D M P 17 Memph and Clem. Alex. read. The LXX has ἐδοκίμασάν [με], and so T. R., with K L 37 47 Am Syrr Theod. Theoph.

^o T. R. reads 'that,' with C E K L P 37 47 and most Syrr Memph; text ⲛ A B D M 17 Am.

^p αὐτοί, emphatic, 'these same.'

^q Or 'exhort one another.'

^r I use the word 'companions' as being the same one as in chap. i. 9, μέτοχοι, to which, I doubt not, it alludes; that is, to the passage quoted Ps. xlv. 'Partakers of Christ' has indeed quite a different sense.

^s I have no doubt, in spite of objections, that 16—19 is a parenthesis; if not, 14 may be thought to be one, but the connexion is very hard then.

^t Some take τινές instead of τινεις. Then it is 'for some having heard,' some but not all. Rom. xi. 17 may justify this.

^u Or 'was it not indeed,' ἀλλ' οὐ.

^v κῶλα means 'limbs,' but as it is often used for καρξ, a carcase, by LXX, I so translate it here. Some suppose κῶλα is used with the idea of the body falling to pieces.

^w This, I apprehend, is the true force of ἀπειθήσασι. It is taken from Deut. i. 26 and Num. xiv. 43, which refer to the occasion on which God declared their carcasses should fall in the wilderness.

^x I think the translation, 'the promise of entering into his rest being left or forsaken,' is untenable. The κατα- and present tense give the force of 'now remaining behind after these events,' &c.; some add 'still,' as Delitzsch, Diodati, Bleek, Alford; but it seems to me implied in 'left,' and needless, and not quite exact.

If they shall enter into my rest; although the works had been completed from [the] foundation of [the] world. For he has said somewhere of the seventh [day] thus, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works: and in this again, If they shall enter into my rest. Seeing therefore it remains that some enter into it, and those who first received the glad tidings did not enter in on account of not hearkening to the word,^y again he determines a certain day, saying, in David, 'To-day,' after so long a time; (according as it has been said before^z), To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts. For if Jesus^a had brought them into rest, he would not have spoken afterwards about another day. There remains then a sabbatism to the people of God. For he that has entered into his rest, he also has rested from his works, as God did from his own. Let us therefore use diligence to enter into that rest, that no one may fall after the same example of not hearkening to the word.^y For the word of God [is] living and operative, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and penetrating to [the] division^b of soul and spirit, both of joints and marrow, and a discernor of the thoughts and intents of [the] heart. And there is not a creature unapparent before him; but all things [are] naked and laid bare to his eyes, with whom we have to do. Having therefore a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast the confession. For we have not a high priest not able to sympathize with our infirmities, but tempted in all things in like manner,^c sin apart. Let us approach therefore with boldness to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and find grace for seasonable help.

V. For every high priest taken from amongst men is established for men in things relating to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins; being able to exercise forbearance towards the ignorant and erring, since he himself also is clothed with infirmity; and, on account of this [infirmity], he ought, even as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. And no one takes the honour to himself but [as] called^d by God, even as Aaron also. Thus the Christ also has not glorified himself to be made a high priest; but he who had said to him, Thou art my Son, I have to-day begotten thee. Even as also in another [place] he says, Thou [art] a priest for ever^e according to the order of Melchisedec. Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up both supplications and entreaties^f to him who was able to save him out of^g death, with strong crying and tears; (and having been heard because of his piety;^h) though he were Son,ⁱ he learned obedience from the things which he suffered;^k and having been perfected, became to all

^b T. R. adds 'both' here, with D K 37 and many others; at any rate τε is often used in the epistle when it seems superfluous, and its use leads me to judge, contrary to the thought of many, that the passage has the sense of dividing between—not each of the things by itself. See chap. v. 14. τε . . . καὶ also is greatly used in this epistle, even where τε has no special force.

them that obey him, author of eternal salvation; addressed by¹ God [as] high priest according to the order of¹⁰ Melchisedec. Concerning whom we have much to say, and hard to be interpreted in speaking [of it], since¹¹ ye are become dull in hearing. For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have again need that [one] should teach you what [are] the elements of the beginning of the oracles of God, and are become such as have need of milk, [and^m] not of¹² solid food. For every one that partakes of milk [is] unskilled in the word of righteousness, for he is a¹³ babe; but solid food belongs to full-grown men, who, on account of habit, have their senses exercised for distinguishing both good and evil.

VI. Wherefore, leaving the wordⁿ of the beginning of the Christ, let us go on [to what belongs] to full growth,^o not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and faith² in^p God, of [the] doctrine of washings, and^a of imposition of hands, and^a of resurrection of [the] dead,³ and of eternal judgment; and this⁴ will we do if God permit. For it is impossible to renew^r again to repentance those once enlightened, and who have tasted of the heavenly gift, and have been made partakers of⁵ [the] Holy Spirit, and have tasted the good word of God, and [the] works of power of [the] age to come, and have fallen away, crucifying for themselves [as they do] the Son of God, and making a show of [him].⁶ For ground which drinks the rain which comes often upon it, and produces useful herbs for those for^s whose sakes also it is tilled, partakes⁸ of blessing from God; but bringing forth thorns and briars it is found worthless and nigh to a curse, whose⁹ end [is] to be burned. But we are persuaded concerning you, beloved, better things, and connected with salvation, even if we speak thus.¹⁰ For God [is] not unrighteous to forget your work, and^t the love which ye have shewn to his name, having ministered to the saints, and [still] ministering. But we desire earnestly^u that each one of you shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end; that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience^v have been inheritors^w of the promises.¹³ For God, having promised to Abraham, since he had no greater to swear by, swore by himself, saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee; and thus having had long patience he¹⁴ got the promise. For men indeed^x swear by a greater, and with them there are of ἄθετον. The sense is nearly the same. εὐθετος πρὸς τι, or εἰς τι or τῷ, is said of things.

^p ἐνι Θεόν, 'believes on God,' as Acts ix. 42, xi. 17, xvi. 31, xxii. 19, Rom. iv. 5, 24—the actual personal object of faith trusted in as such. ἐνι τῷ is more 'resting on.' See note to 2 Tim. i. 12.

^u ἐπιθυμοῦμεν. Chrys. and Ecu. both insist on its being a fatherly affectionate desire, not merely θέλω or βούλομαι. So Theophylact, ἡ ψυχὴ καίεται ὑπὲρ ὑμῶν. It is an earnest desire after, a longing for anything. Comp. Luke xxii. 15. In contrast with that, see Luke xv. 16. So it is used for lust, or earnest desire of nature, in many passages.

^v μακροθυμία, 'longsuffering;' cf. Jas. v. 7-10.

^w κληρονομούντων is simply the character. 'Who inherit,' in English, is either 'who have got,' which in Greek would be the aorist, κληρονομήσαντων, or 'who are now in a state of heirship.' The word here refers to the past, but only speaks of the character of the person, but as an actuality.

^a Made like, does not, I think, suit here, nor am I content with 'assimilated.' It is used by Plato of truth and error; 'men make error appear like truth;' by Aristotle of men, 'making the forms of the gods like men.' So Melchisedec was in his characteristics assimilated to the Son of God. The 'but' is in contrast with what immediately precedes. μένει, 'abides,' is in direct connexion with this Melchisedec; the rest is description.

¹⁰ pay tithes. For he was yet in the loins of his father when Melchisedec
¹¹ met him If indeed then perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, for the people had their law given to them in connexion with it,^f what need [was there] still that a different priest should arise according to the order of Melchisedec, and not be named after the order of Aaron?
¹² For, the priesthood being changed, there takes place of necessity a change ¹³ of law also. For he, of whom these things are said, belongs to^g a different tribe, of which no one has [ever] been attached to^h the service of the altar. For it is clear that our Lord has sprungⁱ out of Juda, as to which tribe Moses spake nothing as to ¹⁵ priests.^k And it is yet more abundantly evident, since a different priest arises according to the similitude of Melchisedec, who has been constituted not according to law of ¹⁶ fleshly^l commandment, but according ¹⁷ to power of indissoluble life. For it personal office that a man receives. ἱερωσύνη, vers. 11, 12, [14], 24, is the system itself.

^e The negative used is μή, not οὐ. That is, is not the mere denial of the fact, but that he was not in a position to have one. Hence I have said, 'has no genealogy.'

^g μετέσχηκεν, 'has taken part in.' But it is the perfect, intimating an abiding character. See note to ii. 14.

^h Or 'been occupied with.'

ⁱ Or 'arisen.' The question is whether in ἀνατέλλω there may be allusion to arising, as the sun, or springing up, as a plant: 'the branch.' For the branch was translated 'dayspring' by the LXX, and the verb is used for both in Greek.

is borne witness,^m Thou art a priest for everⁿ according to the order of ¹⁸ Melchisedec. For there is a setting aside of the commandment going before for its weakness and unprofitableness, (for the law perfected nothing,) and the introduction of a better hope by which we draw nigh to God.
²⁰ And by how much [it was] not without the swearing of an oath; (for they are become priests without the swearing of an oath, but he with the swearing of an oath, by him who said, as to him,^o The Lord has sworn, and will not repent [of it], Thou [art] priest for ever [according to the order of Melchisedec^p];) by so much Jesus became surety of a better covenant.
²³ And they have been many priests, on account of being hindered from continuing by death; but he, because of his continuing for ever,ⁿ has the priesthood unchangeable.^q Whence also he is able to save completely those who approach by him to God, always living to intercede for them.
²⁶ For such a high priest^r became us, holy,^s harmless,^t undefiled, separated from sinners, and become higher ²⁷ than the heavens: who has not day by day need, as the high priests, first to offer up sacrifices for his own sins, then [for] those of the people; for this^v he did once for all [in] having

³ For every high priest is constituted for the offering both of gifts and sacrifices; whence it is needful that this one also should have something

^o Or 'to him.'

^p The repetition of these last words is rather doubtful. They are not in B C 17 Am.

^q Or 'intransmissible,' not transmitted to others, ἀπαράβατος. Greek fathers give it as 'un-successional.' But such use is, it seems, hardly to be justified. Bleek and Delitzsch have fully gone into it.

^r Many good copies insert 'also,' possibly rightly; but B C K L P 17 37 47 Am Memph agree with T. R.

^s Or 'pious.' ὁσιος is used for 'holy' in New Test., but it is not the same as ἅγιος. It is חַסִּיד, not חַסִּיד. Chased is used for mercy and grace, and applied to God's ways, centred in Christ, the one who is chasid; God is kadosh: Israel was not chasid. God is holy, knowing good and evil perfectly: wills absolutely good and no evil: so we are separated, set apart from evil or common use to him; that is ἅγιος. ὁσιος, on the contrary, is the exercise of gracious suitable affections in the relationship in which we are to God, to parents; God in mercy to us, Christ in whom they are displayed. Hence however, as suitable affections towards God practically constitute holiness, it is used in this sense for holiness.

^t ἄκακος, 'harmless,' is weak; it is 'guileless,' without an evil thought.

^v Chrys. Œcu. Theoph. and a host of modern critics refer 'this' to the offering for the people: 'this last.' It may be so. The sense is evident. Otherwise, as I had long taken it, the sense is 'this offering he made.' Of course for others; but the emphasis is on 'once for all.'

^w Or 'the chief point.' The difference is small; it expresses what it results in, in the writer's mind, as the substance of the things of which we are speaking. τοῖς λεγομένοις is the present subject which occupies him: it heads up in this.

⁷ For if that first was faultless, place had not been sought for a second.
⁸ For finding fault, he says to them,^e Behold, days come, saith the Lord, and^f I will consummate a new covenant as regards^g the house of Israel, and as regards^g the house of Juda;
⁹ not according to the covenant which I made to their fathers in [the] day of my taking their hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they did not continue in my covenant, and I did not regard them,
¹⁰ saith [the] Lord. Because this [is] the covenant that I will covenant to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord: Giving my laws into their mind, I will write them also upon their hearts; and I will be to them for God, and they shall be to me ¹¹ for people. And they shall not teach each his fellow-citizen,^h and each his brother, saying, Know the Lord; because all shall know me in themselves,ⁱ from [the] little one [among them^k] unto [the] great among ¹² them. Because I will be merciful to their unrighteousnesses, and their sins and their lawlessnesses^l I will ¹³ never remember any more.^m In that he says New, he has made the first old; but that which grows old and aged [is] near disappearing.

IX. The firstⁿ therefore also indeed had ordinances of service, and the ² sanctuary, a worldly one.^o For a tabernacle was set up; the first, in which [were] both the candlestick and the table and the exposition of the loaves, which is called Holy;
³ but after the second veil a tabernacle
⁴ which is called Holy of holies, having a golden censer, and the ark of the covenant, covered round in every part with gold, in which [were] the golden pot that had the manna, and the rod of Aaron that had sprouted,

^e It may be translated 'for finding fault with them he says.' Σ Α Δ Κ Ρ (Σ Δ corr. αὐτοῖς) 17 and others have αὐτούς. But the dative is used with μεμφομαι, and it seems to me a gloss, they thinking the dative connected it with λέγει.

^f The 'and' here I take to be the Hebrew ו; we should say 'that,' of which it has the force in Hebrew often.

^g 'As regards,' ἐπί with an accusative; it is the object in respect of which the covenant was made. In Hebrew it is כִּנְסֵה.

^h T. R. reads 'neighbour,' with P Am. The LXX translate πρ, 'his companion' or 'fellow,' by πολίτης, the word here used, in three places of Proverbs and two of Jeremiah. Text Σ Α Β Δ Κ Λ 17 37 47 Syrr Memph.

ⁱ I add 'in themselves,' to distinguish γνώθι from εἰδήσουσι; one being knowledge in general, the other consciousness in oneself, internal knowledge of a thing.

ⁿ T. R. adds 'tabernacle,' with 47 and many cursives Memph.

^o The form of words here is greatly disputed. The grammatical order would require it to be translated 'the holy universal order;' but the word, it is contended, does not exist with this sense: I have not ventured so to translate it. I doubt it to be the same as κόσμιον, 'ornament,' κόσμος is 'the world,' from the order which is in it. The tabernacle represented all this order, the pattern of heavenly things. Hence, if κοσμικόν be used, a neuter adjective for a substantive, or coined in this use, it would mean 'the holy order of the tabernacle, which represented the vast scene in which God's glory is displayed in Christ.' If not, we must say, 'and the sanctuary, a worldly one.' 'A worldly sanctuary' is not the sense. 'A worldly sanctuary' it is not, according to regular grammar and the constant usage of the Greek language. There are, it is true, examples; (Gal. i. 4 is not, because of ἐνεστώτος: αἰῶνος πονηροῦ is one word, so Winer) as in John's epistle, v. 19, ὁ κόσμος ὅλος. There I should connect ὅλος in sense with what follows: 'the world . . . lies all of it.' If 1 John v. 20, ἡ ζωὴ αἰώνιος, be correct, it is one word. I should be disposed so to take it, and the various readings to have arisen from its being felt not to be strictly Greek. 1 Cor. x. 3, 4, is as Gal. i. 4, τὸ αὐτὸ βρῶμα πνευματικόν . . . τὸ αὐτὸ πόμα πνευματικόν: βρῶμα πν. and πόμα πν. are descriptive of the object, τὸ αὐτό.

⁷ services; but into the second, the high priest only, once a year, not without blood, which he offers for himself and for the errors^p of the ⁸ people: the Holy Spirit shewing this, that the way of the [holy of] holies has not yet been made manifest while as yet the first tabernacle ⁹ has [its] standing; the which^q [is] an image for the present time, according to which^r both gifts and sacrifices, unable to perfect as to conscience him that worshipped,^s are ¹⁰ offered, [consisting] only of meats and drinks and divers washings,^t ordinances of flesh, imposed until [the] time of setting things right. ¹¹ But Christ being come high priest of the good things to come,^v by^w the better and more perfect tabernacle not made with hand, (that is, not of ¹² this creation,) nor by^w blood of goats and calves, but by^w his own blood, has entered in once for all into the [holy of] holies, having found an ¹³ eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls,^x and a heifer's ashes sprinkling the defiled, sancti- ¹⁴ fies for the purity of the flesh, how much rather shall the blood of the Christ, who by the eternal Spirit offered himself spotless to God, purify your conscience from dead works ¹⁵ to worship^y [the] living God? And for this reason he is mediator of a new covenant,^z so that, death having taken place for redemption of the transgressions under the first covenant, the called might receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. ¹⁶ (For where [there is] a testament,^a the death of the testator must needs ¹⁷ come in. For a testament [is] of force when men are dead, since it is in no way of force while the testator is alive.) Whence neither the first ¹⁹ was inaugurated without blood. For every commandment having been spoken according to [the] law by Moses to all the people; having taken the blood of calves and goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, he sprinkled both the book ²⁰ itself and all the people, saying, This [is] the blood of the covenant ²¹ which God has enjoined to you. And the tabernacle too and all the vessels of service he sprinkled in like manner ²² with blood; and almost^b all things are purified with blood according to the law, and without blood-shedding ²³ there is no remission. ^r A B D 17 Am refer 'to which' to παραβολή, 'image,' reading καθ' ἣν for καθ' ὅν. E K L P 37 47 and most others have ὅν. I think the old Latin, though corrupt, must have read ὅν. The fathers differ: Chrys. Theod. Theoph. read ὅν; Œcu. and others read ἣν. C fails us here. The present time is opposed to the time of setting things right. The tabernacle alone is in view in Hebrews, not the temple; but the fact that offerings were then still made is recognised in what follows. He could not call it the מִקְדָּשׁ, because Messiah was come and he had been crucified; but the carnal ordinances were still offered, so that for the Hebrews it was not מִקְדָּשׁ, 'the age to come.' It was a 'present time,' καὶρὸς ἐνεσθηκώς, in contrast with a time of setting right. The παραβολή could be only for a present time on earth. The patterns were in the heavens.

^s 'Worship' is perhaps too strong a word, but 'service' is equivocal. λατρεύω is to approach a god with any prayers, or in any way of offering up a religious service.

^t T. R. adds 'and,' with B E K L 37 47 Am; A D P 17 Memph omit.

^v The 'good things to come' are the promised blessings to come in with Christ. The Epistle to the Hebrews, though addressed to Christians on most precious subjects, does not enter into the proper church standing: it once refers to the church as in heaven in chap. xii.

^w διὰ here is, I doubt not at all, characteristic of his coming. He came in that way, his coming being in the power of and characterised by these things; not the place through nor the means by which. See this use of διὰ with the genitive, in Rom. ii. 27. In Rom. iv. 13 we see the transition to this use of it.

^x T. R., with K L P 17 37, reads 'bulls and goats;' text A B D 47 Am Memph.

^y See note ^s verse 9.

^z Or 'the new covenant.' The absence of the article merely makes it characteristic of him: he is 'new covenant mediator.' But better as in text.

^a The word translated 'covenant' and 'testament' is the same, διαθήκη, 'a disposition;' for 'covenant,' in connection with God, is a disposition which he has made, on the ground of which man is to be in relationship with him. But verses 16, 17, are a parenthesis, alluding by the bye to another kind of διαθήκη.

^b Some apply σχεδόν, 'almost,' to both parts of the sentence.

necessary then that the figurative representations of the things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with sacrifices better than these. For the Christ is not entered into holy places made with hand, figures^c of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear before^d the face of God for us: nor in order that he should offer himself often, as the high priest enters into the holy places every year with blood not his own; since he had [then] been obliged often to suffer from the foundation of the world. But now once in the consummation of the ages he has been manifested for [the] putting away of sin by his sacrifice. And forasmuch as it is the portion of men once to die, and after this judgment; thus the Christ also,^e having been once offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear to those that look for him the second time without^f sin for salvation.

X. For the law, having a shadow of the coming good things, not the image itself of the things, can never, by the same sacrifices which they offer continually yearly, perfect those² who approach. Since, would they not^g indeed have ceased being offered, on account of the worshippers once purged having no longer any³ conscience of sins? But in these [there is] a calling to mind of sins⁴ yearly. For blood of bulls and goats [is] incapable of taking away sins.⁵ Wherefore coming into the world he says, Sacrifice and offering thou willedst not; but thou hast prepared⁶ me a body. Thou tookest no pleasure in burnt-offerings and sacrifices⁷ for sin. Then I said, Lo, I come (in [the] roll^h of the book it is written of me) to do, O God, thy will.⁸ Above, saying Sacrifices and offeringsⁱ and burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou willedst not, neither tookest pleasure in (which^k are offered according to the law); then he said, Lo, I come to do^l thy will. He takes away the first that he may establish the second; by which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ¹¹ once for all. And every priest stands daily ministering, and offering often the same sacrifices, which can never¹² take away sins. But he,^m having offered one sacrifice for sins, sat downⁿ in perpetuity^o at [the] right¹³ hand of God, waiting from henceforth until his enemies be set [for the]¹⁴ footstool of his feet. For by one offering he has perfected in perpetuity¹⁵ the sanctified.^p And the Holy Spirit

^c The heavenly things were the original, 'the pattern,' copied, (viii. 5) and so it was, as said to Moses. Hence they were the τύπος; the tabernacle ἀντίτυπος, here rendered 'figure,' what answered to it.

^d Literally 'to the face.'

^e T. R. omits 'also,' with a few cursives.

^f χωρίς, 'apart from,' having nothing more to do with it. The first time He bore our sins, and was made sin (being sinless); but now, having put sins wholly away for them who look for Him, and made them partakers of the whole fruit of his sacrifice to put sin away, He appears to them without having to say, or need to have anything to say, to it. It is gone, as regards them, by his first coming.

^g T. R. has no 'not,' and then the phrase ceases to be a question, but with the same sense: it would read 'since they would indeed have,' &c. Steph. 1550 has the 'not,' but in margin a reading is given without. Beza 1582 has not it. But the reading is not doubtful.

^h Or perhaps 'chapter,' to which a heading or summary was attached. Some take it as the summary or contents of the chapter or volume, written on the 'head,' κεφαλῆς, of the roll.

ⁿ Or 'set himself down,' as i. 3.

^o εἰς τὸ διηνεκές differs from εἰς τὸν αἰῶνα: see note to chap. v. 6. Having perfectly completed the work, he had not to get up again to complete it; he could sit down, and abide so, having done all. It is in contrast with the priests standing. They stood daily; he is set down 'for a continuance.' The connecting εἰς τὸ διηνεκές with sacrifice spoils the whole force of the passage.

^p τοὺς ἁγιασμένους is not 'being,' nor 'having been,' but the objects of this operation, those about whom God was doing this: die geheiligt werden. As to date, ἡγιασμένοι ἐσμέν, 'we have been sanctified,' verse 10.

also bears us witness [of it]; for after 16 what was said:^a This [is] the covenant which I will establish towards^r them after those days, saith [the] Lord: Giving my laws into their 17 hearts, I will write them also in their understandings;^s and their sins and their lawlessnesses I will never re-18 member any more. But where there [is] remission of these, [there is] no longer a sacrifice^t for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness for entering into the [holy of] 20 holies by the blood of Jesus, the new and living way which he has dedicated for us through the veil, that is,
 21 his flesh, and [having] a great priest
 22 over the house of God, let us approach with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, sprinkled as to our hearts from a wicked conscience, and washed as to our body with 23 pure water. Let us hold fast the confession of the hope unwavering, (for he [is] faithful who has promis-24 ed;) and let us consider one another for provoking to love and good works; 25 not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom [is] with some; but encouraging [one another], and by so much the more as ye see the day drawing near.
 26 For where we sin wilfully after receiving the knowledge^u of the truth, there no longer remains any sacri-27 fice for sins, but a certain fearful expectation of judgment, and heat of fire about to devour the adversaries.

28 Any one that has disregarded Moses' law dies without mercy on [the testi-29 mony of] two or three witnesses: of how much worse punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy who has trodden under foot the Son of God, and esteemed the blood of the covenant, whereby he has been sanctified, common,^v and has insulted the Spirit 30 of grace? For we know him that said, To me [belongs] vengeance; I will recompense, saith the Lord: and again, The Lord shall judge his peo-31 ple. [It is] a fearful thing falling into [the] hands of [the] living God.
 32 But call to mind the earlier days in which, having been enlightened, ye endured much conflict of suffer-33 ings; on the one hand, when ye were made a spectacle both in re-proaches and afflictions; and on the other, when ye became partakers with those who were passing through 34 them. For ye both sympathised with prisoners^w and accepted with joy the plunder of your goods, knowing that ye have for^x yourselves a better substance,^y and an abiding 35 one. Cast not away therefore your confidence, which has great recom-36 pense. For ye have need of endurance in order that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the pro-37 mise. For yet a very little while he that comes will come, and will not 38 delay. But the just^z shall live by faith; and, if he^a draw back, my soul does not take pleasure in him.

^z Some add $\mu\omicron\upsilon$ here: 'my just [man].' It is in LXX, but in the Vatican and Sinai MSS, it is placed after $\pi\acute{\iota}\sigma\tau\epsilon\omega\varsigma$, so that the sense there is 'the just shall live by faith in me;' and so some authorities read here. I have left the T. R. However there is good authority for introducing $\mu\omicron\upsilon$. The sense runs well and is the same, 'my just,' i.e. God's just one, the one he owns as such. Σ A H Am have $\mu\omicron\upsilon$; D K L P 17 37 47 Syrr Memph omit it.

^a Or 'any one.' I have not introduced 'any one' into the text; but I do not apply the 'he' to a just man who lives. The apostle is contrasting two characters; the one who perishes, and the one who saves, preserves, his life (spiritually, of course). The professing Hebrews were in danger of drawing back. It must be remembered that in the LXX, Hab. ii. 3-4, the phrases are not placed in this order, nor in the Hebrew. In

³⁹ But we are not drawers back to perdition, but of faith to saving [the] soul. XI. Now faith is [the] substantiating^b of things hoped for, [the] conviction of things not seen. For in [the power of] this the elders have² obtained testimony. By faith we apprehend that the worlds were framed by [the] word of God, so that that^c which is seen should not take its origin from things which³ appear. By faith Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained testimony of being righteous, God bearing testimony to his gifts, and by it, having died, he yet^d speaks.^e By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him; for before [his^f] translation he has the testimony that he had pleased⁴ God. But without faith [it is] impossible to please [him]. For he that draws near to God must believe that he is, and [that] he is a rewarder of them who seek him out.⁵ By faith, Noe, oracularly warned concerning things not yet seen, moved with fear, prepared an ark for the saving of his house; by which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which [is] according to faith.⁶

⁸ By faith Abraham, being called, obeyed to go out into the place which he was to receive for an inheritance, and went out, not knowing where⁹ he was^g going. By faith he sojourned as a stranger in the land of promise as a foreign country, having dwelt in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with [him] of the same¹⁰ promise; for he waited for the city which has foundations, of which God¹¹ is [the] artificer and constructor. By faith also Sarah herself received strength for [the] conception of seed, and [that]^h beyond a seasonable age; since she counted him faithful who¹² promised. Wherefore also there have been born of one, and that of one become dead, even as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the countless sand which [is] by the sea shore.¹³ All these died in faith,ⁱ not having received the promises, but having seen them from afar off^k and embraced [them], and confessed that they were strangers and sojourners¹⁴ on the earth.¹ For they who say such things shew clearly that they¹⁵ seek [their] country. And if they had called to mind that from whence they went^m out, they had had opportunity¹⁶ to have returned; but now they seek a better, that is, a heavenly; where-the LXX it runs 'If [a man] draw back, my soul does not take pleasure in him; but the just shall live by faith in me.' In the Hebrew the phrase is 'His soul which is lifted up is not upright in him; that is, the proud enemy. It is certain that in what the apostle quotes there is no reference in the word 'he' to the just who lives by faith. The only thing that can be said is, that the writer of the epistle put it after, to change the sense. This I do not believe. It was a separate phrase by itself. All through this epistle, the Hebrews who acknowledged Jesus as Messiah are treated as a people; that is, the whole people accepted on condition of believing. So Peter: 'but are now the people of God.' And here: 'Jesus, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood.' And in the Hebrews you have nothing of the sanctification of the Spirit; but he urges as a practical truth 'the just shall live by faith:' and then, recurring to the previous phrase, which he would not quote as part of the passage, he says καὶ ἐὰν ὑποστραφῇται, 'and, if he draw back;' that is, any one holding this position of a professed believer; but not if he was living by faith in Him, he was not drawing back. In a word, drawing back is one character, living by faith another.

ⁿ It is not here λαβών but ἀναδέχμενος. λαμβάνω is to receive passively, sometimes actively, or 'to take;' but in δέχομαι there is more of the will or action of the person receiving. ἀναδέχομαι is in New Test. only used here and in Acts xxviii. 7. Publius received, 'took,' Paul and his company into his house. It has the sense of taking on oneself physically, or as a debt or responsibility. Polybius, it seems, gives it the sense of 'expecting,' 'awaiting;' and Dion. Hal. 'waiting till one gets.' Aufnehmen, auf sich nehmen, erwarten, abwarten. I might have thought it might mean to await, but the aorist participle makes this, I think, impossible. The thought, I apprehend, is, that Abraham's own mind had taken up and appropriated the promises, and yet he gave up Isaac. It was not merely they were given and taken away, with which he had nothing to do; but he had adopted them by faith in his heart, and trusted God enough to give them up according to flesh. I would have said 'taken on himself;' but there would be too much of his own will.

^o ἐκομίσατο. I think the force of κομίζω, thus applied, is to get back what one had, or belonged to one, when it might have seemed lost for ever. So it is used by Polybius, Josephus, and others. The sense I think quite certain in its application to Isaac's sacrifice. The aorist is constantly used in all this chapter historically. I do not add 'back,' because it is sufficiently expressed in 'whence,' and 'back' is too strong.

^p Here, τελευτών, strictly 'ending life.'

^q These are aorists, but in English the present participle is joined to the perfect tense as characterising the action. 'He refused . . . choosing;' 'he refused . . . having chosen' would make a different time of it, not the same. In Greek all is referred to the time of speaking; in English there is no time for the accessories, they are characteristic motives.

^r T. R. reads 'in,' with (A 17) 37 and other cursives; text & D K L P 47 Syrr Memph. A 17 ἐν Αἰγύπτου.

^s Here and in verse 17, as to the offering Isaac, the verbs are in the perfect; this is remarkable. The other facts are generally passing facts, part of the whole history; these are of standing significance, either setting figuratively the believer on a new ground, or were continued till the time of the epistle: 'by faith Abraham has offered . . . by faith he has kept the passover;' only this is not possible in English. It was not external continuance, for the blood sprinkling was only once.

^t T. R., with K L P 37, omits γῆς, 'land;' & A D 17 47 Am Syr-Pst Memph have it.

³⁵ Women received their dead again by resurrection; and others were tortured,^v not having accepted deliverance, that they might get a better resurrection; and others underwent trial of mockings and scourgings, yea, and of bonds and imprisonment. ³⁶ They were stoned, were sawn asunder, were tempted, died by the death of the sword; they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins, destitute, afflicted, evil treated, (of whom the world was not worthy,) wandering in deserts and mountains, and [in] dens and caverns of the earth. ³⁷

³⁸ And these all, having obtained witness through faith, did not receive the promise, God having foreseen some better thing for^w us, that they should not be made perfect without us. ³⁹

XII. Let us also therefore, having so great a cloud of witnesses^x surrounding us, laying aside every weight, and sin^y which so easily entangles^z us, run with endurance ⁴⁰ the race that lies before us, looking stedfastly^a on Jesus the leader^b and completer of faith: who, in view of the joy lying before him, endured [the] cross, having despised [the] shame, and is set down^c at the right hand of the throne of God.

⁴¹ For consider well^d him who endured so great contradiction from sinners against himself, that ye be not weary, ⁴² fainting in your minds. Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, wrestling^e against sin. And ye have quite forgotten the exhortation which speaks to you as to sons: My son, despise not [the] chastening of [the] Lord, nor faint [when] reproved by ⁴³ him; for whom [the] Lord loves he chastens, and scourges every son ⁴⁴ whom he receives. 'Ye endure for^g chastening, God conducts himself towards you as towards sons; for who is the son that the father chastens ⁴⁵ not? But if ye are without chastening, of which all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, and ⁴⁶ not sons. Moreover we have had the fathers of our flesh as chasteners, and we revered [them]; shall we not much rather be in subjection to ⁴⁷ the Father of spirits, and live? For they indeed chastened for a few days, as seemed good to them; but he for profit, in order to the partaking of ⁴⁸ his holiness.^h But no chastening at the time seems to be [matter] of joy, but of grief; but afterwards yields [the] peaceful fruit of righteousness to those exercised by it.

^x Witness, in English, has two senses: 'seeing, so as to be able to bear witness,' and 'giving testimony to.' The last only I apprehend in Greek, μάρτυς. I do not believe that it has the sense of 'spectator,' θεατής, here or anywhere; the νέφος περικείμενον may run on this thought, but the apostle seems to say 'a cloud of spectators, who are witnesses to this truth of living by faith.'

EPISTLE OF JAMES.

I. James, bondman of God and of [the] Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which [are] in the dispersion, ² greeting. Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall into various temptations, knowing that the proving of ³ your faith works^a endurance. But let endurance have [its] perfect work, that ye may be perfect and complete,
⁴ lacking in nothing. But if any one of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all freely^b and reproaches not, and it shall be given ⁵ to him: but let him ask in faith, nothing doubting. For he that doubts is like a wave of the sea driven by the wind and tossed about;
⁶ for let not that man think that he shall receive anything from the Lord;
⁷ [he is] a double-minded man,^c unstable in all his ways.
⁸ But let the brother of low degree glory in his elevation, and the rich in his humiliation, because as [the] grass's flower he will pass away.
⁹ For the sun has risen with its burning heat, and has withered the grass, and its flower has fallen, and the comeliness of its look has perished: thus the rich also shall wither in his ¹² goings. Blessed [is the] man who endures temptation; for, having been proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which He^d has promised to them that love him.

¹³ Let no man, being tempted, say, I am tempted of God. For God cannot be tempted by evil things, and ¹⁴ himself tempts no one. But every one is tempted, drawn away, and ¹⁵ enticed by his own lust; then lust, having conceived, gives birth to sin; but sin fully completed brings forth death.

¹⁶ Do not err, my beloved brethren.
¹⁷ Every good gift^e and every perfect gift comes down^f from above, from the Father of lights, with whom is no variation nor shadow of turning.
¹⁸ According to his own will^g begat^h he us by the word of truth, that we should be a certain firstfruits of his creatures.

¹⁹ So that,ⁱ my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to ²⁰ speak, slow to wrath; for man's

^b ἀπλώς. Of men we might say 'unaffectedly,' 'with a readiness of heart which does not make a great matter of it, or a case of great consideration:' the want is there, and the heart answers without a second thought. It is attempted to be distinguished from Rom. xii. 8, but why I know not. I had thought of 'readily,' but it does not give the thought of simplicity without a thought behind, as much as 'freely.'

^c I take here ἀνὴρ δίψυχος in apposition, not with ἄνθρωπος ἐκεῖνος, but with ὁ διακρινόμενος, 'he that doubts' (ver. 6); and verse 7 as practically a parenthesis. (See chap. iii. 8, for an analogous form.) I do not think the sense bears a direct connection with verse 7; whereas verse 8 is a moral explanation of the figure of verse 6. The style of James is characterised by these aphoristic and therefore anarthrous sentences: see ver. 20 as an example.

^d T. R. reads 'the Lord,' with K L P 31; C has κύριος without ὁ. 13(?) Am Memph read 'God,' text N A B.

^f That is its true character, ἐστὶ καταβαῖνον, but expressed in English by 'comes down.' See chap. iii. 15.

De Wette and Tisch. 7th ed. have ὥστε. Tisch. 8th ed. has ἵστε. Ital and Vulg both add autem (δέ) after ἵστω. It is very likely 'ye know' or 'know ye' is the right reading. wrath does not work^k God's righteousness. Wherefore, laying aside all filthiness and abounding of wickedness, accept with meekness the implanted word, which is able to²¹ save your souls. But be ye doers of [the] word and not hearers only,²² beguiling yourselves. For if any man be a hearer of [the] word and not a doer, he is like to a man considering his natural face in a mirror:²³ for he has considered himself and is gone away, and straightway he has forgotten what he was like. But he that fixes his view on [the] perfect law, that of liberty, and abides in [it], being not²⁴ a forgetful hearer but a doer of [the] work, he shall be blessed²⁵ in his doing. If any one^m think himselfⁿ to be religious, not bridling his tongue, but deceiving his heart,²⁶ this man's religion is vain. Pure and undefiled religion before God and the Father is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, to keep oneself unspotted from the world.²⁷

II. My brethren, do not have the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, [Lord] of glory, with respect of persons: for if there come unto your synagogue a man with a gold ring in splendid apparel, and a poor man also come in³ in vile apparel, and ye look upon him who wears the splendid apparel, and say,^o Do thou sit here well, and say to the poor, Do thou stand there, or sit here under my footstool: have ye not^p made a difference among yourselves, and become judges having^q evil thoughts? Hear, my beloved brethren: Has not God chosen the poor as to the^r world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which he has promised to them that love him? But ye have despised the poor [man]. Do not the rich oppress you, and [do not] they drag you before [the] tribunals? And [do not] they blaspheme the excellent name which has been called upon you? If indeed ye keep [the] royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well.⁶ But if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. For whoever shall keep the whole law and shall offend in one [point], he has come under the guilt of [breaking] all. For he who said, Thou shalt not commit adultery, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Now if thou dost^s not commit adultery, but killest,^t thou art become transgressor of [the] law. So speak ye, and so act, as those that are to be judged by [the] law of liberty; for judgment [will be] without mercy to him that has shewn no mercy.^v Mercy glories over judgment.

¹⁴ What [is] the profit, my brethren, if any one say he have faith, but have not works? can faith save him? ¹⁵ Now if a brother or a sister is naked and destitute of daily food, and one from amongst you say to them, Go in peace, be warmed and filled;^w but give not to them the needful things for the body, what [is] the profit? So also faith, if it have not works, is dead by itself. But some one will say, Thou hast faith and I have works. Shew me thy faith

^q Literally 'of evil thoughts,' as we say, 'a man of corrupt habits.'

^r T. R. reads 'this,' with a few cursives; Am, with a cursive, has 'in this world.' 'This' is omitted by \aleph A B C K L P 13 31 Syrr Memph. K L P 13 31 and many others Memph read 'of the world.'

^v T. R. adds 'And,' with some cursives. A Am have δέ. (The readings vary as to the form of κατακαυχᾶται.) Text \aleph B C K L 13 31 Memph.

^w Or 'warm and fill yourselves.'

without^x works, and I from my works ¹⁹ will shew thee my faith. Thou believest that God is one. Thou doest well. The demons even believe, and ²⁰ tremble. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works ²¹ is dead?^y Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he had offered Isaac his son upon the ²² altar? Thou seest that faith wrought with his works, and that by^z works ²³ faith was perfected. And the scripture was fulfilled which says, Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him as righteousness, and he ²⁴ was called Friend of God. Ye see^a that a man is justified on the principle of^b works, and not on the principle ²⁵ of^b faith only. But was not in like manner also Rahab the harlot justified on the principle of^b works, when she had received the messengers and put [them] forth by another way?
²⁶ For as the body without a spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

III. Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive ² greater judgment. For we all often offend. If any one offend not in word, he [is] a perfect man, able to ³ bridle the whole body too. Behold,^c we put the bits in the mouths of the horses, that they may obey us, and we turn round their whole bodies.

⁴ Behold also the ships, which are so great, and driven by violent winds, are turned about by a very small rudder, wherever the pleasure of the ⁵ helmsman will. Thus also the tongue is a little member, and boasts great things. See how little^d a fire, how ⁶ large a wood^e it kindles! and the tongue [is] fire, the world of unrighteousness;^f the tongue is set in our members, the defiler of the whole body, and which sets fire to the course of nature, and is set on fire of ⁷ hell. For every species both of beasts and of birds, both of creeping things and of sea animals, is tamed and has been tamed by the human species;
⁸ but the tongue can no one among men tame; [it is] an unsettled^g evil,
⁹ full of death-bringing poison. Therewith bless we the Lord and Father,^h and therewith curse we men made ¹⁰ after [the] likeness of God. Out of the same mouth goes forth blessing and cursing. It is not right, my brethren, that these things should be thus.
¹¹ Does the fountain, out of the same opening, pour forth sweet and bitter?
¹² Can, my brethren, a fig produce olives, or a vine figs? Neither [can] salt [water] make sweet water.ⁱ

^y I have left 'dead,' with \aleph A K L P 13 31 Am Syrr Memph. B C have $\alpha\rho\gamma\acute{\gamma}\eta$, 'fruitless, null, and inoperative.' It may be right, the sense is little different. Theoph. has $\nu\epsilon\kappa\rho\acute{\alpha}$.

^z $\acute{\epsilon}\kappa$, translated 'from' in verse 18.

^a T. R. reads 'see ye then,' with K L 31 and others; \aleph A B C P 13 Am Syrr Memph omit. If $\tau\omicron\iota\upsilon\nu\nu$ be left out, it is better to read $\delta\acute{\rho}\alpha\tau\epsilon$ as an indicative, 'ye see.'

^b Or 'by,' $\acute{\epsilon}\kappa$.

^c \aleph A B K L 13 31 read $\epsilon\iota\ \delta\acute{\epsilon}$, and Ital Vulg si autem, C and P $\iota\delta\epsilon$, T. R. $\iota\delta\omicron\upsilon$, with a few cursives Syrr. I see no proof that it is not an itacism however. If we read $\epsilon\iota\ \delta\acute{\epsilon}$ we must translate 'but if we put the bits in the mouths of the horses . . . we turn round also.' De Wette however says there is no apodosis. The sense is the same.

^d \aleph B C P Am have $\eta\lambda\acute{\iota}\kappa\omicron\nu$; A C² K L 13 31 Syrr Memph $\delta\acute{\alpha}\lambda\iota\gamma\omicron\nu$. Probably $\eta\lambda\acute{\iota}\kappa\omicron\nu$ is right as being the more difficult reading, but in the sense of quantulus, for which Lucian Hermet 5 is quoted; but?

^e I have translated 'a wood' (the same English idiom as $\psi\lambda\eta$). It may otherwise, with Jerome and many, be taken for 'materials;' the connection of $\alpha\nu\acute{\alpha}\pi\tau\omega$ decides me, (see Wetstein in loco;) otherwise the use of $\psi\lambda\eta$ in LXX, particularly Apocrypha, would lead me to say 'matter,' or 'materials,' according to the ecclesiastical, and specially gnostic use of it.

^f T. R. adds 'thus,' with L P 13 31 and other cursives; \aleph A B C K Am Syrr Memph omit.

^h Or perhaps 'the Lord and [the] Father.' T. R. reads 'God and Father,' $\tau\omicron\nu\ \Theta\epsilon\omicron\nu\ \kappa\alpha\iota\ \pi\alpha\tau\acute{\epsilon}\rho\alpha$. \aleph A B C P 13 Memph have $\kappa\acute{\upsilon}\rho\iota\omicron\nu$; K L 31 and others Am Theoph. &c. have $\Theta\epsilon\omicron\nu$. But the form of the phrase must be noted: it is one article with two nouns, and so they are in some respect one, perhaps here only in respect of the blessing.

ⁱ 'Lord,' though used as a name for Jehovah, is not used that I remember for 'the Father.'

¹³ Who [is] wise and understanding among you; let him shew out of a good conversation^j his works in meekness of wisdom; but if ye have bitter emulation and strife in your hearts, do not boast^k and lie against the truth. This is not the wisdom which comes down from above, but earthly, natural, devilish. For where emulation and strife [are], there [is] disorder and every evil thing. But the wisdom from above first is pure, then peaceful, gentle, yielding, full of mercy and good fruits, unquestioning,^l m unfeigned. But [the] fruit of righteousness in peaceⁿ is sown for them that make peace. (IV.) Whence [come] wars and whence^o fightings among you? [Is it] not thence,—from your pleasures,^p which war in your members? Ye lust and have not: ye kill and are full of envy, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war; ^q ye have not because ye ask not. Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask evilly, that ye may consume [it] in your pleasures. ^r Adulteresses, know ye not that friendship with the world is enmity with God? ^s Whoever therefore is minded to be [the] friend of the world is constituted enemy of

⁵ God. Think ye that the scripture speaks in vain? Does the Spirit which has taken his abode in us desire enviously? ^t But he gives more grace. Wherefore he says, God sets himself against [the] proud, but gives grace to [the] lowly. Subject yourselves therefore to God. ^v Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. ⁶ Draw near^w to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse^w [your] hands, sinners, and purify [your] hearts, ye ⁹ double-minded. Be wretched,^w and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and [your] ¹⁰ joy to heaviness. Humble yourselves^w before [the] Lord,^x and he shall exalt you. ¹¹ Speak not against one another, brethren. He that speaks against [his] brother, or^y judges his brother, speaks against [the] law and judges [the] law. But if thou judgest [the] law, thou art not doer of [the] law, ¹² but judge. One is the lawgiver and judge,^z who is able to save and to destroy: but^a who art thou who judgest thy^b neighbour? ¹³ Go to now, ye who say, To-day or to-morrow will we go into such a city and spend a year^c there, and ^j Or 'conduct,' ἀναστροφή. It is 'conversation' in the ancient sense, as 1 Tim. iv. 12, &c.

^k 'Against truth,' is connected with 'boast,' as with 'lie.'

^l Or 'uncontentious,' ἀδιάκριτος, that is; in contrast with contentious pretension to wisdom: practical righteousness bears the fruit of peace for those who make peace.

^m T. R. adds 'and,' with K L 31 and others; \aleph A B C P 13 Am Memph omit.

ⁿ Or 'the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace, for.' But I prefer the text.

^o T. R. omits the second 'whence,' with K L Am; \aleph A B C P 13 31 Memph insert.

^p ἡδοναί. I see no reason to change 'pleasures' into 'lusts'; there is an additional idea, the satisfaction the heart feels in satisfying, or rather gratifying, lust.

^q T. R. adds 'yet,' with a few cursives; \aleph P and many cursives Am Syrr Memph read καί, 'and,' text A B K L 13 31.

^r T. R. adds 'Adulterers and,' with K L P 31 and many others; \aleph A B 13 omit. Am and versions have only the masculine.

^s Literally 'the friendship of the world is enmity of God;' but it is the state as between the parties, in English 'with.' In what follows, the same construction in Greek, it is taken up as 'our state towards' God, but this is warning to conscience.

^t I have, with some hesitation, translated this passage as above. I cannot find that φθόνος is used in a good or holy sense of jealousy. The application to what precedes is evident. If not thus translated, we must say 'Or think ye that the scripture says in vain, The Spirit which has taken his abode in us desires ardently with envy?'

^v Many add 'But' here, with \aleph A B 13 31 Am Memph; K L P and others omit.

^w 'Have it done,' not 'be doing it,' aorist, not present. All the imperatives are in the aorist, to end of ver. 10.

^x T. R. adds the article before 'Lord,' with L 31 and others; \aleph A B K P 13 omit.

^z T. R. omits 'and judge,' with K L and others; \aleph A B P 13 31 Am Syrr Memph insert.

^a T. R. omits 'but,' with some versions and many cursives; \aleph A B K L P 13 31 Am Syrr Memph insert.

¹⁴ traffic and make gain, ye who^d do not know what will be on the morrow, ([for^e] what [is] your life? It is^f even a vapour, appearing for a little while, and^g then disappearing,) instead of your saying, If the Lord should [so] will and we should live, ¹⁵ we will also do this or that. But now ye glory in your vauntings: all such glorying is evil. To him therefore who knows how to do good, and does it not, to him it is sin.

V. Go to now, ye rich weep, howling over your miseries that [are] coming ² upon [you]. Your wealth is become rotten, and your garments moth-eaten Your gold and silver is eaten away, and their canker shall be for a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire Ye have heaped
⁴ up treasure in [the] last days. Behold, the wages of your labourers, who have harvested your fields, wrongfully kept back by you, cry, and the cries of those that have reaped are entered into the ears of [the] Lord
⁵ of sabaoth^h Ye have lived luxuriously on the earth and indulged yourselves; ye have nourished your hearts [asⁱ] in a day of slaughter; ye have condemned, ye have killed the just; he does not resist you.
⁷ Have patience,^k therefore, brethren, till the coming of the Lord. Behold, the labourer awaits the precious fruit of the earth, having patience for it until it receive [the] early and ⁸ [the] latter rain. Ye also have patience:^k stablish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is drawn nigh.

⁹ Complain^l not one against another, brethren, that ye be not judged.^m Behold, the judge stands before the door.
¹⁰ Take [as] an example, ⁿbrethren, of suffering and having patience,^o the prophets, who have spoken in the name of [the] Lord Behold, we call them blessed who have endured.^p Ye have heard of the endurance^q of Job, and seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord^r is full of tender compassion and pitiful.

¹³ Does any one among you suffer evil? let him pray. Is any happy? let him sing psalms. Is any sick among you? let him call to [him] the elders of the assembly, and let them pray over him, anointing him with ¹⁵ oil in the name of [the] Lord; and the prayer of faith shall heal the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he be one who has committed sins, ¹⁶ it shall be forgiven him. Confess therefore^s your^t offences to one another, and pray for one another, that ye may be healed. [The] fervent^v supplication of the righteous [man] ¹⁷ has much power. Elias was a man of like passions to us, and he prayed with prayer that it should not rain;

^d οἷτινες, 'who are such as do not.'

^e B omit 'for.'

^f Or perhaps 'ye are.' The copies vary between ἔστι, ἐστε, ἔσται. B has ἐστε; L 31 Am, as T. R., have ἔστιν; A K P 31 have ἔσται. N omits ἀτμὶς γὰρ ἔστι.

^g καί, with N A B K; the readings vary. T. R. has δέ, with 13 and other cursives.

^h i.e. Jehovah of hosts.

ⁱ T. R. has ὡς in text, with K L 31 Syrr; N A B P 13 Am Memph omit.

^k μακροθυμέω, aorist; see note to iv. 8.

^m T. R. reads 'condemned,' with a few cursives.

ⁿ T. R. adds 'my,' with K L 31 Memph. Otherwise these, with A B P 13, are as in text. N reads ἂδ. μου τῆς καλοκαγαθίας.

^o 'Having patience,' μακροθυμία, as Heb. vi. 12, elsewhere translated 'long-suffering.'

^p N A B P Am Syrr read 'who have endured,' ὑπομείναντας, for ὑπομένοντας; 'who endure,' the reading of T. R., with K L 13 31 Memph.

^q ὑπομονή.

^r K L 31 omit; N A B P 13 Am and versions have it.

^s T. R. omits 'therefore,' with L 13 31 and many others; οὖν N A B K P Am Memph insert.

^v Or 'operative,' ἐνεργουμένη. This word puzzles all the critics. If not equivalent to ἐνεργός, it is a participle with the active sense of 'working effectually,' constantly found in the New Testament. The English Version has combined the two, 'effectual' and 'fervent';

and it did not rain upon the earth ¹⁸ three years and six months; and again he prayed, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth caused its fruit to spring forth.

¹⁹ My^v brethren, if any one among but it is hardly both. I do not think it is in-wrought by spiritual power. It is rather the person who is ἐνεργούμενος, 'an energumene,' Wahl gives cases from the classics of 'fervent,'

you err from the truth, and one bring ²⁰ him back, let him know that he that brings back a sinner from [the] error of his way shall save a soul from death and shall cover a multitude of sins.

and Wetstein one from Eustath. on Odyssey for ἐνεργούσης εὐχῆς.

^v T. R. omits 'my,' with L and others; 8 A B
K P 31 Am Syrr Memph insert.

FIRST EPISTLE OF PETER.

I. Peter, apostle of Jesus Christ, to [the] sojourners of [the] dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, ² and Bithynia, elect according to [the] foreknowledge of God [the] Father, by sanctification^a of [the] Spirit, unto [the] obedience and sprinkling of [the] blood^b of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

³ Blessed [be] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, according to his great mercy, has begotten us again to a living hope through [the] resurrection of Jesus ⁴ Christ from among [the] dead, to an incorruptible and undefiled and un-fading inheritance, reserved in [the] ⁵ heavens for you,^c who are kept guarded by [the] power of God through faith for salvation ready to be revealed ⁶ in [the] last time.^d Wherein^e ye exult, for a little while at present, if needed, put to grief by various trials,^f ⁷ that the proving of your faith, much more precious than of gold which perishes, though it be proved by fire, be found to praise and glory and honour^g in [the] revelation of ⁸ Jesus Christ: whom, having not seen,^h ye love; onⁱ whom [though] not now looking but believing ye exult ⁹ with joy unspeakable and filled with the glory,^k receiving the end of your^l faith, [the] salvation of [your] souls.^m ¹⁰ Concerning which salvation prophets, who have prophesied of the grace towards you, sought out and searched ¹¹ out; searching what, or what manner, of time, the Spirit of Christ which [was] in them pointed out, testifying before of the sufferings which [belonged] to Christ, and the glories ¹² after these. To whom it was revealed, that not to themselves but to youⁿ

^a ἁγιασμός, as in 2 Thess. ii. 13. See also notes to 1 Cor. i. 30; 1 Thess. iv. 7, and Heb. xii. 14.

^b I have no doubt whatever that 'Jesus Christ' is in connection with 'obedience,' as well as with 'sprinkling of the blood.'

^c T. R. (not Stephens) reads 'for us,' with a few cursives.

^d The reader will remark how the article is everywhere left out in the original Greek here, making it all characteristic and descriptive.

^e Or 'in which [time],'^f ἐν ᾧ, either in general, or agrees with 'time.'

^f Temptations, πειρασμοί.

^g T. R. reads 'honour and glory,' with K L P and others; text 8 A B C 13 31 Am Memph.

^h 8 B C read 'not seeing.'

ⁱ εἰς ὃν does not, I think, refer to ἀγαλλιᾶσθε,
 'ye exult;' it would be ἐν ᾧ, as in ver. 6. It may refer to both the participles, 'looking' and 'believing,' which, I think, is the natural construction. If not, it is connected with the first, ὁρῶντες; the participles are then, as often, causattives.

^k 'Filled with the glory,' literally 'glorified.'

^l B omits 'your.'

^m Literally 'salvation of souls,' in contrast with temporal deliverances, to which, as Jews, they were accustomed to look.

ⁿ T. R. reads 'us,' with K Memph; 'you,' 8
A B C L P 13 31 Am.

they ministered those things, which have now been announced to you by those who have declared to you the glad tidings by^o [the] Holy Ghost, sent from heaven, which angels desire to look into. Wherefore, having girded up the loins of your mind, [be] sober [and] hope with perfect stedfastness in the grace [which will be] brought to you at [the] revelation of Jesus Christ; as children of obedience, not conformed^p to [your] former lusts in your ignorance; but as he who has called you is holy, be ye also holy in all [your] conversation; because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy. And if ye invoke as Father him who, without regard of persons, judges according to the work of each, pass your time of sojourn in fear, knowing that ye have been redeemed, not by corruptible [things, as] silver or gold, from your vain conversation handed down from [your] fathers, but by precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot,^q [the blood] of Christ, foreknown indeed before [the] foundation of [the] world, but who has been manifested at the end^r of times for your sakes, who by him do believe^s on God, who has raised him from among [the] dead and given him glory, that your faith and 22 hope should be in God.^t Having purified your souls by obedience to the truth^u to unfeigned brotherly love, love one another out of a pure^v heart fervently. Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by [the] living and abiding word of God.^w Because all flesh [is] as^x grass, and all its glory^y as [the] flower of grass. The grass has withered and [its^z] flower has fallen; but the word of [the] Lord abides for eternity. But this is the word which in the glad tidings [is] preached to you.

II. Laying aside therefore all malice and all guile and hypocrisies and envyings and all evil speakings, as newborn babes desire earnestly the pure mental milk of the word,^a that by it ye may grow up to salvation,^b if indeed ye have tasted that the Lord [is] good. To whom coming, a living stone, cast away indeed as worthless by men, but with God chosen, precious, yourselves also, as living stones, are being built up^c a spiritual house,^d a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. Because^e it is contained in the scripture: Behold, I lay in Zion a corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believes on him^f shall not be put to shame.

^o ἐν, 'in the power of;' A B 13 Am omit ἐν.

^p I say 'conformed' because conformed is not passive in English, and expresses a state. The path in which they walk is the sense here 'Conforming yourselves' is too active and intentional.

^q Or 'by precious blood, as of Christ, a lamb without blemish and without spot;' or 'by [the] precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot.'

^r T. R. has ἐσχάτων for ἐσχάτου, with K L P 31 Am; text & A B C 13 Syrr Memph. See note on Heb. i. 2.

^t Or 'so that your faith and hope are in God.'

^u T. R. adds 'through [the] Spirit,' with K L P 31; & A B C 13 Am Syrr Memph omit.

^v A B Am omit 'pure;' & C K L P 13 31 Syrr insert.

^w T. R. reads 'abiding for ever,' adding εἰς τὸν αἰῶνα, with K L P Am; & A B C 13 Memph omit.

^x B C K L P 31 Am Memph have ὡς; A 13 Syrr omit, with LXX. & has ὡσεὶ for ὡσεύ.

^y T. R. reads 'all the glory of man,' with K L P 31; αὐτῆς A B C 13 Am Syrr Memph; αὐτοῦ &.

^z 'Its' is doubtful. If not genuine we must read 'the.' & A B 13 Am Syrr omit.

^a No word is satisfactory here for λογικόν; for though it doubtless has the sense of 'suited to the rational faculties'—the mind in contrast with the body—yet I believe there is allusion to the word λόγος. I have added 'of the word' to mark this allusion.

^b T. R. omits 'to salvation,' with L and many others; & A B C K P 13 31 Am Syrr Memph insert.

^c Or, with some, 'be ye built up,' or 'build yourselves up.' But the text is, I doubt not, right.

^d Many good authorities, as & A B C Memph, read 'for a holy priesthood,' adding εἰς, but I rather take it for a gloss. T. R., with K L P 13 31 and most others Am.

^e T. R. reads 'Wherefore also,' with a few cursives.

^f Or 'trusts in it,' which is perhaps preferable; but it means of course Christ. But 'believe in' is the same word.

⁷ To you therefore who believe [is] the preciousness; but to the disobedient, the stone which the builders cast away as worthless, this is become head of [the] corner,^g and a stone of stumbling and rock of offence;^h [who] stumble at the word, being disobedient,ⁱ to which also they⁹ have been appointed. But ye [are] a chosen race, a kingly priesthood, a holy nation, a people for a possession, that ye might set forth the excellencies of him who has called you out of darkness to his wonderful light;¹⁰ who once [were] not a people, but now God's people; who were not enjoying mercy, but now have found mercy.^k

¹¹ Beloved, I exhort [you], as strangers and sojourners, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which^l war against the soul;¹² having your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that [as to that] in which^m they speak against you as evildoers, they may through [your] good works, [themselves] witnessingⁿ [them], glorify God in [the] day of visitation.

^g Or 'is become chief corner stone.'

^h Literally 'fall trap,' as Rom. ix. 33; 1 Cor. i. 23.

ⁱ On the whole I prefer 'stumble at the word, being disobedient,' to 'stumble, being disobedient to the word.' It takes up ἀπειθοῦντες, absolutely, used in the same manner in ver. 7.

^k I have endeavoured to express the perfect and aorist: ἡλεγμένοι and ἐλεθύντες.

^m ἐν ᾧ. It is used for time (Mark ii. 19, John v. 7); still with the idea 'in the state of things in which.' In Rom. viii. 3, it has practically the sense of 'inasmuch as, considered in that view.' In Rom. ii. 1, xiv. 22, it is 'wherein,' but not strictly, I judge, in the latter case, nor here. In both it is more than 'wherein'—viewed in that light in which, 'considered in that view,' 'in that respect in which.' 'Whereas' is mere contrast, without reference to the object of ᾧ. That does not do exactly; it is too vague; 'wherein' a little too precise. He does not mean in that particular thing exactly, but in respect of that very walk and course of conduct.

ⁿ T. R., with A K L P 13 and others, reads 'having witnessed;' text \aleph B C 31 Am Syrr.

^o \aleph A B C 13 31 Am Memph omit 'therefore.'

^p ἀφρόνων ἀνθρώπων has the article here, as shewing that it is not 'some men who are foolish,' but that men (not Christians) are so, are known in that character. τῶν stands for all—ἀφρόνων for the character of all who are pointed out by

¹³ Be in subjection [therefore^o] to every human institution for the Lord's sake; whether to [the] king¹⁴ as supreme, or to rulers as sent by him, for vengeance on evildoers, and¹⁵ praise to them that do well. Because so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye put to silence the ignorance of¹⁶ senseless men;^p as free, and not as having liberty as a cloak of malice,^q¹⁷ but as God's bondmen. Shew honour to^r all, love the brotherhood, fear God,¹⁸ honour the king. Servants,^s [be] subject with all fear to your masters, not only to the good and gentle, but¹⁹ also to the ill-tempered. For this [is] acceptable, if one, for conscience sake towards God, endure griefs,²⁰ suffering unjustly. For what glory [is it], if sinning and being buffeted ye shall bear^t [it]? but if, doing good^v and suffering, ye shall bear [it], this²¹ is acceptable with God. For to this have ye been called; for Christ also has suffered for you,^x leaving you^x a model^y that ye should follow in his²² steps: who did no sin, neither was²³ guile found in his mouth; who,

the name of ἀνθρώπων, 'men.' It is wider than verse 12 somewhat: there 'Gentiles,' here 'men.' The English is necessarily ambiguous. It is the real defect of English, otherwise the richest and most flexible of languages. 'Senseless men' may mean men who are so, or say of men, that they are so. The article in Greek makes it the latter.

^q Here the article is contrastive: that thing liberty as cloak of that thing malice.

^r τιμήσατε, aorist; the rest of the verse is in the present. Hence, here, more the act when occasion arises; the others, the constant habit of mind.

^s οἰκέται, 'household servants,' not necessarily 'slaves,' δοῦλοι.

^t ὑπομένω, 'endure;' see 2 Tim. ii. 12.

^v Not τὸ καλόν, or καλῶς, ποιῦντες, but ἀγαθοποιῦντες. I think his mind goes beyond the servants to doing good generally as Christians.

^x The Authorised Version in both cases has 'us' for 'you' in margin. The sense is not really different, and the reading very difficult to determine. But 'ye should follow' seems to decide for 'you' before 'a model;' while 'suffered for us' is the natural expression of the apostle's heart. The critics differ. The majority of moderns read 'suffered for you, leaving you.' So Tisch. 8th ed. So does \aleph , but has by mistake ἀπέθανε for ἐπάθε. Tisch. 7th ed. ἡμῶν, ὑμῖν, with K L P 13 Vulg., 'for us, leaving you.' Alford, as T. R., ὑμῶν, ὑμῖν, 'you, you,' so \aleph A B C 31 Am. Syr-Pst, I suppose, 'us, us,' with Memph.

^y A copy, as we say, to write after.

[when] reviled, reviled not again; [when] suffering, threatened not; but gave [himself] over into^z the hands of him who judges righteously; ²⁴ who himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, in order that, being dead to^a sins, we may live to righteousness: by whose stripes^b ye have ²⁵ been healed. For ye were going astray^c as sheep, but have now returned to the shepherd and overseer of your souls.

III. Likewise, wives, [be] subject^d to your own husbands, that, even if any are disobedient to the word, they may^e be gained without [the] word by the conversation of the wives, ² having witnessed your pure conversation [carried out] in fear; whose ³ adorning let it not be that outward one of tressing of hair, and wearing ⁴ gold, or putting on apparel; but the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible [ornament] of a meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God ⁵ is of great price. For thus also the holy women who have hoped^f in God heretofore adorned themselves, being subject to their own husbands; ⁶ as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord; whose children ye have become, doing^g good, and not fearing with any kind of consternation.

^a παραδίδωμι is to deliver up into the hands of another, 'give over into.' I think therefore the sense must be 'gave himself up to, suffered all, as accepting all from his hand:' gave himself up to take whatever he sent who would in the end righteously judge. I do not see that παραδίδωμι has ever the sense of 'committing a wrong to another to vindicate,' as some would translate here. But it has of committing any one to the care of another. See Acts xiv. 26, xv. 40. Compare John xix. 30: and I doubt not this is the sense, though some would read '[them]' instead of '[himself].'

^b Or 'having done with;' but better as in text; it is ἀπογενόμενοι.

^c Or 'bruise.' Though μώλωπι be singular, I say 'stripes.' It is literally the marks left by scourging. 'Stripe' does not convey this. Other words are too familiar.

^d 'Going astray as sheep,' with \aleph A B; T. R., 'as straying sheep,' with C K L P 13 31.

^e Not the same as chap. ii. 13. There aorist, a particular act: here present participle, an habitual state; following on chap. ii. 18.

^f Many read 'they shall be,' but ω is so often put for ω in the old copies that I have changed

⁷ [Ye] husbands likewise, dwell with [them] according to knowledge, as with a weaker, [even] the female, vessel, giving [them] honour, as also fellow-heirs of [the] grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.^h

⁸ Finally, [be] all of one mind, sympathizing, full of brotherly love, tender hearted, humble minded;ⁱ not ⁹ rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but on the contrary, blessing [others], because^k ye have been called to this, that ye should inherit blessing. For he that will love life and see good days, let him cause his tongue to cease from evil and his ¹¹ lips that they speak no guile. And^l let him avoid evil, and do good; let ¹² him seek peace and pursue it; because [the^m] eyes of [the] Lord [are] on [the] righteous, and his ears towards their supplications; but [the] face of [the] Lord [is] against them that do ¹³ evil. And who shall injure you if ye have become imitators of that which ¹⁴ [is] good?ⁿ But if also ye should suffer for righteousness sake, blessed [are ye]; but be not afraid of their ¹⁵ fear, neither be troubled; but sanctify [the] Lord the Christ^o in your hearts, and^p [be] always prepared to [give] an answer [to] every one that asks you to give an account of^q the nothing. B has ω , not ω . The change may have been made to render the structure of the phrase easier. The weight of MS testimony is clearly in favour of 'shall' or 'will,' as \aleph A B C K L P 13 31; -ωνται many cursives Am.

^f 'Have hoped' is present, characterising the woman.

^g That is, supposing, assuming they did.

^h ἐγκόπτεσθαι, with \aleph A B P. See note on Gal. v. 7. T. R. has ἐκκόπτεσθαι, with (C) K L 13 31.

ⁱ T. R. reads for 'humble-minded,' 'friendly' or 'courteous,' with K P 31 and some others; text \aleph A B C 13 Am Syrr Memph.

^k T. R. reads 'knowing that ye,' that is, adds εἰδότες, with L P 31; text \aleph A B C K 13 Am Syrr Memph.

^m T. R. has 'the' in text with C² and many cursives. Compare for the anarthrous form, chap. i. 5 and Jas. i. 20.

ⁿ Or 'of the good one,' 'him that is good.'

^o T. R. reads 'the Lord God,' with K L P 31; text \aleph A B C 13 Am Syrr Memph.

^p \aleph B C 13 Am Memph omit 'and.'

^q Or 'a reason for,' λόγος: it includes both hope that [is] in you, but^r with meek-¹⁶ness and fear; having a good conscience, that [as to that] in which^s they speak^t against you as evildoers, they may be ashamed who calumniate your good conversation in Christ.

¹⁷For [it is] better, if the will of God should will it,^u to suffer [as] well-doers ¹⁸than [as] evildoers; for Christ indeed has once suffered for sins, [the] just for [the] unjust,^v that he might bring us to God; being put to death in flesh, ¹⁹but made alive in [the^w] Spirit, in which also going he preached to the ²⁰spirits [which are] in prison, heretofore disobedient,^x when^y the long-suffering^z of God waited in [the] days of Noe while [the] ark was preparing,

into which few, that is, eight souls, ²¹were saved^a through water: which figure^b also now saves you,^c [even] baptism, not a putting away of [the] filth of flesh, but [the] demand^d as before^e God of a good conscience, by ²²[the] resurrection of Jesus Christ, who is at [the] right hand of God, gone into heaven, angels and authorities and powers being subjected to him.
IV. Christ, then, having suffered for us^f in [the] flesh, do ye also arm yourselves with the same mind; for^g he that has suffered in^h [the] flesh has ideas. In Matt. xii. 36; Acts xix. 40 it is 'account,' but in the latter 'a reason for,' so also elsewhere. So chap. iv. 5.

^r T. R. omits 'but,' with K L P 31 and others;
^s A B C 13 Am Memph insert.

^t εν ω. See note to chap. ii. 12.

^u T. R., with L 31, 'may speak;' B 'ye are spoken against.' Text, with ^v A C K P 13. B Am omit 'as evildoers.'

^w T. R. reads 'wills it,' with a few cursives, θέλει for θέλοι.

^x 'The just for the unjust' is more the abstract idea than 'a just [one] for the unjust.' The reader must only remember the first is singular, the second plural. It is not 'the just' par excellence, ὁ δίκαιος, but simply δίκαιος without the article: not as in Acts iii. 14 τὸν ἅγιον καὶ δίκαιον.

^y T. R. has τῷ πνεύματι, 'by the Spirit,' with 13 and other cursives. Others omit τῷ. The article being left out, it is characteristic, in contrast with σαρκί, 'in flesh.' Both flesh and spirit are the manner and character of what is predicated of Christ. But we can hardly in English say 'in spirit.' We could say 'present in spirit,' 'fervent in spirit,' because it is characteristic: but 'made alive' cannot, to the English mind, fail of a reality—cannot be simply characteristic.
In Greek the word retains its own reality, and,
as such, characterises. Hence εν ω can follow.
English is more logical: a character or manner is truly a character or manner, but not always so convenient. The sense as I have given it is right: 'in spirit, in which' is clearly not English.

^z Or 'dishelieving.'

^a T. R. adds 'once,' a confusion of ἀπαξ ἐξεδέχετο with ἀπεξεδέχετο; text ^b A B C (K) L P and many others Am Memph.

^b μακροθυμία. See Heb. vi. 12; Jas. v. 10.

^c εἰς ἣν διασώζομαι means in Greek 'arrive safe into a place of security through difficulty or danger.' Thus Thuc. καὶ ὀλίγοι πορευόμενοι διὰ τῆς Διβύης εἰς Κυρήνην διεσώθησαν. Again, χαλεπῶς, διε-σώζοντο εἰς τὰς ὀλπας. And again, διεσώζοντο εἰς τὴν πόλιν. I do not say that 'they went through the water to get in,' is meant by δι' ὕδατος; I do not think so. If any one likes to say 'into which [entering], few, &c., were saved through water,'
I have no objection. Had it been through the course of the flood, it would have been, I think, τοῦ ὕδατος. But the apostle's mind does not turn to the flood, but to the water as an instrument.

Water was ruin and death, and they were saved through it.

^d T. R. has 'the figure of which,' reading φ not ὁ. Steph. 1550 has ὁ, Beza φ. ^e has neither.
^f A B C K L P 13 31 Am.

^g T. R. reads 'us,' with C K L 13 Memph; text
^h A B P 31 Am Syrr.

ⁱ Or 'engagement,' or 'testimony.' The word ἐπερώτημα is a very difficult one, and has puzzled all critics and commentators. It means 'a question.' All the commentators speak of its use as a legal term with the sense of contract, or rather stipulations or obligations of a contract. Schleus-ner says, citing another, it is never so used, but ἐπερώτησις: (Bloomfield after Dindorf denies this:) and in Latin it is interrogatio. Tertullian, describing the sponsio of a catechumen at baptism, refers evidently to this passage of Peter.
But this was a much later form. Both Herodotus and Thucydides use the word, and Herodotus (Erato, 67) both ἐπειρώτημα and ἐπειρώτησις in the same place. I judge (as usual in these forms) ἐπειρώτησις is 'the asking the question,' and ἐπερώτημα, 'the question asked.' The legal use arises from a questioning which settled the terms of the contract, hence called the questioning. ἐπ-ερωτάω is 'to ask' and 'to ask for.' I am disposed to think it is the thing demanded. It requires as before God, and has it in baptism as a figure by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. εἰς would thus be 'as before, in view of.' If not, it would represent the Heb. שָׁחַלְלֵה, shahal le. In 2 Ki. viii.
Job viii. 8, &c., we find le of the person; otherwise le is 'about,' as 2 Sam. xi. 7, and Gen. xxvi. 7.

^j 'As before,' or 'to,' εἰς, 'towards,' 'going to.' It must be remembered that the genitive, as in English, may be the thing requested, or
'he who requests:' the demand of a good conscience. ἐπερώτημα would rather make it the thing demanded.

^k Some, with B C Am, omit 'for us;' A K L P ample of this dative.

² done with ⁱ sin, no longer to live the rest of [his] time in [the] flesh to men's lusts, but to God's will. For the time past ^k [is] sufficient [for us] ^l to have wrought the will ^m of the Gentiles, walking in lasciviousness, lusts, wine-drinking, revels, drinkings, and unhallowed idolatries. ⁴ Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with [them] to the same sink of corruption, ⁿ speaking injuriously [of you]; who shall render account to him who is ready to judge [the] living and [the] dead. ⁶ For to this [end] were the glad tidings preached to [the] dead also, that they might be judged, as regards men, after [the] flesh, but live, as regards ⁷ God, after [the] Spirit. But the end of all things is drawn nigh: be sober therefore, and be watchful unto ⁸ prayers; but before all things having fervent love among yourselves, because love covers ^o a multitude of ⁹ sins; hospitable one to another, without murmuring; ^p each according as he has received a gift, ministering it to one another, as good stewards ¹¹ of [the] various grace of God. ^y 'Shepherd' is here the aorist, in the sense, I think, common in a certain class of words, that is, characteristic: the whole conduct in this character being looked at together as constituting it. They are to act in this character, or have it by their acting. It is not simply an exhortation to go on doing it, but to acquire or have that character by doing it; to be so characterised; as the wives were to be subject: see the flock of God which [is] among you, exercising oversight, not by necessity, but willingly; not for base gain, but readily; not as lording it over your² possessions, but being⁴ models for the flock. And when the chief shepherd is manifested ye shall receive the unfading^a crown of glory.

⁵ Likewise [ye] younger, be subject to [the] elder, and all of you bind on humility towards one another;^b for God sets himself against [the] proud, but to [the] humble gives grace. ⁶ Humble yourselves^c therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may ⁷ exalt you in [the due] time; having cast all your care upon him, for he cares about you.

chap. iii. 1. 'Be shepherders,' if that were possible in English. \aleph B omit 'exercising oversight.'

² The $\tau\acute{o}\nu$ seems to me to have the force, which it often has, of appropriation to the subject spoken of, when the word gives the idea of a possession—'the possessions,' or possessions which belong to you. What they are is wholly beside the mark. No doubt the saints, in fact, were in his thoughts; but the character of their conduct is what is in question. If there were no article, it would mean 'not like persons who lord it over possessions:' here it is more applied. Do not be as persons lording it over your possessions, viewing the saints as something belonging to you. $\text{o}\acute{\iota}$ $\kappa\lambda\eta\rho\iota$, 'possessions,' is not the name of the flock, but the flock was not to be treated as the $\text{o}\acute{\iota}$ $\kappa\lambda\eta\rho\iota$ of the elders.

^a Or 'amaranthine.' The plant is an image of what does not fade (immortelles), amaranths. The sense is the same.

SECOND EPISTLE OF

PETER.

I. Simon Peter, bondman and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have received like precious faith with us through [the] righteousness of our ² God and Saviour Jesus Christ: Grace and peace be multiplied to you in [the] knowledge^a of God and of Jesus
³ our Lord. As his divine power has given to us all things which relate to life and godliness, through the knowledge^a of him that has called us by^b
⁴ glory and virtue, through which he has given^c to us the greatest and precious promises, that through these ye may become partakers of [the] divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the^d world through lust.
⁵ But for this very reason also, using therewith^e all diligence, in your faith have also^f virtue, in virtue^g know-
⁶ ledge, in knowledge temperance, in temperance endurance, in endurance
⁷ godliness, in godliness brotherly love,
⁸ in brotherly love^g love: for these things existing and abounding in you make [you] to be neither idle nor unfruitful as regards the knowledge^h of ⁹ our Lord Jesus Christ; for he with whom these things are not present is blind, shortsighted, and has forgotten the purging of his former sins.

¹⁰ Wherefore the rather, brethren, use diligence to make your calling and election sure, for doing these things
¹¹ ye will never fall; for thus shall the entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ be richly furnished unto you.
¹² Wherefore I will be carefulⁱ to put you always in mind of these things, although knowing [them] and established in the present truth. But ¹³ I account it right, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by ¹⁴ putting [you] in remembrance, knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle is speedily [to take place], as also our Lord Jesus Christ has manifested to me; but I will use diligence, that after my departure ye should have also, at any time,^k [in your power] to call to mind these things.
¹⁵ For we have not made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, following cleverly imagined fables, but having been eye-¹⁷ witnesses^l of his majesty. For he received^m from God [the] Father honour and glory, such a voice being utteredⁿ to him by the excellent glory: This is my beloved Son, in whom I ¹⁸ have found my delight; and this voice we heard utteredⁿ from heaven,

^a ἐπίγνωσις, 'full knowledge.'

^b Many read 'by [his] own glory,' &c., with \aleph A C P 13 Am Memph; text B K L 31 and others (Syr ?).

^c Or 'have been given.'

^d \aleph A B have the article. T. R. omits it, with C K (L) P 13 31.

^e παρεπενέγκαντες, 'bringing in besides,' or 'along with,' 'by the side of the other.'

^f ἐπιχορηγήσατε. Literally 'supply,' 'furnish besides.' It is the aorist.

^g There is a δέ between these words, repeated consequently six times, but it answers more to the sense in English to leave it out altogether than say 'and.' 'But' does not do. It is 'not only that but.'

^h ἐπίγνωσις, 'full knowledge,' or 'personal recognition of.'

ⁱ Or 'use diligence,' 'take care it shall be so,'

with \aleph A B C P Am Memph. T. R. reads 'I will not neglect,' with K L 31 Syrr.

^k Or, perhaps, 'I will endeavour that after my decease ye should also at every time have.'

^l ἐπόπτης, not αὐτόπτης, 'admitted into immediate vision of the glory,' a word used for full initiation into the mysteries.

^m Literally 'for having received.' This may in sense be connected with verse 19, but hardly grammatically; or taken abstractedly with verse 16, as I suppose the English did, 'eye-witnesses of his majesty, for he is one who has received.' On the whole, I have given it the latter sense, putting the literal translation here in the note. Compare chap. ii. 1, where with καί we have a participle similarly used.

ⁿ Or 'brought,' or 'borne to him,' ἐνεχθείσα, passive aorist participle of φέρω. Compare φερόμενης Acts ii. 2.

being with him on the holy mountain.

- ¹⁹ And we have the prophetic word [made] surer, to which ye do well taking heed (as to a lamp shining in an obscure place) until [the] day dawn and [the] morning star arise
²⁰ in your hearts; knowing this first, that [the scope of] no prophecy of scripture is had from its own particular interpretation,^o for prophecy was not ever^p uttered by [the] will of man, but^a holy men of God spake under the power of^r [the] Holy Ghost.

II. But there were false prophets also among the people, as there shall be also among you false teachers, who^s shall bring in by the bye destructive heresies, and deny^t the master that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction; and many shall follow their dissolute^v ways, through whom the way of the truth shall be blasphemed. And through covetousness, with well-turned^w words, will they make merchandise of you: for whom judgment of old is not idle, and their destruction slumbers not.
⁴ For if God spared not [the] angels who had sinned, but having cast them down to the deepest pit of gloom has delivered them to chains^x of darkness [to be] kept for judgment;
⁵ and spared not [the] old world, but preserved Noe, [the] eighth,^y a preacher of righteousness, having brought in [the] flood upon [the] world of [the] ungodly; and having reduced [the] cities of Sodom and Gomorrah to ashes, condemned [them] with an overthrow, setting [them as] an example to those that should ⁷ [afterwards] live an ungodly life; and saved righteous Lot, distressed with the abandoned conversation of the ⁸ godless, (for the righteous man through seeing and hearing, dwelling among them, tormented [his] righteous soul day after day with ⁹ [their] lawless works,) [the] Lord knows [how] to deliver the godly out of trial, and to keep [the] unjust to [the] day of judgment [to be] punished; and specially those who walk after the flesh in [the] lust of uncleanness, and despise lordship. Bold [are they], self-willed; they do not fear speaking injuriously of dignities:^z

¹¹ when^a angels, who are greater in might and power, do not bring against them, before the Lord, an injurious charge. But these, as natural animals without reason, made to be caught and destroyed,^b speaking injuriously in things they are ignorant of, shall also^c perish in their own
¹³ corruption, receiving [the] reward of unrighteousness; accounting ephemeral^d indulgence pleasure; spots and blemishes, rioting in their own

^o ἰδίᾳ ἐπιλύσεως οὐ γίνεται, 'is not explained by its own meaning' as a human sentence. It must be understood by and according to the Spirit that uttered it. The 'prophecy' is, I take it, the sense of the prophecy, the thing meant by it. Now this is not gathered by a human interpretation of an isolated passage which has its own meaning and its own solution, as if a man uttered it; for it is a part of God's mind, uttered as holy men were moved by the Holy Ghost to utter it. In the 'prophecy of scripture' the apostle has in mind the thing prophesied, without losing the idea of the passage. Hence I have ventured to say '[the scope of] no prophecy.' One might almost say 'no prophecy explains itself.'

^p Or 'heretofore,' ποτέ.

^a T. R. reads 'the holy men,' with many cursives; \aleph A B C K L P 13 31 omit. C adds ἀπὸ before Θεοῦ, reading 'spoke from God' or 'holy men from God.' B P have ἀπὸ, 'from,' instead of ἁγιοί, 'holy.'

^r φερόμενοι, 'borne by,' see Acts ii. 2, and note ^a above, ver. 18.

^s οὕτως, 'being such as.'

^t Literally 'and denying;' see note ^m above. It refers to the false teachers, not the heresies.

^v T. R. reads 'destructive,' with a few cursives and Memph.

^w Or 'false,' πλαστός.

^x Some read 'caves' or 'dens of darkness,' σειροῖς for σειραῖς. K L (P?) 13 31 Syrr Memph have σειραῖς; \aleph A B C have σειροῖς.

^y That is, 'one of eight.'

^z Literally 'glories.'

^a Though ὅπου signifies 'where' it is represented by 'when' in English. 'Whereas' is more ground of inference or expression of contrast inferentially used. 'When' gives the sense more nearly than 'where' or 'whereas.' 'When' means 'in the case in which.'

^b Or 'to be captured and perish.'

^c T. R., with K L 31 Memph, reads 'shall utterly,' καταφθαρῶσονται for καὶ φθαρῶσονται which is in text, with \aleph A B C P Am.

^d Or 'by day,' in contrast with 'they that be

¹⁴ deceits,^c feasting with you; having eyes full of adultery, and that cease not from sin, alluring unestablished souls; having a heart practised in covetousness,^f children of curse; ¹⁵ having left [the^g] straight way they have gone astray, having followed^h in the path of Balaam [the son] of Bosor, who loved [the] reward of unrighteousness; but had reproof of his own wickedness—[the] dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the ¹⁷ folly of the prophet. These are springs without water, and mistsⁱ driven by storm, to whom the gloom of darkness is reserved [for ever^k]. For [while] speaking great highflown words of vanity, they allure with [the] lusts of [the] flesh, by dissoluteness, those who have just^l fled those who ¹⁹ walk in error, promising them liberty, while they themselves are slaves of corruption; for by whom a man is subdued, by^m him is he also brought ²⁰ into slavery. For if after having escaped the pollutions of the world through [the] knowledgeⁿ of the^o Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, again entangled, they are subdued by these, their last state is worse than the first. ²¹ For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than having known [it] to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to ²² them. But^p that [word] of the true proverb has happened to them: [The] dog [has] turned back to his own vomit; and, [The] washed sow to [her] rolling in mud.

III. This, a second letter, beloved, I already write to you, in [both] which I stir up, in the way of putting you ² in remembrance, your pure mind, to be mindful of the words spoken before by^q the holy prophets, and of the commandment of the Lord and ³ Saviour by your^r apostles; knowing this first, that there shall come at [the] close^s of the days mockers with ⁴ mocking,^t walking according to their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for from the time the fathers fell asleep all things remain thus^v from [the] beginning ⁵ of [the] creation. For this is hidden from them through their own wilfulness, that heavens were of old, and an earth, having its subsistence out of water and in water, by the word ⁶ of God, through which [waters] the then world, deluged with water, ⁷ perished. But the present^w heavens and the earth by his^x word are laid up in store, kept for fire unto a day of judgment and destruction of un- ⁸ godly men. But let not this one drunk are drunk in the night,' 1 Thess. v. 7-8. But see Wetstein in loco, where it is not ἐν ἡμέρᾳ: it is here. But the use of τροπήν makes the sense of this pretty clear.

^e ἀπάταις, with \aleph A C K L P 13 31 Memph; ἀγάπαις, 'love-feasts,' B Am Syrr. (So Jude 12.)

^f Or 'carnal desire and seeking to seduce,' 'practised in seduction.' And this I really believe to be the sense. T. R., with some cursives, has the word in the plural.

^g T. R., with many cursives, has the article.

^h ἐξακολουθήσαντες seems to have the simple force of ἀκολουθήσαντες. (See chap. i. 16, ii. 2.)

ⁱ T. R. reads 'clouds,' with L; K omits: text \aleph A B C (P 31) 13 Am.

^k Some omit 'for ever,' with \aleph B Am Syrr Memph; text A C L P 13 31.

^m Or 'to him.'

ⁿ ἐπίγνωσις, as always in this epistle; so ἐπεγνωκέαι, ἐπιγνωούσι in verse 21. In chap. iii. 3 it is γινώσκοντες.

^o \aleph A C L P 13 Am Syrr Memph reads 'our.'

^q Here ὑπό. 'Of' would be ambiguous.

^r T. R., with a few cursives, reads 'of us the apostles,' τῆς τῶν ἀποστόλων ἡμῶν. The construction is difficult with a double genitive. The simplest way seems to consider the ὑπό before ἀγίων προφητῶν as understood before ἀποστόλων: if not, ἡμῶν must be read with τοῦ κυρίου καὶ σωτῆρος, and these words must be joined with ἀποστόλων. But with ὑμῶν that is impossible. \aleph A B C K L P (13) 31 Am have ὑμῶν.

^v Or 'as they were,' οὕτως. For this rendering as the practical sense, see John iv. 6. The force of οὕτω is the present state: as that they have continued, but with 'continue' in English we must say 'as they were.' See Acts xx. 11, xxvii. 17. See Winer [Moulton, 8th ed.], p. 772. Compare κεῖσ' οὕτως, Iliad 21. 184, 'the state in which you already are,' quoted by Liddell and Scott. The sense is perfectly plain.

^w Literally 'the now heavens.'

thing be hidden from you, beloved, that one day with [the] Lord [is] as a thousand years, and a thousand⁹ years as one day. [The^y] Lord does not delay his promise, as some account of delay, but is longsuffering towards you,^z not willing^a that any should perish, but that all should¹⁰ come^b to repentance. But the day of [the] Lord will come as a thief,^c in which the heavens will pass away with a rushing noise, and [the] elements, burning with heat, shall be dissolved, and [the] earth and the works in it shall be burnt up.

¹¹ All these things then^d being to be dissolved, what ought ye to be in holy¹² conversation and godliness, waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, by reason of which [the] heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and [the^e] elements, burning with heat, shall melt? But, according to his promise, we wait for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwells¹⁴ righteousness. Wherefore, beloved, as ye wait for these things, be diligent to be found of him in peace, without¹⁵ spot and blameless; and account the longsuffering of our Lord [to be] salvation; according as our beloved brother Paul also has written to you according to the wisdom given to him, as also in all [his^f] epistles, speaking in them of these things; among which some things are hard to be understood, which the untaught and ill-established wrest, as also the other scriptures, to their own destruction.

¹⁷ Ye therefore, beloved, knowing [these] things before, take care lest, being led away along with the error of the wicked, ye should fall from¹⁸ your own stedfastness: but grow in grace, and in [the] knowledge^g of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him [be] glory both now and to [the] day of eternity. Amen.^h

^z T. R. reads 'us,' with K L; $\acute{\upsilon}\mu\acute{\alpha}\varsigma$ \aleph A B C P 13 31; \aleph A 13 have $\delta\iota'$ $\acute{\upsilon}\mu\acute{\alpha}\varsigma$, 'on your account.'

^a $\beta\omicron\upsilon\lambda\omicron\mu\epsilon\nu\omicron\varsigma$.

^b Some would translate $\chi\omega\rho\acute{\epsilon}\omega$ by 'go on to.' But I doubt this. $\chi\omega\rho\acute{\epsilon}\omega$ has also the sense of the issue of a thing, 'turning out,' as we say. Nor do I think that $\epsilon\iota\varsigma$, which follows, is a difficulty. It is commonly used with an adverb, but absolutely also. Hence 'come' is the word. It means 'to turn out so.' Some would say 'receive.' See Kypke in loco. Josephus (in De Wette) has also $\pi\rho\omicron\varsigma$ $\pi\acute{o}\lambda\epsilon\mu\omicron\nu$ $\acute{\epsilon}\chi\omega\rho\epsilon\iota$.

^c T. R. adds $\epsilon\nu$ $\nu\kappa\tau\acute{\iota}$, 'in [the] night,' with C K L 31; \aleph A B P 13 Am Memph omit.

^d \aleph A K L 13 31 Am Syrr Memph have 'then;'
B C P have $\omicron\upsilon\tau\omega\varsigma$, 'thus.'

^e The absence of the article is poetic here, 'because of which inflamed heavens shall be dissolved, and burning elements shall melt.' The participle takes the place of the article, so to speak.

^f $\tau\alpha\iota\varsigma$ as \aleph K L 31; A B C 13 omit $\tau\alpha\iota\varsigma$.

^h $\Delta\mu\acute{\eta}\nu$, with \aleph A C K L 13 31 Am Syrr Memph.

FIRST EPISTLE OF JOHN.

I. That which was from [the] beginning, that which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes; that which we contemplated, and our hands handled, concerning the word² of life; (and the life has been manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and report to you the eternal life, which^a was with the Father, and³ has been manifested to us:) that which we have seen and heard we report^b to you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and our fellowship [is] indeed with the Father,

^a $\eta\tau\iota\varsigma$, the character, not merely the statement of the fact, 'which was such a one as that.'

^b $\acute{\alpha}\pi\alpha\gamma\gamma\acute{\epsilon}\lambda\lambda\omega$, 'bring back the report of,' from something we have learnt. \aleph A B C P 13 add $\kappa\alpha\iota$, 'also.'

⁴ and with his Son Jesus Christ. And these things write we to you that your^c joy may be full.

⁵ And this is the message^d which we have heard from him, and declare to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

⁶ If we say^e that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not practise the truth.

⁷ But if we walk^e in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus Christ^f his Son cleanses us from all^g sin.

⁸ If we say^e that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

⁹ If we confess^e our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us [our] sins, and cleanse us from all^g unrighteousness.

¹⁰ If we say^e that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

II. My children, these things I write to you in order that ye may not sin; and if any one sin, we have a patron^h with the Father, Jesus Christ [the]

² righteous; and he is the propitiation for our sins; but not for ours alone, but also for the whole world.

³ And hereby we know that we knowⁱ him, if we keep his commandments. He that says, I know him, and does not keep his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not

⁵ in him; but whoever keeps^k his word, in him verily the love of God is perfected. Hereby we know that

⁶ we are in him. He that says he abides in him ought, even as he walked, himself also [so^l] to walk.

⁷ Beloved,^m I write no new commandment to you, but an old commandment, which ye have hadⁿ from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye heard.^o

⁸ Again, I write a new commandment to you, which thing is true in him and in you, because the darkness is passing and the true light already

⁹ shines. He who says he is in the light, and hates his brother, is in the^p

¹⁰ darkness until now. He that loves his brother abides in light, and there is no occasion of stumbling in him.

¹¹ But he that hates his brother is in the darkness, and walks in the darkness, and knows not where he goes, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

¹² I write to you, children, because [your] sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

¹³ I write to you, fathers, because ye

^c \aleph B L 31 Am read 'our.'

^d T. R. has ἐπαγγελία, lit. 'promise,' with C P 13 31 Memph.

^e In all these cases the verb is in the subjunctive, and puts the case of so doing. I should have translated them 'if we should say,' &c., but that it is the case in verse 9 also, where it cannot be done.

^f Some omit 'Christ' here, with \aleph B C P Syrr; text A K L 13 31 Am Memph.

^g Or 'every.'

^h παράκλητος, the same word translated 'comforter' John xiv. &c. Christ manages all our affairs for us above; the Holy Spirit below. There is no word satisfactory to embrace both passages in English. I use 'patron' in the sense rather of the Roman patron, who maintained the interests of his clients in every way. So Christ on high; the Spirit here for saints.

ⁱ ἐγνώκαμεν, perfect: 'have come to know him, and continue so to do;' and so in verse 4.

^k Again a subjunctive; see chap. i. 6. In English we might say 'shall keep' here.

^l A B Am omit 'so;' \aleph C K P 13 31 Memph have it.

^m T. R. reads 'brethren,' instead of 'beloved,' with K L 31 and cursives; text \aleph A B C P 13 Am Syrr Memph.

ⁿ Or 'ye had.'

^p 'The darkness.' Though a little harsh in these cases in English, 'the' ought to be retained, because it is not simply a state—a man being in darkness; but a specific darkness, the ignorance and non-revelation of God is spoken of: only it is abstract, and so, absolute; though it is true that darkness is more negative than light. The darkness is the natural condition of sinful man without God, who is light; the creature without God. Hence in the gospel 'the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not.' παράγεται, 'is passing' (ver. 8), is abstract. 'The true light shines': that is absolute; it shines, whether seen or not. But though some had received the light, he could not say the darkness was all gone, for it was not, but only with some who 'were some time darkness, but now light in the Lord.' Thus it was not as in the gospel, when Christ was upon earth; for then the darkness comprehended not the light shining in darkness. It was putting the light out.

have known^a him [that is] from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because ye have overcome^a the wicked [one]. I write^x to you, little children, because ye have known^a the Father.

¹⁴ I have written to you, fathers, because ye have known^a him [that is] from the beginning.

I have written to you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and ye have ¹⁵ overcome^a the wicked [one]. Love not the world, nor the things in the world. If any one love the world, the love of the Father is not in him;
¹⁶ because all that [is] in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And ¹⁷ the world is passing, and its lust, but he that does the will of God abides for eternity.

¹⁸ Little children, it is [the] last hour,^s and, according as ye have heard that^t antichrist comes, even now there have come^v many antichrists, whence

we know that it is [the] last hour.

¹⁹ They went out from among us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have surely remained with us, but that they might be made manifest that none are of us.^w And ye have [the] unction from the holy [one], and ye know all things.

²¹ I have not written to you because ye do not know the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the ²² truth. Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? He is the antichrist who denies the Fa-

²³ ther and the Son. Whoever^x denies the Son has not the Father either; he who confesses the Son has the ²⁴ Father also.^y As for you^z let that which ye have heard from the beginning abide in you: if what ye have heard from the beginning abides in you, ye also shall abide in the Son

²⁵ and in the Father. And this is the promise which he has promised us, ²⁶ life eternal. These things have I written to you concerning those who ²⁷ lead you astray: and yourselves,^a the

As long as He was in the world, He was the light of the world. Now it was not so: there was a passing away of the darkness.

^a ἐγνώκατε, νενικήκατε, &c., perfect: the state produced continues.

^x S A B C L P 13 read 'I have written' here, but I am satisfied it is meddling with the text, through not seeing that 'little children' comes in verse 18. Παιδιά and τέκνια are not the same. My reader is made aware of the fact. But I do not change the received text, supported here by K 31.

^s John uses ὥρα continually in the sense of 'time,' as John v. 35, and elsewhere. But I would not change the word, and thus any peculiarity of style. ὥρα is properly a given point of time. With John it is constantly a period characterised by one thing, and hence looked at as only one time. As we say 'the hour of Napoleon's greatness.'

^v 'There have come,' γεγόνασιν: not the same word as 'comes.' But 'have been' would rather imply that they were passed, which γεγόνασιν does not. 'There are' does not give the idea of their coming on the stage. γίνομαι is what did not exist before, but begins or becomes: werden, not sein. 'There have come' I believe nearest the sense. I add the note on account of 'comes,' before. The sense of γίνομαι hinders the necessity of holding the perfect here to express necessarily continued action; but the perfect excludes the idea that they are supposed to be passed away.

^w I have, with some hesitation, so translated it, though I know of no one who agrees with this but the unpleasant associate Socinus. But I think that, in general, with πᾶς in the singular, the distinguishing form of the sentence, where 'none' is the sense, is, that οὐκ is used with the verb: πᾶσα σὰρξ οὐκ ἐστὶ, 'no flesh is.' οὐ πᾶσα σὰρξ would be 'not all flesh.' But in π. σ. ο. ἐστὶ, πᾶσα σὰρξ has its own force. All flesh is in view, and the fact is denied of all flesh actually and absolutely, of all comprised in the term. Hence no flesh is to be the thing or in the state spoken of. In Matt. xxiv. 22, οὐκ ἂν ἐσώθῃ πᾶσα σὰρξ, it is said of all flesh that 'it would not be saved,' that is, none would. Compare Rom. iii. 20. The negative with the noun contradicts the universality; with the verb, contradicts about the universality the thing stated in the sentence. This last is the case here. The negative is joined to the verb. Further, if we do not so translate it, it should be, not 'they are not all of us,' (that would imply that some of the antichrists were,) but that 'all are not of us,' that is, of those who might be with them. See, too, verse 21, and chapter iii. 6, &c.; Luke i. 37; Gal. ii. 16.

^x πᾶς,—but 'every one' would give a false sense in English, and 'no one' does not do with 'either.'

^y T. R. omits 'he who confesses the Son has the Father also,' with K L 31 and others; S A B C P 13 Am Syrr Memph insert.

^z T. R. adds 'therefore,' with K L 31 and others; S A B C P 13 Am Syrr omit.

^a The use of personal pronouns, which is usu-

unction which ye have received from him abides in you, and ye have not need that any one should teach you; but as the same^b unction teaches you as to all things, and is true and is not a lie, and even as it has taught you, ye shall^c abide in him.

²⁸ And now, children, abide in him, that if^d he be manifested we may have boldness, and not be put to shame from before him at his coming.

²⁹ If ye know^e that he is righteous, know^f that every one^g who practises righteousness is begotten of him.

¹ (III.) See what love the Father has given to us, that we should be called [the] children of God.^h For this reason the world knows us not, because

² it knew him not. Beloved, now are we children of God, and what we shall be has not yet been manifested;ⁱ

^k we know that if it^l is manifested we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. And every one that has this hope in him^m purifies himself, even as he is pure.

⁴ Every one that practises sin practises also lawlessness; and sin is

⁵ lawlessness. And ye know that he has been manifested that he might take away ourⁿ sins; and in him sin is not. Whoever^o abides in him does not sin: whoever^o sins has not seen him or known him.^p

⁷ Children, let no man lead you astray; he that practises righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. He that practises sin is of the devil; for from [the] beginning the devil sins. To this end the Son of God has been manifested, that he might undo the works of the devil.

⁹ Whoever^q has been begotten^r of God does not practise sin, because his seed abides in him, and he cannot sin, because he has been begotten of God.

¹⁰ In this are manifest the children of God and the children of the devil. Whoever^s does not practise righteousness is not of God, and he who

¹¹ does not love his brother. For this is the message which ye have heard from the beginning, that we should ¹² love one another: not as Cain was of the wicked one, and slew his brother; and on account of what slew he him? because his works were wicked, and those of his brother righteous.

¹³ Do not wonder,^s brethren, if the ¹⁴ world hate you. We know that we ally emphatic in Greek, is so universal in John that I have hesitated to say 'yourselves.' However, there is some distinctive emphasis, it seems to me, here, so I put it. The ὑμεῖς however appears also in ver. 24; and I have given it an emphatic place there, because it seems in contrast with 'those that denied the Son.'

^b κ B C P read 'his,' instead of 'the same,' αὐτοῦ for αὐτό.

^c It is somewhat doubtful if the reading be not μένετε, that is, the imperative 'abide.' So A B C P Vulg. and old Latin, but I judge they are not to be trusted here. κ omits 'ye shall abide in him. And now children,' by homocoteleuton. Tisch. 7th ed. De Wette, have 'ye shall abide;' Griesbach makes it equal: Tisch. 8th ed. Alford 'abide;' so Lachmann.

^d 'If' (so 3 John 10) sets out what depends on the fact, not referring to time, but supposes the fact. Here, that any moment it might happen, we should be so and so: if that, this might be too. T. R. reads ὅταν, 'when,' with K L 31 Syrr; text ἐάν, with κ A B C P 13 Memph.

^e Here εἰδότε, conscious knowledge; then γινώσκετε, knowledge of something from without, from witness to us.

^f Or 'ye know,' γινώσκετε. Vulg. 'know ye.'

^g Many add 'also' here, with κ A C P 13; text B K L 31 Am Memph.

^h Many add 'and we are;' but it seems a gloss. κ A B C P 13 Am Syrr Memph have the words; K L 31 omit; Vulg. et simus.

ⁱ It is actual manifestation which is here meant; which I note, because in English 'it has not yet been manifested' might lead to think of a revelation for faith.

^k T. R. adds 'but,' with K L 31 Memph; κ A B C P 13 Am omit.

^m Him who is to be manifested.

ⁿ A B P 13 Am Memph omit 'our;' κ C K L 31 insert.

^o Literally 'every one that,' πᾶς ὁ, but with 'does not' this is more than ambiguous. It may be translated 'no one who . . . sins,' πᾶς . . . οὐκ. See chap. ii. 19, and note.

^p Perfect; but 'has not seen or known him' implies the continuously present state of not seeing or knowing; so that with these words the English gives the sense of the Greek perfect.

^q Or 'no one that has been begotten of God practises,' πᾶς ὁ . . . οὐκ. See verse 6 and ii. 19. We lose a little in English by not having the positive affirmative πᾶς 'every one.' But in English 'every one does not' means rather 'some do.'

^r Or 'is born.'

^s T. R. adds 'my,' with K L Syrr Memph; κ A B C P 13 31 Am omit.

have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. He who does not love [his]^t brother abides ¹⁵ in death. Every one that hates his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

¹⁶ Hereby we have known^v love, because he has laid down his life for us; and we ought for the brethren to lay ¹⁷ down [our] lives. But whoso may have the world's substance,^w and see his brother having need, and shut up his bowels from him, how abides the love of God in him?

¹⁸ *Children, let us not love with word, nor with^y tongue, but in deed
¹⁹ and in truth. And^z hereby we shall know^a that we are of the truth, and shall persuade our hearts before him
²⁰ —that if our heart condemn us,^b God is greater than our heart and knows ²¹ all things. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not,^c we have boldness ²² towards God, and whatsoever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments, and practise the things which are pleasing in ²³ his sight. And this is his commandment, that we believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and that we love one another, even as he has ²⁴ given us^d commandment. And he that keeps his commandments abides in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abides in us, by the Spirit which he has given to us.

^t Lit. 'the.' Many, with \aleph A B 13 Am, omit 'the brother.' In that case we should read '[him]'; or '[his brother]'. C K L P 31 and others Syrr Memph have 'the brother.'

^v It is the perfect tense; that is, an abiding effect.

^w $\beta\acute{\iota}\omicron\varsigma$, 'what is necessary to life,' 'subsistence.'

^z A B C K L 31 add 'the.'

^b T. R. reads 'we know,' with K L 31 Am Syrr; text \aleph A B C Memph.

^c This text has perplexed commentators enormously; it seems to me without reason. $\delta\tau\iota$ refers to $\epsilon\nu$ $\tau\acute{o}\upsilon\tau\omega$, 'hereby' (ver. 19). It is shewing what tests 'in truth.' The repetition of $\delta\tau\iota$ is nothing uncommon. It is found in Eph. ii. 11, 12. What $\tau\acute{o}\upsilon\tau\omega$ refers to very commonly

IV. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits, if they are of God; because many false prophets ² are gone out into the world. Hereby ye know the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesses Jesus Christ
³ come in flesh is of God; and every spirit which does not confess Jesus Christ^e come in flesh is not of God: and this is that [power] of the anti-christ, [of] which ye have heard that it comes, and now it is already in the ⁴ world. Ye are of God, children, and have overcome them, because greater is he that [is] in you than he that ⁵ [is] in the world. They are of the world; for this reason they speak [as] of the world, and the world hears
⁶ them. We are of God; he that knows God hears us; he who is not of God does not hear us. From this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

⁷ Beloved, let us love one another; because love is of God, and every one that loves has been begotten^f of God,
⁸ and knows God. He that loves not has not known God; for God is love.
⁹ Herein as to us^g has been manifested the love of God, that God has sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.
¹⁰ Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son a propitiation for our sins.

¹¹ Beloved, if God has so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

follows in John, as in vers. 16, 24, and iv. 17, and elsewhere, frequently with $\delta\tau\iota$ indeed. 'God being greater' is evidently a testing, searching thing.

^e It is again the subjunctive, as ver. 20, and i. 6, 7.

^f K L and others omit $\eta\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$; \aleph A B C 13 31 and others Am Syrr Memph insert.

^g Some omit 'Christ,' and 'come in the flesh;' and put an article before 'Jesus,' that is, speak of Jesus as one known and owned by the writer, and so presented. \aleph has 'Jesus Lord' Ἰησοῦν κύριον , omitting $\tau\acute{o}\nu$ and $\chi\rho\iota\sigma\tau\acute{o}\nu$; A B 13 read $\tau\acute{o}\nu \text{Ἰησοῦν}$; (K) L 31 Am and others $\tau\acute{o}\nu \text{Ἰησοῦν} \chi\rho\iota\sigma\tau\acute{o}\nu$ (K omits $\tau\acute{o}\nu$); $\epsilon\nu$ $\sigma\alpha\rho\kappa\acute{\iota}$ $\epsilon\lambda\eta\lambda\upsilon\theta\acute{o}\tau\alpha$ \aleph K L (13) 31 and others Syrr; A B Am Memph omit.

^f Or 'is born,' as iii. 9.

^g $\epsilon\nu$ $\eta\mu\acute{\iota}\nu$, 'in our case,' in respect of us. The idea of the love of God remains absolute: only it has been shewn 'as respects us in this,' &c.

¹² No one has seen God at any time : if we love one another, God abides in us, ¹³ and his love is perfected in us.^h Hereby we know that we abide in him and he in us, that he has given to us of ¹⁴ his Spirit. And we have seen, and testify, that the Father has sent the Son [as] Saviour of the world.

¹⁵ Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, ¹⁶ and he in God. And we have known and have believed the love which God has to us.^h God is love, and he that abides in love abides in God, and God ¹⁷ in him. Herein has love been perfected with us that we may have boldness in the day of judgment, that even as he is, we also are in this ¹⁸ world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear; for fear has torment, and he that fears has ¹⁹ not been made perfect in love. We loveⁱ because he has first loved us.

²⁰ If any one say, I love God, and hate his brother, he is a liar: for he that loves not his brother whom he has seen, how can he love God ²¹ whom he has not seen? And this commandment have we from him, That he that loves God love also his ¹ brother. (V.) Every one that believes that Jesus is the Christ is begotten^k of God; and every one that loves him that has begotten loves also ² him that is begotten^k of him. Hereby know we that we love the children of God, when we love God and ³ keep his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep^l his commandments; and his command-

⁴ ments are not grievous. For all that has been begotten^k of God gets the victory over the world; and this is the victory which has gotten the victory over the world, our faith. Who ⁵ is he that gets the victory over the world, but he that believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

⁶ This is he that came by water and blood, Jesus [the^m] Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that bears witness, ⁷ for the Spirit is theⁿ truth. For they ⁸ that bear witness are three:^o the Spirit, and the water, and the blood; ⁹ and the three agree^p in one. If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater. For this is the witness of God [which^q] he has ¹⁰ witnessed concerning his Son. He that believes on the Son of God has the witness in himself; he that does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the witness which God has witnessed concerning his Son. And this is the ¹¹ witness, that God has given to us eternal life; and this life is in his Son. ¹² He that has the Son has life: he that has not the Son of God has not life.

¹³ These things have I written to you^r that ye may know^s that ye have eternal life who believe^t on the name of the Son of God.

¹⁴ And this is the boldness which we have towards him, that if we ask him anything according to his will he ¹⁵ hears us. And if we know that he hears us, whatsoever we ask, we

^h ἐν ἡμῖν, 'of which we are the objects;' but it is more than 'towards.'

ⁱ T. R., with K L 31 and most others Syrr Memph, adds 'him;' Am diligamus invicem; A B omit; 8 13 have τὸν Θεόν.

^k Or 'is born,' as iii. 9; and so ver. 18.

^l τηρώμεν, 'keep,' with 8 K L and others. ποιῶμεν, 'do,' with B and others Syrr versions &c.

^m Most omit the article before 'Christ.'

ⁿ Or 'truth:' but the proposition is reciprocal. And 'truth' amounts only to true; whereas 'the truth' is the whole thing itself.

^o To avoid any mistake, I add, in a note, what I have omitted in the text as having, as is well known, no real manuscript authority, [in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one. And there are three that bear witness in earth,] and inserted by some here without adequate warrant.

^p εἰς τὸ ἐν εἶσι, 'are to one point or purpose'—to one thing in their testimony. It is more than 'agree.'

^q K L 31 read 'which,' ἣν; 8 A B 13 Am Memph ὅτι, 'for.'

^r T. R. adds after 'you,' 'who believe on the name of the Son of God,' with K L P 31; 8 A B 13 Am Syrr Memph omit.

^s εἰδῶτε, 'have the consciousness.'

^t T. R., with K L P 31, reads 'and that ye may believe.' The reading is somewhat in confusion. 8 B Syrr connect 'who believe' with the first 'you,' in the dative. So that 'that ye may know know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him.

- ¹⁶ If any one see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life, for those that do not sin unto death. There is a sin to death: I do not say of that that he should make a request.
¹⁷ Every unrighteousness is sin; and ¹⁸ there is a sin not to death. We know that every one^v begotten of God does not sin, but he that has been be-

^x Or 'in wickedness.' But elsewhere in this epistle the word, which may mean both, is used

- gotten of God keeps himself, and the ¹⁹ wicked one does not touch him. We know that we are of God, and the whole^w world lies in the wicked^x ²⁰ [one]. And we know that the Son of God has come, and has given us an understanding that we should know him that [is] true; and we are in him that [is] true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and^y eternal life.
²¹ Children, keep yourselves from idols.^z

for 'the wicked one.'

^y T. R., with a few cursives, adds the article before ζωή αἰώνιος; \aleph A B 13 omit it; K puts it after ζωή; L P 31 before and after.

SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN.

- ¹ The elder to [the] elect lady and her children, whom I love in^a truth, and not I only but also all who ² have known the truth, for the truth's sake which abides in us and shall be ³ with us to eternity. Grace shall be with you,^b mercy, peace from God [the] Father, and from [the] Lord^c Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.
⁴ I rejoiced greatly that I have found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received commandment from ⁵ the Father. And now I beseech thee, lady, not as writing to thee a new commandment, but that which we

^a I have not added 'the,' as in the Authorised Version, because it is not in the Greek, and I do not think the force of it was meant to be there. It is not 'truly love,' though, as the apostle teaches us here, there can be no truly loving but in the truth. It is the character of the love; it was love in truth. (See ver. 4.)

^b Many read 'us' for 'you,' with \aleph B L P 13 Am; text K 31 Memph.

^c Many omit 'the Lord;' but \aleph and P have it, with K L 13 31 Memph; A B Am omit.

⁸ deceiver and the antichrist. See to yourselves, that we^f may not lose what we^f have wrought, but may receive full wages.^g Whosoever^h goes forwardⁱ and abides not in the doctrine of the Christ has not God. He

^f Many read 'ye,' in both places, with \aleph A (B) 13 Am Syrr Memph. I believe it changed, and T. R. right, with K L P 31 and others. B has 'we have wrought,' but 'lose' and 'receive' in second person. The text has been tampered with here, from not being understood, and according to false doctrines.

THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

¹ The elder to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in^a truth.

² Beloved, I desire that in^b all things thou shouldest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospers.

³ For I rejoiced exceedingly when [the] brethren came and bore testimony to thy [holding fast the] truth,^c even something^h to the assembly; but Diotrephes, who loves to have the first place among them, receives us

¹⁰ not. For this reason, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he does, babbling against us with wicked words; and not content with these, neither does he himself receive the brethren; and those who

¹¹ would he prevents, and casts [them] out of the assembly. Beloved, do not imitate what is evil, but what is good. He that does good is of God.

¹² He that does evil has not seen God. Demetrius has witness borne to him by all, and by the truth itself;
 and we also bear witness, and thou knowest^k that our witness is true.

¹³ I had many things to write to thee,^l but I will not^m with ink and

EPISTLE OF

JUDE.

¹ Jude, bondman of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to the called ones^a beloved^b in God [the] Father and preserved in^c Jesus Christ: Mercy to you, and peace, and love be multiplied.^d

³ Beloved, using all diligence to write to you of our^e common salvation, I have been obliged to write to you exhorting [you] to contend earnestly for the faith once delivered to the saints. For certain men have got in unnoticed, they who of old were marked out beforehand to this sentence,^f ungodly [persons], turning the grace of our God into dissoluteness, and denying our only Master^g and Lord Jesus Christ.^h

⁵ But I would put you in remembrance, you who once knew all things,ⁱ that the Lord, having saved a people out of [the] land of Egypt, in the second place destroyed those who had not believed. And angels who had not kept their own original state, but had abandoned their own dwelling, he keeps^j in eternal chains under gloomy darkness, to [the] judgment of [the] great day; as Sodom and

Gomorrha, and the cities around them, committing greedily fornication, in like manner with them, and going after other flesh, lie there as an example, undergoing the judgment of eternal fire. Yet in like manner these dreamers also defile [the] flesh, and despise lordship, and speak railingly against dignities.⁹ But Michael the archangel, when disputing with the devil he reasoned about the body of Moses, did not dare to bring a railing judgment against [him], but said, [The] Lord rebuke thee. But these, whatever things they know not, they speak railingly against; but what even, as the irrational animals, they understand by mere nature, in these things they corrupt themselves.^k Woe to them! because they have gone in the way of Cain, and given themselves up to the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.¹² These are spots^l in your love-feasts, feasting together [with you] without fear, pasturing themselves; clouds without water, carried along^m by [the] winds; autumnalⁿ trees, with-

^a The arguments against this construction seem to me purely doctrinal and without any force. It is τοῖς . . . κλητοῖς, the intermediate words being a description of the τοῖς.

^c Or possibly 'by.'

^d 'Be multiplied' is the aorist; that is, not merely a wish for the future, but that such may be their state.

^f Not the act of condemnation, but the subject-matter or charge on and for which they are condemned, κρίμα. See note to 1 Cor. xi. 29. προγεγραμμένοι signifies to appoint by notice beforehand, to fix by proclamation. The article is here: οἱ π. They are the same ones who of old were so noticed and marked out.

^g T. R. reads Θεόν, God, after δεσπότην, with K L P 31 Syrr; & A B C 13 Am Memph omit.

^h Or 'denying the only Master and our Lord Jesus Christ.'

ⁱ T. R. reads 'this,' with K L 31 and others; & A B C 2 13 Am Memph have 'all things.' ὑμᾶς & K L 31; A B C L 13 31 have εἰδότας ἅπαξ. & has ὑμᾶς πάντα, and ἅπαξ before λαόν.

^j τετήρηκεν is the perfect; but 'has kept till' or 'to,' is not English; 'kept till' supposes it over. I have therefore put the present, the perfect signifying the continuance of what had begun in the past.

^k Or 'destroy themselves,' 'perish.' Compare note to 1 Cor. iii. 17.

^l See Palm and Rost. Schleusner also quotes Hesychius as explaining it with μεμιασμένοι. Its ordinary use is 'a rock,' especially 'a rock by the sea,' as one where the sea broke. But Hesychius gives it also and Schleusner as a sunken rock with the sea over it. So Schleusner takes it, and it may be so used here. He quotes Polybius and Plutarch.

^m T. R. reads 'about,' with Am Memph and some cursives; text & A B C K L 13.

ⁿ Some take it for trees whose fruit withers as in autumn.

out fruit, twice dead, rooted up;
¹³ raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shames;^o wandering stars, to whom has been reserved the gloom
¹⁴ of darkness for eternity. And Enoch,
 [the] seventh from Adam, prophesied also as to these, saying, Behold, [the] Lord has come amidst^p his holy ¹⁵ myriads, to execute judgment against all; and to convict all the ungodly of them of all their works of ungodliness, which they have wrought ungodlily, and of all the hard [things]^q which ungodly sinners have spoken ¹⁶ against him. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts;
 and their mouth speaks swelling words, admiring persons for the sake ¹⁷ of profit. But ye, beloved, remember the words spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁸ that they said to you, that at [the] end of the time^r there should be mockers, walking after their own ¹⁹ lusts of ungodlinesses. These are they who set [themselves^s] apart, natural ²⁰ [men], not having [the] Spirit. But ye, beloved, building yourselves up on your most holy faith, praying in ²¹ the Holy Spirit, keep yourselves^t in the love of God, awaiting the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal ²² life. And of some have compassion, ²³ making a difference, but others save with fear, snatching [them] out of the fire;^v hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

²⁴ But to him that is able to keep you without stumbling, and to set [you] with exultation blameless be-²⁵ fore his glory, to the only^w God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord,^x [be] glory,^y majesty, might,
 and authority, from before the whole age,^z and now, and to all the ages.
 Amen.

^o 'Shames,' not the shame they feel, but the things that are a shame to them. They do not feel it is so.

^p Or 'with,' εν.

^q \aleph C 13 Syrr read 'hard words;' text A B K L.

^r T. R. reads 'in the last time,' with K L P; text \aleph A B C 13; (\aleph A 13 του χρόνου: B C omit του).

^t τηρήσατε, aorist; be in that state.

^v This is also read thus: 'And some who dispute [see ver. 9] correct: and some save, snatching them out of the fire; and some pity with fear.' A and C have ἐλέγχετε, 'correct.' \aleph B ἐλεάτε, 'pity.' T. R., with K L P Memph, reads διακρινόμενοι, 'making a difference.' But \aleph A B C 13 and we may judge Ital and Vulg Syrr read διακρινόμενος. The reading of \aleph and B I confess I can make no sense of, unless we say, 'some who doubt, pity;' but then we have 'some save, snatching them out of the fire; and some pity with fear,' no very satisfactory sentence. I suppose we must read ἐλέγχετε, rejecting \aleph and B. But ἐλέγχετε is hardly 'convince' the doubters: I question if ἐλέγχω has this sense in New Test. C omits 'and some pity' altogether, reading 'some who dispute, correct; and some save, snatching [them] out of the fire with fear, hating,' &c., perhaps the best reading of all, ἐλεάτε or ἐλεείτε being a gloss. I confess I should be disposed to think so. In the perplexity of the readings I have given it as in T. R. and stated the facts. Ital has miseremini in the second place after 'save with fear;' but has judicatos (διακρινόμενος) with it. While leaving it as the original reading, I leave it undecided for others. The sense is clear. He tells them in fact to make a difference, and copyists have put διακρινόμενοι for -vous. But the reading of C puts his horror of turning the grace of God into lasciviousness in greater relief. If men contested, he put them to silence; if not, he saved them with fear, snatching them out of the fire, hating every trace of evil.

^w T. R. reads 'to the only wise God,' with K L P; \aleph A B C 13 Am Syrr-Bodl-and-Hel Memph omit 'wise.'

^x T. R. omits 'through Jesus Christ our Lord,' with K P and others; \aleph A B C L 13 Am Memph Syrr-Bodl-and-Hel insert.

^y T. R. adds 'and,' with K L P and most others Am Memph.

^z Or 'course [of time], παντός του αἰῶνος, a large expression and of wide use. T. R. omits 'from before the whole age,' with K P and others; \aleph A B C L 13 Am Memph insert.

THE REVELATION.

I. Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him, to shew to his bondmen what must shortly take place;^a and he signified [it], sending by his² angel, to his bondman John, who testified the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ, all things³ that he saw. Blessed [is] he that reads, and they that hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things written in it; for the time [is] near.⁴ John to the seven assemblies which [are] in Asia: Grace to you and peace from [him] who is, and who was, and who is to come;^b and from the seven Spirits which [are] before his throne;⁵ and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn from^c the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. To him who loves us, and has washed^d us from our sins in his blood, and made^e us a kingdom, priests to his God and Father: to him [be] the glory and the might to the ages of ages. Amen.

^a Aorist, 'have taken place,' but this is somewhat harsh in English; perhaps 'be accomplished.'

^b I have put 'is to come,' as giving most nearly the sense. It is not ὁ μέλλει ἔρχεσθαι, 'about to come;' but ὁ ἐρχόμενος. If the act of the Lord's coming were immediately before the mind, it would not be ὁ ἐρχόμενος, 'who is now coming,' or 'the coming one.' I will not say there is no allusion to the future, awaited exercise of divine power; for in Daniel, not only is the Son of man brought before the Ancient of days, but the Ancient of days comes. But in the words 'who is, and was, and is to come,' there is surely reference to the abiding nature of his being. 'Who is to come' seems to me thus to render more truly the ὁ ἐρχόμενος than any other form of the words. ὁ ἐρχόμενος has the sense of future in New Testament Greek. See Mark x. 30, Luke xviii. 30; and Mark xi. 10 partly runs into this sense. ὁ ἐρχόμενος became a name of the expected Messiah, as in John Baptist's question (Matt. xi. 3), and in Heb. x. 37. But note, 'essential being' is put first, ὁ ὢν; and then 'time past, and to come.'

^c Literally 'of the dead.' Some cursives read 'from among,' ἐκ; ⲛⲁ Ⲉ Ⲑ Ⲑ and others omit ἐκ. The reader will recollect that in the Revelation B is not the famous Vatican MS, but the Codex Basilianus of the 8th century, called Q by Tregelles.

^d Some read 'freed,' λύσαντι ἐκ, for λούσαντι

⁷ Behold, he comes with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they which^f have pierced him, and all the tribes of the land^g shall wail because of him. Yea, amen.

⁸ I am the Alpha and the Ω, saith [the] Lord God, he who is, and who was, and who is to come,^h the Almighty.ⁱ

⁹ I John, your brother and fellow-partaker in the tribulation and kingdom and patience,^k in Jesus,^l was^m in the island called Patmos, for the word of God and for the testimony of¹⁰ Jesus.ⁿ I became in [the] Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice as of a trumpet, saying,¹¹ What thou seest write^o in a book, and send to the seven assemblies: to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.

¹² And I turned back to see the voice which^p spoke with me; and having turned, I saw seven golden lamps,^q ἀπό, with ⲛⲁ Ⲉ Ⲑ; text B P and most others Am Memph.

^e Literally 'he has made,' καὶ ἐποίησεν; I suppose a Hebraism. 'Loves' and 'has washed' are participles.

^f οἷτινες, that class of persons; 'such as.'

^g Or 'earth.'

^h See note to verse 4.

ⁱ 'The Almighty' always has the article in Greek in the Revelation.

^k ὑπομονή, 'endurance:' so ii. 2, 3, 19; xiii. 10; xiv. 12. The three words 'tribulation' and 'kingdom' and 'patience' are intimately connected, being brought together under one head by one article in the Greek. P and a few cursives add 'in the' before 'kingdom.'

^m ἐγενόμην. He had come there on account of the word of God. His being there was an event which happened. So verse 10, where 'in the Spirit' is a state into which he entered: ἐγενόμην ἐν πνεύματι.

ⁿ B and others Memph Syr insert Χριστοῦ, 'Christ;' ⲛⲁ Ⲉ Ⲑ Am omit.

^o Aorist, 'have it written:' that is, it is commanded to be a complete thing done.

^q Or 'lamp-stands,' λυχνίας: simply here, I think, 'lamps,' as compared with Heb. ix. 2. If the λύχνος and λυχνία are separate, λυχνία is the stand. See Matt. v. 15, Luke viii. 16, xi. 33, 36.

¹⁷ And when I saw him I fell at his feet as dead; and he laid his right hand upon me, saying, Fear not; I ¹⁸ am the first and the last, and the living one: and I became^v dead, and behold, I am living to the ages of ages, and have the keys of death and ¹⁹ of hades. ² I know thy works and [thy^y] labour, and thine endurance, and that thou canst not bear evil [men]; and thou hast tried them who say that themselves [are] apostles and are not, ³ and hast found them liars; and endurest, and hast borne for my name's ⁴ sake, and hast not wearied: but I have against thee that thou hast left ⁵ thy first love. Remember therefore whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works: but if not, I am coming to thee,^z and I will remove thy lamp out of its place, except ⁶ thou shalt repent. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

^s Or 'a Son of man.' Compare Daniel vii. 13, where it is also used without the article. It is not likeness to a person John knew, but to the character known by this title in scripture. To have seen angels in heaven would have been no wonder, but to see one as ὁ υἱὸς ἀνθρώπου was. All this chapter corresponds to Daniel vii.: only now He was seen on earth. It was the title the Lord habitually took. This made it personal; but in Daniel, though surely the same person, it was characteristic. Here, too, it is characteristic. Still the person designated is now known, and it is difficult to say 'a Son of man' as excluding this. 'Son-of-man-like' is feeble, and does not sufficiently present a person at all; it might mean a manner. I have put therefore 'the' in brackets, and added this note.

^t δὲ here is mere connection, resuming the train of thought, not adversative; 'but,' 'and,' would be also out of place.

^v ἐγενόμην, properly, something which a person becomes which he was not before.

REVELATION II. III.

death, and I will give to thee the crown of life.

¹¹ He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. He that overcomes shall in no wise^d be injured of the second death.

¹² And to the angel of the assembly in Pergamos write: These things says he that has the sharp two-edged sword:

¹³ I know where thou dwellest, where the throne of Satan [is]; and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even^e in the days in which Antipas my faithful witness [was], who was slain among you, where Satan dwells. But I have

¹⁴ a few things against thee: that thou hast there those who hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a snare before the sons of Israel, to eat [of] idol sacrifices and commit for-

¹⁵ nication. So thou also hast those who hold the doctrine of ^f Nicolaitanes in like manner. Repent therefore: but if not, I come to thee quickly, and I will make war with them with the sword of my mouth.

¹⁷ He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. To him that overcomes, to him will I give of the hidden manna; and I will give to him a white stone, and on the stone a new name written, which no one knows^g but he that receives [it].

¹⁸ And to the angel of the assembly in Thyatira write: These things says the Son of God, he that has his eyes as a flame of fire, and his feet [are] like fine brass:

¹⁹ I know thy works, and love, and faith, and service, and thine endurance, and thy last works [to be] more

²⁰ than the first. But I have against thee that thou permittest the woman^h Jezebel, she who calls herself prophetess, and she teaches and leads astray my servants to commit fornication and eat of idol sacrifices.

²¹ And I gave her time that she should repent, and she will not repent of ²² her fornication. Behold, I cast her into a bed, and those that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of her works,

²³ and her children will I kill with death; and all the assemblies shall know that I am he that searches [the] reins and [the] hearts; and I will give to you each according to your

²⁴ works. But to you I say, the rest who [are] in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, whoⁱ have not known the depths of Satan, as they say, I do not cast upon you

²⁵ any other burden; but what ye have

²⁶ hold fast till I shall come. And he that overcomes, and he that keeps unto the end my works, to him will

²⁷ I give authority over the nations, and he shall shepherd them with an iron rod; as vessels of pottery are they broken in pieces. as I also have received from my Father; and I will give to him the morning star.

²⁹ He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

III. And to the angel of the assembly in Sardis write: These things saith he that has the seven Spirits of God and the seven stars:

I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

² Be^k watchful, and strengthen the things that remain, which are^l about to die, for I have not found thy works

^d οὐ μὴ, a strong negative.

^e S B P 6 14 33 and others Syr omit 'even.'

^h Some, with A B and others Syr, read 'thy wife,' τὴν γυναῖκά σου. S C P 1 95 and others Am Memph omit σου. If it be 'thy wife,' it alludes doubtless to Jezebel's connection with responsible Ahab. And that is the meaning I believe of 'angel;' the symbolical representative of the assembly seen in those responsible in it, which indeed all really are. Hence 'thee,' and 'to you,' 'to you each,' and 'the rest.'

ⁱ οὔτινες, 'such as.' ^k γίνου, 'become so.'

^l ἔμελλον, the imperfect. I translate 'are,' because 'were' supposes they are no longer, which is contrary to the passage. Perhaps 'have been' may be used. It refers to what they were found when he strengthened them. The point of departure of thought is not the writer's when writing but the strengthener when strengthening.

REVELATION III.

³ complete before my God. Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and keep [it] and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come [upon thee^m] as a thief, and thou shalt not knowⁿ at what hour I shall come upon thee. But thou hast a few names in Sardis which have not defiled their garments, and they shall walk with me in white, because they are worthy.

⁵ He that overcomes, he shall be clothed in white garments, and I will not blot his name out of the book of life, and will confess his name before my Father and before his angels.

⁶ He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

⁷ And to the angel of the assembly in Philadelphia write: These things saith the holy, the true; he that has the key of David, he who opens and no one shall shut, and shuts and no one shall open:^o

⁹ Behold, I make^q them of the synagogue of Satan who say that they are Jews, and are not, but lie; behold, I will cause that they shall come and shall do homage before thy feet, and shall know that I have loved thee.

¹⁰ Because thou hast kept the word of my patience,^r I also will keep thee out of the hour of trial which is about to come upon the whole habitable world to try them that dwell upon the earth.

¹¹ I come quickly: hold fast what thou hast, that no one take thy crown.

¹² He that overcomes, him will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more at all out; and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven, from my God, and my new name.

¹³ He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

¹⁴ And to the angel of the assembly in Laodicea write: These things says the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

¹⁵ I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot; I would thou wert cold or hot. Thus because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot,^s I am about to spue thee out

¹⁷ of my mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and am grown rich, and have need of nothing, and knowest not that thou art the wretched and the miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked;

¹⁸ I counsel thee to buy of me gold purified by fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white garments, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness may not be made manifest;^t and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, that thou

¹⁹ mayest see. I rebuke and discipline as many as I love; be zealous therefore and repent. Behold, I stand^u at the door and am knocking; if any one hear my voice and open the door, I will^v come in unto him and sup with him, and he with me.

²¹ He that overcomes, to him will I give to sit with me in my throne; as I also have overcome, and have sat down with my Father in his throne.

^m B and others Am insert; A C P Memph omit.

ⁿ A C P read 'and thou knowest not.'

^o Or 'opens,' with A C P. Vulg has all in the present. Text ἀνοίγει, with B and others. B has ἀνυγει. I suspect the future is a Hebraism.

^q Lit. 'give:' see note p. ὑπομονή: cf. i. 9.

^r B C 1 6 7 14 38 and others Memph Syr read 'hot nor cold;' A P and others Am as text.

^t All these are aorists, that is, have the force, not of 'that thou mayst become,' but as an accomplished fact, 'mayst have become,' 'have got into that state.' So often; but the English hardly gives this shade of meaning, save that 'be' supposes it existing.

^u ἔστηκα: I have placed myself there and am standing. κρούω, simply 'I am knocking.'

^v Some add 'both,' with B and others; A P and others Am Memph Syr omit.

²³ He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.

IV. After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard as of a trumpet speaking with me, saying, Come up here, and I will shew thee the things which must take place after these things.

² ^wImmediately I became in [the] Spirit; and behold, a throne stood in the heaven, and upon the throne ³one sitting, and he [that was] sitting like in appearance to a stone [of] jasper and a sardius, and a rainbow round^x the throne like in appearance ⁴to an emerald. And round^x the throne twenty-four thrones, and on the thrones^y twenty-four elders sitting, clothed with white garments; and on their heads golden crowns. ⁵And out of the throne go forth lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and seven lamps^z of fire, burning before the throne, which are the seven ⁶Spirits of God; and before the throne, as a glass sea, like crystal. And in the midst of the throne, and around^a the throne, four living creatures, full ⁷of eyes, before and behind; and the first living creature like a lion, and the second living creature like a calf, and the third living creature having the face as of^b a man, and the fourth living creature like a flying eagle. ⁸And the four living creatures, each one of them having respectively six wings; round^c and within they are full of eyes; and they cease not^d day and night saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, who was,^e and ⁹who is, and who is to come. And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanksgiving to him that sits upon the throne, ¹⁰who lives to the ages of ages, the twenty-four elders shall fall before him that sits upon the throne, and do homage to him that lives to the ages of ages; and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying, ¹¹Thou art worthy, O our Lord and [our] God, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast created all things, and for thy will they were and they have been created.

V. And I saw on the right hand of him that sat upon the throne a book, written within and on the back, ²sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who [is] worthy to open the ³book, and to break its seals? And no one was able in the heaven, or upon the earth, or underneath the earth, to open the book, or to regard ⁴it. And I wept much because no one had been found worthy to open ⁵the book nor to regard it. And one of the elders says to me, Do not weep. Behold, the lion which [is] of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, has overcome [so as] to open the book, and its seven seals.

^x I use 'round,' κυκλόθεν, for what is connected with anything (I do not say united to it) as a centre, as the tire of a wheel; 'around,' κύκλω, for what is standing as a circle, outside, around anything. 'Round' is more generally used, and so for both; but 'around' is used for detached objects encircling.

^y The reading is somewhat uncertain here. Griesbach, confirmed by P, has as in text. Alf. and Tisch. 7th ed. add τοὺς, reading 'the twenty-four elders:' but then it may be read 'on the twenty-four thrones elders sitting,' or 'on the thrones the twenty-four elders.' Tisch. 8th ed. leaves out τοὺς, with A B P and others Am Memph Syr. N has only 'twenty-four thrones and elders sitting,' omitting ἐπὶ τοῖς θρόνοις εἰκοστέσσαρες, very likely by homœoteleuton. A has ἐπὶ τοῖς εἰκοσιτέσσαρας θρόνοις πρεσβυτέρους.

^z λαμπάδες: not the lamp as a utensil, λυχνία, but what furnished the light itself.

^a κύκλω.

^b I insert 'of' as the most likely to be the original reading, ἀνθρώπου, with N A B, for ἀνθρωπος, the reading of P 1 38 and a few others. B and many others omit 'as.' N A P have it, N adding also ὁμοιον.

^c I judge that Ezekiel x. 12 shews that κυκλόθεν, 'round,' belongs to the eyes.

^d I prefer 'cease not' to 'have no rest,' because in English 'having no rest' means constant fatigue. ἀνάπαυσις does mean refreshment after fatigue; but it secondly means intermission of action.

^e On the throne, 'was' comes first. It is in time. See note to i. 4.

REVELATION V. VI.

throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God [which are] sent into all the earth: and it came and took [it] out of the right hand of him that sat^f upon the throne. And when it took the book, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell before the Lamb, having^g each a harp and golden bowls full of incenses, which are the prayers of the saints. And they sing a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open its seals; because thou hast been slain, and hast redeemed^h to God, by thy blood, out of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, and made them to our Godⁱ kings^k and priests; and they shall^l reign over the earth.

And I saw, and I heard [the] voice of many angels around^m the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and their number was ten thousands of ten thousands and thousands of thousands; saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that has been slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing. And every creature which is in the heaven and upon the earth and under the sea, and [those that are] upon the earth, and all things in them, heard I saying, To him that sits upon the throne, and to the Lamb, blessing, and honour, and glory, and might, to the ages of ages. And the four living creatures said, Amen; and the elders fell down and did homage.

VI. And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, as a voice of thunder, Come [and seeⁿ]. And I saw: and behold, a white horse, and he that sat upon it having a bow; and a crown was^o given to him, and he went forth conquering and that he might conquer.

And when it opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature, saying, Come [and seeⁿ]. And another, a red horse, went forth; and to him that sat upon it, to him it was given to take peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another; and there was given to him a great sword.

And when it opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, Come [and seeⁿ]. And I saw: and behold, a black horse, and he that sat upon it having a balance in his hand. And I heard as a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, A chœnix of wheat for a denarius, and three chœnices of barley for a denarius: and do not injure the oil and the wine.

And when it opened the fourth seal, I heard [the voice of^p] the fourth living creature saying, Come

^f Or 'that sits.' It is the present, but may follow the time of the passage: it is a title, 'the sitter on the throne.'

^g 'Having' agrees strictly only with 'elders.'

^h Or 'bought:' ἐκ, 'out of,' follows. Many insert 'us' here, with \aleph B P. I have ventured to leave it out, with Lachmann, Tischendorf, (Griesbach accounting it a questionable reading), Mills (Prol. iii.), Alford, Düsterdieck and De Wette. The internal evidence is, I judge, against it. C fails us: Vulg and Prim. both have it. A omits it. My own judgment is that it is better left out. I add that \aleph is very incorrect in the Apocalypse.

ⁱ \aleph B P and all versions; A omits 'to our God.'

^k Many, with \aleph A Am Memph, read 'a kingdom,' but it is indeed a title or name. B and cursives read 'kings.' P is defective here.

^l \aleph P have βασιλεύουσιν, with many and Am Memph; A B and others Syr βασιλεύουσιν.

^m κύκλω.

ⁿ The words 'and see' here and verses 3, 5, 7, are very doubtful: \aleph has καὶ ἶδε, and so, except in ver. 3, have B 6 14 95 and others: so I leave it in, with Griesbach. The Complutensian ed. in vers. 1, 5, 7, has ἔρχου καὶ εἶδον. καὶ ἰδού, with this singular punctuation. In ver. 3 it has ἔρχου alone. Erasmus (1st ed.) βλέπε (from Latin). One can understand how ἶδε καὶ εἶδον καὶ ἰδού, seemed too much. \aleph and B generally go together. A C omit it, with P 138 and others Am, reading ἔρχου. καὶ εἶδον. In ver. 3, \aleph alone, with a few cursives, has καὶ ἶδε.

^o Or 'had been given to him;' that is, it is not expressive of a particular time. He had one which was given him. But it is the same tense as 'went forth,' the aorist. So in verse 4.

^p These words are doubtful. \aleph A have it; B P omit it; C-too, but it is incorrect, τὸ τέταρτον ζῶον λέγοντος.

REVELATION VI. VII.

⁸ [and see^q]. And I saw: and behold, a pale horse, and he that sat upon it, his name [was] Death, and hades followed with him; and authority was given to him^r over the fourth of the earth to slay with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and by the beasts of the earth.

⁹ And when it opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held; and they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long,^s O sovereign ruler, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell upon the earth?

¹¹ And there was given to them, to each one^t a white robe; and it was said to them that they should rest yet a little while^u until both their fellow-bondmen and their brethren, who were about to be killed as they, should be fulfilled.

¹² And I saw when it opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as hair sackcloth, and the whole moon became as blood, and the stars of heaven fell upon the earth, as a fig tree, shaken by a great wind, casts^v its unseasonable figs. And the heaven was removed as a book rolled up, and every mountain and island were removed out of their places.

¹⁵ And the kings of the earth, and the great, and the chiliarchs, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and^w freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains; and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and have us hidden^x from [the] face of him that sits upon the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb; be-

¹⁷ cause the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to stand?

VII. And^y after this I saw four angels standing upon the four corners of the earth, holding fast the four winds of the earth, that no wind might blow upon the earth, nor upon the sea, nor upon any^z tree. And I saw another angel ascending from [the] sun-rising, having [the] seal of [the] living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it had been given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying, Hurt not the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, until we shall have sealed the bondmen of our God upon their foreheads. And I heard the number of the sealed, a hundred [and] forty-four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of [the] sons of Israel: out of [the] tribe of Juda, twelve thousand sealed; out of [the] tribe of Reuben, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Gad, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Aser, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Nephtalim, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Zabulon, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand; out of [the] tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand sealed.

⁹ After these things I saw, and lo, a great crowd, which no one could number, out of every nation and tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palm branches in their hands. And they cry with a loud voice, saying,

REVELATION VII. VIII.

Salvation to our God who sits upon ¹¹ the throne, and to the Lamb. And all the angels stood around the throne and the elders and the four living creatures, and fell before the throne upon their faces and worshipped^a ¹² God, saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and strength,
 to our God, to the ages of ages.
 Amen.^b

¹³ And one of the elders answered, saying to me, These who are clothed with white robes, who are they, and ¹⁴ whence came they? And I said to him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they who come out of the great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and have made them white in the blood of the ¹⁵ Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple,^c and he that sits upon the throne shall spread his ¹⁶ tabernacle over them. They shall not hunger any more, neither shall they thirst any more, nor shall the sun at all fall on them, nor any burning heat; ¹⁷ because the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall^d shepherd them, and shall^d lead them to fountains of waters of life, and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

VIII. And when it opened the seventh seal, there was^e silence in the heaven ² about half an hour. And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to ³ them. And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and much incense was given to him, that he might give [efficacy] to the prayers of all saints at the golden altar which [was] before the ⁴ throne. And the smoke of the incense went up with^f the prayers of the saints, out of the hand of the ⁵ angel before God. And the angel took the censer, and filled it from the fire of the altar, and cast [it] on^g

 the earth: and there were voices, and thunders and lightnings,^h and an earthquake.

⁶ And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves that they might sound with [their] trumpets.

 pet: and there was hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they wereⁱ cast upon^k the earth; and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

⁸ And the second angel sounded [his] trumpet: and as a great mountain burning with fire was cast into^k the sea, and the third part of the sea ⁹ became blood; and the third part of the creatures which were in the sea which had life died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

¹⁰ And the third angel sounded [his] trumpet: and there fell out of the heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon^l the third part of the rivers, and upon^l the fountains ¹¹ of waters. And the name of the star is called Wormwood; and the third part of the waters became wormwood, and many of the men died of the waters because they were made bitter.

¹² And the fourth angel sounded [his] trumpet: and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so that the third part of them should be darkened, and that the day should not appear [for] the third part of it, and the night the same.

¹³ And I saw, and I heard an eagle flying in mid-heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to them that dwell upon the earth, for the remaining voices of the trumpet of the three angels who are about to sound.

IX. And the fifth angel sounded [his] trumpet: and I saw a star out of the heaven fallen to^m the earth; and there was given to it the key of the ² pit of the abyss. And itⁿ opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up smoke out of the pit as [the] smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke of the pit. And out of the smoke came forth locusts on^m the earth, and power was given to them as the scorpions ⁴ of the earth have power; and it was said to them, that they should not injure the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree, but the men who^o have not the seal of God ⁵ on their^p foreheads: and it was given to them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months; and their torment [was] as [the] torment of a ⁶ scorpion when it strikes a man. And in those days shall men seek death, and shall in no way find it; and shall desire to die, and death flees^q ⁷ from them. And the likenesses of the locusts [were] like to horses prepared for war; and upon their heads as crowns like gold, and their faces ⁸ as faces of men; and they had hair as women's hair, and their teeth were

⁹ as of lions, and they had breastplates as breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings [was] as the sound of chariots of many horses

¹⁰ running to war; and they have tails like scorpions, and stings; and their power^r [was] in their tails to hurt ¹¹ men five months. They have a king over them, the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew Abaddon,^s and in Greek he has [for] name Apollyon.^t

¹² The first woe has past.^v Behold, there come yet two woes after these things.

¹³ And the sixth angel sounded [his] trumpet: and I heard a voice from the four^w horns of the golden altar

¹⁴ which [is] before God, saying to the sixth angel that had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates.

¹⁵ And the four angels were loosed, who are prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they might ¹⁶ slay the third part of men; and the number of the hosts of horse [was] twice ten thousand times ten thousand. I heard their number.

¹⁷ And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those that sat upon them, having breastplates of fire and jacinth and brimstone; and the heads of the horses [were] as heads of lions, and out of their mouths goes out fire ¹⁸ and smoke and brimstone. By these three plagues were the third part of men^x killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone which goes ¹⁹ out of their mouths. For the power^y of the horses is in their mouth and in their tails: for their tails [are] like serpents, having heads, and with ²⁰ them they injure. And the rest of men who were not killed with these plagues repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons, and the golden and silver and brazen and stone and wooden idols, which can neither see ²¹ nor hear nor walk. And they repented not of their murders, nor of their witchcrafts, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

X. And I saw another strong angel coming down out of the heaven, clothed with a cloud, and the rainbow upon his head, and his countenance as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire, and having in his hand a little opened book. And he set his right foot on the sea, and the left upon the ² earth, and cried with a loud voice as a lion roars. And when he cried, the seven thunders uttered^z their ³ own voices. And when the seven thunders spoke, I was about to write: and I heard a voice out of the heaven saying, Seal the things which the seven thunders have spoken, and write them not.

⁵ And the angel whom I saw stand on the sea and on the earth lifted up his right hand to the heaven, and swore by him that lives to the ages of ages, who created the heaven and the things that are in it, and the earth and the things that are in it, and the sea and the things that are in it, that there should be no longer delay;
⁷ but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about^a to sound the trumpet, the mystery of God also shall be completed,^b as he has made known the glad tidings to his own bondmen the prophets.

⁸ And the voice which I heard out of the heaven [was] again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the little book^c which is opened in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea

⁹ and on the earth. And I went to the angel, saying to him to give me the little book. And he says to me, Take and eat it up: and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. And I took ¹⁰ the little book out of the hand of the angel, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth as honey, sweet; and when I had eaten it my belly was made ¹¹ bitter. And it was said^d to me, Thou must prophesy again as to peoples and nations and tongues and many kings.

XI. And there was given to me a reed like a staff,^e saying, Rise, and measure the temple^f of God, and the altar,
² and them that worship in it. And the court which [is] without the temple cast out, and measure it not; because it has been given [up] to the nations, and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty-two months.
³ And I will give [power] to my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred [and] sixty ⁴ days, clothed in sackcloth. These are the two olive trees and the two lamps which stand before the Lord of ⁵ the earth; and if any one wills to injure them, fire goes out of their mouth, and devours their enemies. And if any one wills to injure them, thus must ⁶ he be killed. These have power^g to shut the heaven that no rain may fall during the days of their prophecy; and they have power^g over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth as often as they will with ⁷ every plague. And when they shall have completed their testimony, the beast who comes up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and shall conquer them, and shall kill them:

REVELATION XI. XII.

- ⁸ and their body [shall be] on the street of the great city, which^h is called spiritually Sodom and Egypt, where⁹ also their Lord was crucified. And [men] of the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations see their body three days and a half, and they do not suffer their bodies to be put into a sepulchre. And they that dwell upon the earth rejoice over them, and are full of delight,ⁱ and shall send gifts one to another, because these, the two prophets, tormented them that dwell upon the earth. And after the three days and a half [the] spirit^j of life from God came into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon those beholding them. And I heard^k a great voice out of the heaven saying to them, Come up here; and they went up to the heaven in the cloud, and their enemies beheld them. And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth of the city fell, and seven thousand names of men were slain in the earthquake. And the remnant were^l filled with fear, and gave glory to the God of the heaven.
- ¹⁴ The second woe has past;^m behold, the third woe comes quickly.
- ¹⁵ And the seventh angel sounded [his] trumpet: and there were great voices in the heaven, saying, The kingdom of the world of our Lord and of his Christ is come,ⁿ and he shall reign to the ages of ages. And the twenty-four elders, who sit^o on their thrones before God, fell upon their faces, and worshipped^p God, ¹⁷ saying, We give thee thanks, Lord

- God Almighty, [He] who is, and who was,^q that thou hast taken thy great power and hast reigned.
- ¹⁸ And the nations have been full of wrath, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead to be judged, and to give the recompense to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to those who fear thy name, small and great; and to destroy^r those that destroy^r the earth.
- ¹⁹ And the temple^s of God in the heaven was opened,^t and the ark of his covenant was seen in his temple:^s and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.
- XII. And a great sign was seen in the heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; and being with child she cried,^v [being] in travail, and in pain to bring forth.
- ³ And another sign was seen in the heaven: and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven diadems; and his tail draws the third part of the stars of the heaven; and he cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to bring forth, in order that when she brought forth he might devour her child. And she brought forth a male son, who shall shepherd all the nations with an iron rod; and her child was caught up to God and to his throne. And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has there^w a place prepared of God, that they should nourish her there a thousand two hundred [and] sixty days.

7 And there was^x war in the heaven: Michael and his angels went to war^y with the dragon. And the dragon⁸ fought,^z and his angels; and he prevailed not, nor was their place found⁹ any more in the heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, the ancient serpent, he who is called Devil and Satan,^a he who deceives the whole habitable world, he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a great voice in the heaven saying, Now is come^b the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ; for the accuser of our brethren has been cast out, who accused them before our God day and¹¹ night: and they have overcome him by reason of the blood of the Lamb, and by reason of the word of their testimony, and have not loved their¹² life even unto death. Therefore be full of delight, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the earth and to the sea, because the devil has come down to you, having great rage, knowing he has a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he had been cast out into^c the earth, he persecuted the woman which bore¹⁴ the male [child]. And there were given to the woman the^d two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the desert into her place, where she is nourished there^e a time, and times, and half a time, from [the]¹⁵ face of the serpent. And the serpent cast out of his mouth behind the woman water as a river, that he might make her be [as] one carried away¹⁶ by a river. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was angry with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, who keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus.

18 And I^f stood upon the sand of the¹ sea; (XIII.) and I saw a beast rising out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and upon its horns ten diadems, and upon its heads names^g of blasphemy. And the beast which I saw was like to a leopardess, and its feet as of a bear, and its mouth as a lion's mouth; and the dragon gave to it his power, and his throne,³ and great authority; and one of his heads [was] as slain to death, and his wound of death had been healed: and the whole earth wondered after⁴ the beast. And they did homage to^h the dragon, becauseⁱ he gave the authority to the beast; and they did homage to^h the beast, saying, Who [is] like to the beast? and who can⁵ make war with it? And there was given to it a mouth, speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to it authority to pursue⁶ its career^k forty-two months. And it opened its mouth for blasphemies^l against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle, and^m those who have their tabernacleⁿ in the heaven.⁷ And there was given to it to make war with the saints, and to overcome^o them; and there was given to it authority over every tribe, and people, and tongue, and nation; and all that dwell on the earth shall do it homage, [every one] whose name had not been written from [the] founding of [the] world in the book^o of life of the slain Lamb. If any one⁹ has an ear, let him hear. If any one [leads] into captivity, he goes into captivity.^p If any one shall kill with [the] sword, he must^q with [the] sword be killed. Here is the endurance and the faith of the saints.

¹¹ And I saw another beast rising out of the earth; and it had two horns like to a lamb, and spake as a dragon; ¹² and it exercises all the authority of the first beast before it, and causes the earth and those that dwell in it to^r do homage to the first beast, whose wound of death^s was healed. ¹³ And it works great signs, that it should cause even fire to come down from heaven to the earth before men. ¹⁴ And it deceives those that dwell upon the earth by reason of the signs which it was given to it to work before the beast, saying to those that dwell upon the earth to make an image to the beast, which has the wound of the ¹⁵ sword, and lived. And it was given to it to give breath to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should also speak, and should cause that as many as should not do homage to the image of the beast should be ¹⁶ killed. And it causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bondmen, that they should give them a mark upon their right hand or upon their ¹⁷ forehead; and that no one should be able to buy or sell save he that had the mark, the name of the beast, or ¹⁸ the number of its name. Here is wisdom. He that has understanding let him count the number of the beast: for it is a man's number; and its number [is] six hundred [and] sixty-six.

XIV. And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing upon mount Zion, and with him a hundred [and] forty-four thousand, having his name and the name of his Father written upon ² their foreheads. And I heard a voice out of the heaven as a voice of many waters, and as a voice of great thunder. And the voice which I heard [was] as of harp-singers harping with ³ their harps; and they sing^t a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders. And no one could learn that song save the hundred [and] forty-four thousand who were bought from ⁴ the earth. These are they who have not been defiled with women, for they are virgins: these are they who follow the Lamb wheresoever it goes. These have been bought from men [as] first-fruits to God and to the ⁵ Lamb: and in their mouths was no lie found; [for^v] they are blameless. ⁶ And I saw another^w angel flying in mid-heaven, having [the] everlasting glad tidings to announce to those settled^x on the earth, and to every nation and tribe and tongue and people, saying with a loud voice, Fear God and give him glory, for the hour of his judgment has come; and do homage to him who has made the heaven and the earth and the sea and fountains of waters.

^o 'To make war,' and 'to overcome' are in the aorist: it is viewed as a finished act.

^p So A Am, which have not συνάγει however, though it is found in 1, and introduced in most versions to complete the sense. The reading of the MSS is very uncertain and confused here; 8 28 read 'if any one goes into captivity, if any one kills with [the] sword, he must be killed with [the] sword.' This, though it is defective, confirms the common reading. So B C P, save that they have 'shall kill.'

^q A reads by mistake ἀποκτανθῆναι for ἀποκτενῆ, δεῖ: cf. ver. 3, where there is a somewhat similar confusion, ἐθανμασθη for ἐθαύμασεν.

^r Literally 'that (ὅνα) they should.'

^t A C 1 and others Am add 'as.'

^v Some omit 'for,' with A C P; 8 B and most others insert.

^w The reading is doubtful: 8 B omit ἄλλον, 'another;' A C P Am Memph Syr have it; it is more likely to have been omitted as being the first here mentioned.

^x καθημένους, ποτὶ κατοικοῦντας.

⁸ And another, a second, angel followed, saying, Great Babylon has fallen, has fallen, which^y of the wine of the fury of her fornication has made all nations drink.

⁹ And another, a third, angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any one do homage to^z the beast and its image, and receive a mark upon his forehead or upon his hand, he also shall drink of the wine of the fury of God prepared unmixed in the cup of his wrath, and he shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy^a angels and before the Lamb.

¹¹ And the smoke of their torment goes up to ages of ages, and they have no respite day and night who do homage to the beast and to its image, and if any one receive the mark of its name.

¹² Here is the endurance of the saints, who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.

¹³ And I heard a voice out of the heaven saying, Write, Blessed the dead who die in [the] Lord from henceforth. Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them.

¹⁴ And I saw, and behold, a white cloud, and on the cloud one sitting like [the] Son of man, having upon his head a golden crown, and in his

¹⁵ hand a sharp sickle. And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Send thy sickle and reap; for the hour of reaping is come, for the harvest of the earth is dried.^b

¹⁶ And he that sat on the cloud put^c

his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

¹⁷ And another angel came out of the temple which [is] in the heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel came out of the altar, having power over fire, and called with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send thy sharp sickle, and gather the bunches of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripened. And the angel put his sickle to the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast [the bunches] into the great winepress of the fury of God; and the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood went out of the winepress to the bits of the horses for a thousand six hundred stadia.

XV. And I saw another sign in the heaven, great and wonderful: seven angels having seven plagues, the last; for in them the fury of God is completed.^d

² And I saw as a glass sea, mingled with fire, and those that had gained the victory over the beast, and over its image, and over the number of its name, standing upon the glass sea, ³ having harps of God. And they sing the song of Moses bondman of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and wonderful [are] thy works, Lord God Almighty; righteous and true [are] thy ways, O King of nations. ⁴ Who shall not fear [thee], O Lord, and glorify thy name? for [thou] only [art] holy;^e for all nations shall come and do homage before

^y I follow A C Am Syr here, with Tisch. and Alford. B P Memph have neither ἡ nor οὗ. ἡ, as often in the Apocalypse, is all confusion. If we read as B P, we must read 'for' instead of 'which' and insert 'she.'

^z Or 'worship.'

^a NCP have ἀγγέλων ἁγίων; B and others have ἁγίων ἀγγέλων; A Memph omit ἁγίων.

^b 'Dried.' It is more than to 'become ripe' (ἀδρύνω), as ἀκμάζω (end of ver. 18) is 'in full blow,' 'full harvest.'

^c ἔβαλεν. The use of this word in Matthew, Mark, and still more John, shews it is not needed to say 'cast' or 'threw.' The only question is, whether when used for 'put,' as 'put up thy sword into the sheath,' it is not always putting one thing into another, as in the examples referred to: 'new wine into old bottles;' 'the thirty pieces of silver into the treasury;' 'the money into the bag.' But this is met by John xx. 25 and Mark vii. 33; so that I suppose the sense is not 'cast.'

^d ἔτελεσθη, aorist.

^e ὅσιος, not ἅγιος. It is used for mercy, grace, and of Christ, as the One in whom all gracious qualities are concentrated. (Ps. lxxxix. 1, 2, 19.) In men it means piety and uprightness. ἅγιος is שׁוֹפֵר. It is in general the sum of qualities which suit and form the divine character in man, as opposed to the human will: what God gives as consistent with Himself, His character, and promise. The thee; for thy righteousnesses^f have been made manifest.

5 And after these things I saw, and the temple^g of the tabernacle of witness in the heaven was opened; and the seven angels who had the seven plagues came out of the temple,^h clothed in pure bright linen, and girded about the breasts with golden girdles. And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls, full of the fury of God, who lives to the ages of ages. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from his power: and no one could enter into the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were completed.

XVI. And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go and pour out the seven bowls of the fury of God uponⁱ the earth.

2 And the first went and poured out his bowl on the earth; and there came an evil and grievous sore upon^j the men that had the mark of the beast, and those who worshipped^k its image.

3 And the second poured out his bowl on the sea; and it became blood, as of a dead man; and every living soul^l died in the sea.^m

4 And the third poured out his bowl on the rivers, and [onⁿ] the fountains of waters; and they became^o blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Thou art righteous, who art and wast, the holy one,^p that thou hast judged so; for they have poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; they are worthy. And I heard the altar saying, Yea, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous [are] thy judgments.

8 And the fourth poured out his bowl on the sun; and it was given to it to burn men with fire. And the men were burnt with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, who had^q authority over these plagues, and did not repent to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast; and its kingdom became darkened; and they gnawed their tongues with distress, and blasphemed the God of the heaven for their distresses and their sores, and did not repent of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates; and its water was dried up, that the way of the kings from the rising of the sun might be prepared. And I saw out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, 14 three unclean spirits, as frogs; for they are [the] spirits of demons, doing signs; which go out to the kings of the whole habitable world^r to gather them together to the war of [that^s] great day of God the Almighty.

^f 'sure mercies' of David is expressed by this word in the LXX. God alone possesses the qualities which entitle him to worship, as a pious man would understand it. It is however used in this general way for 'holy.'

^g See note to chap. xix. 8.

^h raos, the house itself, in all this passage and indeed everywhere in the Revelation.

ⁱ B omits 'out of the temple,' as also in xvi. 1; A C P 1 7 28 Am Memph Syr have it.

^j εις.

^k επι.

^l Or 'did homage to.'

^m I suspect 'every soul of life' to be the true reading, with A C 95 Syr. It would be a Hebraism. But B has ζωσα, with B P 1 7 28 38 91 Am.

ⁿ A C read 'those in the sea,' adding τα before εν τη θαλασση.

^q Or 'there was blood.' The sense is the same. The strict grammatical construction in verses 3 and 4 is 'and there was,' or 'came' (εγενετο, 'came to be so') 'blood.' But I apprehend 'it' and 'they' are the sense, in spite of accuracy of grammar: blood took place as a consequence in what is spoken of, but that is 'it,' 'they became.' The sense is more striking as it stands in Greek, considered as a vision. What he saw took that character. The reader may translate it 'and there was blood' if he pleases.

^r οσιος. A B C, omitting the article ο before οσιος, read 'who art and who wast holy.'

^t οικουμένη.

^u A 14 Am Memph omit 'that;' B 1 and most others Syr insert.

REVELATION XVI. XVII.

¹⁵ (Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed [is] he that watches and keeps his garments, that he may not walk naked, and that they [may not] see his shame.) And he gathered them together to the place called in Hebrew, Armagedon.^s

¹⁷ And the seventh poured out his bowl on the air; and there came out a great voice from the temple of the heaven,^t from the throne, saying, It is done.^u And there were^v lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and there was^w a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, such an earthquake, so

¹⁸ great. And the great city was^x [divided] into three parts; and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon was remembered before God to give her the cup of the wine of

¹⁹ the fury of his wrath. And every island fled, and mountains were not

XVII. And one of the seven angels, which had the seven bowls, came and spoke with me, saying,^y Come here, I will shew thee the sentence of the great harlot who sits upon the^z

² many waters; with whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication; and they that dwell on the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication. And he carried me away in spirit to a desert; and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

⁴ And the woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, and^a had ornaments of^b gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and the unclean things of her^c fornication; and upon her forehead a name written, Mystery, great Babylon, the mother of the harlots, and of the abominations of the earth. And I saw the

⁶ woman drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the witnesses of Jesus. And I wondered.

⁷ seeing her, with great wonder. And the angel said to me, Why hast thou wondered? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast which carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.

⁸ The beast which thou sawest was, and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss and go^d into destruction: and they who dwell on the earth, whose names are not written^e from the founding of the world in the book of life, shall wonder, seeing the beast, that it was, and is not,

⁹ and shall be present.^f Here is the mind that has wisdom: The seven heads are seven mountains, whereon^g

¹⁰ the woman sits. And there are seven kings:^h five have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come; and when he comes he must remain

¹¹ [only] a little while. And the beast that was and is not, he also is an eighth, and is of the seven, and goes

¹² into destruction. And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, ¹⁴ authority to the beast. These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them; for he is Lord of lords and King of kings: and they [that are] with him called, and chosen, and faithful.

¹⁵ And he says to me, The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes^j and ¹⁶ nations and tongues. And the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and ¹⁷ shall burn her with fire; for God has given^k to their hearts to do his mind, and to act with one mind,^l and to give their kingdom to the beast until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

¹⁸ And the woman which thou sawest is the great city, which has kingship over the kings of the earth.

XVIII. After these things I saw another angel descending out of the heaven, having great authority: and the earth was lightened with his ² glory. And he cried with a strong voice, saying, Great Babylon has fallen, has fallen, and has become the habitation of demons, and a hold^m of every unclean spirit, and a hold^m of ³ every unclean and hated bird; because all the nations have drunk of the wineⁿ of the fury of her fornication; and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth have been enriched through the might of her luxury.

⁴ And I heard another voice out of the heaven saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye have not fellowship in her sins, and that ye do not ⁵ receive of her plagues: for her sins have been heaped on one another^o up to the heaven, and God has remembered her unrighteousnesses.

⁶ Recompense her even as she has recompensed; and double [to her^p] double, according to her works. In the cup which she has mixed, mix to ⁷ her double. So much as she has glorified herself and lived luxuriously, so much torment and grief give to her. Because she says in her heart, I sit a queen, and I am not a widow; and
⁸ I shall in no wise see grief: for this reason in one day shall her plagues come, death and grief and famine, and she shall be burnt with fire; for strong [is the] Lord God who has
⁹ judged her. And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived luxuriously with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they see the smoke of her burning, ¹⁰ standing afar off, through fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one hour thy judgment is come.

¹¹ And the merchants of the earth weep and grieve over her, because no one
¹² buys their lading^q any more; lading of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and pearl, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet dye, and all thyine wood, and every article in ivory, and every article in most precious wood, and in brass, and

¹⁷ precious stones and pearls! for in one hour so great riches has been made desolate. And every steersman, and every one who sailed to any place,^t and sailors, and all who exercise their calling on the sea, ¹⁸ stood afar off, and cried, seeing the smoke of her burning, saying, What ¹⁹ [city] is like to the great city? and cast dust upon their heads, and cried, weeping and grieving, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, in which all that had ships in the sea were enriched through her costliness! for in one hour she has been made desolate.
²⁰ Rejoice over her, heaven, and [ye] saints and apostles and prophets; for God has judged your judgment^u upon her.
²¹ And a strong angel took up a stone, as a great millstone, and cast [it] into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall Babylon the great city be cast down, and shall be found no more at ²² all; and voice of harp-singers and musicians and flute-players and trumpeters shall not be heard any more at all in thee, and no artificer of any art shall be found any more at all in thee, and voice of millstone shall be

²⁴ been deceived. And in her was found [the] blood^v of prophets and saints, and of all the slain upon the earth.

XIX. After these things I heard as a loud voice of a great multitude^w in the heaven, saying, Hallelujah: the salvation and the glory and the power
² of our God: for true and righteous [are] his judgments; for he has judged the great harlot which^x corrupted the earth with her fornication, and has avenged the blood of his bondmen at
³ her hand. And a second time they said, Hallelujah. And her smoke
⁴ goes up to the ages of ages. And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and did homage to God who sits^y upon the throne, saying, Amen, Hallelujah.
⁵ And a voice came out of^z the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his bondmen, [and^a] ye that fear him, small and great.

⁶ And I heard as a voice of a great crowd, and as a voice of many waters, and as a voice of strong thunders, saying, Hallelujah, for [the] Lord our God the Almighty has taken to ⁷ himself kingly power. Let us rejoice and exult, and give him glory; for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife has made herself ready.
⁸ And it was given to her that she should be clothed in fine linen, bright [and^b] pure; for the fine linen is the me, See [thou do it] not. I am thy fellow-bondman, and [the fellow-bondman] of thy brethren who have the testimony of Jesus. Do homage to^d God. For the spirit of prophecy is the testimony of Jesus.

- ¹¹ And I saw the heaven opened, and behold, a white horse, and one sitting on it, [called^e] Faithful and True, and he judges and makes war in righteousness. And his eyes are^f a flame of fire, and upon his head many diadems, having a name^g written which no one knows but himself; and [he is] clothed with a garment dipped in blood; and his name is called ¹¹ The Word of God. And the armies which [are] in the heaven followed him upon white horses, clad in white, ¹⁵ pure, fine linen. And out of his mouth goes a sharp [two-edged^h] sword, that with it he might smite the nations; and he shall shepherd them with an iron rod; and he treads the wine-press of the fury of the ¹⁶ wrath of God the Almighty. And he has upon his garment, and upon his thigh, a name written, King of kings, and Lord of lords.

- ¹⁷ And I saw anⁱ angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in mid-heaven, Come, gather yourselves to the great supper of God, ¹⁸ that ye may eat flesh of kings, and flesh of chiliarchs, and flesh of strong men, and flesh of horses and of those that sit upon them, and flesh of all, both free and bond, and^k small and great.

- ¹⁹ And I saw the beast and the kings

And the beast was taken, and the false prophet that [was] with him, who wrought the signs before him by which he deceived them that received^l the mark of the beast, and those that worship^m his image. Alive were both cast into the lake of fire ²¹ which burns with brimstone; and the rest were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which goes out of his mouth; and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

⁶ first resurrection. Blessed and holy he who has part in the first resurrection: over these the second death has no power;^s but they shall be priests of God and of the Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

⁷ And when the thousand years have been completed, Satan^t shall be loosed from his prison, and shall go out to deceive the nations which [are] on the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war,^u whose number^v [is] as the sand of the sea. And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city: and fire came down [from God^w] out of the heaven and devoured them. And the devil who deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where [are] both the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night for the ages of ages.

¹¹ And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled, and place was not found for them.

¹² And I saw the dead, great and small,^x standing before the throne, and books were opened; and another book was opened, which is [that] of life. And the dead were judged out of the things written in the books according to their works.

¹³ And the sea gave up the dead which [were] in it, and death and hades gave up the dead which [were] in them; and they were judged each according to their

¹⁴ works: and death and hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, [even] the lake of fire.^y

¹⁵ And if any one was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

XXI. And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea exists no more.

² And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of the heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a loud voice out of the heaven,^z saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God [is] with men, and he shall tabernacle with them, and they shall be his people,^a and God himself shall⁴ be with them, their God. And he^b shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall not exist any more, nor grief, nor cry, nor distress shall exist any more, for^c the former things have passed away.

angels which had had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues, and spoke with me, saying, Come here, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's ¹⁰ wife. And he carried me away in [the] Spirit, [and set me] on a great and high mountain, and shewed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of the heaven from God, ¹¹ having the glory of God. Her shining^g [was] like a most precious stone,

¹³ Israel. On [the] east three gates; and on [the] north three gates; and on [the] south three gates; and on ¹⁴ [the] west three gates. And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

¹⁵ And he that spoke with me had a golden reed [as] a measure, that he might measure the city, and its gates, ¹⁶ and its wall. And the city lies four-square, and its length [is] as much as the breadth. And he measured the city with the reed—twelve thousand stadia: the length and the breadth and height of it are equal.
¹⁷ And he measured its wall, a hundred [and] forty-four cubits, [a] man's measure, that is, [the] angel's.

¹⁸ And the building of its wall [was]ⁱ jasper; and the city pure gold, like ¹⁹ pure glass:^j the foundations of the wall of the city [were] adorned with every precious stone: the first foundation, jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald;

²¹ the twelfth, amethyst. And the twelve gates, twelve pearls; each one of the gates, respectively, was of one pearl; and the street of the city ²² pure gold, as transparent glass. And I saw no temple in it; for the Lord God Almighty is its temple, and the ²³ Lamb. And the city has no need of the sun nor of the moon, that they should shine for it; for the glory of God has enlightened it, and the lamp ²⁴ thereof [is] the Lamb. And the nations shall walk by its light; and the kings of the earth bring their ²⁵ glory to it. And its gates shall not be shut at all by day, for night shall ²⁶ not be there. And they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations to it. And nothing common,
²⁷ nor that maketh an abomination and a lie, shall at all enter into it; but those only who [are] written in the book of life of the Lamb.

XXII. And he shewed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, going out of the throne of God and of the ² Lamb. In the midst of its street, and of the river, on this side and on that side, [the] tree of life, producing twelve fruits, in each month yielding its fruit; and the leaves of the tree

¹⁵ Without [are] the^u dogs, and the sorcerers, and the fornicators, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one that loves and makes a lie.

¹⁶ I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify these things to you in the assemblies. I am the root and offspring of David, the bright [and^v] morning star. And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that hears say, Come. And let him that is athirst come; he that will, let him take [the] water of life freely.

¹⁸ I testify to every one who hears the words of the prophecy of this book, If any one shall add to these things, God shall add to him the plagues which are written in this book. And if any one take from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city,^w which are written in this book.

ADDENDA.

N. B.—Such of the following as relate to the T. R. were omitted in the body of the work through oversight. The remainder have been chiefly derived from a copy of the second edition, corrected by the translator, but only available when the printing was already far advanced.

- Acts v. 39 'will not be able.'—T. R. reads 'are not able,' with A H P 31 Memph; text ⲁ B C D E 13 Am.
 viii. 5 'a city.'—T. R. reads τήν, with ⲁ A B 31; C D E H 13 61 omit.
 —27 'Candace queen.'—T. R. adds 'the,' with H L P 31 and others.
 xi. 17 to note ¹ add: It would make believing the ground of receiving, through the causative force of the participle.
 xvii. 26 'of one blood.'—ⲁ A B 13 61 Am Memph omit 'blood'; D E H L 31 Syrr insert.
 xx. 21 'faith toward'—T. R. adds τήν, 'which is,' with B E H L P 31; text ⲁ A C D 13.
 xxii. 3 'I am a Jew.'—T. R. adds μέν, 'verily,' with H L P 31 Memph.
 xxiv. 16 'cause I also.'—T. R. reads 'but for this cause, I,' with H P 13; text ⲁ A B C E L 61 Syrr.
 xxv. 18 'of guilt as.'—T. R. omits 'of guilt,' with H L P Memph; (ⲁ) A C 13 31 Am Syrr have it; B E 61 read 'of evil things.'
 —22 add to note ¹ at end: 'It is literally says,' φησίν.
 xxvi. 7 'of [the] Jews.'—T. R. has 'the' in text, with a few cursives.
 —20 'to those both in.'—T. R. omits 'both,' with E H L P 13 31; ⲁ A B 61 have it.
 xxvii. 12 'thence, if.'—T. R. reads 'thence also,' with H P 31; text ⲁ A B L 13 61 Am Memph.
 Acts xxvii. 43 'of saving.'—διασωσαι, 'save out of and through' a danger: so xxviii. 4, 1 Pet. iii. 20.
 xxviii. 15 'came.'—T. R., with H L P 31, reads 'came out;' text ⲁ A B I 61.
 Rom. iv. 13 'heir of [the].'—T. R. has 'the' in text, with K L P 17 37 and other cursives.
 1 Cor. iv. 13 note ¹ add at end: For βλασφημούμενοι, *ⲁ A C P 17 read δυσφημούμενοι. The sense is the same.
 vi. 11 'been washed.'—ἀπελούσασθαι, 'washed away' what defiled, so as to be clean: cf. Acts xxii. 16. λούω is strengthened by the addition of ἀπο-.
 Eph. i. 20 'set him down.'—The grammar does not connect in Greek any more than in English.
 ii. 5, 8 'saved.'—The perfect tense, σεσωσμένοι, not the principle on which, but the actual fact, what has been done and so abides.
 vi. 10 'panoply.'—'Have the panoply of God put on; it is the aorist; and so is 'take,' ver. 13.
 Phil. i. 7 'grace.'—Or 'partakers with me of grace.'
 ii. 21 'Jesus Christ.'—T. R. reads 'Christ Jesus,' with B L 37 Memph; K omits 'Jesus;' text ⲁ A C D F G P 17 47 Am.
 2 Tim. iii. 14 'of whom.'—τίνος, with (C³) D K L 37 47 Am Syrr Memph. (ⲁ A C F G P 17* read τίνων.)
 1 Pet. iii. 21 note ¹ add '6' after '2 Kings viii.'
